Dr. Adams, a dentist, is the brother-in-law of Dr. Carlton Cook, 140 Brown St.

He has been practicing dentistry on Drummond Island since his graduation from the University of Michigan Dental School in June.

Previously he taught science in a junior high school in Battle Creek for seven years, having received a BS degree from Michigan State and his master's from the Western Michigan University.

Dr. Adams plans to teach in the U. of M. dental school two mornings a week following the opening of his offices in the new medical building near the hospital in October.

Parents of Mrs. Adams and Dr. Cook are Mr. and Mrs. Leon Cook of White Pigeon. Mrs. Adams is a graduate of Michigan State University and a charter member of the new Presbyterian Church in Battle Creek.

She has been a church school teacher for several years.

FINES FORGIVEN — Tecumseh's new library is opening Monday, Sept. 10, with a special added attraction: All overdue books and other materials may be returned without fines. This special consideration, which will last all week, will do away with the problems of dating overdue materials while the library was closed. The first event in the new library was a tea given last week for Tecumseh School District staff members. The tea was sponsored by Tecumseh Library Board, with Mrs. C. L. Cook supplying the floral centerpiece. The library will be dedicated Oct. 8 at special ceremonies. New library hours will be noon to 9 p.m. Mondays through Thursdays, and noon to 6 p.m. Fridays and Saturdays. The earlier opening will allow library patrons to use the building during their lunch hours. The earlier closing hour Fridays takes note of the fact that few persons used the library on Friday evenings.

1,500 Will Eat Roast Beef

St. Elizabeth Church plans to have about 1,500 persons for dinner Sunday, Sept. 16.

The dinner crowd has been growing for the past eight years and the ninth annual all-parish event can accommodate about 200 persons at one time.

Under this year's co-chairmen, Mr. and Mrs. John McVay, preparations are basically the same for serving a complete roast beef dinner.

The school auditorium will be transformed into a huge dining room and the kitchen will be expanded to include an adjacent classroom to handle meat only. An outdoor tent will enclose dishwashing facilities.

Between the hours of 11:30 a.m. and 6 p.m., two shifts of workers will be on hand.

The largest work crew is that of 56 waitresses. The next largest is the dishwashers, who will number 24.

In the dining room buffet tables holding food and serving supplies will be staffed by 26 men and women, while 14 tray boys will transport the dishes and tableware from the auditorium to the dishwashing tent.

Thirteen men will handle the 600 pounds of beef as they take turns with the preparations that begin around midnight the Saturday before the dinner.

Working closely with the meat committee will be James Kershner and Paul Lemanski, who are in charge of potatoes. The potatoes as well as the beef are cooked in Van's Bakery ovens.

Two new committees were appointed this year. One is for borrowing and returning the various items and equipment that are used annually.

Tim Neill is in charge. Joe Prochaska and a crew of 11 men will set up all equipment and tables, as well as taking down and removing them.

In the kitchen itself, days before, the cupboards will be emptied of all dishes and tableware, which will be washed and stacked.

The day of the dinner the kitchen will be the scene of all vegetable handling and gravy making.

Mrs. Carl Gruber and Mrs. Harold Weakly will make enough gravy to fill about five electric roasters throughout the day.

The Rev. Thomas J. Collins, pastor of the church, has issued invitations to pastors and parishioners of 37 Catholic churches in Michigan and Ohio.

Four hundred postcards will be going in the mail this week to friends and relatives of St. Elizabeth parishioners.

Last year 1,183 dinner guests came from numerous Detroit suburbs, Michigan towns and from several Ohio cities.

Girls Enjoy Camping Trip

They were accompanied by Mrs. Carl Faust of Britton, Mrs. Franklin Humble, Mrs. Robert Kennedy and Mrs. Richard Whelan.

Swimming, crafts and a scavenger hunt were featured activities. Meals were cooked outside with singing enjoyed around the campfire and vesper services held before retirement.

Real Estate Speech Course To Be Offered

"Real Estate Speech", an elective course in the University of Michigan's certificate programs in real estate, is geared to meet the needs of realtors in that it focuses on public speaking exclusively, rather than on the entire field of speech.

The course, which is offered with the cooperation of the Lenawee County Board of Realtors, begins on Tuesday, Sept. 11, in Room 101, North Hall, Adrian College.

Jack E. Bender, U of M associate professor of speech, will be the instructor. He aids the students in gaining proficiency in extemporaneous speaking through study, analysis, practice, and criticism.

The registration fee is $40. Registration may be made at the first class session. Enrollment is limited to 35 and to persons in the real estate program.

VOICE OF THE HERALD

How To Help Your Home Town

Last year, $818,976 were paid by Tecumseh residents, industries and retail business places in taxes for operation of city, county, library and schools.

Of this amount, 12.3% came from local store operators.

That's $100,808, a substantial contribution to the operation of our government and educational system.

Take away a quarter or third of this amount and there would be fiscal problems. Such a loss would probably have to be made up by individual property owners.

It's a fact that the financial condition of the business row has a definite impact on the over-all prosperity of the town it serves.

Residents literally help themselves when they look to stores in their own town first when buying something — anything.

If it is purchased locally, the buyer is in essence helping to pay for part of the upkeep of his city and schools, for fire protection, police protection, recreation program, for a dozen different things.

Whether the purchase is for 50c or $50, it makes an impact.

We don't say, you must buy everything from local stores. We only ask, try Tecumseh first!

We'll wager that a lot of regular out-of-town shoppers would be pleasantly surprised if they followed this theme. Tecumseh has many fine stores, with excellent inventories.

Think of the time, gasoline and oil bills you can save by making purchases in your own hometown.

In doing so, you're actually patronizing yourself because as a resident here you have a vital stake in this community.

The lieutenant is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph F. Prochaska of Route 2, Tecumseh.

Con-Con Report

Apportionment

Editor's note: This is another in a series about the proposed new Michigan Constitution.

How does Michigan's legislative apportionment, as proposed in the new constitution, stack up with that of the other 49 states in the U. S.?

How does it compare with the present Michigan apportionment?

These are the questions frequently asked by those who study the new document which is to be submitted to the voters next April 1.

The answers to these queries are contained in the Compendium of Legislative Apportionment published early this year by the National Municipal League.

Reference to this report indicates that Michigan's new plan for both Senate and House will rank it with only seven states out of the 50 in which 40% or more of the population is necessary to control each House.

Moreover, in several of the Houses of these six states the differential between the largest and smallest district is wider than that for either proposed Michigan House.

MICHIGAN'S new plan for the Senate increases the per cent of population necessary to control from 29 to 43 and raises its relative status from 29th to 10th among the states.

The proposed new plan for the Michigan lower House increases the per cent necessary to control from 44 to 47 and raises its relative status from eighth to third place among the 50 states—only Alaska and Oregon would outrank us.

It should be noted, too, that of the nine states with Senates more representative than Michigan's new plan, six such states have lower Houses so much less representative than their Senates as to indicate that these states look upon their Senates as their popular Houses.

For example, Missouri with a Senate controlled by 47% of its population has a lower House controllable by only 20%.

THE PROPOSED Michigan House holds a differential between the largest and smallest districts of approximately 2-to-1.

Of the two states which outrank us in population percentage required to control, Oregon's differential is slightly over 2-to-1 and Alaska's is over 6-to-1.

Ideally, a state which apportions to elect one House of its legislature on a population basis should attain a 50% figure which would be necessary to elect a majority of that House.

Why? The Compendium points out that in most instances this is because county lines are used in drawing legislative districts.

The proposed Michigan apportionment plan adheres to county lines and this decision was made by near-unanimous vote of the convention's committee on Legislative Organization.

THE COMMITTEE'S report gives these reasons for sticking to county lines in the apportionment procedures:

1. County boundary lines "assure citizens clearly identifiable and traditionally recognized voting districts" and "conform to the long established county organization patterns of many groups, including political parties."

2. Election administration is simpler.

3. The U. S. census uses counties as a unit of population.

Michigan's new apportionment plan, however, by combining sparsely populated counties into multi-county districts attains a higher percentage necessary to control than is achieved in most states.

Vote Weighs Control

"The vote in the 1962 wheat referendum indicates that farmers do not believe government control programs are the answer," said the Michigan Farm Bureau in a statement issued today.

A Michigan Farm Bureau spokesman pointed out that, "With an estimated 40,000 eligible to vote in Michigan, only about one out of eight bothered to go to the polls.

"Only 3,000 out of 40,000 believed enough in the marketing quota program with higher price supports to vote for it.

"In 1961, about 5,000 Michigan wheat farmers voted for marketing quotas, but this year the number had fallen to 3,000.

"The vote is further evidence that farmers do not believe in a government-controlled and subsidized agriculture. It repudiates the recent vote on the Farm Bill by Michigan's Senators Hart and McNarama."

The statement from the Farm Bureau, Michigan's largest farm organization, continued, "While nationally the vote gave a slim approval for the continuation of market quotas, the declining support for the program should give President Kennedy and Secretary of Agriculture Orville Freeman another reading of farmer resistance to a controlled, policed agriculture.

"Coming on top of the defeat of the Administration Food and Farm Control Bill — rejection of Marketing Orders by turkey growers, and the disgust generated by the Billie Sol Estes type of disclosures, there should be little doubt in the minds of anyone — the administration, congress or the public—that farmers do not want a Khrushchev-type agriculture in America."

Save Historic St. Peter's

A concentrated drive to collect $100,000 and "Save Historic St. Peter's" is underway.

Organized at a community meeting Thursday night in the basement of the new library, the project will run until Oct. 1.

Its objective is to move and restore the 129-year-old church building as an historic monument. There is a possibility that a Tecumseh museum might be made a part of the program.

Sixty persons were on hand, including three officials of the Michigan Historical Commission:

- ► Dr. Willis Dunbar of Kalamazoo, president
- ► Dr. Lewis Beeson of Lansing, executive secretary
- ► Dr. George S. May of Lansing, research archivist

Also attending was an officially-designated representative of the Michigan Society of Architects, Richard C. Frank of Lansing.

All four men spoke to the group and underlined the importance of the project to Tecumseh and the state.

DR. BEESON POINTED OUT that such a structure is a "link that ties us with the past."

He noted that in the nation, three projects of restoration have become great tourist attractions — Greenfield Village, Williamsburg and the forts at Mackinac Island and Mackinaw City. Over 350,000 visitors toured the forts alone last year.

Dr. May pointed out that the Commission has registered only 37 buildings in Michigan as "most historic" and St. Peter's is one of them.

He suggested that the restoration of old St. Peter's might be tied in with an Urban Renewal program here with help coming from the federal government.

Dr. Beeson explained that "If you show evidence of wanting to preserve the church, you'd be surprised what support out-state you would get."

Mr. Frank pointed out that in a preservation program the new site should be given careful consideration. He explained that the building should be back from the road, possibly have a circular drive in front of it and ample parking space nearby.

He recommended that if the program is successful, the building should be returned to its original decor, with the altar at the opposite end of the building, the pews turned around and the galleries on the three walls restored.

The people present nominated and elected a board, which will be responsible for organizing the effort. Named to it were Mrs. Joe Rice, Mrs. Alice Schneider, Mrs. Ed

129-YEAR-OLD ST. PETER'S CHURCH

Long AND Short

By TOM RIORDAN

They talk about "crash" programs in the missile race.

This is the effort to get $100,000 in a scant 17 days to move and restore old St. Peter's.

As the song writer penned, "Fools rush in where angels fear to tread."

A fantastic undertaking this might compare to our space boys firing someone to the moon in the next few months.

If a fellow was to figure the odds, the result would probably come up about 5,000-to-1 or maybe 10,000-to-1.

Facing the cold, hard facts is enough to drive a person to cover. Yet, the idea haunts.

Obviously, the people dedicated to the project of saving old St. Peter's as an historic monument here are operating a great deal by "heart."

They have reasoned that here is a true and worthwhile effort — the preservation of a 129-year-old structure — that has early Tecumseh and historic Michigan written all over it.

When the community meeting was held last week to map plans for a concentrated drive, guests were present from here and out-state.

Representatives of the Michigan Historical Commission were fervent in their plea to have the building preserved if at all possible.

Dr. Willis Dunbar, president of the commission, told the audience that, "If you let the building be torn down, you never can replace it."

This thought seems to be a driving force in the $100,000 project. Folks don't want to look back next year — should the church be dismantled — and say to themselves, "We should have done something before it was too late."

The Michigan Society of Architects is also deeply interested in saving St. Peter's and has assigned one of its members, Richard C. Frank of Lansing, to serve as a liaison between the Society and the local committee.

Mr. Frank was present Thursday and assured the gathering that Michigan architects would give their service in helping restore the building.

Leonard Thompson, secretary-manager of the Southeastern Michigan Tourist and Publicity Association, couldn't come, but wrote:

"Michigan has lost too many of its earlier landmarks. I have a very deep feeling in this matter and sincerely hope that efforts can be worked out to maintain St. Peter's Church as the historic shrine it is in the Irish Hills area."

District Debt Cut $18,353

The debt of $164,000 was reduced $18,353 last year.

Mr. McDowell says that austerity is still the key word. He anticipates that the district will be back in the black at the end of 1963-'64 school year.

School To Buy 2 Busses

By JIM LINCOLN

The Tecumseh school board Monday night approved purchasing two new school busses to avoid overloading and other problems with the routing and bussing of students.

Supt. James McDowell reported that the State Police twice have visited his office in regards to overloading.

School officials pointed out to the board that unless they change the elementary school hours or pay driver expenses for "sitting time" between trips, the overloading was practically unavoidable.

Members Ralph Comfort and Robert Moore and business manager Norval Bovee were selected to investigae busses and submit recommendations to the board.

In the meantime, the board approved leasing two busses until delivery of two new ones could be obtained, probably in five or six weeks.

Richard Stuart, Murphy Rd., complained to the board about overloading in his area and even suggested a car pool to relieve the situation.

He said the bus for his children often has 80 or more youngsters, while the bus was built for 54 or 56.

SUPT. McDOWELL reported that his attempt to collect tax money mistakenly sent to Clinton failed. He said that the Clinton school lawyer told him that Tecumseh could not collect from Clinton, but only from the tax assessor who made the error.

The board approved the superintendent's plan to seek help from the state school attorney at Lansing.

New tax assessor Art Eaton caught the error last spring and reported it to the local schools. Several plots of land in the Tecumseh District located in Clinton Township were mistakenly credited to the Clinton District.

Mobil Oil Company was awarded the gasoline bid from the schools with a firm price of 12c per gallon plus taxes. Other bidders were Standard Oil, Gulf, Fleet-Wing, Sinclair, and Cities Service.

☆

IN OTHER action the board:

► Approved cutting the library budget by $2,349.05, the same amount sliced in state aid.

► Approved a purchasing policy which leaves buying for the schools mostly at the descretion of the business manager, with nominal purchases to be made locally if price and quality are comparable.

► Voted not to join Michigan Association of School Boards with membership at $170.

BUSY DAY FOR CANDIDATE — George Romney Republican candidate for governor, spent most of Thursday in Tecumseh. He toured Tecumseh Products Co., shook hands with about 1,500 Products folks, including Carl Schomburg of the Tool Room. Clarence Bumpus stands in background. He was guest at a dinner attended by about 150 in the Baptist Youth House, then spoke at an outdoor rally downtown. Mr. Romney said there was a real parallel between the compressor industry and how Michigan is being run and how it should be run. He told his audience that in the Thirties, Nash-Kelvinator made 80% of the compressors, but a gradual breakdown in management-labor relations caused problems within the company. Tecumseh Products appeared on the scene and with its harmony and willingness of management and workers to pull together for the common good, the local firm soon had captured the major share of the market. The GOP hopeful said Michigan's government must follow this theme—pull together for the common good.

Pupils Ready, School Isn't

The major lack was at Sutton School.

This school, which was boarded up during the past school terms, was reopened this fall to house children in the Lenawee County special education program for severely retarded children.

A combination of events kept the school from being the bright and shiny place parents and teachers would like to see.

THE SCHOOL is in an isolated, unprotected area and suffers from vandalism. So the boards were left over the windows until the last minute. When they were removed, it was discovered that some windows had been broken from the inside.

Although the inside of the building had been ordered cleaned, the windows were clouded with debris sifted through the boards.

A pump ordered during the summer was late, so the plumbing was not in order for the school opening.

This, combined with the fact that West Branch School, used by the retarded children last year, was completely redecorated before its return to regular class room work this year, raised the ire of parents in the special education program.

Tecumseh Superintendent James McDowell commented, "The county special education

They'll Eat Beef

In order to select 750 pounds of beef exactly suited for St. Elizabeth's 9th Roast Beef Dinner being held Sunday, Wes has practically become an expert on beef cuts and flavor.

The dictionary defines a beef-eater as "one who eats beef." Wes has done just that. After many phone calls, talks with butchers and meat dealers, Wes took home a couple of savory samples to taste for himself.

According to co-chairmen, Mr. and Mrs. John McVay, "Roast beef is the featured item on the menu and a high quality and plenty of it will be offered to our guests."

WES selected rolled sirloin tip which is being cut especially for this dinner at Ted's Quality Market. Ted Brooks, proprietor, has been associated with the meat business for some 30 years.

Wes will put two of his company trucks to work Saturday transporting more than a half ton of food items.

The roasts will be prepared at the school. Most of them will be trucked to Van's Bakery where they will cook until Sunday morning, then be moved back to the school.

SINCE this year there is more meat than the bakery ovens can handle, early Sunday morning Mr. Haeussler will distribute and pick up some 15 roasters full of beef that will be cooked in parishioners' homes.

One hundred and seventy-five St. Elizabeth church members have been and will be working on the annual all-parish event to be held from 11:30 a.m. to 6 p.m. in the church school auditorium.

Besides a roast beef dinner that includes homemade pies, background organ music will be furnished by Grinnell Bros., Adrian .

The Beach Brothers will have pony-drawn cart rides for the children outdoors from 1 p.m. to 5 p.m.

A new outdoor attraction will be seen this year. Russell Steinke, local artist, will have works

Last year the event attracted more than 1,180 persons who came from 60 Michigan cities, among them numerous Detroit suburbs, as well as cities in Ohio, Illinois and Indiana.

Faraday Thanks Community

L. E. Earling, Chief Product Engineer of Faraday Corporation, was the guest speaker as members of the Kiwanis and Exchange clubs held a joint meeting Thursday evening.

Mr. Earling expressed appreciation on behalf of the management and production workers of Faraday for the warm welcome given to them by the community.

He exhibited and described some of the products designed and produced by the corporation, showing their application to industrial and military uses.

All-School Enrollment Tops 3,000

Although enrollment in the Tecumseh school will not become official until late this month when the administration must send in figures for state aid, there were 3,079 attending here last Friday.

Number of students attending has increased each day, but is still about 120 less than expected.

Last Friday, there were 839 in the high school, about 20 less than anticipated; 427 in junior high, about 25 less, 1,813 in the elementary, about 75 less than expected.

Band Show To Feature 265 Youths

The seventh and eighth grade cadet band will join the senior high school marching bands to present opening numbers as well as at the half-time program.

The Willow Run band will also perform.

During the half-time, a fanfare of the THS Alma Mater and fight song, played as one, will be rendered with the marchers in position.

During the playing of the National Anthem, a giant USA will be formed.

The US shield will come to life as the band plays "America" and "America, the Beautiful."

Don Johnson and Miles Cowdrey direct the bands, which will conclude the program by forming the word, "Tecumseh", from one five yard line to the other.

This will be the largest band presentation until the Lenawee County Band Festival Oct. 9.

Residents Invited to Attend

Tecumseh residents are invited by members of the Artist's Key Club to attend a meeting Wednesday, Sept. 19 at 7:30 p.m. above Don's Beef Buffet.

Interested persons may call HA 3-3589, for information.

Meetings are held once a week in three-hour sessions.

AT THEIR FIRST session on the following night, board members designated Mr. Riordan as chairman, Mrs. Rice as secretary and Mr. Lincoln as treasurer.

Boardmen agreed to name one more person to the body, a teenager, who will be selected this week.

The project will be given special attention at the 87th annual meeting of the Historical Commission Saturday at the University of Michigan Center in Dearborn.

Articles about the drive have already appeared in the Detroit Free Press, Toledo Blade, Jackson Citizen-Patriot and Adrian Daily Telegram.

Jack Manning, Free Press columnist who previously did three columns on the fate of the old church, promises to have several more.

Radio and television stations will probably start running programs on the drive this weekend.

NEWCOMER SIGNS UP—Mrs. Ralph Dabe (left) welcomes Suzi McCall as a new member of the Tecumseh Players. The group staged its first meeting of the year Sunday evening. Miss McCall teaches English at Tecumseh High School this year. The Players will produce "The Man Who Came To Dinner" in October as the first of three shows for the season.

Radar Is Skill of Expert

FORT BENNING, Ga.—To be able to distinguish a WAC from a soldier "sight unseen" is a secondary but interesting goal of a class of 23 men who recently completed a radar ground surveillance course at Fort Benning.

The primary concern of the students, of course, was to acquire skill in detecting enemy movement to the front of a unit, identifying the moving object and reporting its location, speed and direction of movement to their company commanders.

The students learned with great interest, however, that their radar equipment is so sensitive that a highly skilled operator can detect the movement of one person in his assigned sector of surveillance. Not only that, but he can tell whether the individual is a WAC or a soldier, officials said.

The distinction made by radar is based on the fact that a woman makes more motion than a man covering the same relative distance.

THE COURSE was taught by S/Sgt. James E. Moore of Knightstown, Ind., principal instructor of the Applied Communications Committee of the U.S. Army Infantry School's Communications Department.

The students donned earphones to listen to radar signals bouncing off moving targets beyond their vision and watched blips on screens in a 36-hour training course for radar operators.

Sgt. Moore said that an operator must learn to pick out target-reflected sounds from a conglomeration of radar signals bouncing back from every object in the target area. "This clamor is called 'ground clutter' and is complicated even further by the interference of other nearby radar sets and enemy jamming," the instructor said.

"Unlike radio operators, a radar operator is free to change his frequency at will," Sgt. Moore continued. "You don't even have to know what frequency you are on. Just screen out the interference and concentrate on locating and identifying your target."

the Michigan Tourist Association, who stated, "Too many such historic buildings have been demolished and I am hopeful that your meeting will be successful in finding a way to preserve and restore it."

The 60 persons on hand last week agreed that an immediate financial drive should be started.

John Hamilton suggested that each person present donate $1 to start the project. Everyone responded and the following day a savings account was opened for "Save Historic St. Peter's."

As you'll agree, time is extremely short. If you wish to donate, please do so immediately, by sending your dollar to The Herald. Checks can be made out to the Lenawee County Historical Society and will be tax deductible.

In wrapping up this column, let me tell you of a Friday night experience, regarding the church project.

A Free Press reporter, covering the swing through Lenawee County of George Romney, strolled with me from the dinner at the Baptist Youth House to downtown Tecumseh.

Just as conversation, I told him about the drive to save St. Peter's and what was being done locally.

When we arrived at Harold Easton's, he stopped a moment, reached into his pocket and extracted $2, saying, "May I give this."

Needless to say, the donation was accepted on the spot.

Around this great state, and in northern Ohio, it would seem that many more people, like the newspaper reporter, will gladly give $1 if they just know the story.

'Man Who Came to Dinner' Picked as Players' Opener

"The Man Who Came To Dinner," Broadway and movie comedy hit, will be the first production of the theatre season for the Tecumseh Players.

Scripts will be available for reading Friday evening at 8 at the Green Hwy. home of Dr. Robert J. Murray.

Sept. 20, 21 and 22 are the dates for tryouts at the Sage Building under the direction of Rik Kureth. The first two dates of tryouts are at 7:30 p.m., while Sept. 22 is scheduled for 2 p.m.

Three productions will be presented this year with a musical and drama still under discussion by the group.

All area persons interested in participation in a musical are requested to contact Mrs. Allen Russell.

New members are still being accepted and may contact either Mrs. Russell or Mrs. Ralph Dabe.

fund pays for all work done in its classrooms, said Tecumseh Supt. James McDowell.

"We have to wait for authorization before spending the money. Also, we were short of help, and took care of our own schools in town first. We have a man working there full time now, and the repairs will be finished as soon as possible."

MILTON Porter, county superintendent of schools said, "We are grateful to Tecumseh for offering us the use of classrooms. We couldn't pay for teaching if we had to build new classrooms.

"I think we will have conditions as favorable as we had last year."

Mary Ellen Vogel, who teaches the youngest children at Sutton, became more optimistic this week as the improvements were made.

"I am glad to be able to have the children in a country setting," she said. "We came out here last year to plant seeds in the school farmlands, and the children love to see them growing. They ate some of their watermelons."

TALL sunflowers and corn grow in the garden plot behind the school. Oak trees will drop acorns to be used by the children.

The school has three classrooms, primary, intermediate (10 to 14 years) and junior high. An alcove contains sink, refrigerator and electric range, used in teaching the girls how to cook and prepare food. The junior high room will contain facilities for woodworking, to teach the boys how to use tools.

The classes are composed of children from throughout Lenawee County, in a program made possible by a half-mill county tax. By state law, the classes are limited to 15 students, and a waiting list remains.

These are the only classes offered in the county for children who are unable to participate in regular classroom studies.

Methodists Make Plans

Wednesday, Sept. 19, the First Methodist Church of Tecumseh will hold its First Quarterly Conference in the Social Room.

The pastor, the Rev. Donald Porteous requests that the chairmen of the five commissions, membership and evangelism, finance, education, missions and Christian social relations, be present.

Also the trustees, stewards, and ex-officio stewards of the official board are asked to attend.

The meeting will start at 7:30 p.m.

Thursday, Sept. 13, at 8 p.m. the Commission on Christian Social Relations will meet with Rev. Porteous in the Kindergarten Room.

Those attending will be Mrs. John Cameron, Mrs. Edna Wilcox, Leon Williamson, Wilfred Waldron and Claron Rex.

The Junior and Senior MYF will meet Sunday evening at 5:30 with a picnic at the Robert Wood home. Later the members will separate into the two individual groups.

Cards are being sent out to all members. If any members did not receive a card, they will also be welcomed.

Visit Parents

Airman LeRoy King and his wife arrived from Jacksonville, Ark. to spend some time with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Herman Radant. They have been guests of her parents in Marquette. Airman King is a crewman on a helicopter moving troops from one missile site to another.

Gloria Dei Plans Potluck Sunday

Announcement was made of a congregational potluck on the church lawn to follow the worship service at 10:30 a.m. Sunday.

Mrs. Gero and Mrs. Ed Bunge served refreshments.

Nursery To Start Sept. 18

The Tecumseh Nursery Center, held in the Presbyterian Church School rooms, will open Tuesday, Sept. 18, from 9 to 11:15 a.m.

Mrs. Warren Puffer is the teacher, assisted by Mrs. Claude Sebring, who has been hired rather than asking mother's help.

Pre-school children from three to five years may be enrolled this first morning.

Boys State Experience Is Related

Jack Dick reviewed activities of Wolverine Boy's State for 22 members of the Exchange Club Monday evening at the Eagles Hall.

The club sponsored Jack, who is the son of Mr. and Mrs. David Dick, at the summer event.

Exchange's annual fall rummage sale will be held in the building formerly occupied by Eggleston's Jewelry on East Chicago Blvd., Sept. 21 and 22.

The sale will be held all day and evening both days.

Anyone having merchandise to donate may call HA 3-2986. Proceeds will be used for community youth projects.

ACADEMY AWARDS WINNER BEST ACTRESS!

Sophia Loren "TWO WOMEN"

Mary Lou McConnell, Jerry Munger Wed

The glow of candlelight from four seven-branched cathedral candelabra enhanced the chancel of the First Baptist Church Saturday evening for the wedding of Mary Lou McConnell and H. Gerald Munger.

Arrangements of white gladioli and chrysanthemums filled the gold altar vases and the white carpeted aisle was outlined with white blossoms, emerald foliage and satin bows.

Parents of the couple are Harley H. McConnell of 403 W. Pottawatamie St. and the late Mrs. McConnell and Mr. and Mrs. Lester Munger of 2170 Munger Rd.

Blaine Ballard of Ypsilanti was the soloist, accompanied by Mrs. Katharine Hunt. The Rev. Blair Bashore officiated.

MRS. H. GERALD MUNGER

Judith Ringle of Tulsa, Okla., was maid of honor and the bridesmaids were Jane Lee McConnell, sister of the bride; Meredith Munger, sister of the groom, and Camilla Grigg, cousin of the bride.

All gowns were made by Maude Bell. Those of the bride's attendants were length of gold peau de soi with matching jackets.

John Dewey served as best man and the 200 guests were seated by Richard Johnston, Michael Green and Norman Grigg.

A reception in the Youth House featured the wedding colors of gold and white with the tiered cake flanked by tall compotes holding burning yellow tapers with white flowers.

MR. AND MRS. Lyle Grigg and Mr. and Mrs. Ray Stockinger were hosts.

Mrs. J. H. Rohweder and Mrs. Harold Moon presided at the silver service for the reception.

Both young people are 1959 graduates of Tecumseh High school. The bride is a graduate of the James Ward Thorne School of Nursing, Passavant Hospital and Northwestern University, Chicago.

The groom completed two years of short courses in agriculture at Michigan State University.

THE COUPLE will make their home at 2170 Munger Rd. and honeymoon in Oklahoma the latter part of the month.

Guests from Valparaiso, Brazil, and South Bend, Ind., Topton, N.C., and Crystal Lake, Glen Ellyn, Elmhurst and Downers Grove, Ill., were in attendance, as well as those from the surrounding area.

The bride was feted at a spinster luncheon Thursday given by two of her attendants, Judy Ringle and Camilla Grigg.

A linen shower and luncheon in her honor was given Tuesday at the home of Mrs. Joseph Rohweder and a miscellaneous shower was held the same evening for the couple at the home of Mrs. Kenneth Munger.

Walter Denny of Pennington Rd. has returned home from the Jackson County Sanitarium after being a patient there nearly a year and one half.

[illegible] SILK French illusion fingertip veil was secured to a tiara of pearls. She wore elbow-length gloves and an evening star pendant, gift of the groom.

Mrs. Patricia Mae Van Valkenburg was her sister's matron-of-honor wearing a ballerina length gown of yellow organza over taffeta styled as the bride's gown.

MRS. GERALD FLYNN

Fay McClure and Lyla Goodridge were the bridesmaids, each wearing aqua organza dresses over taffeta styled as the bride's.

Thomas Patterson served as best man and the 150 guests were seated by Richard Flynn and Edward Roe.

☆

Mrs. Eva Curtis and Mrs. Lyle Goodridge assisted in serving the guests from Dexter, Grand Rapids and Caledonia.

Scott-Bayless Vows Are Said by Candlelight

Margaret Bayless and Specialist 4/c Paul Scott were united in marriage in ceremonies Sept. 8 at the Tecumseh Friends Church performed by the Rev. Paul Brantingham.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Carson Bayless of 502 W. Chicago Blvd. and Mr. and Mrs. Earl Scott of 419 W. Cummins St.

Mrs. Robert Baker was the soloist, accompanied by Mrs. Amos Wilson.

Candlelight and palms enhanced the church when the bride entered the aisle on the arm of Dr. Archie O'Connor.

SHE CHOSE a floor-length gown of white Chantilly lace and peau de soi with Sabrina neckline trimmed with seed pearls and sequins and bell-shaped skirt.

Her fingertip veil of nylon tulle was secured to a crown of seed pearls. She carried a Bible topped with white gardenias and yellow rosebuds.

Barbara Wilbar was the bride's only attendant and the groom was attended by Russell Rieve.

☆

MRS. PAUL SCOTT

Ruth Kempf and Mrs. Ronald Van Valkenburg assisted with the serving for 150 guests from Britton, Clinton, Adrian and Tipton.

The couple will leave the latter part of September for Frankfurt, Germany where the groom is stationed with the military police.

Republican GHQ Will Be Busy

Campaign headquarters in Tecumseh for the Republicans will be a busy place through October and up until election day in November.

GOP chairmen from the entire area will be staging events at headquarters.

A general meeting of all Republican leaders will be held in headquarters Thursday, Sept. 20 at which time complete plans will be mapped.

Women's Society Votes Money For India Hospital

The September meeting of the Women's Society of the First Baptist Church was held in the Youth House Monday evening with Mrs. Orville Bishop presiding.

The meeting was opened with the group singing the hymn for the year, "Awake, Awake to Love and Work."

Mrs. Bishop reported on some of her experiences at the annual house party in Kalamazoo. She introduced Ruth Daniels, a retired missionary, who spoke of the work done by missionaries in India.

Mrs. Bishop introduced Mrs. William Schultz of the Baptist Women's Society in Adrian, who spoke about some of the advantages of having circles in the society.

Two songs were sung that had been introduced at the house-party. They were led by Miss Daniels, Mrs. Schultz, Mrs. Eddie Kirkland and Mrs. Belva Hopkins.

At the close of the program a love gift of $21.21 was received.

Mrs. Bishop announced that the fall rummage sale will be held Oct. 4, 5 and 6. Anyone who has items to be picked up may call Mrs. Bishop or Mrs. Anna Grigg.

Salad, dessert and crackers were served by hostesses Mrs. Richard Carter, Priscilla Brown, Mrs. George Chosko and Mrs. Harry Carney, with Mrs. Kirkland and Mrs. Vern Manwaring presiding at the tea table.

RECORD SET — The lights are burning bright and late at the new Tecumseh Public Library. It opened Monday with the largest crowd ever to appear in the Tecumseh library history. Some 1,064 books, magazines and other materials were checked out. The normal day's load at the old library was 250, and 300 was considered exceptional. Librarian Jule Fosbender said the crowd included those bringing in vacation books, students on school assignments, and many who came in to view the building and browse among the books and magazines. The library will be dedicated in ceremonies Sunday, Oct. 7.

Safety Plan From School Guard Pupils

By ROBERT OSBURN
Sixth Grade

TIPTON — Twenty boys and girls of the sixth grade make up the Safety Patrol and Service Squad of Tipton School, Mrs. Doris Jones, fifth grade teacher, is the director.

The duties of the Service Squad are all in the building. They must warn people about going down the hall of the school too fast and making sure there are few or no accidents.

Mrs. Jones has a few safety suggestions for school children:

1—Walk when in the building.
4—Wait at crossings.

In recent years the Safety Patrol and Service Squad have won awards for doing their jobs well.

Each month a boy and a girl from the groups will receive an award for doing their jobs exceptionally well.

The fifth grade will begin taking over the Safety Patrol and Service Squad at the start of the second semester.

What's Happening in Tipton

A Rally Day Program will be presented next Sunday at the Tipton Community Church at 10 a.m., followed by church services at 11 a.m. Practice for the program will be Saturday at 2 p.m. at the church. A potluck dinner will be served at 1 p.m.

The committee will be Mrs. Marie Listman, Mrs. Lyle Whelan and Mrs. Merrick Dibble. Members are to bring table service, a dish to pass, buttered rolls and dessert. Potatoes will be furnished.

The annual church meeting will be held at 2 p.m. The Women's Fellowship will meet on Tuesday, Sept. 18 with Mrs. Herman Titley at 8 p.m.

Nursery school for pre-school children will again be held from 10 a.m. to 11 a.m. with Mrs. Wallace Wilkin in charge. A new schedule is being made and anyone willing to help should contact her.

The first fellowship supper will be held on Thursday, Sept. 20 at 7 p.m. The program will consist of slides and movies taken during the vacation months by members of the congregation. If you have any to show, please contact the Rev. Paul Frederick.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

TO THE EDITORS:

Last year the West Branch school in Tecumseh was opened after being closed for two years and being condemned by the school system. The school wasn't cleaned or decorated but the retarded children of Lenawee County were sent there to school.

This year the children from the Sutton School were to attend the West Branch, but the parents refused to send them unless it was cleaned, decorated, and more sanitary conveniences installed. The Sutton parents had a pow-pow and the school has been painted, papered, new furniture, and drinking fountains in each room.

This year the retarded children were evicted from the dingy West Branch and sent to the dirty Sutton School in the country. The school has been closed for several years and it sure was a sickening mess for those teachers and children to enter on Tuesday morning, the first day of school.

The boards on the windows had not been removed until Tuesday the windows were covered with cobwebs dirt and dead birds laid on the floor. There had been no cleaning done, everything had been shoved into the rooms.

The boys rest room was not connected, the drinking fountain was leaking and when I was there it kept two of the boys busy emptying the pails under the fountain.

There wasn't any soap, towels, toilet paper or fire extinguishers and the furniture looks like some used in the first schools built in Tecumseh.

There are several broken windows, and the one in the back door which are still boarded. There isn't any door knob on the front door and if anyone goes out you can't get in unless some one is there to let you in.

I was told by very good authority that the building would be cleaned and something done about the plumbing, also there is a furnace that is not in working order.

As a taxpayer and parent I ask the public is this the kind of school you would like to have your children enter on the first day of school.

Just think these children will not have the opportunities in life as other children. Their school should be as nice as the other schools in the Tecumseh District.

I would like to have some of the parents visit the school and get their reactions as I did when I walked in.

I am ashamed for the ones who are responsible for schools being in order for the re-opening of the school year.

Disgusted

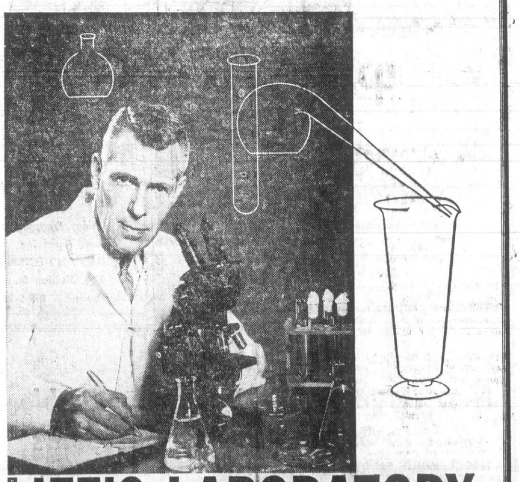
For All We Hold Sacred . . . Attend Church



LIFE'S LABORATORY

Have you ever thought of your life as a laboratory? There are no test tubes and no scientific textbooks to aid us in our study, but we've been given other aids more important still. We call them God's formulas for living.

ARE WE AFRAID? Then we may test the Christ-given formula, "Be not afraid, only believe."

ARE WE LONELY? Then we reach for the promise of the Lord, "And lo, I am with you always . . ."

DO WE DOUBT THAT GOD CARES? Then we can analyze for ourselves the message of the Christ, "God so loved the world that He gave His Son . . ."

These are only a few of the formulas for our lives.

To test them we must first know them. The Church is ready to teach. We shall need direction also. The Church offers us the help of consecrated pastors and leaders.

Let's go to Church and learn the transforming power of God's formulas in the laboratories of our lives.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

THS Faces Fleet Willow Run in Opener

By JIM LINCOLN

Tecumseh lifts the lid on the 1962 grid season here Friday night, battling a visiting Willow Run eleven in the opener at 7:30.

[illegible] will the game [illegible] season but will mark the debut here for coach Tom Fagan, successful Clinton mentor who succeeded Dunc Lectka last spring.

Although the Indians should rate even in their match against WR, there's little hope that Tecumseh can more than break even for the season.

WR is expected to field a similar team as last fall when the Flyers were edged by the Indians. The unorthodox visitors, who often do the least expected, even running on fourth down in their own territory, undoubtedly will have a faster team and should be equal in size.

Lack of outstanding speed, as in the past, will again handican Tecumseh, and probably against every opponent, while several of the hardbacks are of the quick variety, there's again no break-away speed for long touchdown runs.

Team speed, however, should at least be average or above, and there will be experienced players at nearly every position. Coach Fagan probably has as many lettermen working out as any coach in the area.

EXPERIENCE AND AGGRESSIVE playing are two factors Tecumseh's new coach is relying on. So far, Fagan and his assistants have been pleased with the players' attitude and hustle.

A similar but somewhat different type of offense than in recent years will be employed. Fagan calls it a flexible-T and is a bit more wide open than [illegible] used to watching. It's a guess, but Tecumseh should score more this year than the 1962 team.

DEFENSIVELY, THE INDIANS will have Dennis Martinus and Don Becker at the tackles; Steve Fretwell, middle guard; Forsyth and Tucker, ends; Greene and Tilton, interior linebackers; Goldsberry and Baker, outside linebackers; and Lemerand and Sisson, safeties.

Matteson will spell Fretwell; Paul Decker and Baird, interior linebackers; Ron Anderson and Jay Osburn, outside linebackers; Dick, John Lindstrom and Hebb, ends; and Johnson and Collins will back up the two starting safety men.

Coach Fagan says there are several other players who could work themselves up through the squad and see some action before the season is very old.

While Sisson and Oberlin will probably handle the passing, the punting and place kicking assignments are still up for grabs.

About 200 fans caught a glimpse of the Indians last week in action when the local gridders scrimmaged Saline here under the lights.

While the Indians were ragged and lacked polish, it was understandable as Coach Fagan practically used every suited boy in the workout, plus the fact the squad has been working out less than 10 days.

TRI-CAPTAIN NORMAN TUCKER DISPLAYS SHOULDER PADS

Protected? You Bet!

Tecumseh's new tri-captains model the protective equipment which is available to every gridder on the squad. ABOVE — Halfback Dan Greene in full garb wears various leg padding outside for picture purposes. All are made of "Absorblo" a tough, plastic substance which has been developed in recent years. For those with tender shins there is a pad, all boys wear knee, thigh and hip pads, BELOW — Quarterback Tim Sisson shows the teeth guard, which has eliminated mouth damage problems, and the plastic helmet, which this season has an added pad in the rear. AT RIGHT — End Norman Tucker models the shoulder gear and optional forearm pad. This protective equipment, plus the jersey, pants and shoes (the latter which are purchased by the gridders) costs between $80 and $100 states Coach Tom Fagan.

Joint Forty-Eight Anniversary Staged

Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Meads and Mrs. Percy Slater will be hon- Mr. and Mrs. Percy Slater will be honored on the occasion of the 48th anniversary of their double wedding which occurred Sept. 15, 1914.

An open house will be held from 2 to 5 p.m. Sunday, Sept. 18, at the home of the Slaters' daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Clauda, 306 Chippewa St.

Two sisters, Mildred and Jennie Beaubien, exchanged vows with Oscar Meads and Percy Slater, respectively, at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. George Beaubien on the W. Pottawatamie S[illegible] where Mr. and Mrs. Charles Stevenson now have their home.

The couples have spent all of their married lives in Tecumseh.

Mr. and Mrs. Meads are the parents of seven - children, George M., Robert M., Wilber M., Mrs. Francis Campbelle, Mrs. Clarence Randolph and Mrs. Arnold Ries, all of the Tecumseh area, and Mrs. Lee Stevens of Chicago.

Mr. and Mrs. Slater are the parents of Mrs. Clauda, a son, Jack, who was killed in World War II, and a daughter, Ruth, who died in infancy.

It was requested that gifts be omitted.

Airman Th[illegible] his wife arrived home Thursday evening to spend a week with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Kempf and Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Andrews. Airman Kempf is with the 851st Missile Squadron at Lincoln, Neb.

Items Made for Home

Eighteen members of the Friendly Class of the Friends Church met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Myron P. Dermyer on Chicago Blvd. Thursday evening.

"Make It and Take It" was the theme of the evening with members bringing handmade gifts for the Friends Home in Columbus, O.

Mrs. Percy Slater read devotions from the Psalms. Games were played following the business session, with Mrs. Oscar Meads in charge.

Mrs. Dermyer and Mrs. Slater presided at the refreshment table covered with a lace cloth with a centerpiece of grapes.

Two decorated cakes were served to honor the birthdays of the month, and gifts were presented by the president to Mrs. Meads, Mrs. Howard Everhart, Mable Lockwood and Mae Parks.

New Tax Safeguards

(Editor's note: This is one in a series about the proposed new Michigan Constitution. Additional articles will appear in subsequent weeks.)

Owners of real and personal property are provided with new safeguards against exorbitant taxation in the proposed new Michigan constitution.

There was a general feeling among delegates to the convention that property, as a base for taxation in Michigan, is frequently overburdened. New measures were written into the state's proposed basic law to protect owners of real and personal property from excessive levies.

A major revision in the property tax structure is that which eliminates the present constitutional requirement of assessment at cash value. The new constitution speciifes that the standard for assessment shall be set by the legislature and shall not exceed 50 per cent of cash value.

Recognizing that some jurisdictions currently assess some property in excess of this limit, effective date of the limitation is postponed by the new document until 1966.

A STANDARD of value fixed by law gives the legislature freedom to change the standard to reflect changes in the general price structure. Current inequities have resulted, in many cases, from the inability of assessors, with inadequate staffs, to keep up with changes in the dollar value of real property. Personal property assessments have tended to follow inflationary trends more rapidly.

The 15-mill limit ($15 per $1,000 of valuation) remains effective in the new document and county tax allocation boards, set up by statute, would continue to be responsible for allocating the millage among the county, townships and school districts.

HOWEVER, the new section would permit the legislature to authorize initiative procedure within a county which would allow a majority of the qualified electors to adopt a fixed division of the millage among the local units, so long as the total does not exceed 18 mills.

This fixed division and limit voted by the electors would stand until such time as they change it in another vote.

This exception to the 15-mill limitation would be entirely a "local option" matter which would never be effective without authorization of a majority of the electors in the county affected.

The setting of a fixed division of millage would do away with the necessity for a county tax allocation board and could be welcomed in some areas where the annual tax allocation sessions have become highly controversial affairs.

STILL ANOTHER new protection for property-owners in the proposed document is a provision which places limits on eligibility for voting on millage increase proposals.

The new constitution specifies that such tax increases proposed for periods longer than five years may be authorized only by a majority vote of property owners and their spouses—those upon whom the burden of additional tax will directly fall.

This is a change from the current provisions which permit all qualified electors to ballot on long-term millage increases.

WSCS Plans Year

Forty members of the WSCS of the Methodist Church attended the meeting Sept. 5 when memorial services were conducted for Elizabeth Beamish and Mrs. Earl Updike.

Mrs. Edward Beal conducted the service, placing roses on the altar in memory of the deceased members.

Mrs. Vaynard Close presented devotions from the Bible using John 15.

Mrs. Paul Hadsell presided at the session held in the social hall

The plans for the new year were presented and discussed.

The annual Missionary Institute will be held by the United Church women of Lenawee County Sept. 14, at 1:30 p.m. at the First Baptist Church in Adrian.

SEPT. 25 the Educational Seminar will be held at the Macon Methodist Church.

The 21st annual North Central Jurisdiction meeting of WSCS will be held Oct. 3, 4 and 5 in Minneapolis, Minn.

Vivian Otto, a missionary recently serving in Southern Rhodesia, will be the speaker for the Youth Rally Oct. 20 in the First Methodist Church in Adrian.

The Scottish Rite Cathedral in Bay City will be the location of the Fall Assembly of the Detroit Conference Oct. 30. Reservations will be made by Oct. 19.

Mrs. Beal reported on the School of Missions held at Albion College and Mrs. Carroll Sprague on the training school at Grass Lake.

Mrs. Charles Trickey, assisted by Mrs. William Powell, Mrs. Jean Miller and Mrs. Vaynard Close, presented an informative program on the National Council of Churches.

THEY URGED all members to know what their church is and what it stands for both as a denomination and as a member of the National Council.

They encouraged members to seek the truth regarding the council and be qualified to reply to attacks and criticisms in order to avoid distrust and misunderstanding.

They agreed that it is the duty of Christians to be informed and not to fall victim of those who would destroy all Christian thinking.

Mrs. Glen Work, Mrs. John Hartley and Mrs. Ken Blumerick served refreshments.

HANDLING METHODS FOR FEEDER CATTLE vary depending on whether you intend to put them in the feedlot or on pasture. The first couple of days after arrival, whether going to pasture or feedlot, cattle should be given plenty of hay, water and room to rest. Antibiotics should be mixed with water or feed. No grain is fed to pasture cattle, but hay is fed until they make the adjustment to the pasture. For the feed lot cattle grain should be increased and hay decreased until they are on full feed.

BEWARE OF SILO GAS. Take extra precautions if you've had drouth ocnditions. Dry weather usually increases the danger of silo gas. This gas is detected as a yellowish cloud which has an odor similar to laundry bleach. It is found in and around the silo soon after sealing. The silo area should be well ventilated during filling and precautions taken to keep children and livestock away from freshly filled silos. Silo gas, even in small amounts, has been fatal to humans and livestock. Symptoms do not show up until several days later.

FALL SEEDED WHEAT will give higher returns if sufficient fertilizer is applied at planting time. Farmer experience and yield checks in several states show that the addition of three pounds of nitrogen will increase yields by one bushel per acre when enough phosphorus and potash are available. Take soil samples and apply phosphate and potash accordingly. Nitrogen application will then pay off.

FALSE SAVINGS. With labor high, many producers shy away from paying a little extra for skilled labor. But savings in machinery repair alone will usually pay the extra cost. In addition you get a better job done and won't lose as much of your crop during harvest operation.

VOICE OF THE HERALD

Are There 100,000

Are there many people who think that old St. Peter's is worth all the fuss and trouble of saving?

We know there are some. But does the number total 100,000 throughout this state, because at $1 each that's how many there would have to be donating to make the current drive a success.

The best indications about reaction of folks we have to date are notes which have arrived with gifts. These came as the result of stories announcing the fund raising drive which appeared in last week's Free Press and Toledo Blade.

Miss Emily J. Sole, 427½ Eastern Ave., Toledo 9, O.—Enclosed is my check for $5 for the St. Peter's Episcopal Church Fund.

I am a member of St. Paul's Episcopal Church (1842) of Fremont, Ohio and attend Trinity Episcopal Church (1863) here. Next year at Trinity they will celebrate their Centennial; while at Fremont we celebrated our 120th Anniversary on Jan. 25.

Hoping and praying for your success in the restoration of St. Peter's and that I may see the Church restored to its original beauty.

Mrs. Merril V. Bernah, 234 S. Fulton St., Wauseon, O.—

Enclosed find $1 and my sincere best wishes in your efforts to save historic St. Peter's. I am a Methodist.

☆

William C. Young, 105 Maple Clare, Mich.—We would like to make a small contribution for the restoration of St. Peter's.

☆

Prosser M. Watts, 212½ St., Blissfield, Mich.—

I'm proud to join ranks with Henry Clay and Daniel Webster. Please accept the enclosed three dollars for the old church.

Mrs. John W. Zachman, 341 E. Second St., Perrysburg, O.—

It has been our pleasure many times to veer from our course through Tecumseh to see St. Peter's. Being Episcopalians, we have often hoped to be able to attend a service in the church—it is truly a delight to behold.

May we add our bit to the finance drive to save St. Peter's and wish you much success in your understanding. We were joyous to find that a move was being made to prevent St. Peter's destruction.

There is too little of our heritage left to allow this lovely building to be taken from us.

Philosophy of Football

Tecumseh's new varsity football coach, Tom Fagan, has asked his players to sign a pledge.

The pledge is a good representation of the coach's own philosophy of sports. It reads:

"I, ——— ———, promise to abide by all the rules and regulations set up by my school, the coaches and the Michigan High School Athletic Assn. during the coming year. I will observe all training rules and attend practice faithfully, working as hard as I am possibly able on the skills and fundamentals which make good players into championship players.

"I will, at all times, conduct myself in a manner that will be a credit to my family, my school, my community and myself.

I will try to create interest in and help those players younger than myself, encourage fair play at all times, and respect the advice and judgement of all those connected with our team and school.

"I am proud to be a student and a member of the football team of Tecumseh High School. In order to show my appreciation I will prove myself worthy as an athlete and citizen. My goal is to make our team one that we can all be proud of—a team of champions, and a championship team."

Coach Fagan's list of rules to follow to championships includes:

1—You will play your games the way you practice. Be a winner in all your practices, and you will win on game day.

2—If things look as if they will be tough—be tougher.

3—Pour the heat on every play. Your opponents will learn to fear and respect you.

4—We will furnish everything that you will need to be a good player except the desire and effort on your part. This must come from you.

5—Be a gentleman—both on and off the field.

Center Blooms in Show

Not even club members themselves expected such a large turnout of both entrants and visitors.

With the 250 guests and the scores of exhibitors, the community showed its appreciation to the Little Garden Club for sponsoring this event and to the Community Center organizers for providing the setting.

Our Readers Write

TO THE EDITORS:

What a thrilling experience it was to hear the concert of the Michigan Youth Chorale in the Hill Auditorium at Ann Arbor last Sunday afternoon!

Lenawee County can be very proud of its three young adults in this chorus of seventy who represented us in the countries of Europe where they toured for two months. Surely the people of those countries appreciated the singing of this chorus as much as we did, and, no doubt, as a result will like us better.

The program was varied and included some of the world's most sacred music as well as semi-classical and well-known spirituals. The unique use of the brass ensemble, French horn and flutes added greatly to the effects of the chorus as well as the solos.

Lester McCoy, the conductor, is to be commended on his ability to mold a chorus of young voices into something as powerful, professional and polished as this chorus. Their performance was excellent and most inspiring. All of this represents many hours of hard work and concentration when others their age were having fun, but each one will feel that it was worth it, I'm sure.

Charles, Robert and Rufus, we salute you. Let's salute their families, too, for making it possible for these youths to participate.

Flower Show, Arts Exhibit Draws Crowd

In the glass room guests enjoyed cookies and punch during the show. The punch table was done by Mr. and Mrs. Albert Musch, courtesy of Tecumseh Greenhouses, in bittersweet and gold. An asymetrical arrangement of yellow snapdragons, yellow and bronze spider mums, frosted green grapes and miniature oranges centered the table. Foliage was eucalyptus. Bittersweet candles glowed over punch bows encircled by smilax foliage.

The glass room was enhanced by a pale green grape arbor fronted with grape vine and clusters of green and red grapes staged by Ousterhout Flower Shop.

The flower and horticulture displays in the Glass Room were highlighted by a ceiling-high replica of the space needle flanked with yellow and white mum plants. The space needle was done by Mr. and Mrs. Richard Colson and William Schroer.

Judging of the Flower Show was done by Mrs. Max DuPark, Mrs. H. M. Chabut and Mrs. Charles Love of Jackson.

OBITUARIES

● MRS. ELEANOR PERRINE

Services for Mrs. Eleanor Perrine were held Monday at the Collins-Corkery Funeral Home with the Rev. Julian Gresham officiating.

Mrs. Perrine, 56, died Friday at 11:30 a.m. at the Redford General Hospital in Detroit.

She was born at Morenci, Ariz., Jan. 17, 1906, the daughter of Thomas and Margaret Caldwell.

She is survived by a son, Keith Parker, of Detroit.

Burial was in the Brookside cemetery.

● SAMUEL H. CLOUGH

Services were held Tuesday at the Green-Dunn Funeral Home for Samuel H. Clough, 80, who died Saturday at Herrick Memorial Hospital where he had been a patient since Wednesday morning.

Mr. Clough was a farmer for many years and was employed ten years for the Tecumseh Products Company before retiring in 1956.

Mr. Clough was born Jan. 26, 1882, in Ogden township, the son of John and Alice Smith Clough.

He married Vera Bailey in Adrian March 28, 1908 and moved with his family to Tecumseh 20 years ago.

He was a member of the First Baptist church.

In addition to his wife he is survived by three daughters, Mrs. Albert Marks of Blissfield, Mrs. Paul Sheldon of Dundee and Mrs. Thomas Brooks of Tecumseh.

Two brothers, Nelson of Ogden and Amos of Blissfield; six grandchildren and six great grandchildren also survive.

Three brothers and a son in infancy preceded him in death.

The Rev. Blair Bashore officiated and burial was in the Brookside cemetery.

—o—

● MRS. CLARA WARDLE

Services were held Saturday at the Niblack Funeral Home for Mrs. Clara Wardle, 83, who died at her home in Britton Thursday.

She was born in Macon March 28, 1879, the daughter of Lewis and Eunice Osterhout Swick.

She married Thomas Wardle July 2, 1903 in Ridgeway. He preceded her in death in July of 1943.

Mrs. Wardle was a member of the Congregational-Christian Church and the Dorcas class.

She is survived by a sister, Mrs. Mary Collins, with whom Mrs. Wardle made her home and four nieces and a nephew.

Besides her husband she was preceded in death by a brother, Walter Swick.

The Rev. Gustav Hannevik officiated and burial was in the Ridgeway cemetery.

BRITTON—Mr. and Mrs. Martin Ivan Sr. will long remember their 50th wedding anniversary celebration, which was held Sunday, Sept. 9 at the Tecumseh Products Union Hall.

Well over 1,000 friends, neighbors and relatives attended the open house from Canada; Howe, Ind.; Lyons and Metamora, O.; Williamston, Detroit, Warren, Dearborn, Allen Park, Lincoln Park, Milan, Ithaca, Dundee, Ida, Monroe, Tecumseh and Britton.

Mr. Ivan came to this country in the spring of 1907 and Mrs. Ivan, then Mary Sysel, arrived here in the spring of 1912 and were married Sept. 19, 1912 in the St. Joseph Church in Flint.

They both came from Zarazice, Czechoslovakia.

Many friends who also arrived in America around this time were at Sunday's reception.

The dessert table was centered with a four-tier wedding cake which was baked and decorated by Mrs. Frank Wroblewski of Tecumseh. A spray of 50 golden roses and gold-sprayed leaves centered the wedding table.

The couple's 12 grandchildren sang a beautiful song in their native tongue and made a lovely picture, the girls in gold dresses and the boys wearing gold ties and gold carnations.

Many relatives and friends assisted with the serving. Mrs. Forest Bozell was in charge of the dinner.

SCHOOL MENU

Tuesday, Sept. 18—Scalloped potatoes and ham, carrot salad, bread and butter, cherry dessert and milk.

Wednesday, Sept. 19 — Hot roast pork and vegetable gravy over biscuits, buttered corn, bread and butter, cinnamon apples and milk.

Thursday, Sept. 20 — Pizza pie or choice dish, celery sticks, buttered mixed vegetables, fruit gelatin and milk.

Friday, Sept. 21—Egg salad sandwiches, buttered green beans, tomato wedges, cheese sticks, apple pie and milk.

Kniffins Greet New Daughter

BRITTON — Mr. and Mrs. James Kniffin became the parents of a baby girl Saturday, Sept. 8.

The proud grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Linn and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Kniffin all of Britton.

Guild Planning Clothing Drive

BRITTON — The Guild of Emmanuel Lutheran Church met last Thursday evening at the church. Members answered roll call with a Bible passage. The Rev. Thomas J. Drobena led the devotions and topic.

Mrs. Clarence Schwartz called the meeting to order, and it was decided to have a clothing drive again this fall. Entertainment was provided by the Esther Circle, and the Sarah Circle served refreshments.

Families See East, Canada

BRITTON—Mr. and Mrs. Harold Rohrback and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Dickerson returned Sunday following a vacation to New York.

They drove to Niagara Falls, Canada, then took the Lakeshore Drive to Gouvernour, N. Y., where they spent three days with Mr. and Mrs. Frank Lavine at their cottage on an island in Black Lake.

Mrs. Lavine is the former Alice Roe of Britton.

They returned home via the St. Lawrence Seaway and spent Sunday afternoon with Mr. and Mrs. Duane Robertson and son of Troy.

HIGH AS A GIRAFFE'S EYE — Field corn is pretty high this year, but it's unusual to see popcorn stalks 12 feet high. Tom Tucker planted and cared for this crop, as well as tomatoes, melons and peppers, on the farm of his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Hoagland. The young gardener is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Elwood Tucker.

Fellowship Plans Winter's Schedule

BRITTON — Thirty members of the Women's Fellowship met in the Fellowship Center of the Congregational Christian Church last Wednesday for their quarterly meeting.

Mrs. Douglas Palmer opened the business meeting, which followed a cooperative dinner at noon.

Mrs. Viva Brown gave the devotions on "Women of the Bible," and Mrs. Gustav Hannevik told of the customs of the women of Norway.

Wednesday, Sept. 19, the Duets Class of the church will sponsor a Family Night which will start at 6:30 p.m. with a pot luck supper, followed by pictures of Rev. and Mrs. Hannevik's trip to Europe.

The annual Church Fair and Supper was set for Thursday, Oct. 4 starting at 5 p.m.

The Priscilla and Golden Rule Circles were in charge of the dining room and Mary Martha and Sunshine Circles are on the kitchen committee.

The Fellowship also made plans for a Cafeteria Supper and Christmas Bazaar to be held Thursday, Nov. 29.

Mrs. Lee Keeling, Mrs. Lawrence Ash and Mrs. Elwood Tucker were appointed to the nominating committee to select candidates for the December election meeting.

Mrs. Douglas Palmer and Mrs. Lawrence Ash volunteered for sponsors for the Camp Fire group which the Fellowship has sponsored for the past several years.

NEWS of Britton

School Merger Is Opposed

BRITTON—A citizens committee has recommended against merger of Deerfield and Britton-Macon school districts.

After studying a possible merger for the two local school boards, the citizens group determined that even if the two districts should merge, the combined high school still would be too small to offer the range of studies desired.

Instead, the citizens group, chaired by Elmer Eberhardt and Percy Alverson, suggested that the two districts consider merger with other, larger districts, such as Milan, Dundee, Petersburg, Deerfield, Blissfield, Tecumseh or others. All these districts touch Deerfield or Britton-Macon borders.

The combined Deerfield and Britton-Macon district would have slightly less than 1,000 students, and be some 18 miles long and five or six miles wide, without a good road in the length.

Top-Notchers Plan Sale, Car Washing

A bake sale, car wash and shoe collection were planned Aug. 28 at the meeting of the Tecumseh Top-Notchers 4-H Club held at the home of Rick and Reed Skinner.

Ruth Ann Warner, Reed Skinner, Sonja Sprague and Miriam Puffer are the committee for the bake sale.

Gayle Richardson, Beth Frownfelder, Diane Ries and Rick Gartee will plan the advertising for the bake sale.

Sherry Harper, Pam Zorn, Jean Ford and Rick Skinner are in charge of making a shoe collection for the Ypsilanti State Hospital.

TRY A SPECIAL TREAT

No matter what kind of a feeder you maintain, how well it is stocked or how much it is usually patronized, once in a while there are just bound to be dull spells. This is what happened to us not long ago. There was absolutely nothing going on. Oh, we had birds. The feeders were busy enough, but there was just nothing different. Everybody was doing the same old thing.

We squirrels, so neat, s... now that it was almost impossible to tell young from old, munched away at corn and sunflower seeds. Baldy blue-jay was slowly getting feathers on his head and with the feathers came a new sense of dignity. He greedily gulped his dinners just like all the other blue-jays.

Young Mr. Cardinal had not added much to his two-feathered top-knot, but even so he was growing up. No more juvenile pranks from him.

The trio of teen-age titmice were the one bright spot. Somehow one of them had had trouble and lost his tail. A tail-less titmouse—wonder what happened? All in all, however, there was not much doing at the feeder. We were bogged down in the monotony of sameness.

BEFORE, we have broken these spells by putting a different kind of food out—a case of new food producing new actions. We had hardly started to wonder what to put out when the question was answered for us. A rather nasal squeaking drew our attention to the wren tree and wow! One, two, three, four downey woodpeckers—three of them obviously young. They made the decision, peanut butter would be ... food.

The suet-post proved to be a good peanut-butter post, too. The rough-barked limb which sits at the corner of the feeder is always popular with the birds. There are holes drilled in it and now, instead of having them filled with suet, we used peanut butter. The crunchy kind would have been better but we had the smooth, so that is what we used.

It took the birds a day or two to find our surprise, but once the discovery was made, things were dull no more.

FITTINGLY enough, woodpeckers were the discoverers. Quickly their squeaky little voices called "Come and get it!" to all woodpeckerdom. Come they did. They all loved the peanut-butter, but one female really developed a passion for it. She ate and ate and ate—she even hated to leave when a squirrel came to the feeder. She would duck around to the opposite side of the post trying to hide but the squirrel, of course, would have none of that and usually drove her away.

When they found the peanut butter, the squirrels gave the birds a rough time. They were not anxious to share. In fact, it was almost a squirrel monopoly. The poor birds had to sit in the wren tree and patiently wait until the feeder was empty for a short period.

One squirrel had an especially cute eating technique. She sat as close to the limb as possible and used her front feet to hang on—I wonder where she thought it was going? Anyway, hanging tight, she twisted and turned ... l...d, stacked and stretched and my, but how she nibbled and licked at the peanut butter.

THE YOUNG titmice proved to be peanut-butter lovers too. It was not at all uncommon to have two of them dining at once, one at the top of the post, the other at the bottom. Sometimes they tried to play woodpecker and cling to the bark. This, as you might guess, did not always work well and more than once we laughed when a cocky gray one lost his footing. It must have been most embarrasing, and what a blow to his vanity.

Asian Flu Outbreak Expected

LANSING— The Michigan Department of Health has received a warning from the U. S. Public Health Service that a new outbreak of Asian flu is expected this winter.

The public health service has recommended that persons in the following categories be vaccinated:

1—All persons 45 years of age and older, particularly those over 65.

2—Persons of all ages who have chronic cardiovascular, pulmonary, renal, or metabolic diseases.

3—Pregnant women.

Although the influenza virus may not be more likely to infect persons in these specified groups, the occurrence of influenza in these persons is more likely to be a life-threatening event, the public health service warned.

The Michigan Department of Health recommends that persons in the chronically ill group and pregnant women seek the advice of their personal physician in regard to influenza vaccination.

Since there is a reasonable probability that epidemics of (Asian) influenza will occur during the coming respiratory disease season, serious consideration should also be given to immunizing those in medical and health services, public safety, public utilities, transportation, education, and communications fields.

In industries and large institutions where absenteeism is of particular concern, large-scale immunization programs are encouraged.

For initial immunization, two doses should be given about two months apart, starting as soon as possible after Sept. 1. Persons who received influenza vaccine last year need only a single booster shot this fall.

Since the influenza vaccine is produced from chick embryos, the health department has advised persons allergic to eggs or chickens not to take the vaccine.

Food Handling Class Is Set

The Lenawee County Health Department will hold another food handlers class Wednesday, Sept. 19. The class will be held in the study hall of Adrian Junior High School on Church St. There will be only one class, which will start at 8 p.m.

All persons in the county who work in food handling establishments are required to secure a food handlers card. To obtain this card the individual must have a negative tuberculin test and also attend the foodhandlers class.

Tecumseh Firemen Winners

Tecumseh entered a water ball contest among Lenawee County fire department teams for the first time last Sunday, and came out wet but a winner.

Tecumseh's group is one of four — including Madison, Morenci and Onsted — which will compete in a final contest in Morenci Oct. 7, the first day of Fire Prevention Week.

Wallace MacGeorge, Dick Beasley, Dave Faling, Mahlon Sebring and Harold Easton were on Tecumseh's team for the elimination contest, held in Adrian.

Purpose of the contest is to drive a ball along a line, using the power of fire hoses.

Twelve teams participated in the event.

SOCIAL SECURITY Questions and Answers

QUESTION: I am 66 but I hesitate to apply for social security because I am earning $2,000 a year. Would I be penalized for earning over $1,200?

ANSWER: There would be deductions from the total benefit you normally would get for the year, but you would not necessarily lose all of your benefits.

We would withhold $1 in social security for every $2 you earned from $1,200 to $1,700. This would amount to $250 in your case. Also, we would deduct $1 for every $1 you earned above the $1,700 bracket. This would be another $300 deducted in your case. Therefore, you would receive all but $550 of your social security since you earned $2,000. You should apply for your benefits immediately. You may be due some payment for last year.

QUESTION: I am 65 but not ready to retire yet. Can I freeze my social security?

ANSWER: The best you can do is to visit your social security office and establish your monthly benefit rate. If you now earn too much to qualify for social security payments, you simply can't get them. However, you don't have to retire completely to get your social security benefits. Many people who continue working after 65 can receive monthly benefits in spite of their earnings. And if you become unemployed in any month, you can get your social security benefit for that month.

QUESTION: I was 65 last year lost I earned over $1,200. Is there anything I should do in connection with checking on my social security account?

ANSWER: You should visit your social security office immediately. It is possible you may be entitled to some retirement benefits. Your application can be retroactive for up to 12 months, so don't put it off if you are rapidly approaching 66. If you are eligible for back payments, you may be losing some of them for every month you delay.

QUESTION: I have a man working on my farm six months of the year. Do I have to report his wages for social security?

ANSWER: Yes. If you pay him cash wages of at least $150 during the year, or if he works for you on a time basis for at least part of 20 days during the year, you must report his earnings for social security purposes.

QUESTION: My wife works for me on the farm. Can I report wages paid to her for social security?

ANSWER: No. Wages paid to a spouse usually cannot be reported for social security purposes. For more information on exceptions to this rule, visit or write to your nearest social security office.

Den Mothers Are Sought

One does not have to be a mother to be a den mother.

This is an opportunity for those who do not have children to be with and enjoy the company of boys 8 to 10½ years old.

Dr. Robert Laidlaw announced an organizational meeting to be held Monday, Sept. 17, at 7:30 in the church school rooms of the First Baptist Church.

He requests that all present den mothers and anyone interested in being an den mother attend, as well as any men who are willig to be committeemen for projects during the year.

To carry on the cub program, leaders are needed most urgently, said Mrs. Laidlaw, who is herself a den mother.

She will be glad to answer any questions concerning the program. Her phone is HA 3-3833.

Study Group Has Delay

Child Study Group 2 members have postponed their regular meeting for one week. The meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Richard Lask, 610 Center Dr., Sept. 20 instead of Sept. 13.

Each member is to bring a visitor for the "Bring New Member" Meeting.

Anyone interested in knowing more about Child Study Club may call Mrs. Melvin Purple, HA 3-3679 or Mrs. George Burkhard, HA 3-2868.

A skit entitled "The Report" will be presented by Mrs. Kenneth Kitson, Mrs. George Van Camp, Mrs. Purple and Mrs. Burkhard.

Contributions Roll in from All Parts of Michigan

Contributions to the "Save Historic St. Peter's" fund are pouring in from all over Michigan.

Donations from the Tecumseh area, primarily through organizations, have also been arriving at a steady clip.

The out-state contributions are coming as the direct result of stories in dailies all over Michigan, and comments on radio and television shows. Cooperation of the major media has been phenomenal.

The 17-day drive to collect $100,000 so that old St. Peter's can be moved and restored as an historic building, officially kicked off with last week's Herald.

The weekend brought considerable coverage in Detroit and Michigan publications, with Associated Press and United Press International both putting stories on state wires.

Response was immediate. Tuesday morning's mail turned up more than $500 in contributions.

Two members of the campaign board, Mrs. Joe Rice and Mrs. Alice Schneider have been working with the city's 62 organizations, asking a key person in each to tell the St. Peter's story to the memberships.

The drive is still pegged on the philosophy that there are 100,000 interested parties in the state willing to give $1 each to save the 129-year-old structure, which is the oldest church in the state in continuous use.

Old St. Peter's will have to be moved or dismantled next month so that the congregation's new and larger church can be completed.

President John F. Kennedy has been invited to give $1 on the basis that one of his precessors, Andrew Jackson, donated to help in the original construction and would he help in its preservation.

Long & Short

By TOM RIORDAN

Sportsmanship is something that coaches teach and preach constantly.

Under practice and game conditions, in the corridors of the school, the mentors can observe if their lessons are paying off.

But once the youngsters are away from the schools, how do their charges regard sportsmanship?

Here's the story.

During the late stages of Friday's Tecumseh-Willow Run football game, a fleet visitor made a long dash, was dumped hard and didn't get up.

John was taken to Herrick Memorial Hospital by Collins-Corkery ambulance, his leg set and placed in a cast. He spent the weekend at the hospital.

Saturday morning, John had some surprise visitors.

Then another, two more. A member of the band also dropped by to say "hi."

This item came to The Herald via a fellow who happened to be visiting in the hospital and ran into one of the THS ball players. Otherwise, we never would have heard about it.

Incidentally, John is a Negro.

If you liked Tony Spina's pictures of Rome and Pope John XXIII, there is a book coming out that will be of interest.

It's going to be a complete record of Tony's fabulous shots --both color and black and white.

The price tag will be $12, but to those interested well worth the tag.

If you order before Oct. 30, a special price of $9.95 is offered.

STUDENTS TO HONOR ST. PETER'S—During the halftime intermission of Friday's Tecumseh-Dundee football game, the 78-piece Indian marching band under Don Johnson's direction, will pay tribute to old St. Peter's. Student Council President Mary Ann Mead (first in line) is organizing the effort. She and these classmates will accept contributions immediately following the game for the church restoration program.

Council Embroiled in Liquor Question

By JIM LINCOLN

Outside factors influenced two decisions on liquor by Council Monday night in a session which saw the two decisions practically contradicting each other.

After hearing Police Chief Murrel Clark's favorable investigative report on the owners and premises of Larry's Grill, and after a presentation of petitions of 147 names opposing a new tavern, Council rejected Larry and Richard Coscarelli's request for an SDM and tavern license.

The police report also included interviews with downtown businessmen with 17 for the tavern, 12 against and about 30 neutral.

Mrs. Perry M. Hayden was spokesman for several ladies present. She saw no need for additional outlets for liquor in Tecumseh and cited the abuses resulting from liquor and taverns.

Mayor Harold Easton said it was in the best interest of the community to deny the request.

Councilman Carl Lamb, who voted for the investigation and leaned towards issuance of a license two weeks ago, but voted against it Monday, said he now realizes why businessmen are reluctant to serve on Council and the unfair position in which they sometimes are placed.

Councilmen Royal Welch, Gene Tuckey and Terrance Mackin, three voting to recommend issuing a license, cited Council for meddling in private enterprise and pointed out that Mr. Coscarelli's main business would be a restaurant, and beer just a sideline.

LATER IN the meeting and in the Parks and Recreation Board report, Council was forced to act on a request from the board to allow the Tecumseh Junior Chamber of Commerce to serve alcoholic beverages at the Community Center for a JC district meeting.

Councilman Mackin, who is president of the board, said it was not the wishes of the board to allow alcohol for groups in the building, but said the Community Center needed the money to operate the Center and a rejection to the Jaycees would probably cause the Center to lose money derived from the scheduled district Jaycee meeting.

He also said that he was not aware that upon acceptance of the Community Center, the donor prohibited the use of alcohol or liquor.

Mr. Hamilton, also a member of the board, said he realized that criticism would result from the board's decision but reiterated Mackin's statement that the Center needed additional revenue badly.

Both P&RB members said the Jaycee district meeting would be on an experimental basis and future allowances would be decided on how the experiment worked.

In a motion that Council would not oppose the board to allow organizations use of alcohol at the Community Center, Councilmen Hamilton, Mackin, Welch and Tuckey voted for the motion; Councilmen Easton, Lamb and Bonner voted against it.

It was also decided that the Community Center's donor would be approached in regards to the issue.

☆

IN OTHER action, Council:

►Received a letter from Perry Satterthwaite, appreciating the prompt and efficient service in putting out a fire at Hayden Fuel and Supply last week.

►Approved city officials' plans to proceed with the Evans Creek interceptor sewer plans and to investigate possibility of securing Federal aid in the program.

Donald Nixons Buy Local Credit Bureau

Mr. and Mrs. Donald T. Nixon, 1004 River Acres Dr., have purchased the Credit and Collection Bureau of Tecumseh and Clinton from Mr. and Mrs. R. G. Dillingham.

The Nixons will assume active management Oct. 1.

Mr. Nixon stated that the Credit and Collection Bureau will continue to offer the same type and high quality services as provided by the previous management.

The business will continue to operate at its present location, 111 N. Evans St.

Mr. Nixon said intensive and special efforts will be made to work closely in cooperation with the retail, professional and business people in the area.

The Nixons have been residents of Tecumseh since 1938. Mr. Nixon was manager of the Quaker Oats Co. of Tecumseh from 1939 until the plant was closed in 1960.

He chose to retire from Quaker Oats and continue to live in this area rather than to take a position elsewhere with the company.

Mr. Dillingham has accepted a position with the Farm Business Council in Urbana, Ill., and will assume his duties there in October.

Furs Will Be Shown At Center

Mrs. Kenneth Ernst will open her home for the Franklin Extension Club meeting Thursday, Sept. 20 at 9:30 a.m.

Yearbooks will be completed and members are invited to attend the Richland Fur Showing at the Community Center in the afternoon.

Proceeds will be donated to the Lenawee County Youth Center.

Friends Church Is Dedicated

The Rev. Chester G. Stanley, general superintendent of the Ohio Yearly Meeting of Friends, presented the sermon for the service of dedication of the new Friends Church at Barberton, O. where the Rev. Charles Bancroft is the pastor.

Dr. Byron L. Osborne, president emeritus of Malone College, gave the prayer of dedication.

Among those attending were Mrs. Vira Bancroft of Tecumseh, the pastor's mother, his brother, Forrest, and family of Adrian, and Mrs. Edith McBride of Bowling Green, O.

Girl Scouts To Assist Veterans

Tecumseh Girl Scouts will perform their good deeds this weekend by participating in the annual Forget-Me-Not Sale of the Disabled American Veterans.

The sale in downtown Tecumseh will take place after school hours Friday and all day Saturday.

Players Start Cast Tryouts

Tryouts for the first Tecumseh Players production of the season, "The Man Who Came to Dinner," begin this week.

Director Rik Kureth has scheduled tryouts for 7:30 p.m. The Sage Building is the location.

A general membership meeting is being called by President Frank Dalton for Sunday evening in the Glass Room at the Community Center. All members are urged to attend as important future plans regarding plays and activities will be decided.

Mrs. Allen Russell and Mrs. Ralph Dabe of the membership committee may be contacted by prospective members to give any information in regards to the group and activities.

Club Sees Slides

The Rev. Donald Porteous, pastor of the Tecumseh Methodist Church, was speaker as members of Kiwanis Club met for dinner Thursday.

Rev. Porteous showed a series of colored slides of scenic attractions in the Upper Peninsula.

High Schoolers Plan Tribute to St. Peter's

A tribute to old St. Peter's will be paid Friday evening by the student body of Tecumseh High School between halves of the THS-Dundee football game.

The 78-piece Tecumseh marching band, under direction of Don Johnson, will open its 15-minute show with selections in honor of the historic church.

Feature number will be 'God of Our Fathers," a well-known hymn.

Arrangements for this portion of the half-time program are being made by Mary Ann Mead, president of the THS Student Council, who is being assisted by about 20 others.

Special commentary about the famous church will be made over the public address system.

The balance of the show will be narrated by Gus Boss, the voice of the local marching band.

A fanfare will precede the "Everybody Loves a Parade" section of the show. Such tunes as "Easter Parade" and "When the Saints Go Marching In" will be played to a variety of formations. The baton twirlers will have a specialty exhibit for this show.

Mexican Fiesta Planned

Something new, colorful and intertaining is being presented at Catholic Central High School, Sunday, Sept. 30 at 7 p.m.

Called "A Mexican Musical Fiesta Program," it will feature guitar players, Mexican dancers, singers and comedians.

All will be garbed in authentic Mexican costumes.

This two-hour program should be enjoyed by every member of the family. Donation is $1.

This show is being put on by the Club Artist of Latin America under the auspices of Adrian Catholic Central High School, states Sister Grace Alice, O.P.

DAR Holds Cooperative Dinners

Mrs. Charles Brannigan entertained members of the Abi-Evans Chapter, DAR Friday when a cooperative dinner was served, followed by the first business session of the fall season.

Mrs. George Wittrup, first vice regent, presided in the absence of the regent.

Members voted to give $25 to the Save St. Peters Fund and to hold a rummage sale later in the fall.

Mrs. Neil Pearson, chairman of National Defense, spoke on her California trip this summer when she attended a tea given by the Dames of Magna Carta and the DAR of Santa Monica. She also spoke on "The Indians."

As program chairman, Mrs. Pearson spoke on her herb garden, telling of the history of herbs and their medicinal use.

She displayed various herbs including thyme, sage, spearmint, basil, cortmary, lemon mint and cat mint, which has leaves similar to catnip but smaller.

Hostesses for the day were Mrs. Lavern Russell, Mrs. Earl Lindsley and Mrs. Pearson.

Tecumseh Hosts Jaycee Auxiliaries

Fifty-five persons were welcomed from clubs in Adrian, Blissfield, Carleton, Chelsea, Clinton, Dundee, Monroe, Milan, Saline and Tecumseh.

Mrs. Daniel Maroney of Chelsea was named a candidate for the state nominating committee.

Mrs. Marvin Nelson, district vice-president, was in charge of the meeting; Mrs. Charles Kapnick gave the invocation and Mrs. Jack Adams, speech course director, gave a talk.

Miscellaneous door prizes were awarded, and the traveling trophy went to Carleton.

Southeastern Mutual Insurance Co. is " johnny on the spot" when it comes to service, reports Mary Mohring."

Mr. Mohring, a director, and Harold Strayer, president of the company, were adjusting claims on Labardee Rd. recently when they heard fire alarms and saw smoke at the home of Dale Guba, near the northern boundary of Blissfield Township. Southeastern also covers the Guba property.

Rushing over, they found the Guba barn in flames, which soon destroyed the building in spite of efforts of fire departments from Holloway, Ridgeway and Blissfield.

Pigs, chickens, oats and machinery were lost.

Upset by the catastrophe, the Gubas were amazed to find their insurance company so prompt, arriving even before notified of a loss.

The gentlemen assured the Gubas that they would return at a more convenient time to make an adjustment for them.

All sorts of wonderful things have happened regarding the effort to preserve and restore old St. Peter's Church.

Among Monday's mail four envelopes, all with the same return address in Detroit.

The first one produced a note from a doctor, William L. Knapp, who said, "Enclosed please find $1 as contribution to preservation of St. Peter's Episcopal Church of your city per publicity in the Detroit News of Sept. 15, 1962."

The other envelopes produced one by one, six cards on which 25c pieces were scotch taped.

In childish handwriting, they each bore a note saying this was a gift for the program, and were signed Barbara Knapp, Janice Knapp and Richard Knapp.

Incidentally, cooperation from daily newspapers, radio and television stations, along with Associated Press and United Press International on the effort to inform folks about old St. Peter's has been nothing short of phenomenal.

☆

In the Free Press listing of Michigan's 10 Most Wealthy citizens—including Tecumseh's Ray Herrick—the thought that impressed was that only two made their fortunes from scratch.

One was Mr. Herrick and the other Charles Mott of Flint.

To qualify for the Top 10 honor, the citizens must be worth at least $75 million.

When bringing in his small plane, he gets so busy he forgets a minor item. Like lowering the landing gear.

He has done this several times in the last few years and Sunday it happened again.

1,217 Dine On Roast Beef In St. Elizabeth's Dinner

Some 1,217 persons were guests at St. Elizabeth's ninth Annual Roast Beef Dinner, held last Sunday in the school auditorium.

A number of Detroit suburbs were among the 63 Michigan cities represented. Guests came from Toledo and other cities in Ohio and Indiana. Many of the guests have come every year to the all-parish event.

Proceeds from the dinner will go toward the cost of 42 new desks, equipment for a recently installed library and new fire protection devices.

Door prizes were awarded to:

Don Stocks of Detroit — GE hand mixer

Mrs. Effa Sage, 117 Park St. — a punch set

Mrs. Dale Bowen, 2541 Munger Rd. — Sick Call Set

Kate Christopher of Saline — Zippo cigaret lighter

Owen Fisher of Britton — ladies billfold

Jiffy coolers were awarded to Mrs. Marie Mackin of Toledo and Leon Montri of Temperance.

Three sets of two season tickets to all Michigan State University home football games went to Dr. Carlos Knisley, 106 S. Maumee St.; Jack Osburn, 8931 Matthews Hwy., and J. E. Robson of Detroit.

Airman Work Joins Combat Exercises

Airman 3/C Donald G. Work of Tecumseh is participating in Exercise "William Tell," the Air Force-wide fighter weapons meet being held in Nevada through Sept. 22.

Airman Work, whose brother, Glen Work, resides at 711 Adrian St., is permanently assigned to a unit at Indian Springs Air Force Base near here. He is an Air Force postal specialist.

"William Tell" provides a test of skills for pilots and support personnel in newly devised tactical ideas for limited and general war. The intense competition also is designed to improve effectiveness of tactical fighter teams in close air support and combat-ready maintenance of jet aircraft.

Margaret Ann Netcher Speaks Wedding Vows

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Netcher of Blissfield and Mr. and Mrs. Albert Neuman of Route 3, Adrian.

Marlene Neuman and Earl Tucker were the attendants.

Fall flowers and candelabra were used to enhance the table featuring a three-tiered cake decorated with pink roses and bells made by Mrs. Oscar Eisenman.

The bride is a graduate of Blissfield High School. The groom graduated from Tecumseh High School and is employed by Simplex Paper Co. in Adrian.

The newly-married couple were hosts for a wedding dinner at a Tecumseh restaurant.

Youngsters Will Make 20 Posters

Never underestimate a young person's interest in things historic.

Five Tecumseh youths, grades seven through nine, are going to make 20 posters this week for display in local stores.

Rick Gartee, 1029 Shady Lane and a ninth grader at Tecumseh High School, sparked the idea.

Working with him are his sister, Sharyl, a seventh grader; Jean Foster and Mike Zorn, ninth graders; and Rick Skinner, an eighth grader.

The youths' religious affiliations include Presbyterian, Baptist and Methodist. None are members of St. Peter's, Rick explains. Their interest is solely in helping to save an historic structure.

Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Holdridge were in Toledo Sunday to visit her mother, Mrs. Marietta Greenfield. They were accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Morris Cornell.

Brenda Porter Marries Louis Alpinieri

NEW YORK — Brenda Lee Porter and Louis Joseph Alpinieri were married Saturday in St. Veronica Catholic Church, one of Greenwich Village's oldest churches.

She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Willis G. Porter of Tecumseh, Mich., and Sarasota, Fla. and he is the son of Mrs. Salvatore A. Alpinieri, Staten Island, N. Y., and the late Mr. Alpinieri

For her wedding, Brenda wore a burgundy silk brocade theater suit with large roll collar and cropped jacket.

As matron-of-honor, Mrs. Rudolfo De Luca of Buenos Aires, Argentina, wore a beige velvet sheath with a mantilla and carried a nosegay of pink sweetheart roses with white pompons.

Best man was John Cavalari of Queens.

Following the wedding which was attended only by members of the immediate families, a brunch was held at Longchamps Restaurant.

Saturday evening, Mr. and Mrs. Porter hosted a reception for 100 of the newlyweds' friends.

Following the reception, the new Mr. and Mrs. Alpinieri left for one week at Fire Island, Long Island, N.Y., where he has a summer home. They will live at 230 East 15th Street in New York City.

Mrs. Hunt Sings During Memorial

Mrs. Robert Hunt sang "Over Sunset Mountain" during a memorial service for four deceased members at the meeting of the OES recently.

Mrs. Charles Wilson, Lillian Conklin, Faye Hindes and Owen Partridge were the members.

Mrs. Cecil Viele read a tribute and each star point recited a verse and placed a flower of her color on the altar.

Prayer was given by the chaplain, Mrs. Lawrence Hoagland.

Announcement was made of the Lenawee-Monroe Association meeting at 6 p.m. Saturday, Sept. 29, at the First Baptist Church.

Mrs. Donald LaBounty, secretary, will accept reservations until Sept. 26.

Refreshments were served to 50 by Mr. and Mrs. Al Musch and committee.

Pins Will Be Awarded

Certificates and pins will be awarded at the regular meeeting of the Round Top 4-H Club Monday, Sept. 24, at 7:30 p.m.

The meeting will be held in the social room of the West Adrian Congregational Church on the corner of Wolf Creek Highway and Brazee Rd.

An election of officers will be held and enrollments in next year's projects will be made.

80,000 Acres Must Be Sprayed For Jap Beetle

More than 80,000 acres in Monroe and Lenawee counties, adjacent to the Ohio line, must be treated this year for Japanese beetle at an estimated cost of $6 per acre.

About $480,000 must be appropriated by the Legislature if the work is to be done this fall.

The Plant Pest Control Division of the USDA can be expected to assist as it has done in the past, but Michigan must first obtain its share of the money for the work.

The substance probably to be used is dieldrin.

This is applied in late October or November, when most of the crops are harvested, and many kinds of birds gone south.

It would be carried into the earth by rains and melting snow. The larvae of the Japanese beetle spends 10 months in the soil and is vulnerable at this time.

During the 1962 Legislature, which is adjourned rather than concluded, must appropriate the money for the project.

One of the greatest dangers is the threat of quarantine. This would mean that all agricultural products — fruits, vegetables, nursery stock and other items, would have to be certified or fumigated before being permitted to move interstate during the period when the Japanese beetle is in flight.

You Told Us

By DOROTHY GRIGG
Herald Society Editor

Gloomy, gray and drear it may be at times, but we are just on the brink of the most spectacular of the seasons.

Sugar maples are tinged with color, the grass seems greener making the fall flowers more prominent and Nature awaits the arrival of Jack Frost.

When he touches the foliage with his icy fingers, like magic Tecumseh's lovely trees will be garbed in a profusion of Autumn colors.

One housewife will welcome Jack to put a stop to endless tomatoes she just must preserve.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

For several years my life has been enriched for having made the friendship of Walt Nichols and his charming wife. Their leaving Tecumseh will be our loss and the other community's gain.

While I hate to see them move away, far be it from me to stand in the way of their success. This couple have many talents and whatever they undertake is done well. Definitely they belong in the world of fine arts and they are equally as well informed in the field of conservation.

It was my extreme pleasure to work with Walt on the former Community Chest Board when he was chairman of the local drive. He left no stones unturned to make the drive a success.

His workers will always remember the glamour of the kick-off breakfast that year when they not only listened to inspirational speeches by authorities but heard the high school band and the full chorus of the high school as a treat. Walt has the know-how for good public relations because he understands human relations.

Walt and I were the only ones who voted "no" on the withdrawal of the Tecumseh Community Chest from the Lenawee County United Fund and to date neither one of us regret having done so. (I have always contended that Tecumseh should have a separate fund for its public improvements to which people could make contributions, bequests and share their wealth.)

Since the above experience I have worked with Walt on a campaign for funds for the organization of the Irish Hills Girl Scout Council. He was just as untiring in his efforts.

The Tecumseh Neighborhood of Girl Scouts will lose a good friend in Walt and an efficient leader in his wife as the result of their move, but perhaps the next place will benefit from our loss.

I have felt free to call on Walt for answers to questions on my mind about the work of the Tecumseh Planning Commission and have always received a detailed courteous answer and no "brush-offs".

All of this comes from my heart and it makes me feel good to think that Tecumseh can send people as good and talented as Walt and Jet into another community where they will share, if that community permits. We wish them Godspeed wherever they are.

Sincerely
Ruth V. Rentschler (Mrs. T.)

BELL IS BACK—The 1,000-pound brass bell from old St. Peter's Episcopal Church is back from Cincinnati, where it was renovated and electrified. Standing by the bell is Orville Farver, 701 Red Mill Dr., a major donor to the construction of the beautiful new church. The bell was originally cast in 1880 by Henry McShane in Baltimore. It was repaired this summer by the I. T. Verdin Co., which for five generations has made and restored church bells. Charles Kohler of Parma, Mich. was the firm's representative who handled this project. The bell now will hang free in the new steeple and be rung by an electric striker, which replaced the old clapper. The bell now has a title, "Benedictus Dominus," engraved on its side.

● FRANK KISH SR.

Services were held Saturday at St. Elizabeth Church for Frank Kish, Sr., 76, who passed away Wednesday at 12:30 p.m. while resting on the rear lawn of his residence at 408 Adrian St.

Mr. Kish was born in Hungary May 6, 1886, and was a retired 20-year employee of the Tecumseh Products Co.

Besides his wife, the former Mary Meszaros whom he married in 1909, Mr. Kish is survived by four sons, Eugene of Dundee, Joseph of Ridgeway, Frank Jr. of Blissfield and Gaza Kish of Tecumseh; two daughters, Mrs. John Casper of Adrian and Mrs. August Maska of Britton; and 13 grandchildren.

Two sisters and a brother preceded him in death.

The Rev. Fr. Thomas Collins officated and burial was in the Brookside cemetery.

—o—

● LLOYD SMITH

Services were held at the Collins-Corkery Funeral Home for Lloyd Smith, 79, who died Sept. 11 at the University of Michigan Medical Center.

Mr. Smith was born March 4, 1883, in Harlan, Ky., the son of John and Lear Smith.

He was a coal miner for 40 years, retiring a number of years ago.

Survivors include his wife, Sarah; a son, Lloyd H. Smith, and a stepson, L. T. Lisenbee, both of Tecumseh; ten daughters, Mrs. Leona Wyatt, Mrs. Lois Snyder, Mrs. Lorraine Bohannon and Lena Ruth Smith, all of Tecumseh; Mrs. Louann Pennington of Dayton, O., Mrs. Lana Keeling of Palmyra, Mrs. Stella Miley, Mrs. Margaret Wallace, Mrs. Roxanne Stout and Mrs. Lillian Johnson, all of Cincinnati, and 26 grandchildren.

Two sisters, Mrs. Ida Turner and Nancy Smith, both of Harlan, also survive.

He was preceded in death by two brothers and three sisters.

Burial was in the Brookside cemetery.

—o—

● EDGAR C. BUTTOLPH

Services were held Wednesday at the Niblack Funeral Home for Edgar Buttolph, 63, of 1018 Red Mill Drive who died Monday at 7:30 a.m. at Herrick Memorial Hospital where he had been a patient for ten days.

Mr. Buttolph was employed many years by the Detroit Elevator Co. and recently was named electrical and building code inspector for the city of Tecumseh.

He was the son of E. C. and Clara Styles Buttolph and was born at Fowlerville, Ind.

Mr. Buttolph moved to the Britton area in 1920 and married Lillian Palmer Sept. 1, 1920.

They moved to Tecumseh in 1954.

Mr. Buttolph was a member of the Britton Congregational church, the Tecumseh Masonic lodges and formerly the Knights Templar of Adrian.

He also was a member of the International Union of Elevator Constructors of Detroit.

Besides his wife, he is survived by a daughter, Mrs. Donald Berkley of Tecumseh, and two brothers, John of Las Vegas, and William of Reno, Nev.

A brother, Earl, preceded him in death.

The Rev. G. O. Hannevik and the Rev. O. E. Priest officiated and a Masonic service was conducted at the grave in the Ridgeway cemetery.

—o—

● ORTON A. WILSON

Burial services were held Friday at Brookside cemetery for Orton A. Wilson, former Tecumseh resident, who died Sept. 11 at the Trenton hospital.

The Tecumseh Lodge, F&AM, conducted the service.

Mr. Wilson was born Nov. 9, 1889, in Franklin township, moving to Tecumseh when eight years old with his parents, Andrew and Harriett Kimball Wilson.

He left the Tecumseh school in 1905 to become a telegraph operator for the New York Central Railroad, a business in which he engaged until he retired in 1962.

Mr. Wilson married Ila Foor of Norvell May 31, 1913.

Besides his wife he is survived by two sons, Andrew and James and a daughter, Mrs. William Thomas, all of Trenton; also 12 grandchildren.

A sister, Mrs. Frank Camburn of Saline and two brothers, Sidney Wilson of Tecumseh and Howard Wilson of Ridgeway also survive.

A brother and three sisters preceded him in death.

Wrestling Earns $400 for Fund

The match was the first of the veteran group's projects to get a good start on the fund, which will be used to aid deserving boys in Lenawee County.

The next major event will be a dance in October.

4-H Junior Leaders Feted at Banquet

Five Lenawee County Junior Leaders were honored by Cities Service Oil Co. last Wednesday evening at the third Annual Junior Leader Banquet at the Adrian First Baptist Church.

They received the Michigan 4-H Key Club Award for outstanding achievements in 4-H and for outstanding service to the 4-H program. Karl Robert of Cities Service Oil Co. presented these awards to:

Linda Lou Starkey, Lucky Clover 4-H Club

Virginia Ruesink, West Adrian Livewires

Henry Gregg Smith, Lucky Clover 4-H Club

Ann Marks, Raisin 4-H Club

Ruth Hoffman, Quaker Willing Workers

The Adrian Kiwanis Club sponsored the Junior Leader Banquet for the third year. Toastmaster was Jim Fridd of Fridd Lumber Co. He is also a member of Kiwanis.

THE JUNIOR Leaders were welcomed by Mahlon Gray, who is president of Adrian Kiwanis. Janice Whelan thanked the Kiwanis Club. She is a member of the Tipton Jets 4-H Club.

Speaker was the Rev. Clare Tosch of the Ogden Evangelical United Brethren Church. He stressed to the Junior Leaders that life is like a clock that is wound just once. No one knows when the time runs out. He asked the Junior Leaders to start with head, heart and hands to do the best God wants them to do. Rev. Tosch emphasized his points with a magic display.

TOM NELSON of the Round Top 4-H Club gave the invocation and benediction. Community singing was led by Virginia Reusink of the West Adrian Livewires 4-H Club.

Four-H Junior Leaders work with an adult leader in a 4-H Club. They are responsible for a phase of the project work. For example, a Junior Leader could work closely with several first or second-year club members while the 4-H leader gives more time to members who are more advanced. Junior Leaders also act as Junior Superintendents at the Lenawee County Fair.

In order to complete the Junior Leadership Project the 4-H member must be interviewed and tell of project experiences.

Rebekahs Will Stage Bake Sale

First September meeting of the Tecumseh Rebekahs was held Friday evening, with the Noble Grand, Mrs. Roy Allsshouse, presiding.

The charter was draped in honor of Mrs. Roma Roth, the former district treasurer.

Plans were discussed in regard to attending Friendship night at Milan, Sept. 25, when the Assembly president, Nydia Bronson will be the guest of honor.

It was announced that a Rummage Sale will be held Oct. 5 and 6, a bake sale to be held on Oct. 6 in connection with the rummage sale.

Committee in charge will be Mrs. Ernest Topps, Mrs. Alice Frost, Mrs. Mabel Duncan and Mrs. Eva Beevers.

☆

It was also announced that the ceremony of initiation will be held Sept. 21 with Degree practice on Sept. 18.

A visitor, Mrs. Ida Beck of Saginaw was welcomed by the members.

Following the meeting, refreshments were served by Mrs. Allshouse and committee.

WHEN YOU BUY INSURANCE

Sooner or later, everyone is tempted to pick up a "bargain" in protection because of the rate. Too often, the promise of a fast, generous settlement fails to materialize.
When you buy from a local, independent agent you buy from is not "out of town" when needed and his business is to help you get a fair and prompt settlement after a loss.
a man who can look you in the eye any day of the week. He Bargains in insurance don't exist. But you do get a bargain in service, loyalty and experience when you do business with a local, independent agent. That's us.

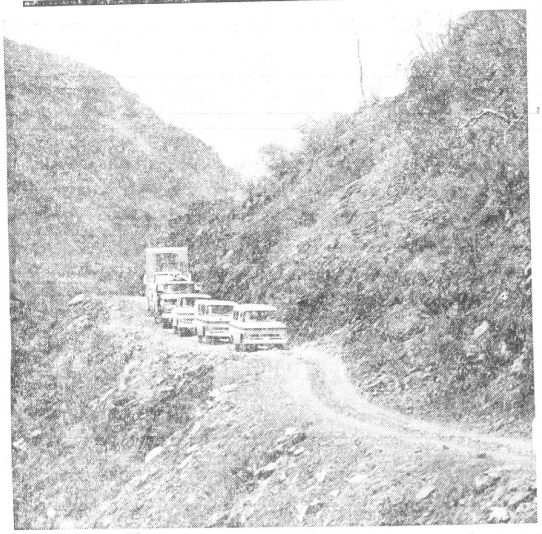
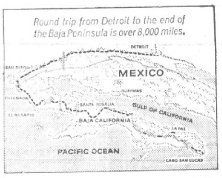
Tough new '63 Chevrolet Trucks are here!

...THE ONES THAT WHIPPED THE BAJA RUN...TOUGHEST UNDER THE SUN... TO SHOW THE WORTH OF NEW ENGINES, FRAMES AND SUSPENSIONS!





Millions of years ago nature fashioned a proving ground for trucks that man can never duplicate. Today it is known as the Baja (bah' hah) California Peninsula, Mexico.

These pictures give you only a bare idea of the place. The road bears no resemblance to the modern highways on the Mexican mainland. It's fine for 140 miles below the U.S. border. Then the beating begins. Rocks and hard-baked ruts bang, punch, jab and jerk the trucks from stem to stern. Loose sand makes them struggle and strain. Dust chokes them. Heat roasts them. Rivers drench them.

All the trucks performed magnificently. Not one was forced to drop out because of mechanical difficulty.

Trucks that can take this kind of beating can take on your toughest truck jobs. Come in now and see tough quality-built '63 Chevrolet trucks with all their new improvements.

CHEVROLET
QUALITY TRUCKS COST LESS

When you came to a river, you got wet. This Baja river bottom was covered with rocks the size of melons.

Sometimes the caravan crept along for hours in low gear. This is the road south of Loreto, narrow, twisty, rocky.

Temperatures as high as 122 degrees F. burned the land in the desert area around Dry Lake.

Baptist Congregation Honored

The Rev. Richard L. Goodson presented the award, which was issued by the administrative committee of the Christian Higher Education Challenge of the American Baptist Convention.

The Mr. Rev. Goodson is the midwest counselor for the $71½ million CHEC campaign for schools and colleges.

The Tecumseh Church is the first of 6,300 in the American Baptist Convention to complete the payment of their pledge of $3,600 — and, one year in advance of the due date.

"For completing commitments to CHEC and with appreciation for [illegible] its members to generous participation with other American Baptists of the state and nation toward satisfying crucial needs of American Baptist schools, colleges, seminaries, student centers and the national scholarship program — that the lay ministerial leadership of tomorrow may be expanded and strengthened for dedicated service to the Kingdom of God."

Councilmen Get Letters From Circle

The meeting was held Sept. 11 at the home of Mrs. George Wittrup with Mrs. Waldo Mohr assisting hostess.

Mrs. Carl Burch presented the devotions and Mrs. H. R. Shimmins spoke on "Denominations and Their Unity" emphasizing her topic with a miniature church.

'Carnival' Is Enjoyed by Visitor

Mrs. Donald Wright returned Sunday afternoon from a Detroit visit. While there she attended the musical play "Carnival," at the Fisher Theatre and the annual luncheon of the Friendship Club of Highland Park held at the YWCA.

Romney Seeks Balance for Michigan's Growth

Michigan cannot expect to regain its full economic growth potential until it puts an end to one-sided special interest government and puts its financial house in order, George Romney said recently.

Now, Mr. Romney said, "Employers don't feel welcome in Michigan. They are uncertain about what they might face in Michigan. They don't like our tax structure. They don't like the attitude of government."

Mr. Romney cited a section of the State Tax Guide which warns international companies with plans for establishing in Michigan to "keep informed of week-to-week developments" because of "an unconventional tax structure and controversial fiscal policies."

Mr. Romney said it will take an investment of over one billion dollars, figuring it takes an average of $11,000 in investment to create a single industrial job, to create 100,000 industrial jobs —the number of jobs Michigan needs in a single year to keep pace with its tremendous population growth.

"When we have set our Michigan house in order, we need a dynamic, aggressive, personal selling campaign to let the nation and the world know that Michigan is rolling again," he continued.

Mr. Romney also stressed that attention must be paid to strengthening the state's tourism, agriculture and international trade fields.

"Michigan historically has been the leading state of this nation," Mr. Romney said. "We have pioneered in bold new concepts in education, in health, in labor relations, in industry, and in many other fields. But today, our reputation is not as the leading state of the nation, but as the problem state. We cannot hope to attract the investment and new jobs we must have as long as the nation thinks of Michigan this way," he said.

Altar Society Grows

At the September meeting of St. Eliabeth Rosary Altar Society held recently, 60 members, three new members and one guest were present.

The turnout was one of the largest in the altar group's history.

Mrs. Robert Koffron presided over the meeting and welcomed the group to another year.

Mrs. James McKenna spoke on the life of Father Damien. Mrs. Cletus Fuhrmann was elected treasurer to replace Mrs. McKenna, who has resigned from her office since she and her family will be moving to Detroit.

☆

MRS. LAWRENCE COTE, ways and means chairman, announced two projects for this fall.

A Rummage and Bake Sale will be held Friday and Saturday, Sept. 28-29. Mrs. Joseph Dziachan is chairman, assisted by Mrs. James Tressler.

Rummage may be taken to their homes or anyone having articles to be picked up may call the co-chairmen.

A hat sale featuring new fall and winter hats in a variety of styles will be on sale to the public at the school auditorium on Friday, Oct. 5 from 2-8 p.m.

At the fashion event refreshments will be served. Mrs. Robert Laidlaw is chairman and Mrs. Kenneth Kitson is co-chairman.

☆

NEW MEMBERS welcomed into the Altar Society were Mrs. Adrian Blonk, Mrs. Donald Phelan and Mrs. Edward O'Neill. Mrs. David Merrillat was a guest.

Mrs. Robert Aten was in charge of refreshments at the meeting.

She was assisted by Mrs. Carl Albaugh, Mrs. Melvin Baugh, Mrs. James Beardsley, Mrs. Raymond Beck, Mrs. Harold Brion, Mrs. Raymond Campbell and Mrs. Robert Vaillancourt.

Gloria Dei Confirmation Class Starts

Mr. and Mrs. Irvin Sieler, Carol Sieler and LeRoy Sieler of Tipton, Mr. and Mrs. William Perow and children of Ridgeway, Mr. and Mrs. Russell Hall and children, Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Wegner and family and Mrs. Alga Fowler and daughter, all of Tecumseh were received into the Gloria Dei Lutheran Church congregation.

Confirmation classes will begin at the church Saturday, Sept. 22, with juniors meeting at 9:15 a.m. and seniors at 10:30 a.m. and each Saturday following.

New officers of the Gloria Dei Lutheran Church Men's Club are:

President — Thomas Rutherford

Vice-president—Kenneth Van [illegible]

Secretary — Stanley Rentschler

Treasurer — James Tonneberger.

'Subsistance' Is Theme

Sunday, Sept. 23, at the First Methodist Church, the Rev. Donald Porteous will speak at 10 a.m. on "Faith Is the Subsistance."

Church school classes for all ages will meet at 11:15 a.m.

The Junior MYF will meet at 5:30 p.m. and the Senior MYF at 7 p.m. Sunday. Monday, Sept. 24, at 7:30 p.m. the Sunday School teachers and officers and the Commission on Education will meet in the Social Room.

Wednesday, Sept. 26, the regular monthly meeting of the official board will be held in the social hall.

Standpoint

What changing one's standpoint can mean in meeting today's challenges will be brought out at Christian Science church services Sunday.

Trash Job Not Being Done Right

Acme Hauling, local concern which picks up trash and garbage, came under severe criticism Monday night by Council for failing to perform its services.

City officials reported numerous complaints that the Acme had failed to make scheduled pickups, some as old as three weeks.

Council also requested investigation. Acme has billed customers a full month in advance for services to be performed during the last quarter of the current year.

Police Chief Murrel Clark reported that the concern had had breakdowns, some through purchases of cheap parts for the truck, and the company is attempting to secure two other trucks.

Council requested that the Ypsilanti owner be invited to the next meeting.

Dental Staff Stages Clinic for Association

The 8 p.m. meeting will be attended by representatives from dental office in Adrian, Jackson and Tecumseh.

Diane Fox, Mrs. Lloyd Watson, Mrs. Roger Linger and Mrs. Richard James will demonstrate the newest methods used by dental assistants, including the use of disposable needles, contour chairs and air-driven equipment.

Mrs. Linger and Mrs. James will present the bookkeeping records, the path of the financial statement and budget plans available.

Sixteen Take Part In Session

Sixteen First Baptist Church members attended the Fall Convocation of the Michigan Baptist Assembly of the Jackson, Lenawee and Wayne Counties at Grass Lake Sunday afternoon.

They were:

Mr. and Mrs. Orville Bishop
Mr. and Mrs. James Danforth
Ellen and Mary Snedecor
Mrs. Fred Rector
The Rev. Blair Bashore
Mrs. N. C. McConnell
Mrs. Jay Morse
Mrs. Belva Hopkins and two children

Has First Auto Accident In 45 Years Of Motoring

"This was the first time in 45 years of driving that I had an accident," said Percy Hand in telling of the mishap Sunday involving a Short Way Lines bus, a station wagon and Mr. Hand's car.

Mr. Hand, 503 W. Cummins St. was driving to Adrian with his daughter, Margaret Gomez, Sunday about 2:45 p.m. when the bus smashed into the rear of a station wagon driven by Mrs. William Hall.

Mrs. Hall had stopped on the highway in front of the Skate Arena on M-52 to make a left turn into the roller rink parking lot when the bus hit her vehicle and knocked it across the highway into the car driven by Mr. Hand.

The bus driver, Charles A. Miller of Toledo, told deputies that he saw the stopped car and took his eyes from the road to shift.

When he looked back to the road, the bus was almost to the car and he did not have time to stop.

He was issued a summons for violating the basic speed law.

Four girls who were passengers in the Hall station wagon and Mrs. Hall were hospitalized. Three other passengers were treated and released as were Mr. Hand and his daughter.

Two persons in the bus were also hospitalized. The driver and four others were treated and released.

Past Presidents Choose Officers

Past presidents of the Tecumseh Monday Club named officers when they met recently in the home of Mrs. E. J. Aebersold. Elected were:

President — Mrs. Truman Rentschler

Vice-president — Mrs. Robert McCoy

Secretary-Treasurer — Mrs. Herbert Murphy

Mrs. Maynard Mulvaney, outgoing president, conducted the meeting.

Members voted a donation to the preservation of St. Peter's Episcopal Church and worked on the program for the annual fall luncheon of the Monday Club.

Mrs. Aebersold and Mrs. Rentschler served refreshments.

TIM TEARS — Senior Quarterback Tim Sisson had a great night in the year's opener, scoring two touchdowns, one on a punt return of 45 yards and the other a one-yard plunge. Here he is surrounded by WR would-be tacklers o n his long TD dash, none of whom could stop the weaving Tim.

Foreign Students Here for Grange Program

The annual Booster Night program at the Tecumseh Grange Hall will be held Saturday, Sept. 29, with foreign English students of the University of Michigan as guests.

Mrs. Harold Rohrback, lecturer, has invited the public to attend the event, which in past years has proved to be of interest to many who are not members of the Grange.

The students who will be teaching English in their homelands when they return will present the program.

The Grange will furnish meat, potatoes and rolls for the potluck supper to be served at 7 p.m.

Members are to bring two dishes to pass plus dessert, to make sure of adequate food for the guests.

Others attending are invited to bring a dish to pass, according to the committee headed by Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Hoagland.

Jaycees Honor Departing Pair

Nine couples of the Tecumseh Jaycees and Auxiliary honored Mr. and Mrs. Paul Goodrich at a picnic Sunday afternoon at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Wonderly.

Mr. Goodrich has been the manager of Protane Gas Service Co. at Tecumseh for the past two years. He has been transferred to Reed City, where the family will move soon.

The afternoon was spent playing cards and visiting.

A gift was presented to the honored couple by members of the two organizations.

St. Elizabeth JOTTINGS

A Physical Fitness Program has begun under the direction of Mr. La Ree, our new teacher at St. Elizabeth's. Each child will be chartered so that progress in the program can readily be seen. So far we have enoyed such exercises as jumping jack, push-ups, sit-ups and drills. All grades participate in the program and we are looking forward to well-developed muscles in the months ahead . . . (they're rather sore right now).

—Thomas Neidlinger

Another year of safety first is under way at St. Elizabeth's School. The seventh and eighth graders will resume the duties on various street corners and classrooms. The captains of this year's squad are Louis Caterina and Pamela Weasel. Lieutenants are Roger Young and Marcia Boudrie. Appointments in the seventh grade are Mary Helen Greene and Leslie Rowe. We hope to win the Safety Patrol Plaque, which is a reward to the school that has been Accident-Free for an entire year.

—Eric Wilkins

√

We would like to take this opportunity to welcome Mr. La Ree to St. Elizabeth School. Mr. La Ree has been with us only a few days but he is already well liked by us all. We enjoy having him for Science and Mathematics and wish him all sorts of luck in the days ahead. Also a sincere welcome back to two other wonderful teachers, Mrs. Riordan and Mrs. Alafita.

—Onalee Cote

The first day of school began Tuesday, Sept. 4, with the offering of the Holy Sacrifice of the Mass in honor of the Holy Spirit. The rest of the morning was spent re-acquainting ourselves in "the old halls of knowledge", meeting new teachers and classmates.

Friday, Sept. 8, was set for the election of officers in the eighth grade. The results of the election were:

President—Melissa Sage
Vice-President—Sharie Osburn
Secretary—Michael Duffin
Treasurer—Eric Wilkins
Social Chairman—Mary Mudgett

We are confident that they will serve our class well this term.

—Michael Duffin

The eighth grade girls of St. Elizabeth's are planning this season's cheers. The girls have selected Mary Mudgett for their captain, and are anxiously awaiting the first practice. Colors and cheers will be decided at this meeting. Before long peppy cheers will be spurring the boys on to victory.

—Barbara Brown

Entertains Guest

Mrs. Grace Thiel of Kalamazoo, formerly of Tecumseh, spent two weeks at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Schomburg recently. Monday evening Mrs. Eddie Kirkland entertained a group of former neighbors in Mrs. Thiel's honor. Following a social evening refreshments were served.

Gifts, Comments Come from Many Places Around Nation

Katherine Parcells, Grosse Pointe—I am happy to make my small contribution to the preservation of St. Peter's Church. It is a splendid effort and I hope one that will prove successful.

James Robbins, 2997 Garland, Detroit—Enclosed check for $5 to help in preserving the historical structure, St. Peter's Episcopal Church, concerning which I read an article in today's Detroit Free Press.

The Ven. Charles Braidwood, archdeacon, Diocese of Michigan, Detroit — Enclosed is a small check for St. Peter's Restoration. I hope you are able to meet your goal and congratulations on your attempt.

John Wojcik, Warren — I'm Catholic. I hope this two dollars will help save the historical Church of St. Peter's.

Virginia Ingell, North Muskegon—The "Mukegon Chronicle" carried your story of the effort being made to save St. Peter's Episcopal church as an historic building. I hope the small contribution enclosed may help in achieving this goal.

Mrs. Lulu Babcock, Jackson — Please accept this dollar for the restoration of St. Peter's Episcopal church in my home town.

Burt Edge, Royal Oak — I read the story of St. Peter's Episcopal church in Tecumseh, article in Detroit Free Press. Enclosed check for $5, wishing you every success.

Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Fiegal, Royal Oak — To help save St. Peter's church. Members of Grace Episcopal church in Port Huron.

Elmer White, 257 Michigan Ave., East Lansing—Here's $5 for our family. Hope you can [illegible]. Even if you do not [illegible] you'll have the fine satisfaction of knowing your newspaper is performing the active service that make Newspapers important to a community.

Ione Ward and Elsie Kempton, Detroit — We congratulate you for this effort of saving the old church. It had been established 10 years when our great-grandfather and family came to Hillsdale County from Saratoga, N. Y.

Rev. Donald W. Vanderwerp, Armada—Read the article regarding saving St. Peter's with interest. It was in this evening's issue of the Detroit News. So here is my dollar with the hope that you receive the other 99. I preached in the Congregational Church in Britton in '[illegible] of 1958 and we stayed at the Tecumseh Motel.

Mr. and Mrs. Burt D. Tate, Jr. —Please accept this donation to help save St. Peter's.

Prosser Watts, Jr. Adrian — I am enclosing my check for $5 to be contributed to the committee formed to save St. Peter's Episcopal Church. Please use this money any way you feel will help this cause.

Mr. and Mrs. Gayle Stewart, 1751 Brame Place, Toledo 13, O. —Will you please apply the two dollars to the St. Peter's Episcopal Church fund.

[illegible] congratulations, on your thoughts and efforts for saving St. Peter's. Here is my buck and I sincerely hope you are successful.

Linda Evans, 2133 Monroe St., Blissfield—I have just read the John Manning article in the Free Press concerning St. Peter's Church.

This beautiful building must be a source of joy and inspiration to anyone passing thru your town. It has been to me.

I am interested for another reason. As a child I was an avid listener to stories my grandfather, the late Anson Dickinson, told of pioneer days. His father, the Rev. Anson Dickinson, Unitarian minister, Ogdensburg, N. Y., settled in Kedgie's Grove in 1826.

He worked as a carpenter in Tecumseh, where he "suffered a fever," died in 1834, leaving [illegible] children in the wilderness. My grandfather's mother, Eliza Carpenter Dickinson, told him stories of two remarkable men his father knew, Gen. J. W. Brown and Rev. Lyster.

So here is a check for five dollars. Sorry it is so small but a drop starts the ocean!

I am sure Kenneth Wesley of the Telegram would assist in free advertising for fund raising.

John J. Furse, 12850 Woodward Ave., Highland Park—In response to your appeal for donations for the purpose of preserving the historical St. Peter's church I am pleased to play a part with my dollar as your committee has suggested.

I attended that church 50 years ago while a resident of Tecumseh for about two years. I recall that the rector at the time was Hewitt, who was a leading pulpit orator of the Episcopal Church in his day.

I wish you and your committee good luck.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Rowland —1763 Wellesley Dr., Toledo—Due to the fact that the "Rowland" family lived so many years in Lenawee County, it is with pleasure that we enclose our check for $10 payable to the Lenawee Historical Society for the restoration of St. Peter's Episcopal Church in your village.

We always enjoyed riding through Tecumseh on our way back from Clinton, where most of the Rowlands lived. St. Peter's was a real inspiration and we trust it will continue to be to all the Community.

Herbert Weller, 2008 Scottwood Ave., Toledo 2, O.—Enclosed is my check for $2 to help restore and preserve St. Peter's Episcopal Church. Please record the contribution in the names of Herbert C. Weller and Mrs. Herbert C. Weller.

We were in hopes you would keep the church on its present site. We like the approach and the steps.

Mrs. Weller is an Episcoplian.

Frances and Nora Wilson, 10031 Hoxbury, Detroit — Herewith two dollars to save St. Peter's Episcopal Church in Tecumseh.

Anonymous, 18243 Muirland Ave., Detroit—More power to you. Hope you make it!

Mrs. P. Nusbaum, 19176 Lumpkin, Detroit—Only $1 but I'm sure it will at least buy a nail.

Mr. and Mrs. Floyd J. Poole, 1032 [illegible] St., Jackson, Mich.—Contribution to the fund for saving St. Peter's Episcopal Church.

H. E. McIntyre, Saginaw, Mich. —As a pair of "Senior Citizens" (aged 79 and 80), we wish to have a small part in saving a bit of the past from the destruction of progress.

Mrs. Florence Kirtland, Detroit—Although I am a Presbyterian, my great grandparents were Episcopalians, but even that is not the only reason I want to make a small contribution. Any church as your St. Peter's should be preserved.

Anne Chaminade, Birmingham—Kindly accept my check toward your church. It is a fine thing to preserve your building as a symbol of our religion. It is our only hope of the future. I have a great love for the Episcopal Church. Good Luck.

Jerry Warner, Detroit—Read with interest your attempt to save the historic church in your town. Hope you have some success.. I'm taking you literally and sending a dollar. I'll try to do more by talking it up among some of my friends.

John Parks, Highland Park—I read the recent story in the Detroit News about your money-raising effort for St. Peter's Church, so I am enclosing check for $5 to assist in your drive.

Wiliam Shunch family, Waterford — We can do more later, but we like your idea of more people being involved in helping our state preserve its historical building.

Ray Sigler, Jr., Cadillac—Enclosed please find my check for one dollar. As an Episcopalian and admirer of old buildings, it's the least I can do.

STALLED, BUT ONLY FOR A MOMENT — Tecumseh's football team did a great job against Willow Run. The Indian offense was stalled only a few times and here was one of them, when WR held on the one-foot line. But it was for only a moment, because on the next play, Dan Greene powered through on almost the same play and got the score.

Tom Fagan's THS Debut Is Perfect

By JIM LINCOLN

Coach Tom Fagan's debut here as mentor of the Tecumseh Indians will long be remembered locally as his gridders swamped a visiting Willow Run eleven, 33-14.

Tecumseh, not too impressive in practice nor in a pre-season scrimmage against Saline, did a complete turnabout in the first three periods to demoralize the visitors.

The Indians take on Dundee here Friday night at 7:30 in the first Huron League encounter for both teams.

Tecumseh's team victory over WR was highlighted by some spirited and aggressive play which dominated the Flyers. Three local scores in the first half from 24, 25 and 40 yards placed the contest beyond WR's reach. The fourth tally merely proved Tecumseh's supremacy.

THE INDIANS scored in the initial period at the 5:26 mark despite a 15-yard penalty which set Tecumseh back to WR's 29.

On the next play after the walk-off, Jim Johnson took a pitchout from quarterback Tim Sisson, turned the right corner behind some nice blocking and scored standing up. Fullback Dan Greene made it 7-0.

Midway in the second stanza, Sisson tossed a screen pass to Johnson to cover 25 yards and the Indian's second score. Halfback Dave Lemerand ran for the extra point.

Three minutes later, Sisson pulled in a WR punt on the visitors' 40, crossed to the sidelines, reversed his field a couple of times before springing loose on a 40-yard TD romp. Greene again ran for the extra point.

GREENE SET UP the final first-half score with a 28-yard run to the WR 15. After a WR penalty to the six, Sisson sneaked twice, the last time from the one for Tecumseh's fourth touchdown in the first two quarters.

The Flyers scored late in the third period, driving 59 yards in 11 plays. Big play in the march was actually a fluke, when on fourth down, WR fumbled the ball about 15 yards behind the line of scrimmage on Tecumseh's 45.

Jim Troutman finally ended up with the ball, skirted completely across the field and cut down the sidelines to the nine before finally collared. After an incomplete pass and a two-yard gain, John Mackson cut over for the TD.

TECUMSEH THEN tallied its final touchdown two and one-half minutes later when Sisson outfaked everyone — including the officials — with a handoff to Lemerand.

The junior halfback actually returned to the line of scrimmage and flipped the ball into the air before the officials, digging into a pile of players at the goal line in search of the ball, realized they too had been fooled.

The special event is the destruction derby. Everyone is welcome to bring a camera.

Realtors Meet

Rena Fitzpatrick, realtor, has returned from the State Realtors Convention at Grand Rapids, where she represented the Lenawee Board of Realtors as voting delegate.

At the convention she was installed as the 1962-63 director for this area and will serve for a one-year term.

Twirlers Face Full Schedule

The Tecumseh Marching Aowakiyas under the direction of Sandra Beal have had their batons twirling in many places since opening the parade season here Memorial Day.

They have participated in parades in Dundee, Lambertville, Milan, Monroe, Jonesville, Adrian, Jackson and Saline.

They have appeared before audiences at the local pancake supper, Adrian Fair and for the Tecumseh Jaycee Auxiliary.

A new class is forming with the deadline for enrollment Oct. 31. Those interested may contact Mrs. Lonal Bishop, HA 3-2270, who also will book engagements that the group will have during the winter months.

GOOD EXAMPLE—Tecumseh High School's Junior Varsity team followed the good example of their varsity mates Saturday morning by walloping Airport Junior Varsity 44-0. The lop-sided score, a pleasant surprise to Coach Charlie Gross, was attributed both to Airport's lack of preparation and a Tecumseh team which was well-rehearsed and ready. The team's next game is at 4 p.m. Thursday at Willow Run. The Airport game was the JV's first of the season, and the league opener.

Post Office Won't Pay for Damage

"There is a general misunderstanding among the mailing public that indemnity will be paid by the Post Office Department on all lost or damaged mail," says Postmaster Jack G. Metcalf.

Patrons are often disturbed when they present a damaged parcel to the post office and find that no indemnity will be paid unless the parcel is insured, registered, or collect-on-delivery (c.o.d.), he said.

"Although every effort is made to protect all mail while it is in the custody of the postal service, unavoidable circumstances occasionally occur which result in mail being lost or damaged.

"The only way mailers may reduce the possibility of financial loss on valuable items is to avail themselves of those services which pay indemnity such as registered, insured, and collect-on-delivery."

The fact that indemnity is not paid on ordinary mail, however, does not mean that the post office has no interest in situations where ordinary mail is lost or damaged or otherwise improperly handled. Postmaster Metcalf wants it to be known that reports by the public of loss, rifling, delay, or damage to ordinary mail are of the greatest value in finding and correcting faults in the postal service.

Complaints concerning the postal service may be made in writing to the postmaster or they may be made orally by calling HA 3-2556. If the complaint concerns the mishandling of mail, the envelope or wrapper should be submitted.

THROUGH MY WINDOW

MAPLE SEEDS AND WALNUTS

A small limb on the maple tree bows down, down, down. A light brown head with perked up ears and incredibly bright shoe button eyes appears — a fox squirrel is cautiously tiptoeing out on the limb.

There was a bumper production of elmseeds this year and the same is true of the maples; at least, the little tree which stands near our window is loaded. The squirrels are having a hey-day.

At 'seed-falling-time' some of the seeds or keys dropped but many are still hanging on.

They grow in clusters near the end of long thin branches, so when a squirrel decides to lunch on maple seeds, you can well imagine that he provides us with some good looking.

Even though a squirrel is no heavy weight those branches are small and supple; it takes all his skill to hang on.

Once the squirrel reaches the 'nibble-bait' he finds that his troubles have only just begun.

There he is at the end of a branch which offers not a very substantial footing; it is bent way down and still the tasty food is beneath him.

Really, all four feet are busy and yet, somehow he must manage to let go and free his front paws for picking. Well, you can imagine the contortions—we can not help but laugh.

HOW DOES a squirrel get out of this predicament? He manages of course but it certainly takes a lot of twisting and turning, reaching and stretching and just plain weaving back and forth trying to maintain his precarious balance.

His long tail comes in handy here too, it's flicked back and forth much as a tight-rope walker uses an umbrella or balancing pole.

When he over-leans a little one way or the other, the tail wagging is so fast—it almost looks as if he were frantically wigwagging signals.

When finally he feels that it is safe to let go, he reaches down and gets a seed.

Using both hands to hold it up to his mouth, there are only about two bites and he is ready for another.

Even before the wings of the first seed have floated to the ground he is busy nibbling another one.

He eats fast but seldon does he stay in one spot long. He doesn't give up entirely, he just moves to another wiggly branch.

It appears that he is trying to find a better and easier dining counter but unfortunately there just aren't any. I'm afraid maple seed eating is quite a lot of hard work!

☆

SOON our long-tailed acrobatic aerialists will be engaged in a much more rewarding job.

At least it would seem that, for the energy expended, their return would be much, much greater.

The walnuts are falling and any day now the squirrels will start storing them for winter.

When they first start working with the big nuts it isn't so bad—the shucks are still green and not too messy. When they start turning it is a different matter entirely.

Is there anything messier than a walnut? The chucks get all black and I am sure anyone who ever gathered walnuts remembers how they stain.

Oh yes, the squirrels know about this stain too. It doesn't bother them of course but as the nutting season goes on, they get dirtier and dirtier.

Their faces are all smeared up, around their mouths especially and their front paws are stained brown. They look like little made up masquerade clowns.

So it is that there is much excitement and good-looking when the squirrels busy themselves with, and gorge upon, maple seeds and walnuts.

Postmasters Go To School

Postmaster Jack Metcalf and Ronald Cheever, postmaster at Britton, will be among more than 400 attending the Michigan Postmasters Training School Sept. 21 and 22 in Lansing.

The sessions will consist of 12 concurrent workshops:

The school is patterned after the Postmaster Orientation Training Program instituted by Postmaster General J. Edward Day for training new postmasters.

It insures all postmasters the opportunity to gain the skills and knowledge of modern postal leadership by understanding and applying the newest postal procedures.

Democrats Plan Dinner

This year's Democratic Second Congressional dinner is scheduled to be held in the ballroom of the Michigan Union in Ann Arbor Saturday, Oct. 6, general chairman Leroy Cappaert announced.

Mr. Cappaert said that he expects from 500 to 750 Democrats from the four counties of Jackson, Lenawee, Monroe and Washtenaw which comprise the Second Congressional District of Michigan to attend the dinner. Tickets are priced at $10 per single admission and $13.50 for a couple. Proceeds are divided between the campaign funds of the local congressional candidate, Thomas P. Payne, of Ann Arbor, and the national congressional campaign fund.

Ticket chairman in Lenawee County is James Coller of 326 Toledo St., Adrian. Publicity in Lenawee County is being handled by Mrs. Fred Groth of Route 2, Blissfield.

Auxiliary Gives Money to Fund

A membership breakfast is to be held at the Post home, Sept. 27 from 10 to 11:30 a.m. Members will bring one or more eligible persons.

Mrs. Otto Baaske and Mrs. Isabelle Aiuto gave reports on the state convention, which they attended.

Mrs. Howard Wilson was presented as a new member of the auxiliary.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Harold Easton, Mrs. Jerry Eggleston, Mrs. George French, and Mrs. Wallace MacGeorge.

MAJ. GEN. WEBSTER ANDERSON

Tecumseh Native Heads Army Zone

Maj. Gen. Webster Anderson, son of Mrs. R. K. Anderson of 317 N. Union St., formerly the quartermaster general, U. S. Army, has recently been designated as commanding general, U. S. Army Communications Zone, Europe, at Orleans, France. He will assume command on Oct. 30.

Gen. Anderson was a member of the class of 1924 at Tecumseh High School and was appointed to the U.S. Military Academy by the late Congressman Earl C. Michner. He was graduated in 1928.

As executive officer with the Motor Transport Division during World War II, he became interested in supply and distribution of liquid fuels and lubricants.

In August 1942 he joined General Eisenhower's Allied Force Headquarters in London to plan the fuel supply for the invasion of North Africa. He served with the petroleum section of the Allied Force Headquarters in the Mediterranean until January 1945.

As area petroleum officer for Gen. MacArthur, he planned and executed the fuel supply for the occupation of Japan, Korea and the China Coast.

In 1953 Gen. Anderson was appointed quartermaster, U. S. Army, Europe. On this assignment he completed the development of facilities needed for the support of the augmented forces in Germany, and initiated the development of quartermaster facilities in the communications zone in France.

While serving as commanding general of the quartermaster depot in Philadelphia in the spring of 1956, Gen. Anderson was given additional duty as executive director for the newly formed Military Clothing and Textile Supply Agency. This agency supplied clothing and textile items to all four military services.

He is married to the former Virginia Old of Sault Ste. Marie. They have one daughter, Mrs. Carolyn Hughes.

Movies Previewed

Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Guy, Jr. attended the Allied Theatres of Michigan annual convention in Detroit Tuesday and Wednesday.

The Guys previewed almost two dozen pictures in preparation for bookings at the Strand Theatre, which is operated by Mr. Guy.

Mr. Guy explained that he concentrated on getting more of the top-flight films screened at the Strand soon after their release in metropolitan areas.

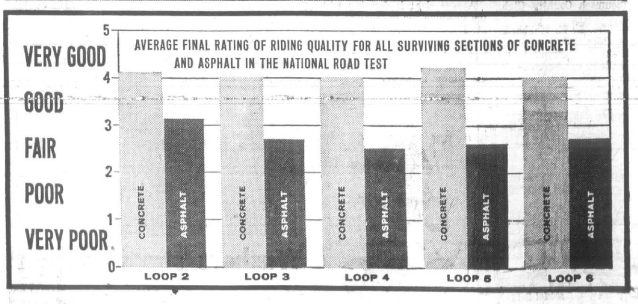
Concrete gives taxpayers riding quality that lasts... the National Road Test confirms it



Out of the recent 27-million dollar National Road Test comes significant new information on the performance of concrete and asphalt pavements.

Sponsored by the American Association of State Highway Officials, this road test was the most scientific ever conducted. Side by side on 5 loops near Ottawa, Illinois, concrete and asphalt test sections carried the same truck traffic for two years. Each loop carried light, medium or heavy vehicles.

To determine how well test pavements kept their riding quality, a special rating system called the serviceability index was used. Pavement surfaces were rated on a scale from "0" (very poor) to "5" (very good).

After two years of traffic and the impact of more than 1,100,000 loads, the surviving concrete still averaged "very good," while most of the surviving asphalt averaged "fair."

Here is further evidence that concrete performs better and gives taxpayers long-range riding comfort for streets, roads and Interstate highways.

Road Hogs Urged To Stay in Lane

A trucking operations authority urges drivers to make more efficient use of existing streets and highways to speed the flow of traffic.

Speaking in connection with the Michigan Trucking Industry's September Courtesy and Safety Campaign, "Driving to Reduce Congestion," Jerome Gilles, safety director of the Michigan Trucking Association, specifically cited the need for drivers to do a better job of positioning their vehicles on the roadway.

"On city streets, and on the highway, far too many drivers do not hold a straight line of travel within their lane," Mr. Gilles said. "They straddle marked and unmarked lanes with apparent equanimity or they allow their vehicles to wander back and forth, or ride the lane lines in a manner which is disturbing to other drivers and discourages them from pulling alongside or passing.

"Some of this type of driving may be due to lack of skill or experience or ignorance of the consequences, but some of it is a deliberate attempt to block following traffic.

"In any event, it results in a significant reduction in street capacity which is particularly detrimental to everybody in heavy city traffic. A driver is driving only one vehicle and he should pay enough attention to his driving to drive in one lane at a time," Mr. Gilles stated.

Mr. Gilles also reminded drivers of the importance of staying in the proper lane while making turns.

"On crowded streets, there is simply no room to swing wide or cut short, without endangering others and cutting down on the number of vehicles that can get through in a given time," he concluded.

Class Honors Pastor, Wife

BRITTON—Twenty-one members of the Baraca Philathea Class met Sunday evening in the Fellowship Center of the Congregational Christian Church for a potluck supper and business meeting.

Following the supper the group adourned to the church parsonage for a housewarming honoring the eRv. and Mrs. Gustav Hannevik, who moved into the new parsonage recently.

They were presented a pole lamp from the group.

Mrs. Grace Ramage led the devotions, which were followed by a question and answer period on the churches of Norway.

Mrs. Ramage will open her home for the next meeting, Sunday, Nov. 4 .

Bette Bailey, Larry Robison Vows Exchanged

BRITTON — Bette Louise Bailey and Larry Micah Robison were united in marriage at 5 p.m. Saturday in the Ridgeway Methodist Church.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Bailey of County Line Rd. and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ellsworth Robison of Stone Highway, Tecumseh.

As the bride approached the altar on the arm of her father, she wore a gown of eggshell silk taffeta.

The shallow scoop neckline and bracelet length sleeves were trimmed with pearls and Alencon lace. The soft fullness of the chapel train was held in place by a scissors bow.

MRS. LARRY MICAH ROBISON

SHE CARRIED feathered white mums in a cascade arrangement, centered with a gold touched white orchid, arranged as a detachable corsage against leaf designs of pearls. The arrangement was carried on a lace-covered Bible, a gift from the bridegroom.

Nancy Elhert presided at the organ and accompanied Wallace Whiting as he sang "We at Thine Altar Stand" and "Wedding Prayer."

Mrs. Harlan Houpt of Dundee, sister of the bride, was the matron of honor. She wore a gold gown which featured a scoop neckline, full skirt and short sleeves.

Her headband was centered with a tiny bow and short veil. She carried a green muff with green fuji mums, wheat sea oats and pompons in fall colors.

The bridesmaids were Kathleen Bailey of Britton, sister of the bride; Sandra Bailey of Tecumseh, cousin of the bride, and Karen Robison of Tecumseh, sister of the groom.

Their gowns of willow green and matching headpieces were styled after those of the matron of honor.

The ushers were Albert Bailey, brother of the bride, Robert Long of Tecumseh and Harlan Houpt of Dundee.

June Glenn of Tecumseh, cousin of the bride, was the flower girl. She wore a dress copied after that of the matron of honor. Her headpiece was a halo of gold flowers and she carried a green muff.

☆

THE CHURCH was decorated with four floor candelabra, each holding seven candles, with arrangements of white gladioli and mums against palmetto foliage which banked the altar.

Candles with bouquets of mums and ferns marked the aisle pews.

The guest tables were centered with gold and ruby chalice containers holding lighted candles.

Hosts at the reception were Mr. and Mrs. Robert Stone and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Glenn.

The bride is a graduate of Britton-Macon High School and Gayle Institute, Minneapolis, Minn. She is employed by the Santa Fe Railroad in Chicago.

The groom was graduated from Tecumseh High School. He attended Electrical Institute, Detroit, and is now a student at the University of Illinois.

Following a short honeymoon the couple will be at home at 1922 W. Pratt Street, Chicago 26, Ill.

BRITTON BRIEFS

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. George Brablec.

Penny Niblack returned to Western Michigan University, Kalamazoo, Sunday, where she will begin her senior year.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Rohrback and daughter Judy and Philip Benedict were Sunday dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Cal Rohrback of Adrian.

Other guests were Mrs. John Beal, Kevin and Sandra, and Fred McCrate, also of Britton.

Auxiliary Resumes

BRITTON—The American Legion Auxiliary to Glen H. Daykin Post 155 met last Monday evening in the home of Mrs. Dean Downing, for the first time since the summer recess.

The President, Mrs. Willard Exelby, held a short business meeting during which various money-making proects were discussed.

The group hopes to have enough members in attendance for the October meeting for the installation of the new officers.

Couples Club Honors Pair

The evening was spent playing cards and high prizes were awarded to Mrs. Ken Bortel and Dick Bruce.

Low score prizes went to Mrs. James Arft and Ronald Croll.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Patterson of Adrian will be hosts for the October gathering.

Mr. and Mrs. Ford E. Brown of Britton are announcing the engagement of their daughter, Joyce Marie, to A/3 Richard E. Moore, son of Mr. and Mrs. Hamilton F. Moore of Macon. A winter wedding is being planned.

Community Fund Goal Increased by $200

BRITTON — Six officers attended the September meeting of the Britton-Macon Community Fund Foundation at the Ridgeway Township Hall last Tuesday evening.

Fred Miller, president, conducted the meeting and a new budget was drawn up for the coming year. The goal is $1,700 which is $200 more than last year.

The money will be distributed to:

Red Cross	$150
Salvation Army	150
Michigan United Fund	225
Wolverine Boy Scout Council	150
Tuckabachee Council	150
Local Camp Fire and Blue Bird Groups	200
Local Boy Scouts and Cub Scouts	200
Local Recreation Program	200
Local Community Impsovement	150
Family Counseling Program	50
Administrative Expenses	75
TOTAL	$1,700

The group also voted to give $50 to the survivors of the Reed family.

The kick-off for the annual appeal was set for Tuesday, Oct. 16, with a coffee hour at 7:30 p.m. at the L and S Restaurant.

Persons interested in helping in this drive for funds which benefit the entire community are urged to attend this meeting.

The next executive meeting is scheduled for Oct. 23 at 7:30 p.m. at the Township Hall.

MR. AND MRS. CHARLES BENEDICT

Benedicts Honored

The event will be held at the Britton Congregational Christian Church Sunday, Sept. 23 from 2-5 p.m.

They are the parents of two children, Philip and Kay at home.

Relatives, friends and neighbors are cordially invited.

Baseball Clinic Held at Park

Keith Spicer and Mark McKettrich, proteges of Mr. Deakin and prospective Tiger players, worked with several boys of the community for 2½ hours.

Boys who received instructions were Tom Komon, Walt Korican, Ray Vershum, Larry Ash, Tommy Korican, Ron Mastie, Jerry Korican, Den Mastie, Joe Prochaska, Roger Luegge and Walter Anspach.

Mr. Deakin plans to hold another clinic next summer and hopes to have a larger group and more interest shown in the project.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Mastie and family entertained Mr. Deakin, Keith and Mark for supper after the clinic.

Flower Exhibit Held by Club

BRITTON—The annual flower exhibit of the Ridgeway Garden Club was held in the home of Mrs. Clifford Southard last Tuesday.

The roll call was answered by "Something unusual in my garden this year."

Special mention was made of the arrangements of gladioli and asters, also one of vegetables on a basket tray.

A new member, Mrs. Lavaun Mann, was welcomed into the club.

Refreshments were served by the hostess.

Britton Band Starts Seasonal Activities

BRITTON—Twenty-eight members of the Britton High School marching band began the 1962-63 season with an "introductions" show during half time at the game Friday between Britton and Manchester.

Gary Griffin, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Griffin of Milan Rd., was chosen drum major for the year.

Other members of the band are:

David Bush
Susan Eddinger
Ruth Houseman
Shelly Saxton, flutes
Linda Clement
Rita Montalvo
Mary Popelar
Donna Tiede, clarinets
Bill Higgenbotham
Karen Ivan
Jerry Korican
Marcia Popelar, alto saxaphones
Chug Brablee, tenor sax
Larry Ash
Harry Graham
Stephanie Hochrein
Gary Spohr, cornets
Jack Brown
Tom Schroder, trombones
Terry Auten, tuba
Bob Knudson
Mary Lou Servoss
Carl Studnicka
Tom Tucker, percussion

Future activities for the band include appearances at remaining home games, the University of Michigan Band Day Sept. 29, Lenawee County Band Day at Tecumseh Oct. 9 and coming concerts at the school.

Extension Plans Made

BRITTON — Plans for the year were approved by L and M Extension Club members as they met with Mrs. Lee Keeling last Thursday noon.

A luncheon was served by the hostess and Mrs. Ned Brown.

Other new officers are:

Vice-chairman — Mrs. Elmer Eberhardt
Secretary — Mrs. Martin Ivan Jr.
Treasurer — Mrs. Orris Tubbs
Project leaders — Mrs. Lee Keeling, Mrs. Edward Kanous

A travelougue on Hawaii was given by Mrs. Bert Moore, showing slides and souvenirs from the trip to that island which Mr. and Mrs. Moore made in May.

The next meeting will be at the home of Mrs. Orris Tubbs.

Mr. and Mrs. Lee Taylor and Mrs. Tom Hamilton of Adrian attended the funeral services of their cousin, Mrs. Virginia Blue, in Ann Arbor Tuesday.

Burial was in the Ridgeway Cemetery.

Mrs. Blue was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Lee, formerly of Britton.

VOICE OF THE HERALD

'Try Tecumseh First' Heeded

A couple of issues ago we editorialized that Tecumseh folks should "Try Tecumseh First" when they want to buy something.

Instead of streaking out-of-town, we suggested to buyers that local stores might have the very item, priced right, too, that the resident might be seeking.

There were some nice comments immediately after it went into print, mainly from the business community.

This week we received a report from a shopper, which was the best reaction to the piece, in that the "Try Tecumseh First" theory was worked in actuality.

A customer popped into Helms Furniture and asked to see a crib mattress. She checked the quality and price — $9.95 — liked the deal and purchased it.

Then she told Dwight Helms the full story. Seems she had filled out a form with a mail order house and was all set to mail it, when she decided to "Try Tecumseh First."

The customer was happy — for several reasons:

No. 1 — The local price was actually less than what she would have had to pay via the mail order firm, since with freight charges, it would have cost her more than $10 buying the mattress that way.

No. 2 — She could examine the merchandise she wanted to buy, take it with her, no waiting period.

As we noted in the original piece, when you do go "Tecumseh First", you are helping yourself. If you can be satisfied locally you in essence aid in the upkeep of the community and schools via the merchant's taxes.

Simple? Yes, it is. So keep this thought in mind — "Try Tecumseh First."

REV. ALLTON N. ALLBECK

Interfaith Cooperation Built First St. Peter's

By CLARA WALDRON

Perhaps there are advantages in being a small community.

When the territorial census of 130 was taken Tecumseh Township had a population of 771 people, yet within five years they could build an edifice as lastingly beautiful as Old St. Peter's church.

It could not possibly have been done by the small congregation of that period. It was done only through the cooperation of the entire community.

There have been critical things said about "outsiders" interfering in church matters in 1962, but one of the four official members of the original building committee was a Quaker. Musgrove Evans was a "birth-right Friend," and yet he took a very active part in the foundation of St. Peter's, and as far as is known there was no dissention in the congregation or in the settlement.

Why cannot the city of 1962 be as harmonious and broad-minded as this early pioneer town?

Not only the original parish members but newcomers as well had only praise for the then new St. Peter's. The editor of Tecumseh's first newspaper, The Democrat, had been in the community a very short time when he wrote in the first edition, published just one day before the first service was held in the newly completed church:

"Among the many pleasing objects that strike the eye of the visitor in this neighborhood, this building is by far the most attractive. Passing over the higher reasons for the pleasure of the beholder, we would observe of our church that in the simple yet elegant grace of its exterior proportions, the commodious tasteful arrangement of everything within, and the picturesque and conspicuously situated grounds of its location, it stands confessedly without a rival in the territory of Michigan."

If this young man from "down east" could enter so whole-heartedly into this project, surely those who have benefited from its mellow and serene beauty should be able to join in the earnest efforts to preserve a monument of which their children and their children's children may be proud.

Mission Program Set

The newly formed Lutheran Church in America will start its development with a wide mission program for encreasing the Lutheran faith.

The Gloria Dei Evangelical Church is a mission church and is a part of this evangelistic program. For these occasions the congregation has been assigned by the Board of American Mission a guest preacher, the Rev. Allton N. Allbeck from Toledo.

Rev. Allbeck is the pastor of the Messiah Lutheran Church at Toledo. During his pastorate the Messiah congregation grew and finished a new church-building program.

Rev. Allbeck as mission developer worked many years in Synod and now a member of the mission board of the LCA. He will preach on Sunday, Sept. 30, first at 10:30 a.m. during the regular worship service. His topic will be "The Power of Prayer".

Every evening, starting Sunday at 7 p.m. he will deliver a message.

Sermon subjects are Sunday, "The Power of the Holy Ghost"; Monday, "When God Comes In"; Tuesday, "Saved for a Purpose"; Wednesday, "The One Thousand Dollar Check"; Thursday, "The Foolishness of God."

The pastor of the congregation, Dr. Laszlo Gero, extends an invitation to every Christian, Lutherans and other denominations to attend these services during this mission period.

Pastor Allbeck will have a discussion period about Christian faith and life, after every evening service, in the church, 120 Brown Street.

Private Joins Army Maneuver

Army Pvt. Dennis C. Irelan, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles O. Irelan of Tecumseh, recently participated with more than 70,000 Army and Air Force personnel in Exercise Swift Strike II, a two-week U. S. Strike Command maneuver in North and South Carolina.

Pvt. Irelan is a rifleman in Company A of the 2d Division's 38th Infantry, regularly stationed at Fort Benning, Ga. He entered the Army last January and received basic combat training at Fort Knox, Ky.

He was graduated from Tecumseh High School in 1961, and attended Eastern Michigan University.

Party Honors Mother, Baby

Mrs. David Holly and her infant son, John, were honored Friday evening at the home of Mrs. James Feight when places were set for 30 guests from Brooklyn, Adrian, Tecumseh and Tipton.

Ladies of the Christian Service Circle of the Grace Bible Church of Tipton assisted and games were played with favors given to the guests.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Don Murphy, Mrs. M. McVay, Mrs. Dorman Edwards and Mrs. Feight.

Hi-Steppers Congratulate Winners

Leaders of the Country Hi-Steppers 4-H Club are extending congratulations to the members for their work at the Lenawee County Fair and at the State Show at Lansing recently.

Winners at State Show were:
Sandra Sterling—food
Tom Creger—electrical
Karen Hendricks—vegetables
Douglas Hoffmeister — vegetables
Dianne Mitzner—horse

Members must have their reports in before premium money will be distributed, according to Mrs. Russell Mitzner, leader.

Winter projects were selected at the last meeting.

Horse project members plan a field day for all members of the club and their families to be held Sept. 23.

Future Farmer Announced

Tecumseh's Future Farmer of the month is Terry Johnston, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harlen Johnston of rural Tipton.

He was one of the first boys to have the sheep from the Sears-Roebuck commercial sheep project. He also has four acres of corn for his FFA project.

Last year Terry attended the sheep shearing school at Michigan State University. He was chairman of the cooperative activities last year and this year he is chairman of the refreshment committee in the local FFA chapter.

Long AND Short

By TOM RIORDAN

Attempting to muster $100,000 for the purpose of preserving an historic building can be a trying chore.

Nine residents laboring over the project will attest to that.

But there are compensations.

Ranking as the greatest refresher and stimulate to keep plodding along are the notes people send with their donations.

Many have already appeared in The Herald and another batch runs in this edition.

Most are from strangers, but ever so often an old friend sends a buck and pens a short 'hello and good luck.".

For me, the most precious touch happened Monday when my sister's oldest son, Brian O'Neil of Birmingham, age 12, wrote:

"Hope you can save the church. I think it would be a great servis to the state of Michigan. I also think no building built today can campair with the church. Some day people will realize the value of that old church.

"Love, Brian."

This was almost enough to send me bolting out the door and down the street, practically demanding that folks agree with this philosophy.

As we noted in earlier stories, the TV and radio stations, dailies and weeklies throughout the state have been extremely cooperative in telling the story of Old St. Peter's.

Both wire services, UPI and AP, filed pictures and stories. As a result of the latter, donations have been received from distant places—including one last week from Omaha, Neb., as the result of the Associated Press piece in The World-Herald of that city.

Mrs. J. C. Haney of Omaha, gave $10 and noted, "We visited the church three or four years ago while in Michigan as it has an interest to me—my grandparents the Rev. and Mrs. George Wilson, were married in it. My father lived in Tecumseh for a few years as a young boy and his brothers and sisters are buried in Tecumseh.

She concludes, "My husband and I are of the Catholic religion."

As most readers realize, people of all faiths—Presbyterians, Methodists, Friends, Episcopalians—are teaming together on the effort.

A veteran newspaperman, "Jake" Albert, for more than 45 years promotion manager of The Detroit News, penned:

The realization that many people, young and old, are interested in the past is striking.

I dare say a lot more people in the Tecumseh area are concerned with this project than have stepped forward to express themselves or give $1.

Most have probably just put off coming in or sending a comment, figuring there is plenty of time.

Actually, there is little. The hour glass runs out on St. Peter's fate next week.

Please don't neglect the task if you intend to help. Each dollar is vital and needed immediately, so hustle into action.

To all the hundreds and hundreds of persons who have joined in the parade—both in the area and out-state — the committee says a big "Thank you."

In the current Detroit News football ratings for high school teams, Coach Tom Fagan's Indians are listed among Class B squads as No. 6 in Michigan.

Jim Johnson added three more touchdowns as Tecumseh stopped Dundee, 27-7, last week. This gives him five TDs in two games. Details of the win, plus more pictures, appear on the last page of this section. Friday evening, the Indians perform at Ypsilanti Lincoln.

Parking Project Nets $60

Tecumseh Athletic Booster Club will meet next Wednesday evening at 7:30 in the high school gym with Coach Tom Fagan in charge of the program.

Tecumseh fans are urged to use the Booster parking lot for a donation of 25c. The money raised will help pay off a deficit of $400 on the press box.

Membership tickets are available from members and at the athletic field parking lot on nights of home games.

Players Moving to Center

By CHERIE RIORDAN

The city's Community Center will be the new home for the Tecumseh Players, members decided Sunday evening.

The Center's facilities will allow the group an opportunity to employ varied staging techniques.

Since the group will be working in a smaller area than previously, all performances will be given Thursday, Friday and Saturday nights for two consecutive weekends.

First production, "The Man Who Came To Dinner," will be presented Oct. 25, 26, 27 and Nov. 1, 2, 3. Rik Kureth is director assisted by Mrs. Tom Corkery.

A musical, under the direction of Robert Tolan, of Adrian, will be staged at the Community Center on Feb. 14, 15, 16 and 21, 22, 23.

Mrs. Allen Russell will assist Mr. Tolan.

Final show of the season is a light drama, "Angel Street", which achieved world prominance as the movie, "Gas Light."

Mrs. Gloria Jadwin will direct. Dates are April 18, 19, 20 and 25, 26, 27.

Tickets for the comedy and drama are $1.50 with the musical priced at $2. Season tickets are $4.50.

TAIDC Praised for Landing Faraday

Mr. Osburn led the TAIDC team through a tricky maze of selling, planning and arranging financing to bring Faraday to Tecumseh.

SBA played the key role in the money side of the deal, putting up $320,000 in the TAIDC's $525,000 project.

It was the largest loan made by SBA to a Michigan community development group in the four-year history of the federal government agency.

Mr. Parris pointed out, "The local development company program is truly a community self-help approach that not only assists a small business concern, but improves the general economy of an entire community.

"The payroll of the small concern provides new business all along Main Street. But equally important, the small concern and thousands of others have great social and economic value to our nation.

"I think of this type of endeavor like the old fashioned barn raising. All of you working together are responsible for the completion," he added.

In addition to lauding the TAIDC, the Washington guest also praised city government for its cooperation and the Clinton Savings Bank, which loaned $38,000 to the program.

"This is truly the American Way and I have a feeling of deep pride and sincere satisfaction to represent SBA as a party to the completion of this project." Mr. Parris told the group.

He concluded by saying that the TAIDC would be welcome back by SBA for another loan.

The SBA program has helped create 14,000 new jobs in four years, via its $30 million in loans throughout the United States.

Grounds Will Be Improved

Committee to investigate includes Mrs. Carlton Cook, chairman; Mrs. Neville Hart, Mrs. Carlos Kniesely, Mrs. Orrie Gilbert, Mrs. Harold Easton, Mrs. R. G. B. Marsh, Mrs. Howard Furry and Mrs. Neil Pearson.

The committee was named to study the needs and present their findings to a landscape architect.

They were welcomed by Walter Teeter, hospital administrator, and Mrs. Keith Whitehouse, wife of a staff doctor who was instrumental in completing the landscaping at Morenci.

According to Mrs. Furry, planting would not take place until spring or summer of next year.

The plan centers around future building and parking area, the zoning laws of the city and the whole plan must be approved by the hospital board.

The committee expects to attend the Detroit Federated Garden Club meeting in October.

'No Booz' Boardmen Decide

The Parks and Recreation Board decided last week to rescind its approval of allowing liquor at the Community Center for a district meeting of the Junior Chamber of Commerce.

The board had originally approved the request, since the meeting would give the Center badly-needed revenue. Council —in a split vote — approved the board's action at the Sept. 17 meeting.

The Jaycees reportedly will hold the meeting elsewhere.

Explorers Show Dads Gun Skill

Eight members of Explorer Post 87 spent Saturday morning at the Tecumseh Conservation Grounds where they learned basic gun safety rules.

Much to the surprise of the post advisor, Richard Witt, and two of the fathers, Howard Wilson and Charles Brown, the boys proceeded to powder the clay pigeons with a fine display of accuracy.

ANOTHER SHOOT is in the planning. Mr. Witt invites any boys from 14 to 17 or in the ninth grade to join the Explorers.

Meetings are held every second and fourth Monday of the month at the Scout Cabin. Anyone interested in joining may attend or contact one of the members.

Emergency Hospital Discussed

Mrs. Melvin Purple opened her home Sept. 2 for the meeting of the Progress Extension Club when 13 members and one guest, Mrs. Harley Slick, attended.

A tour of the fire station was made. Information about Civil Defense and the emergency hospital in Tecumseh was presented to the group by Joe Rice, deputy director of the hospital and John Saling, Civil Defense director in Lenawee County.

Members will bring materials to make clowns for the Good Will Industry Gift Shop at the next meeting a Halloween costume party, Oct. 29 at the home of Mrs. Theodore Ouderkirk.

Hoover Gives Dollar

The venerable Mr. Hoover is the first of four key Americans to respond to invitations to boost the effort. The others are President Kennedy, Dwight Eisenhower and Harry Truman.

Personal requests went to these four on the basis that one of their predecessors, Andrew Jackson, donated to help build Old St. Peter's in 1833 and would they help to preserve it.

With Mr. Hoover's gift and others which arrived in the mail and at The Herald so far this week, the total has reached $5,313.60.

The drive to gather $100,000 by Oct. 1 reaches its climax this weekend. The committee conducting the drive has received one bid, on restoration of the structure, which totals $21,400.

A firm in Detroit, which moved Mariners Church, asked to bid on this phase of the effort.

Carl Johnson of the company spent much of Saturday afternoon in Tecumseh examining St. Peter's and checking a half-dozen potential new locations, which were pointed out to him by Joe Rice of the site committee.

Figures from Mr. Johnson for transfers to each of these are expected to be in committee hands by the end of this week.

More than 60 letters were sent last week to charitable foundations of Michigan, asking for help in the St. Peter's project if it meets with bylaws.

Local response to the effort has been brisk in the past week, especially among organizations, which are currently voting sums to the drive.

Residents continually drop by The Herald office to make $1 gifts and check the long adding machine tape of the running total kept by Mrs. Robert Hunt, the paper's bookkeeper.

Tipton Pythians Give Display

Staff members all wore floor-length dresses of embossed taffeta with long white gloves and wrist corsages using Pythian sister colors of white, red, yellow and blue.

In conclusion, the lights were dimmed and each lady carried a lighted candle as they formed a cross, during which they sang "The Old Rugged Cross".

The leaders were Mrs. Richard Platt and Mrs. Garret Linger.

Others were, Mrs. Charles Griffell, Mrs. Grover Swarts, Mrs. Bernice Shadbolt, Mrs. Roy Benedict, Mrs. Raymond Platt, Dorothy Baker, Mrs. Howard Luce, Mrs. Lyle Whelan, Mrs. Laurence Mohr, Mrs. Nina Keil, Mrs. Lyle Bailey, Mrs. Verle Miller, Mrs. Howard Kronberg, Mrs. Richard VanSickle.

Mrs. Wayne McKnight assisted with the arches and candles.

Mrs. Lamont Simmons presided at the piano.

Mrs. William Vollmer is the captain of the drill team.

Mrs. Rollo Thielan accompanied the group to Detroit.

$25 Given to Fund

Forty-six members and five guests of the Business and Professional Women's Club met Monday evening in the Bostonian Dining room.

The new yearbooks were presented to the members and Mrs. Melvin Wegner gave an outline of meetings for the coming year.

Programs will be centered around youth.

FOLLOWING dinner Mrs. Purnell Osborn presided over the meeting when a gift of $25 was voted for the "Save Historic St. Peter's" fund.

The president asked for volunteers to visit the next council meeting of the city and the next school board meeting.

The Federation president is urging each club to designate two members to visit each of these civic organizations in order to gain a better knowledge of what is being done in the community.

Ethel Hammack and Ruth Stewart volunteered to visit the City Council. Mabel Lockwood and Naomi Sallows will attend school board meeting.

☆

VACATION TIME was the topic for the program with Mrs. Albert Todd, leader. She introduced Mrs. Paul Maves who gave a description of her trip to the Holy Land last Easter time.

She concluded with an original poem, incorporating some of the places and things she had seen on her many trips.

By DOROTHY GRIGG
Herald Society Editor

The Tecumseh Herald has annually run a listing of students attending colleges and universities for the fall term. We would like to do this again this year and make this list as complete as possible.

We invite readers help in doing so.

Many phone calls are necessary to check information we think is correct. Parents are invited to call HA 3-2174 to report their children's schools.

√

Carol Kapnick of Greenville spent the last two weekends with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Leland Kapnick, and her brothers, Jerry and Alan. Miss Kapnick is teaching physical education in the Greenville system and has 120 members in the Girl's Athletic Club.

Student Council President Mary Ann Mead, who organized a battery of volunteers to accept donations after the game, reports gifts totaling $47.35, most in small change.

Donations continue to arrive from all parts of the Michigan and many from Ohio and other states.

The Herald is again publishing a current list of donors, which appear on page four of the middle section.

Comments from them appear on page four, also in the last section on pages one and two.

TOM PAYNE of Ann Arbor, Democratic candidate for Congress from the Second District, was in Tecumseh last week for the Faraday official opening and expressed interest in the church restoration project.

He volunteered to help and was immediately pressed into service — phoning the White House, Senator Pat McNamara's office and Democratic National Headquarters.

Mr. Payne's efforts are being directed to President Kennedy to voice approval of the project and help garner national recognition for it.

One unique plea for help went to 72 couples who were married in St. Peter's over recent years. Each received a personal letter from Mrs. Donald Wright and Mrs. Earl Lindsley, telling about the restoration program.

Mr. and Mrs. Archie Dunsmore have returned to their Tecumseh home after spending the summer at their Devil's Lake cottage.

√

Staff Sgt. Alfred Jewell has returned to Ogden, Utah after a three-week furlough with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Jewell.

Mrs. James Barton, Tom and Glenn were in Stockbridge Sunday for the birthday anniversary of Mrs. W. W. Glenn. Mr. and Mrs. Glenn are Mrs. Barton's parents.

Another first great grandchild for a Tecumsehite. Leon Williamson was notified that his granddaughter; Mrs. Al Wacker, daughter of the former Barbara Williamson, gave birth to a son Sept. 24. Mr. and Mrs. Wacker live in Port Huron.

Airman 1/c Randall Beck arrived in San Francisco Sept. 26 after 18 months spent in Okinawa with SAC. He will have a three-week furlough with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Beck, and his sister and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Kampmueller. He is en route to MacDill Air Force Base in Tampa, Fla.

Mr. and Mrs. James Barton were guests of the family to celebrate their 26th wedding anniversary recently at a restaurant in Ann Arbor. The table of 10 included Mr. and Mrs. Russell Hyatt, Mr. and Mrs. John Barton, Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Barton, Tom and Glenn Barton besides the honored guests.

Mr. and Mrs. Willis Kilbourne of Milan were visitors Monday in the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Manley.

Mrs. Enna Whaley, Katharine Hunt, Mrs. Robert Hunt and Mrs. Clair Morse were in Dexter Saturday to attend the Washtenaw County Association, OES meeting.

√

Mr. and Mrs. Cecile Viele were in Lansing Sunday to visit her brother-in-law who is a patient at St. Lawrence Hospital.

$5 Given by Group for Drive

Mrs. Stack Zilke of Deerfield opened her home for the first fall meeting of the Tecumseh Mothers of Twins Club Sept. 19.

Eleven members and two guests welcomed Mrs. Steve Kruger, a new member.

Members voted to contribute $5 to the "Save Historic St. Peter's Fund.

Mrs. Kruger won the mystery gift. A bake sale was held and refreshments served by the hostess, assisted by Mrs. James Forsyth.

The Founders Day meeting in October will be held at the home of Mrs. Paul Rudd.

Reality

"Reality" will be the subject of the Lesson-Sermon at Christian Science church services Sunday.

Rally Day Will Feature Bible Giving

Sunday, Sept. 23, Rally Day will be held in the First Methodist Church during the worship service. Teachers from the third grade up will sit with their students.

Third grade students will receive their Bibles during the service, to be centered around the family and the home.

Morning worship at 10 a.m. and church school classes for every age at 11:15 a.m.

The building is worth $425,000.

Ingredients include the $342,000 loan from SBA, the $38,000 Clinton bank loan, $45,000 in loans from interested parties and the land valued at $30,000.

The city is investing $70,000 in services and improvements. These include water and sewer lines, curb and gutter and improved roads.

☆

MR. OSBORN points out that help came from many directions. Consumers Power Co., and Michigan Economic Development officials pitched in.

Gov. John Swainson's office went to bat in Washington, as did Senators Phillip Hart and Pat McNamara.

How well the Detroit office of SBA, under Robert Phillips, and members of TAIDC worked out the package is exemplified by the speed with which Washington approved the plan.

Normally, it takes several months at the head office. For the Faraday loan, everything was processed in 10 days, with only two or three minor alterations.

Faraday is currently doing $2½ million in annual sales and there is a "good volume increase," explains Frederick J. Worden, vice-president and general manager.

The new plant has made a difference in the firm's work flow. "We've gained substantially in increased efficiency," Mr. Worden states.

Goodrich-Hazen of Adrian, which constructed the building at $425,000, constructed the Faraday plant without any changes or alterations whatsoever.

Faraday Facts

What does Faraday, Inc. manufacture?

The list is extensive, numbering nearly 1,500 items.

General catagories would include industrial and commercial bells, chimes, horns, buzzers and sirens.

In the communication and clock systems, there are fire alarms, hospital nurses' call.

Faraday is also engaged in military and missile items. Included here are air brake buzzers, aircraft bells, heavy duty military vehicle horns.

√

What about major customers?

Others are:

R. B. Olson, treasurer and controller

K. P. Miller, manufacturer manager

E. N. Cellentani, sales manager.

L. E. Earling, engineering department manager

W. D. Hippert, quality control manager.

Palms and Cathedral Candelabra

Palms, cathedral candelabra and tall vases of white gladioli and yellow pompons were used to enhance the sanctuary of the First Baptist Church Sept. 21 for the wedding of Sharon Butler and David L. Tumey.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. William Butler of 301 W. Logan St. and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Tumey of Michigan Center.

On the arm of her father, the bride wore a ballerina-length gown fashioned with lace bodice, Sabrina neckline and three quarter sleeves.

Carol Brighton was maid-of-honor and Kathleen Butler, sister of the bride, was the bridesmaid.

Debbie Filter was the flower girl.

JACK HOLDERMAN was best man. The guests were seated by Keith Lewis and Terry Phillips. Timmy Rutherford was the ring bearer.

Mr. and Mrs. Warren Filter were hosts for the reception in the Youth House for 125 guests.

Linda Blumerick registered the guests. Others assisting are Betty Henson, Mary Carson, Joan Lewis, Elaine Laws and Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Rutherford.

Following a wedding trip to the Niagara Falls the couple will be at home in Jackson, where the groom is employed as an apprentice electrician.

Vocation Program Is Started

A new Catholic adult education program for vocations to the priesthood and sisterhood is being launched this week in the Archdiocese of Detroit.

The program will be operated on a "parish saturation" basis. On Sunday, all adult parishioners attending Mass in parishes participating in the plan will be given an attractive, fully illustrated. four-color booklet entitled "Parents, You have the Church's Future in Your Home."

Another booklet, to be distributed in October, is entitled "Questions Parents Ask About Vocation."

These are the first in a series of ten booklets which will be distributed at the rate of one a month from September through June, designed to alert Catholic parents to every aspect of the vocation problem, to answer their questions.

Trading Stamps Sought

Trading stamp books still are being collected to purchase two buses for use by patients at Ypsilanti State Hospital.

The goal is 5,500 books, to purchase two buses for use in transporting patients to recreational activities.

Although the vehicles will be acquired through the Gold Bell stamp plan, any type of stamp book will be accepted.

Other brands will be turned in to an organization which will exchange them, book for book.

'Show & Do' Is Coming

Howard Wilson, Jr., Lenawee training chairman, will be among those on the staff for annual Wolverine Council Show and Do event at camp Kanesatake Saturday, Sept. 29.

Starting at 9 a.m., the program is the first fall project for all Boy Scout leaders. It will present 20 events for everyone to participate in.

Golda Covell Married Sept. 22 to Ovid Updyke

Golda Covell and Ovid Updyke, both of Clinton, were married Sept. 22 in Angola, Ind. by the Rev. A. J. Matthis in the Church of Christ.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Albert Beevers and the late Mr. Beevers of Adrian.

She was attended by her sister, Mrs. Opal Brady of Wolf Lake, and the best man was William Covell, son of the bride, from Clinton.

The couple will live in Clinton following a short trip through Indiana and Michigan.

Tecumseh Students at Olivet

Lois Brugger Marries Richard Logan

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. DeArle J. Brugger of Tipton and Mr. and Mrs. Junior Logan of Onsted.

The bride approached the altar on the arm of her father wearing a floor-length gown of Italian silk and Chantilly lace styled with a Sabrina neckline edged in pearls and sequins with long tapered sleeves forming points over the hands.

She wore a crown of net trimmed in delustered sequins and pearls which secured a four tiered elbow length veil of imported French illusion.

☆

Carolyn Green of Canton, O. was the maid-of-honor and Mrs. Raynor Hammill of Berwyn, Ill., Joyce and Madeline Brugger, sisters of the bride, were the bridesmaids.

They carried wicker plateau baskets with copper Fuji chrysanthemums, sea oats and wheat, gold, copper and eggshell chrysanthemums.

Raynor Hammill was best man and the guests were seated by Gary Wheaton and brothers of the groom, Thomas and Roger Logan.

A RECEPTION for 375 guests was held in the church basement where Ellen Beall registered the guests.

Others assisting with the reception were Mrs. Paul Green, Mrs. Gary Wheaton, Mrs. Tim Ostrander, Mrs. Jerome St. Louis, Mrs. James Brown and, Mrs. P. William Leyrer.

The couple are making their home in Canton, O. where both are employed.

The groom is a graduate of DeVry Technical Institute, Chicago and is employed by Chet's Appliance Service.

Both young people are Onsted High School 1959 graduates.

The rehearsal dinner given by the groom's parents was held at The Tecumseh Restaurant.

SES cheerleaders in new green skirts and sweaters came through loud and clear at last Saturday's football game. For the past week the playground at school echoed with sounds of practice cheers and flying feet. New and better routines are being prepared for next game.

Sixth grade class officers recently elected include

President — Thomas Roher
Vice-president — Bill Holmes
Secretary — Bill Whiting
Treasurer — David Laidlaw
Mary Mudgett

Mr. LaFee is teaching electricity, its uses and the structure of the atom to the eighth grade. Grafting of plants is also being studied.

The class is studying about Luther Burbank and his work with plants and George Washington Carver's work with the peanut.

Roxane Crist

Again this year "Festival of Song" will be broadcast over the PA.

The program is under the direction of Frances Gillet of the University of Michigan.

Marcia Boudrie

During the month of October, the seventh grade will be responsible for Service Squad. Captains have been chosen with Leslie Rowe in charge of the boys and Mary Greene heading the girls.

Eileen Perry

Recently in History, the eighth graders have been taking five or 10 minutes out of class to discuss the problems and the headlines in the news. The most recent subject is the troubles of Cuba and dangers to US security. We are all praying that the Cuban problems will be solved quickly and safely.

Barbara Brown

Seventh grade window sill is filled with lovely paperwork. Mr. LaFee is conducting weekly art lessons. Some of the designs include doves, boxes, airplanes, boats and dinosaurs.

Football season was off to a grand start last Saturday as the St. Elizabeth Cubs met the St. Mary Irish from Adrian in a well matched game at the Tecumseh's Recreation Field.

Players wish to take this opportunity to express their gratitude to the Rev. Fr. Thomas J. Collins, the Association, to all who by their interest and assistance have made this new equipment possible.

Coach Gordon Carker and Wes Haeussler, along with many SES spectators, proudly watched the Red flash across the field and though the Irish won by a score of 13-7 all were mighty proud of Roger Young's amazing 90-yard dash and the hard playing of the Cubs.

HE HEADS NEW OPERATION—Frederick J. Worden looks over the spacious 84,000-square-foot Faraday plant which he runs as vice-president and general manager. Mr. Worden joined the company last spring, taking over from Bob Barnard, who resigned and has accepted an executive position with Tecumseh Products Co. In Friday's plant-opening program, Mr. Worden spoke to about 40 civic leaders and introduced the guest speaker, James Parris of SBA in Washington. Mr. Parris lauded the Tecumseh industrial development group which brought Faraday to this community.

Moms of FFA Members Map Plans for Banquet

The following officers were elected:

President—Mrs. Dale Cook

Vice President—Mrs. William Kukral.

Secretary-Treasurer—Mrs. Edgar Relyea.

Plans were made for the annual [illegible] Banquet to be held Monday, Nov. 5, in the school cafeteria.

Committees appointed:

Kitchen — Mrs. William Kukral, chairman; Mrs. Henry Howard, Mrs. Raynor Sweet, Mrs. Albert Neuman, Mrs. August Hoffmeister, Mrs. Charles Relyea and Mrs. Harlan Johnston.

Dining room—Mrs. John Martinus, chairman; Mrs. Wilbur Boyce, Mrs. Jack Smith, Mrs. Ed Mueller, Mrs. Harold Radant, Mrs. Arthur Lips and Mrs. Dale Cook.

Also helping will be Mrs. Hollis Bourns and Mrs. Dow Bilby.

All mothers who have boys in FFA are automatically members of the club and are asked to attend the three meetings of the year.

The second gathering will be held Oct. 8 at 8 p.m. in the high school.

Waldrons Make Trip

Mr. and Mrs. Wilfred Waldron were in Waynetown, Ind. Tuesday to see their daughter, Mrs. William Munn. They went to see the Harold Dales near Muncie and from there to Columbus where they were over night guests of the Rev. and Mrs. J. F. Kiskaddon, formerly of Tecumseh.

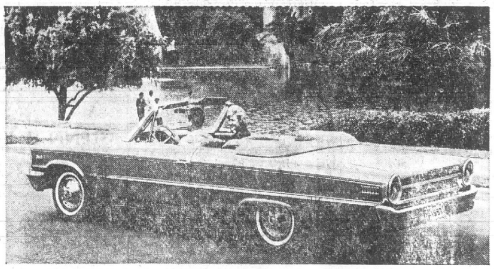
'63 FORD
1963 FALCON and . .
1963 THUNDERBIRD



Completely re-styled for 1963 Ford's top-of-the-line Galaxie 500/XL convertible, shown above, offers luxury car features, such as bucket seats and console, a 260-cubic-inch Challenger V-8 engine, custom-designed interior appointments, and a console-mounted transmission lever. A padded, color-keyed boot covers the convertible top when it is lowered into the storage well, and special 500/XL emblems are mounted on the front fenders immediately behind the wheel openings. Through improved lubricants and special production procedures, Ford has been able to eliminate the historic 1,000-mile inspection on all of its 1963 Galaxies.

Two completely new hardtops and three new station wagons have been added to Ford's Fairlane series for 1963. This Fairlane 500 sports coupe with its Thunderbird styled roofline, features a full-length console separating luxury-styled bucket seats, and a color-keyed interior.

Engineering advancements and modern production techniques have eliminated the need for a 1,000-mile inspection, and increased major chassis lubrication intervals to 36,000 miles, with minor lubrication intervals of 6,000 miles. These are only two of the many service-saving items designed into all Ford Division cars except club wagons and buses for 1963.

Fairlane hardtops, station wagons, and sporty sedans will go on display in dealer showrooms on Friday, September 28.

Women's Fellowship Buys Office Flooring

TIPTON — The September meeting of the Community Church Women's Fellowship was held at the home of Mrs. Herman Titley. Devotions were lead by Mrs. Merrick Dibble.

It was voted to buy flooring for the pastor's office and two Sunday school rooms.

Mrs. Richard Platt and Mrs. Jack Allen were appointed to complete the new years books.

Elected officers were:

President — Mrs. Merrick Dibble

Vice-president — Mrs. Herman Titley

Secretary — Mrs. Kenneth Munger

Treasurer — Mrs. Jack Allen

Reporter — Mrs. Dean Cook

Flower Committee—

Northeast section — Mrs. Lyle Whelan

Northwest section — Mrs. Guy Cox

Southeast section — Mrs. Richard Vollmer

Southwest section — Mrs. McKinley Spalding

Plans for the church fair were discussed to be held Nov. 7.

The hostess served refreshments.

The next meeting will be Oct. 16 at the home of Mrs. Merrick Dibble.

CUSTOM-BUILT — 1963 Grand Prix, the most distinctive series ever produced by Pontiac, represents idyllic combination of sports car appeal and superior performance. The styling theme of simplicity is predominant in the sweeping grille, with vertically arranged head lamps flanked by impressive parking and turn signal lamps, sculptured side panels, and a concave rear window. See the Grand Prix Oct. 4 at Milt Wagner Pontiac, 1145 North Main St., Adrian.

THS Juniors Sell Magazines

Proceeds will be used for the annual senior trip to Washington, D.C.

Deadline for ordering magazines is Oct. 8.

UNICEF Organizing

Plans are again underway for UNICEF, according to Mrs. Carroll Sprague, chairman.

Tecumseh young people brought in $443 of this — also a record.

Mrs. Sprague invites all interested persons to attend a meeting in the Methodist Educational Building, two doors west of the church, Tuesday, Oct. 2, at 8 p.m.

Fifty-seven million children and mothers in more than 100 countries and territories benefitted from UNICEF aid in 1961.

MANY MORE need help. Three-fourths of the world's children live in countries where there is inadequate food and medical care.

UNICEF depends on voluntary contributions from governments, private groups and individuals.

Its board, with representatives from 30 nations, allocates aid on request from governments who match this two and one-half times.

Through UNICEF a little goes a long way.

One cent can mean five glasses of milk or a child protected from TB.

Ten cents provides 50 vitamins to combat malnutrition.

UNICEF is completely outside the realm of politics. It gives aid without regard to race, nationality, creed or belief.

With First 5-Year or 50,000 Mile Warranty in America Plymouth's On The Move
See It Wednesday - October 3rd

with the first 5-year warranty in America. This big new beauty is so strong that all internal parts of the engine and transmission and drive train are guaranteed 5 years or 50,000 miles. You get sensational performance — get-up-and-go that makes Plymouth champ of the tough Plymouth-Ford-Chevrolet league. Another thing is styling. There's brand-new design with clean, uncomplicated lines. Total effect is terrifically good looking. To sum up: you have to own one to catch one.

We proudly present the brand-new '63 Valiant . . . best all-around compact anybody has come up with yet . . . and features that make the best all-around compact anybody has come up with yet. The Valiant also carries America's first 5-year warranty or 50,000 miles on all internal parts of the engine, transmission and drive train. Sample the Valiant . . . from sedans to station wagons to the new, snappy convertible. We at Chrysler's know that the Valiant is the best all-around compact . . . we want you to know it. Drive it, you'll see.

JIM JOHNSON RAN WILD SCORING 3 TOUCHDOWNS

Hustling Indians Drub Dundee Eleven, 27-7

By JIM LINCOLN

Hard blocking, tackling and lots of hustle often give a football team the heavy end of the score. This is what happened last Friday night when the Indians walloped visiting Dundee, 27-7.

Optimism has soared in Tecumseh during the past week, and perhaps justly so. The Indians were a vastly improved team over the Willow Run game and show signs of further improvement.

This Friday night Tecumseh journeys to Ypsilanti Lincoln to play the twice-beaten Railroaders. Unless the Indians become overconfident, they should handle Ypsi the same as they defeated their first two opponents.

Dundee proved a stubborn foe for about two and a half periods, until Tecumseh tallied its third TD to put the game out of the visitors' reach.

After an exchange of the ball in the initial quarter and after Dundee drove 7 yards to Tecumseh's 13, the Indians broke the scoreless duel on four plays.

☆

HALFBACK Dave Lemerand punched five yards to the 18, where Tim Sisson on the second play pitched out to Jim Johnson, who rambled 78 yards behind some beautiful downfield blocking to Dundee's four.

After a no-gainer, Sisson again shoveled out to Johnson, who rounded right end for the score. Dan Greene then went in for his first of two extra points.

On third down on the Indian's 42, Norm Tucker faked a punt and handed off to Sisson for 13 yards. On fourth down, Tucker again faked a kick and another handoff, and then flipped a short pass to Dave Lemerand, good for 17 yards to Dundee's 27.

With just over a minute remaining, Sisson arched a beauty to Johnson in the southeast corner, where the high-scoring halfback gathered in the pass and went in untouched.

TWO FUMBLES and a penalty stymied an Indian drive to open the second half, but the next time Tecumseh took over, Fagan's offensive team moved for the clincher.

Starting on Dundee's 35, Sisson moved to his right, pitched out to Dave Lemerand as two tacklers dragged Tecumseh's quarterback down, and Lemerand broke down the right sideline behind a couple of blocks for the tally.

Tecumseh's second third-period TD resulted when Sisson again passed to Johnson, this time from the visitors' 23.

The Vikings' lone score was chalked up against the reserves when linebacker John Bowman intercepted a pass on Tecumseh's 18 and scored.

In two games, the Indians have proven their ability to score, with five TDs against Willow Run and four against Dundee. The defensive Apache crew has shown signs of stiffening, a factor that will become more and more important against some formidable opponents coming up on the schedule.

THE VIKINGS found a weakness in the Tecumseh line in the first half, grinding out nearly a 100 yards in rushing and eight first downs. In the final two periods, the Indians plugged the gaps, allowed Dundee just one first down and 29 yards rushing.

The imaginative offense has given Tecumseh scoring punch, but it's been the aggressive play and one blocking and tackling which have the Indians on the run and fans buzzing.

Despite pessimistic predictions of the '62 team, with further improvement and lots of hustle, Tecumseh could loom as a major threat for the Huron League crown.

The big games are still on the schedule, so two easy victories should not spoil an otherwise sparkling season.

GRIDIRON HIGHLIGHTS

Halfback Jay Osburn rocking a Dundee player—and the stands—with a tremendous block on a Viking chasing Tim Sisson, returning a Dundee punt.

√

Tremendous line stand in fourth period when Dundee needed just two yards for a first down—and three cracks at the Indian line yielded just one yard.

√

√

Quarterback Tim Sisson's pitch out to Dave Lemerand for a 35-yard TD play, just before the Indian quarterback hit the turf with two Vikings draped around his frame.

√

The aggressive and gang-tackling Tecumseh 11 in the second half, allowing Dundee just one first down in the last two quarters after yielding eight in the first half.

√

GOP Headquarter Plans Completed

The Republican headquarters will be open each evening from 7 to 9 p.m. staffed by volunteer workers from Tecumseh and the surrounding areas.

There will be a coffee hour from 10:30 until noon each Saturday morning with free coffee and doughnuts for the convenience of shoppers.

Saturday afternoon will be 'stag day" for gentlemen who wish to discuss politics, talk football or just get away from it all.

Richard Hoben, Lenawee County chairman, Mrs. Robert Murray, Lenawee vice-chairman, Del King, Tecumseh chairman and Mrs. Royal Welch, Tecumseh vice-chairman, conducted the meeting.

Committees were named and activities were discussed. Anyone wishing to volunteer to work at the center may contact Mr. King, HA 3-4565.

Choir Is Formed

All boys and girls from the fifth grade through the eighth are welcome.

The first rehearsal will be held Thursday, Oct. 4 from 3:30 to 4:15 p.m., with Mrs. William Raeburn as organist and director.

Family Night Draws Crowd

BRITTON — One hundred ten members and friends of the Congregational Christian Church attended the family night last Wednesday in the Fellowship Center of the church.

The potluck supper and gathering was sponsored by the Duets Class.

The group enjoyed viewing colored slides of Norway and England which were taken on a recent trip by the Rev. and Mrs. Gustav Hannevik.

Rev. Hannevik also gave a reading on Norway, its fishing industry, the famous fjords and the over 11,000 miles of coastline.

The class held a short business meeting and voted to assess each couple $4 to help meet commitments for the balance of the year.

This assessment will take the place of bake sales and a supper.

Principal Back after Operation

BRITTON—William Hettrick, who just began duties as principal of Britton-Macon School the first week of September, is back in school this week after an interlude in the hospital.

Mr. Hettrick was stricken with an appendicitis attack, and had an emergency operation Sept. 13.

His class in American government was moved to a first-floor room this week, so he wouldn't have to negotiate stairways on his way to class.

Mr. Hettrick also taught at Britton several years ago.

While on their six-day visit, Mrs. Younglove visited cousins, Mr. and Mrs. John Kish, at Arlington, Va.

News from Macon

By MRS. HAMILTON MOORE

The annual Rally Day at the Macon Methodist Church will be observed Sunday, Sept. 29 during the church school hour, beginning at 9:45 a.m. All parents and friends are cordially invited to attend this promotion day for most of the youngsters.

Bibles will be presented those entering the fourth grade. Attendance pins will be awarded.

The Ushers Club will meet Monday, Oct. 1, at 8 p.m.

The Mary Martha Circle meeting will be held Tuesday Oct. 2, at 8 p.m.

The WSCS members have been invited to a dessert luncheon at the Clinton Methodist Church, Tuesday at 1 p.m. Mrs. Campbell, the Ann Arbor district supply secretary, will be the speaker.

The Youth Fellowship is taking orders for apple cider, which they will deliver. Anyone wishing some may contact the pastor, the Rev. Walter Damberg, or any of the Youth.

Ann Arbor District School of Churchmanship will be held at the First Methodist Church in Ann Arbor, for five Monday evenings, from Oct. 1-29 from 7:30 until 9:30.

There will also be the same type of School of Churchmanship held in the Adrian Methodist Church each Tuesday evening beginning Oct. 2. All Sunday School teachers, substitutes and anyone interested in Church School work may attend.

The First Quarterly Conference was conducted in the Macon church Sunday afternoon with the Rev. Donald Kraushaar presiding. Great emphasis was placed on church school work and attendance. A ten percent increase in attendance for the coming year is the goal set by the Conference.

The Faith Circle will meet Thursday, Oct. 4, at 1:30 p.m. Mrs. Eugene Hill will be the hostess. Mrs. Raynor Scudder will present the devotions and Mrs. Truman Jordan, the program on UNESCO.

Corn Picking Contest Draws Interest from Wide Areas

Interest in the Michigan Mechanical Corn Picking Contest Oct. 4 is good, according to Sig Bergland, general chairman of the event.

The contest is co-sponsored by the Hudson Kiwanis Club, Michigan State University Extension Department and Radio Station WCSR in Hillsdale.

The contest will be held oh the Wayne Mohr farm, three miles west and 3½ miles south of Hudson.

"By this weekend we should have a full quota of entries, if they come in at the present rate," said Mr. Bergland.

"We have received an entry from Fremont, which is a considerable distance from Hudson. We also have several entries from the Lansing area, and more are expected. In addition, we expect more from the nearby counties," he continued.

He said the field was in good shape, and the corn would be ripe, barring disasterous weather. He also pointed out that because of the national contest rules changes, there will be no one-row contest this year.

Much more interest and activity will be had in the picker-sheller and corn combine classes, because this type of corn harvesting is rapidly growing throughout the corn producing areas of the country.

Noon-time entertainment will be furnished by the Hudson Chapter of the Barbershoppers. The Kiwanis Club will again provide a lunch stand. This year political personalities may be present as candidates for the governorship of Michigan have been invited to attend the contest.

The Door to Easier, Better Living is

HOUSEPOWER WIRING

In any home, new or old, Housepower wiring opens the door to a wonderful new world. A world of conveniences, ease and better living, provided by electric appliances. To benefit you, these appliances must have electricity. Electricity must flow through wires. If wires are too small, or too old, the flow is restricted — the door is closed. Fuses blow, lights dim and blink, appliances are sluggish, slow. How does Housepower wiring prevent these ailments? Simply by supplying large enough entrance wiring, enough wiring circuits, and enough plug-in outlets to smooth the flow of electricity. Now, during National Home Week, would be a good time to give your home a Housepower checkup. Make sure the door to better living — electrical living — is open wide!

Music Club Welcomes Trio

Mrs. Fred Oberlin was hostess for the Tecumseh Music Club Sept. 1 at the first fall meeting. She was assisted by Mrs. Ray Sommers.

An orientation and induction of new members was conducted by Mrs. Sommers assisted by Mrs. Perry Hayden, Mrs. James E. Danforth, Mrs. Nina Heath, Mrs. Ashley Chase and Mrs. C. B. Brock.

Mrs. J. Maynard Mulvaney was in charge of installing the officers.

President—Mrs. Brantingham
Vice President—Mrs. Sommers
Secretary—Mrs. Gaylon Robinson
Treasurer—Mrs. C. B. Brock
Historian—Mrs. Wilfred Waldron

Members voted to give a donation to the St. Peter's Fund.

Mrs. Waldron, program leader, gave an interesting account of her summer visit to Interlochen to attend the State Day National Meeting of the Federation of Music Clubs.

Included in the program were a piano duet, "Star Saphires," by Linda Oberlin and her mother.

Edith Holmes sang "Alphine Glow" and Mrs. Arthur Schwartz and Mrs. Merz sang "Teach Me To Pray."

Mrs. Ashley Chase and Mrs. Brantingham played a piano duet, Mozart's "Sonata in C Major," to conclude the program.

Joins Firm

Donald Partridge, son of Mrs. Owen Partridge and the late Mr. Partridge, has returned home from Ogden, Utah to assist in managing the firm, in his father's place.

Austin Partridge, Mel's youngest son, has joined the firm, and is the shop's new foreman.

Funds Collected for Youth Center

Mrs. J. Cleon Mason of Britton introduced Mrs. James E. Danforth and Mrs. H. Lee Prettyman, who sang two Jerome Kern selections for more than 200 women attending a style show and tea at the Community Center Sept. 20.

Officers of the Lenawee County Federation of Women's Clubs were hostesses for the event. Some $175 was collected toward a pledge of $300 for the Lenawee County Youth Center.

Clothing from Richland Furs of Blissfield was modeled.

DETROIT HOUSEWIFE WHO BUILT A CHURCH — Mrs. John Morovitz will speak and show colored slides of Japan at a tea Oct. 5 in the Grace Lutheran Church. The event will open the second annual Missionary Conference sponsored by the Grace Ladies Aid. The Detroit mother became interested in helping people in Fukushima, Japan when her son began writing to a Japanese boy as a part of a high school English assignment.

Grace Lutheran Church Has Annual Conference

Grace Lutheran Church is planning its second annual Missionary Conference Oct. 5, 6 and 7, with prominent members of the Wisconsin Synod heading the list of speakers.

The Rev. Edgar Hoenecke of Mesa, Ariz., who is executive chairman of the synod's Board for World Missions, will speak, as will the Rev. James Schaefer, director of public information for the synod, who is pastor of a large congregation in Milwaukee, Wis.

Speaker at the festival service at 4 p.m. Sunday, Oct. 7, is the Rev. Walter Beckmann of Battle Creek, a member of the District Board of Evangelism.

The conference will start Friday, Oct. 5, at 1 p.m., when Grace Ladies Aid will sponsor a "Women for Christ" tea, with Mrs. John Morovitz of Detroit presenting an illustrated lecture.

Ruth Morovitz is a housewife who has built a chapel, an orphanage and a parsonage for a group of Christians in Japan.

She has appeared before groups in a number of states, showing her colored slides and many curios given her by Japanese friends.

☆

WOMEN from all churches in the community are cordially welcomed to attend, as are any interested men who wish to see what an average individual dedicated to God's service can accomplish.

The same Friday evening at 6 p.m. is Family Night, with the usual potluck supper followed by a "Meet Your Missionaires" round-table discussion and three short films of Rhodesian missions.

Saturday, Oct. 6, from 10 a.m. till 12, a "Children for Christ" program will feature films shown by Pastors Hoenecke and Beckmann.

Busloads of children from neighboring congregations are expected. At 6 p.m. a steak dinner, prepared by Ken Hinkleman, will be enjoyed by men and women of the church, with a program following.

Free baby-sitting services for these events will be provided by the young people's group.

The pastor of Grace church, the Rev. K. F. Koeplin, is directing the conference. Attendance is expected to exceed that of last year when over 1,000 attended the activities.

A dinner will be served after the festival service by the members of the Ladies Aid Society.

Scouts' Sale Brings In $66

Girl Scouts of Tecumseh Troop 54, led by Mrs. Stanley Kruse, collected $66 in the city Friday and Saturday for Chapter 20, Disabled American Veterans.

The chapter, which has members througout Lenawee County, has an annual Forget-Me-Not sale to collect funds for welfare work. Collections also were made in Adrian and Hudson.

Donors Are Hopeful Restoration Project Will Become Reality

Mrs. Edward R. Jennison, Detroit — Sorry I cannot send more. I am not working at present. Hope you will be able to save your church. My husband and I are both Episcopalian. God bless you.

√

Jake Albert — Congratulations on your effort to preserve an historic monument. Michigan is singularly indifferent to the value of its historic heritage. Nothing of note is left in Detroit of the great French heritage. The "take over" generation doesn't realize that tradition is also worth taking over.

OPEN SUNDAYS

Newman and Margaret Gamble, Kalamazoo — We are very glad to make a contribution to the fund.

Because we were teachers in the schools there during the years 1928-1937, many of our fondest memories are centered in Tecumseh. Moreover, we were communicants of St. Peter's when the Rev. E. R. A. Green was rector.

We sincerely hope that this project will meet with real success. Tecumseh has a reputation for its cooperation in worthwhile projects and we are certain that this drive, community and now state-wide, will be no exception. We love St. Peter's, too.

Wally Eberhard, Three Oaks — Enclosed are a couple of additions to your fund, one from The Gazette and one from my wife and me. What with the stories by one of my old bosses — John Manning — along with the features, pictures and comment in your paper, AND the statewide publicity, how could we hold out any longer?

It is too easy to forget our heritage in this fast-moving modern world, and we should try to save those parts of the past that we can. Best of luck to you and all the others taking part in this drive.

W. A. Sears, Birmingham — I am enclosing my check to assist in the restoration.

As an Episcopalian and because of friends in Tecumseh to whom I know St. Peter's means a great deal, I feel that this building should be preserved, not only because of its historical value but also as a monument to the enduring good done by the church in services rendered year after year to the community.

Roldon P. Sutton, Modesto, Cal. — Enclosed is a check for $5 from the Sutton family. Mrs. Sutton (Mary Lue Curtiss) and I were raised and married in St. Peter's and two of our three children were baptized there, so you see we all have very fond memories of St. Peter's.

I also would like to take this opportunity to congratulate you on the excellent way you have handled this and many other projects in your paper, which we receive each week. In my opinion as a fellow newspaper publisher, the Tecumseh Herald is better today than it ever has been in the 40 years I have known it.

With kindest personal regards and the best of luck on your 17-day drive.

Mrs. Francis Langthorne, Detroit — Thank you for straightening out our subscription mixup.

Although we live in Detroit our roots have been in Tecumseh since 1872 (mine were Sutton and Swan). We love the home town and its newspaper.

We have a desire to see St. Peter's Church saved so enclosed is our $2.

Two years ago, we drove out from Detroit and got good movies of St. Peter's at Christmas time with holly wreaths hung from the pillars, a picturesque greeting to all comers to Tecumseh. We showed these in California to our Langthorne relatives who have moved out there.

Francis also made an oil painting of St. Peter's in 1938 just after we married and left Tecumseh for Detroit.

Clara Waldron's article this week is particularly pertinent. Success to you in the crusade.

Mrs. F. B. Johnson, Corunna —, Please accept enclosed check of $2. I am an Episcopalian of long standing in this small community. Our church is old too and I would hate to see it taken away.

Marion Ericksen, Detroit — I read of your wonderful plan and heard it spoken of on the "Living" TV show over Channel 4 Detroit and I wish to contribute the enclosed check. I belong to the Redford Baptist Church but I believe in the Lord's work — regardless of the house we worship Him in. I wish you every success in your efforts.

Mrs. Ward Detwiler, Grosse Pointe — A friend in Detroit clipped the excellent article about the crash program of Save Historic St. Peter's committee. Enclosed is my check toward this noble effort. It is to the everlasting shame of our Episcopal Church in the Diocese of Michigan that our good friends in other faiths should wish to preserve our cherished heritage more tangibly than we do.

Living in New England for a third of the year for 40 years, I'm keenly aware of how important it is to preserve the past to help interpret and direct the present.

What is good and worthy will survive as a guide to the future. St. Peter's is such a monument for the Church which it has served so faithfully for 127 years, to the state and to the nation.

Many people have cared deeply about St. Peter's all those years or it would not be standing today. It could or should be made useful to its own parish and not become a sightseer's excursion spot. Maybe it will carry a message of what not to do in the future — to succeeding generations.

Thank all the good friends in Tecumseh and elsewhere who are helping to save St. Peter's some place. Where will it stand?

Mrs. Harold Fauver, Adrian — Please accept this small check, in the hope that 100,000 more people do the same.

If Mr. Fauver were not ill in the Jackson Sanitorium for TB, I'm certain he would be active in this project, as this is a subject dear to him.

Kiwanis Club, Tecumseh — Enclosed please find our contribution for the campaign you are leading in an effort to save and maintain historic old St. Peter's Church.

In keeping with our motto "We Build," we sincerely hope this donation will help build the fund to your desired goal of $100,000. Kiwanis being a community organization, we feel this is truly a community project and should have the support of everyone.

I wish to point out that this is a contribution from the Kiwanis Club of Tecumseh and does not include donations which individual members have contributed.

The best of luck in this worthy endeavor to save a part of our community's historic past.

Edward R. A. Green, Rector, Christ Episcopal Church, Dearborn — Please find my enclosed check as a contribution. I am happy to do this, and I wish it could be more, but my previous financial commitments make it impossible.

I was rector of St. Peter's Church from 1934 to 1941. I was also ordained to the Priesthood of the Episcopal Church there in January, 1935. Detroit newspapers played up quite a story, for at that time I was the youngest rector of the oldest church in the Diocese of Michigan.

As I have said, on visits back to old St. Peter's Church, you are still the oldest church, but I am no longer the youngest rector.

Assuring you of my prayers for the success of your efforts.

Louis Dunbar, 202 North La Grave, Street, Paw Paw—I am very happy to send a check in the amount of $2.

One dollar is from a friend living in Northampton, Mass., Karl Scott Putnam, who always has been interested in the old buildings of this country.

We both send best wishes; and hope that this church will be saved.

Frank D. McKay, Grand Rapids—I noticed an article in the Grand Rapids Press, and the picture of your church which you are planning to restore.

I am pleased to enclose my check herewith for $25 toward this worthwhile project, and am happy to add my contribution to the restoration of the church.

Mrs. H. Eugene Hungerford, Royal, Oak—Enclosed you will find our check for $2. When I read the article in the Detroit Free Press about your efforts to save St. Peters, I told my husband that I intended to send a dollar. His response was make it two dollars, one for each of us.

We are Episcopalians, but this is not our only interest in this project. This summer while in New England, we visited several restored historic churches of various denominations. The experience was very rewarding and I feel that we in this area should also preserve the history present in our churches.

Mrs. Harry Kempf, Ypsilanti—I heard that you are in need of my dollar so am sending same. Hope it will help. My husband is related to the Kempfs of Tecumseh. Carl is his brother, the rest are cousins. I belong to the Stoney Creek Church.

Mrs. Goschnick, Port Huron—If you will send us a good 5x7 glossy print of St. Peter's, I will take it with the article from the Free Press to our local paper and ask them to print it. Can't promise that they will, but it's worth a try.

√

Kie Kerbaway, Blissfield — If everyone in Lenawee County would send a dollar your problem would easily be solved. Here is my dollar.

Mrs. Henry Croll, Lansing — I am enclosing my check for $1. I am sending this in memory of my father, Alfred Aldrich, who as an orphan was raised in Lenawee County, living with several Quaker families. This was of course many years ago. Good luck.

√

J. D. Kershow, Pontiac—Read about your project in the Pontiac Press. Herewith my "buck". Good luck.

THROUGH MY WINDOW

ODDS AND ENDS

I am a saver—there is just no denying it. Newspapers, magazines and books are piled up because they contain interesting articles which, although I don't have time to read today, perhaps I will get to tomorrow. Well, of course, tomorrows are hard to catch and so the stacks of reading material grow.

The other day, however, I had a bit of free time and some most interesting items crossed my reading table.

For example, they are now setting speed traps for birds! For ages people have speculated about how fast this or that bird flies but until recently, there has been no truly accurate means of measuring.

Using the speedometer of an automobile, the air-speed indicator of an airplane or even a stop watch, many estimates have been made and under controlled laboratory conditions, they have done exacting work with the ruby-throated humming bird.

Now, however, they are taking radar into the field and literally setting speed traps for the birds. (As yet we've heard of no tickets being issued.)

☆

ALTHOUGH the system is similar to that which the police use along our highways, it is naturally much more complicated. They use all sorts of transmitters, amplifiers, antennas, counters, monitors, recorders and meters which I don't even begin to understand, let alone explain.

The first results of their work are interesting though and as the system is perfected, there should be much more information forthcoming.

So far the ring-necked duck is the speed demon buzzing along at better than 66 miles per hour; the quail at 44.5 m.p.h. outdoes the pheasant who meanders along at about 38 or 39 m.p.h.

A blue jay was timed at 26 m.p.h.; the smaller birds are understandably slower—a house finch 21.5, white throated sparrow 17.5 and our little bombshell of a black-capped chick-a-dee an even 17 m.p.h. Wonder who they will do next?

The same magazine, Natural History, going from big to little, carried an article about giraffes. They, like elephants, have always fascinated me—but, then, most African things do.

Ann Dagg studied giraffes near Kuger National Park and she maintains that these animals use their exceedingly long necks for more than just tree top browsing and watching for enemies.

They seem to be most important 'locomotor mechanisms"; the animal uses his long neck to swing his heavy head and pull himself up from either a lying down or drinking position.

They also are a help in maintaining balance and speed while running or jumping. Imagine, these awkward looking creatures can jump a four-and-one-half foot fence and yes, they do lie down.

In captivity some actually stretch out flat, their necks and heads resting on the ground; in the wild they curl up and for four or five minutes at a time, when in a deep sleep, the neck rests on the animal's back and the head nestles on the hip.

AND FROM a magazine I'm ashamed to date comes the wonderful bird-cat story. The Audubon always has a full of fun and most worthwhile section of letters.

A woman from Maryland told the following: One day she noticed a titmouse with a bill full of fur. Looking around, she spotted a cat high in a tree, way out on a small limb, obviously terrified and hanging on for dear life.

At first the titmouse would grab and run but as she watched, the bird became braver and actually started lighting on the cat's back.

Whistling merrily, the cocky little titmouse was plucking fur from the cat's tail! Fine nesting material. Leave it to a titmouse, they just look as if they would enjoy such mischief.

So it is that catching up on back reading can produce some interesting odds and ends.

VOICE OF THE HERALD

Courage Pays Off

Courage and determination have again paid off.

Drive down S. Maumee St. to Russell Rd. and you'll see what we mean. You'll roll by the beautiful new Faraday plant, Tecumseh's newest industry.

From the vantage point of Autumn, 1962, folks can regard the arrival of another fine plant to our city as a warm and pleasant thought.

But, go back with us a few months and you'll find that the undertaking by seven determined young men of this town wasn't all milk and honey.

Roadblocks get tossed at the shins of men with ideas — especially if they are young in years and eager.

This was so true in the case of efforts by the Tecumseh Area Industrial Development Corp. to bring Faraday here.

Getting a $342,000 loan commitment from the Small Business Administration was like feeding ice cream to a freckled-faced 12-year-old compared to other aspects.

New industries in our community, like Faraday and H. W. Tuttle & Co., which came here two and one-half years ago, mean tremendous boosts for the local economy.

Maybe not a great and immediate clattering of store cash registers the day the first payroll is issued. But there are other gauges.

The fact that the town has more improved property is another important factor. This can in turn serve to attract more equally high-calibre industries.

We'll sail with this crew any time and hope the entire community will, too. They are men of integrity.

Incidentally, did you know that you can be an Industrial Ambassador of Good Will, maybe one day find yourself in a position to help bring a plant to the old hometown?

Sound fantastic? It's entirely possible. A scout for some firm, looking for a new location, may have Tecumseh under consideration.

Possibly he sits next to you in a diner, casually asks what sort of a town Tecumseh is. You might not even realize it at the time, but your answers can be vital, might well help or hinder the arrival of another industry.

Coaching of High Quality

Winning isn't the only thing in football — but it's always fun to have your favorite team play well and also take the decision.

Tecumseh High School has performed beautifully in its first two outings and copped both games.

There should be more victories. We hope a long string.

But the most impressive item in regard to our Indians is the continued high quality of coaching our lads receive.

Tom Fagan is to be warmly congratulated for the manner in which he fields his club. Being a fine sportsman and gentleman at all times are stressed as much under Tom's tutoring as blocking and tackling.

Less we give the idea Tom and his staff follow the fuddy-duddy theme, dismiss this thought immediately.

Coach Fagan has a keen football mind and some decisive realizations on how to take a pigskin at one's own 20 yard line and advance it to the other fellow's end zone.

In doing this, his charges will hit cleanly with all the strength well-conditioned bodies permit.

Keep rolling Indians.

Boys State Delegate Gives Talk

Dan Greenes delegate to Boy's State at Michigan State University last spring, presented a report on his observations and experiences for the Kiwanis Club, his sponsoring organization, Thursday evening.

He emphasized the values the delegates received in associating and working with other leaders from communities throughout the state.

He suggested that the most significant lesson he learned was the importance and proper use of parliamentary procedure in a democracy.

☆

FRED NASH, president, and Sid Turner, secretary of the Tecumseh Kiwanis Club, attended the convention of the Michigan District of Kiwanis International held at the Statler-Hilton Hotel in Detroit Sept. 17.

Dr. Richard Coak and George Schumm joined them in attending the governor's banquet held that evening.

The Rev. William Baird, director of the Rural Bible Mission for Lenawee and Hillsdale counties, will be the guest speaker this Thursday evening.

Bowlers Wanted

Two sponsors are needed by the Tuesday Afternoon Ladies Bowling team.

Dorothy Jewell was elected president to replace Mrs. Harold Auten, who has accepted a teaching position in Clinton.

Anyone who would like to substitute on the team may call Mrs. Orville Bishop or the Airport Bowl.

Landscaping Pointers Given

"How to Criticize Public Landscaping" was the main theme of Charles Cares, landscape architect, who spoke at the Sept. 11 open meeting of the Herrick Memorial Hospital Auxiliary.

Members of the auxiliary were happy to have so many interested persons from the community in attendance.

If landscaping the hospital is to be a success the auxiliary announced it will need the continued interest of the entire community.

Mr. Cares made these points:

1—Have a plan: Whether a professional does it or not, a plan will save you money. "It's easier to change a pencil mark than bring in a bulldozer."

2—Does it serve a purpose (Aesthetic) Besides making the building aesthetic as possible to the passer-by you must consider the view the patient has and its benefit to him.

3—It is Practical — Parking space, traffic flow for visitors as well as service, and allowance for expansion (change is inevitable) are all a part of a good landscape design. If you can't afford it, it isn't right. Besides the original cost of construction there is the cost of time and money to maintain the grounds. Don't put in what you can't take care of properly.

4—How will you pay for it? Where people may be willing to donate a tree they often won't think of the cost of digging and planting it. For a $10 tree the cost of labor and preparation of the ground can be $500.

5—What is the difference between the amateur and the professional? The amateur often chooses the plants he likes first while the professional decides first what he wants the plants to do and where one or two will serve the same purpose the amateur often plants 50, making maintenance greater.

6 — Recognize your special needs. Could a garden for inpatients, or play yard for children patients or outdoor waiting areas for visitors and children serve our hospital better than the present ground use affords?

8—The design. Should bring together all the answers to the above in a pleasantly aesthetic way, avoiding current styles which go out of date so rapidly.

Mrs. Carlos Knisely opened the business meeting of the auxiliary by appointing Mrs. Carlton Cook as chairman, who with her committee will be working toward a plan to present to the auxiliary and community soon.

Mrs. Jesse Sluyter gave a comprehensive and encouraging treasury report.

Mrs. J. H. Rohweder gave a report of the four major services the Auxiliary offers in the hospital. They are: the hospital hostess cart selling necessary items for the convenience of the patients.); televisions rental service for patients in their rooms; visitors check. (regulating visitor flow for the benefit of the patients and personnel); Pinky the Puppet (made by Auxiliary members for distribution to patients up to the age of 12.)

Any persons desiring to assist with any of the above projects are requested to call Mrs. Rohweder at HA 3-2296 or Mrs. Victor Lawson at HA 3-2661.

Mrs. Victor Lawson, vice-president, reported special projects for the year as follows: Holiday Ball, chairman Mrs. Howard Furry; and decorations by Mrs. Donald Purkey; January card parties, Mrs. Richard Hammel and Mrs. Carlton Cook, co-chairmen; an antique show for the spring.

New members of the auxiliary were presented by membership chairman Mrs. Harold Easton and approved by the auxiliary. They are:

Mrs. Russell Liddell
Mrs. George Underwood Jr.
Mrs. James McDowell
Mrs. Marie Raymond

Coffee and cookies were served throughout the meeting by hostesses Mrs. Orrie Gilbert, Mrs. Howard Furry, Mrs. James E. Danforth.

More Comments from Folks Who Gave to St. Peter's Fund

Mrs. Grant Johnston, Galesburg—Our town demolished its bid to historical fame, Gen. Shafter's birth place. Much to the regret of many too late. Best of luck in this endeavor.

Mrs. Helen Ulevich, Detroit—Enclosed please find $1 I'm glad that a historical group has been formed to help preserve old historical buildings. In this modern age, most people favor tearing down building, historic or not.

Here in Detroit, a city hall was torn down, in spite of the protests of many citizens. We need more action everywhere to save many more land marks before it is too late. Wishing the historical group success in their financial endeavor. I'm a Catholic.

Emily Seymour, Monroe—Hope you will gather enough dollars to save the church. Your appeal in the Free Press should bring help. Good luck.

Carolynn Tracy, Royal Oak — Enclosed please find check for $1 to help save St. Peter's. As a former member of historical old First Presbyterian in Jamaica, N. Y., now about to celebrate its 300th anniversary, I feel that such building should be preserved, and cherished.

Marian Palmer, Olivet—I am enclosing a check for $1. I am a member at All Saint's Episcopal church at Brooklyn—another one of the Rev. Mr. Lyster's churches.

Mrs. I. S. Berger, Highland Park—Here is $1 for the church and hoping for a better location for it, so that I can take a decent picture of it and its beauty.

Frederick Kurth, Southgate—Enclosed please find check for $20. We sincerely wish the people of Tecumseh and the society success in saving historic St. Peter's.

Mrs. Olive White, Detroit—I am enclosing my check for one dollar. I contributed to the fund to save Old Mariners here in Detroit and think that it is necessary to save more of our historical buildings to help preserve historical continuity.

Mrs. Robert Large, Taylor—Enclosed please find my small contribution. I have been very much interested in preserving our history. On a recent trip to New England I noticed they have preserved even the smallest of buildings, etc.

We have a great many landmarks here in Michigan, but too many people are just interested in progress and not our history. I was very pleased to hear about the project for preserving this church. I hope you reach your goal.

A Presbyterian, St. Johns — A drop in the big bucket for a fine and worthy cause. I pray you are successful.

Warren Forsyth, Oscodo—Mrs. Forsyth and I have just read of our Church in Tecumseh. I preached there years ago and loved the church. I am now retired or would be able to be more generous. God Bless your effort. If others will, we could send a dollar a month for a time. Mrs. Forsyth joins me in kindest regards.

A. E. Hunter, E. Lansing—Today's State Journal has a picture and article about old Episcopal church. Inclosed $1 for fund.

Mrs. Harold Shuart, Rochester—Mr. Shuart and I are communicants of St. Philip's Church in Rochester and before that when living in Detroit a great many years, attended services at St. Paul's Cathedral. We are happy to contribute to St. Peter's for future restoration. Trusting you will have a good response to the project.

Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Coldfelter, Detroit—We wish you God's Richest Blessings.

Mrs. Wood Williams, Grosse Pointe Farms—Inclosed is a check towards the fund for St. Peter's church. My grandparents, the Nehemiah Suttons, were one of the early settlers and owned a good deal of property around Tecumseh.

They belonged to the Quaker Church, but St. Peter's is a landmark I always heard of. My grandfather built the Sutton Opera House. I do hope you raise the needed funds.

Mrs. Arthur Turner, Detroit—The appeal in yesterday's Sunday Free Press to "Save Historic St. Peter's in Tecumseh" merits the hearty support of all who cherish the savings of our historic landmarks. I am enclosing a check for $10 for that purpose with many good wishes for a most successful drive.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Sherman, Detroit.—Enclosed is check in amount of $5 to help save St. Peter's Church. I certainly hope you are successful in raising the necessary amount. This is because of a story in the Detroit Free Press.

Dr. and Mrs. D. L. Katz, Ann Arbor—Having read in the Detroit News of your drive to raise funds to preserve the St. Peter's church building, my husband and I wish to contribute the enclosed $2. Good Luck.

Sally Besenick, Detroit—Yes, let me help in the fund to preserve this lovely classic structure. God Bless you all, and may your goal be reached.

The Rev. and Mrs. C. M. Stuart, Monroe — Please accept this check for the restoration of St. Peter's. I hope you are able to raise the amount necessary to carry out your wonderful plans.

Gertrude Eldredge, Tecumseh—Please find enclosed check for $5 to be applied to the 'Save Historic St. Peter's' fund. A great many of our early Patriots were Episcopalian. We should preserve St. Peter's as well being a part of Michigan's early history (in southern Michigan). This drive to preserve the church must be successful even though the whole $100,000 isn't collected by Oct. 1, it seems to me some way must be worked out to go ahead with the project. With a wish for success to the project.

Justice Glover, Grosse Ile — Enclosed please find check for $25 St. Peter's stands for all that is good is American life, for the spirit of pioneers, for faith of our fathers, and for confidence in the future. All good wishes for your success in reaching your goal.

Anonymous—Heard about this on TV. We should do more of this in Michigan.

Mabelle Wright, Dearborn—I just read the article by Harold Schachern in Saturday's Detroit News. Like many thousands, feel it should be preserved. Lovely Old Mariners in Detroit was, after a long hard fight. So many of our lovely landmarks are being dismantled for progress.

Inclosed is a picture of a lovly historic landmark. (Old Swedes Church in Wilmington, Del. built in 1689.) My husband and I were married in this church, Oct. 15, 1918. My parents were baptized and confirmed here, too. It is loved by everyone and of many faiths.

We have been residents of Michigan since 1920 so love every church and historic landmark. Here I enclose my check for $1. Hope it brings luck and the money is raised in time. God Bless every one of you instrumental in this wonderful project.

Mrs. Frank Jeanette, Mt. Clemens—Before my marriage I was a Lancaster girl from Clinton and Episcopalian and an admirer of St. Peter's Church. I wish you sucess in your undertaking.

Neva DuMont, Lexington—It is wonderful to have people interested in retaining historical building. For many are being torn down and removed. It's a pity these buildings, your St. Peter's cannot be restored on its original site, but having it restored and cared for is worthwhile. I only wish I had more funds to donate. I pray that you are successful.

Mrs. Thomas Knapp, Mt. Pleasant—Ours was the first church built in Mt. Pleasant, but is a mere stripling in age since it was built in 1878. Wish we could send more to swell the fund, but since we can't, we'll pray that as many people as can contribute what is necessary.

J. T. Cox family, East Lansing—We saw the picture of your beautiful old church in the Lansing State Journal and read the accompanying story. We heartily agree is should be preserved for a useful purpose.

Please accept our small contribution toward your most worthwhile goal. Here with, also are our best wishes for your ultimate success from East Lansing Espicopalians.

Paul Uber, Howell—Saw the item in Detroit Free Press yesterday. Drove through your town yesterday and noted the church building. I think it's worth saving, $5 worth to me.

Mrs. Bernard Glenn, Fowlerville—Find enclosed $1 for the restoration fund. My father lived in Tecumseh in 1849, when a very small boy. All association with the long ago in the neighborhood are very dear. I hope you are sucessful in this undertaking.

Anonymous—Hope this little contribution helps the snowball grow larger as it gains momentum.

Mrs. Ronald Seelhoff, Owosso—We read an article in our Argus Press telling us of the drive for funds to restore your St. Peter's church. We were so interested in this, as these days it's usual to raze the old churches as that we drove to your town yesterday to go thru the church. We certainly hope your drive is a success as it is a lovely old church.

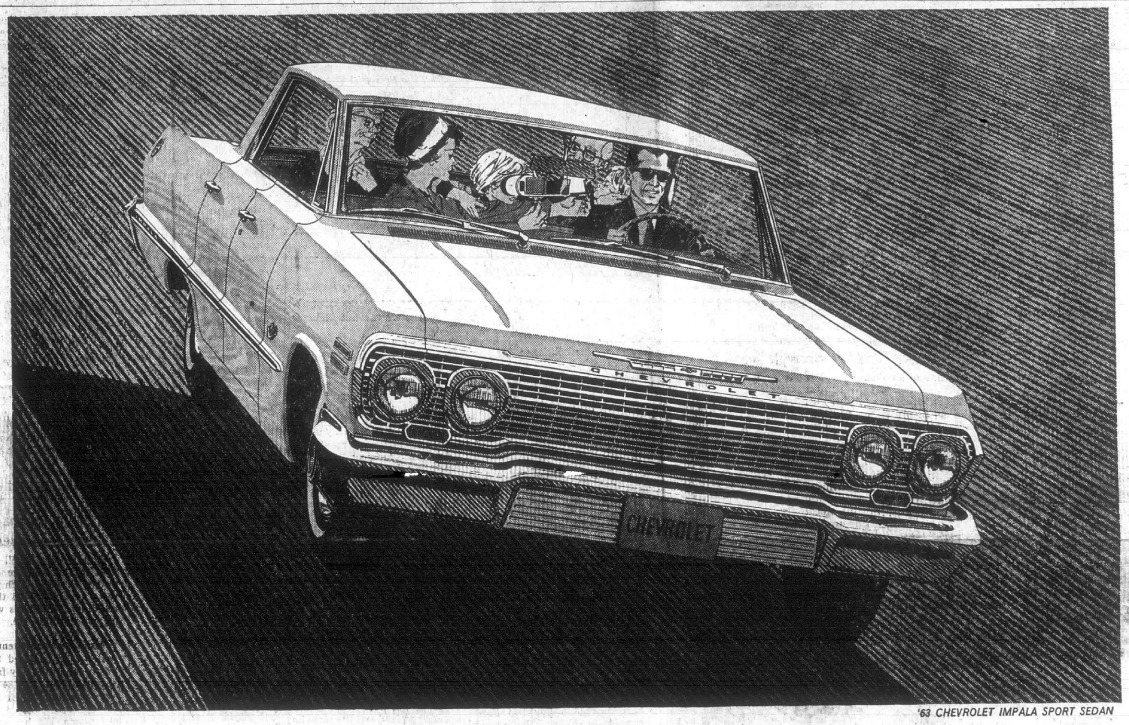
Constance Walcouson, Grosse Pointe—There is too little early Americana left in this country. I hope this may help in your worthy project.

John Henry, Detroit—Note the water marks on this stationary. I'll let you guess whether they are tears of compassion for the effort of your undertaking or just the normal painful expression of the feeling that accompanies the parting of money from my hands. Saw the article in Saturday's Detroit News. Good Luck.

Nonna Norris (Episcopalian) and Katherine Doherty (Roman Catholic), Detroit—Enclosed is a check to help in a small way to prevent the tearing down of another historic building in our vicinity. We have so few links to our past left to us and we hate to see another one be destroyed.

Stella Eisner Ames, New York, N. Y.—From the bottom of my heart, sending St. Peter's $5 hoping the church won't be razed. I also dedicate my contribution to our great and beloved President J. F. Kennedy. May God bless your church and our President.

Ronald Filter, Detroit—Since my hometown was Tecumseh, my wife and I will receive a great satisfaction in contributing to the campaign.



'63 CHEVROLET IMPALA SPORT SEDAN

Tomorrow-GO JET-SMOOTH CHEVROLET for '63

If it didn't say Chevrolet on the flanks of the superb automobile you see here, you'd have a hard time proving that it's a low-priced car. Its interior is more luxurious than most living rooms; it rides like a limousine and performs with the smoothness and silence that used to be limited strictly to cars for the very rich. In addition to all this, there's a host of advances and refinements that'll help keep your Chevrolet looking and running like a new car when a lot of others have started to sag and sigh. Fisher Body with air-washed rust-cheating rocker panels for one, self-adjusting brakes for another, and the Delcotron generator to help you have an always-ready supply of electricity and lengthen the life of your battery. If you ever wondered why Chevrolet leads the field, a drive in this '63 should answer all your questions.

IT'S EXCITING!

GO CHEVY II for '63-IT'S EXCITING!

'63 CHEVY II NOVA SPORT COUPE

GO CORVAIR for '63-IT'S EXCITING!

'63 CORVAIR MONZA CONVERTIBLE

Hard to believe, but this year's Chevy II is better than last year's. It shares all the new easy-care features of the big Chevrolet and adds its own attributes of parkable size, four- or six-cylinder economy, and interiors that'll match cars with twice the price and half the charm. Chevy II has made a permanent place for itself with its sparkling performance and nickel-nursing economy and if you want more car for the money, Chevy II is the car for you.

CHEVROLET

Change it? Calm yourself, nobody's going to mess with a winner like this one! We did add self-adjusting brakes and a more fully aluminized muffler; interiors are refined a bit, and you'll notice some trim changes. But the rest is pure untampered-with Corvair with all the over-the-road goodness that implies. Oh yes, we changed the rings around the taillights so all those people you pass will know you're driving a '63.

More Comments from Folks Who Gave to St. Peter's Fund

Mrs. Kenneth Poole, Pontiac— How wonderful it will be to see "St. Peter's Episcopal Church" restored to its natural beauty. I for one, Southern Baptist, wish to add $10 to the fund.

I maintain residence six months in Michigan, six months in Alabama. Roanoke is a small town, but we have a beautiful small old Episcopal Church there too. In the near future my husband and I plan to drive over before we head South to see this historical Old Church.

I am completely fascinated with the old architecture in old homes and churches in my new State of Michigan. My prayers are with you in this wonderful work.

Mrs. Dorothy Hicks, Detroit— This is for the restoration fund. Good Luck in your goal of $100,000 by Oct. 1st. Saw the story in the Free Press.

Mrs. Reta Erickson, Pontiac — Please don't give up the fight to save the old church. If the first drive doesn't bring in sufficient funds to completely restore the church, surely you will get enough to move it to a spot where it will be safe from destruction until you can collect enough to complete the job.

Mrs. Howard Luetzaw, Dearborn—In answer to your plea on the "Living" TV show this morning, I do hope you will be able to save the church.

Mrs. Martin DeYoung, Detroit— My husband and I are both very interested in saving the old, historical buildings in our state. We appreciate what you are trying to do and wish you success in your efforts to save the church.

Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Hansen, Greenville—We enclose two dollars for our share. I hope it may be accomplished by date set and every one that reads may send. Prayer is a powerful friend. I would like to hear in October if the removal of the church was accomplished. I enclose stamp for same or rather if it was printed for all to see.

The Rev. Vincent J. Anderson, Charlotte—Enclosed find a very small gift that is sent with the hope that 999.998 more like it will be forthcoming.

Jack Rehkopf, Hammond, Ind. As former residents of Tecumseh, we were very sorry to hear that St. Peter's was to be torn down. We think of it as one of the beautiful landmarks of Tecumseh, a town which is very dear to our hearts.

We are enclosing a check for $5, one dollar from each member of our family. After reading about the drive to "Save St. Peter's" in last week's Herald, I called the Rector of St. Paul's Episcopal Church in Hammond.

He was interested in hearing about St. Peter's, so I sent him our copy of The Herald. On Sunday, the Hammond, Ind. Times, ran a picture of St. Peter's which I have enclosed. Hoping you have good results from the Hammond, Ind. area.

Mrs. Max L. Johnston, Linden —I am interested in old St. Peter's and in the problems it is facing and the real effort that is being made to raise the money necessary to meet these problems.

Bringing the campaign plan down to the idea of many, many gifts of $1 is a good one, but of course this does not mean that larger gifts will not be greatly needed, too.

So many though feel $1 is too small a gift and so do not contribute. Presto! Here's my dollar.

Harry Slack, Masonic Home Alma—For the rebuilding of the church. We don't have much money, but this is a good cause.

Mrs. Arthur Roberts, Lexington—Enclosed is $2 which I hope will be a little help to save St. Peter's Church. I was born not far from Tecumseh at Petersburg, Mich. This little church of "Good Shepherd" is very old. I was confirmed here as a child.

Pictures of it have been shown in England as an outstanding quaint church. The late Gov. A. E. Sleeper's wife and family, were members and did much while living for the church.

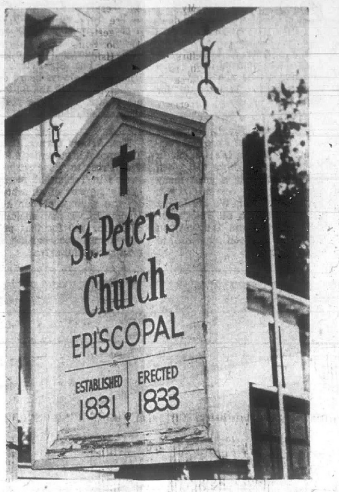
May you be successful in raising the money for the preservation of St. Peter's. With faith.

Marja Warren, Ann Arbor—After hearing and seeing the appeal for the Church restoration on the 'Living" program this morning on Channel 4, please accept my dollar. Thank you for this opportunity.

Mrs. N. Saxton Jacobs, Concord — (First Universalist Church)—One church is interested in the welfare of another. We hope your 129-year-old church has a safe removal. We are 108-years-old. Historical buildings should be saved. Our prayers are with you in your work.



Ray V. Barnes, Royal Oak — Enclosed is our check for $2. We have enjoyed attending meetings there.

Mrs. Ralph Wiley, Midland — My small bit to help save St. Jeter's Church. Best wishes for a successful drive. You have a pretty town.

H. John Lowry, Detroit — I have been reading with a great deal of interest, the campaign to preserve the old St. Peter's Episcopal Church in Tecumseh for posterity.

Certainly this is a worthwhile campaign. I was particularly interested in the articles written by Jack Manning of the Detroit Free Press, and certainly they should be of great help.

While I attended the Presbyterian church in Tecumseh I did, on occasion, sing in old St. Peter's. In view of this old association, I am glad to enclose my personal check in the amount of $50 to help the cause.

M. E. Cunningham, Detroit — I am sure many readers of the Sept. 16 Free Press will respond to your appeal for funds to aid your community in moving and restoring the historic St. Peter's Episcopal Church in Tecumseh.

Enclosed is my check for $50 which I am happy to contribute to this worthwhile cause, and I sincerely hope that your drive will be most successful.

I wonder if an appeal to The Ford Foundation or other foundations might help your cause?

Amy Bradley, Lansing— On a recent tour of Tecumseh, we passed the Episcopal Church and were happy to see it still standing. Many are the changes since I was in Tecumseh visiting at the home of my late husband's family.

I was delighted to notice that progress had not made it necessary to destroy many of the beautiful old homes, trees and landmarks of the past. Best wishes for success in this project.

Mrs. Charles Brown and Carrie Bearden, Dearborn—To save and preserve the Episcopal Church is a great thing and movement. I have a son who is serving his Master in St. Mark's, Houston, Tex.

My sister and I are Protestants, but we do wish to do our small part in helping to restore this church for 129 years. Yours in Faith for a great work for the Master.

Ben R. Marsh, Grosse Pointe Farms—You are to be congratulated on the attempt to rescue the famous old St. Peter's church. Attached a small donation given in the name of my late wife Marjorie Bills Marsh, whose grandfather Perly Bills built the family home where she was born in the year Michigan was made a state. You probably know the place on Kilbuck St.

Howard Baldwin, Detroit—Inasmuch as I was born in Lenawee County and have always had a great affection for it, I am glad to make a modest contribution to this fund and my check is enclosed.

Harry J. Patterson, Orchard Lake—I read with a great deal of interest the article in our Pontiac Press of Saturday, Sept. 15, as it takes me back to my boyhood days when this was my first Sunday School. Can't remember the teacher's name as about 75 odd years dims my memory, but I do remember working for the Tecumseh Herald as a Devil and after a short time I quit and went back to school and the Adrian Telegram came out with a note that The Tecumseh Herald had raised the Devil and sent it to school.

Later the Rev. Frank Arnold gathered a number of us boys into the Baptist Church and Sunday School.

Then when the Spanish War broke out I answered the call and entered the service of the United States as a member of Co. C, 31st Mich. Vol. Inf. and I do not know of anyone else that is still alive from that service at the present writing. I am Commander of the Capt. David L. Kimball Camp No. 51 of Pontiac and we have but nine comrads still active.

My prayers are with you in your effort to restore the old church and I wish you success.

Quinn C. Smet, Chief Curator, Dearborn Historical Museum — I saw the article about your church preservation project in the Sunday's Free Press and I had heard about it earlier at the historical society of Michigan meeting last week. I think you are to be commended. This is certainly the sort of thing that is needed here in Michigan.

I took up a collection among our Museum staff and collected this five dollars. It isn't much but maybe it will help a little bit.

Elizabeth Smith, Bloomfield Hills—Mr. Smith and I read the article in the Detroit Free Press about preserving St. Peter's Episcopal Church. Being Episcopalians ourselves and members of Christ Church Cranbook of Bloomfield Hills, we are more than happy to contribute $1 each. I hope that everybody who has read the article will do the same as we have. Will be anxious to hear the outcome.

Olive E. Hurlburt, Corunna — Here's to saving St. Peter's. Will watch the Detroit Free Press to hear about your success.

Mrs. Abbow Gibney, Byron — Just read in the Detroit Free Press that with 10 days to go, the fund to save that lovely church has reached $2,000. I hope and pray the money needed will come to you.

K. H. Kohn, — I deeply regret this check couldn't be for the full amount you need. However I hope in some small way it will help toward the preserving of the St. Peter's Church. Please accept this donation in the name of Billy Readers of 2447 Hollywood Ave.

Mrs. Ella C. Flick, Jackson — Please accept this meager contribution to the wonderful cause of trying to save your beautiful church. Too many have already been destroyed and, I pray we can save this one. With God's blessing I am sure of success.

Maurice F. Cole, Ferndale — Enclosed herewith please find my check for $5. As a trustee of the historical society of Michigan I am interested in saving this fine old building.

I once worked in Tecumseh for. Miss Pierce in her millinery store next to Jones Tailoring Shop and the jewelry store, made friends with so many people in a short time and loved it.

Visited the church last summer. Hope to see the project completed.

Mabel Hullinger, Royal Oak—Enclosed is my bit as requested in the Detroit News. It will be interesting to read how you meet your goal. I am a charter member of First Presbyterian Church Royal Oak, now building a new educational addition.

Mr. and Mrs. Elmo Augustine, Chesaning—Was so pleased to read in our local paper, your desire and effort to save an old landmark, especially a church. People are so heedless now, tearing down beautiful buildings, replacing them with monstrosities. What if a few generations ago some of the old historic buildings we travel miles and miles to see and almost worship were torn down, as so many are being now. I wish you all success.

E. Arnold Andrews, Detroit— Am enclosing $5 as I would like to help you in a small way in your effort. I wish you a lot of good luck and may God bless all of you good people.

Mrs. Helen L. Dean, Gibsonburg, O.—Enclosed $1 donation, Wish it could be more to save "The Little White Church." Such historic edifices should be restored for future generations. Hoping a good angel flies in and drops a good purse.

Hazel E. Bean, Kalamazoo — Please accept this check for $10 from St. Margaret's Guild, St. Luke's Episcopal Church, Kalamazoo. We have all been reading with interest your plans to save this historic church and hope the needed money is raised.

Mrs. Arthur Hanigan, Grosse Pointe — Having read your interesting article in the Detroit Sunday Free Press I do hope my small contribution will help the Lenawee County Historical Society save this beautiful church.

Looking at the architecture of some new churches today one doesn't know if they are really going into a church or to see a machinery exhibition.

Do hope your drive is most successful and you get past "first base" and make a home run.

Exchange Student Gets Windy Welcome to Taiwan

Editor's Note: Sharon Ries, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Ries of 9246 Tonneberger Rd., is on Taiwan (Formosa) as a delegate of the International Farm Youth Exchange. She arrived there in late June, and will be on the island until December, before taking a tour as part of the program. She expects to be back in Tecumseh in February. She sent this letter to her friends at home.)

GREETINGS FRIENDS:

The typhoons of Taiwan welcome you!

And we have quite a welcoming party—"Opal" hit Ilan Hsien (county) very hard at the beginning of August; "Wanda" just missed us but brought havoc to Hong Kong—one of the worst typhoons they have had in many years. "Amy" remains under question. I know she hit several days ago, but I don't know how much damage was done. My fiveword knowledge of Chinese doesn't allow me to read much of a Chinese newspaper.

So far, my typhoon experiences have been limited to strong windstorms. Maybe my day is coming, though, because I left Ilan Hsien only one week before Typhoon Opal hit. I hope I get in something stronger than a windstorm, since I may never have another chance.

Typhoons are greatly feared here, especially on the east coast, where they invariably are the strongest. This fear is well-founded too. Some of the villages in Ilan Hsien are still cleaning up, rebuilding homes and replacing roof tile, but they can't replace the sixty people killed or undo them any injuries.

My host family in Ilan Hsien was very lucky because the eye of the typhoon passed through their village, so they weren't hit too badly.

TYPHOONS don't keep us from working though. I have one host family in each of 10 Hsiens or counties. There are 14 Hsiens in all of Taiwan and I stay two weeks with each one.

The first three days of each month I spend in Taipei with an American family, the Irving Wythes, part of MSU's team working at National Taiwan University. Besides giving me a change of pace and a return to Western food, this also gives me the opportunity to consult with the J.C.R.R. officials, (the organization sponsoring the IFYE program in Taiwan) on how well the program is going.

My 21-year-old host sister and I washed clothes every morning. At first thought, you may not think this much of an achievement, but did you ever try washing all your laundry by hand on the rocks of a nearby stream, squatting in the "hunkering" position which Westerners seldom can do, I included, with your whole feet, not just your toes, planted firmly on the ground?

Try it just for fun, but don't get discouraged if you can't do it. After you've tried it, get some youngsters to do it—then you will feel old. Children are still flexible enough to do it—and we would be too, if we had kept in practice.

At any rate, I ended up sitting on a stone to accomodate my "out-of-practice" muscles. I spent an hour washing and chatting with my four host aunts while they washed their clothes. (my "family" actually consisted of five related families living in a group of apartments with a center courtyard.)

IMAGINE, if you possibly can, my "chatting" in Chinese. Since my tones are inevitably wrong, I might as well be speaking Greek. My host sister and I whisked our wooden washtub of clothes off to the clothes line.

Oops! Did I say clothes line? It would be more accurate to say clothes poles, since that's what they were—bamboo over which we threaded the clothes by putting the ends of the poles through the arm or leg holes and pulling them over.

Bamboo is so common and plentiful and cheap that few people have any other kind of clothes line. One word of warning in case you're tempted to try this method of washing your clothes: Don't use too strong a bar of soap—my hands looked like they had acid holes in them after four days, so I had to take a one day's leave of absence from the washing on stones and change soap.

ALL IS not work on a Taiwanese farm. Every night in this same family we would all gather in the courtyard for dancing. When I say all, I mean all—30 to 40 family members plus almost as many neighbors. And did we have fun—me in my muu-muus and my host sisters in their pajamas. Everyone wanted to learn to dance, but just try to get them out of their chairs—they would rather learn by watching, especially the gals because they're so shy in a large group.

Eventually we lined up 20 to 30 people and began to learn the waltz, 1-2-3, 1-2-3. We waltzed up the courtyard and back again—everyone lined up in rows behind me. I'm sure the Red Chinese would have run all the way to Russia had they been able to see us.

By the end of the two weeks, we had a pretty good group of waltzers—but the men would dance with men and gals with gals. This is Chinese custom because the Western style of dancing—men with women,—is still fairly new and usually done only in the cities at dance halls.

Any dancing done outside legally licensed dance halls is illegal—part of the government austerity program — but not strictly enforced in rural areas where there are few police.

OUR MOST fun was not with social dancing or with the folk dancing we all enjoyed, but instead with the "Hokey-Pokey"—a good old American dance which we did at least three or four times each night. Two weeks of "Hokey-Pokey" was just a bit too much—so we ended up with more variations than we could count — anything to make me think it might be a different dance: We used our nose, our toes, fingers, fingernails, and anything we could think of. The last night of my stay, we were laughing so hard at the variations and the way we looked when we did them, that we could hardly dance. Language was no barrier in dancing—demonstration was all that was needed and we were off.

This Talewind" is about blown out for now. Be watching for your next typhoon "Talewind," you never know what tales she might have to tell you. By the way, this typhoon has an address and loves to receive letters from all of you. Why not drop me a line when you have a spare minute- I've really enjoyed the letters I have received. Thanks.

CHANGEABLE FALL WEATHER will soon be here, bringing health problems for baby pigs. Watch out for chilling drafts in farrowing houses and shelters, especially at night after a mild day. Exposure, lack of feed and water, and other stresses such as vaccination leave pigs susceptible to pneumonia, scours and other major disorders. Watch pigs closely and treat them promptly to hold disease losses down.

HITCH IMPLEMENTS TO TRACTOR DRAWBAR and play it safe. Modern tractors are designed to stall or lose traction before they tip backward when implements are hitched to the drawbar. This safety feature does not apply when the equipment is hitched to the axle, around the power lift or at any point above the drawbar. An improper hitch may not cause trouble until you get in a tough pull or head uphill. When a tractor does tip, however, things happen so fast that the driver seldom has time to reach the clutch or jump. When a tractor reaches a 45° angle, its momentum will carry it the rest of the way over.

MAJOR CAUSES OF MASTITIS are carelessness and faulty milking equipment. Although leaving a milking machine on a cow all night is farfetched, the cartoon does call attention to the fact that poor milking procedure can rob the dairyman of profits. Milking equipment should be inspected regularly, especially if recurring mastitis is a problem in your herd. Faulty pulsators, vacuum pumps and lines that are too small are a common cause of trouble.

BEST TIME TO BUY SEED for 1963 crops is between now and early winter. Consider germination and seed purity when comparing seed. The true value of seed can be found by multiplying the purity by the germination percentage and dividing this into price per pound. Seed selling for 38c per pound with a purity of 90% and a germination of 70% really costs 60c per pound of live seed.

Whelan-Scheffler Wedding Vows Exchanged

Nearly 600 guests attended the wedding of Beverly Jean Scheffler and Airman 2/C Donald Dale Whelan Sept. 15 at the St. Paul Lutheran Church in Milan. The Rev. Vernon H. Schwartz of Hillsdale and the Rev. Thomas John Drobena of Britton officiated.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Archie Scheffler of Macon and Mr. and Mrs. Dale Whelan of 302 W. Cummins St.

White gladioli and chrysanthemums were used on the altar and palms in the background. The white carpeted aisle was outlined with white blossoms, emerald foliage and satin bows.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of French Chantilly lace over satin fashioned with mandarin neckline outlined in seed pearls and sequins.

The traditional long sleeves ending in points over the hands were accented with miniature bows. The wide skirt of tiered lace extended into a chapel train featuring a wide satin bow at the waist.

☆

Ilene Schafer was the bridesmaid with Rebecca Riese, Brenda Whelan, Teresa Riese, Sharon Scheffler and Linda Jarosz as miniature bridemaids in pastel colors.

AN ELABORATELY decorated cake featuring the complete wedding party of 18 in miniature centered the floor of the Tecumseh Products Union Hall where the dinner and reception were held for 600.

The cake was baked by the bride's mother and decorated by Mrs. Ormand Socks.

Yellow and white tapers and summer flowers enhanced the large room and the bridal tables which formed a U shape.

Following a trip to northern Michigan and Niagara Falls the newly married couple will make their home in Tampa, Fla.

Irene Circle Sees Slides Hears Tales of Berlin Trip

The Irene Circle of the Methodist Church heard Mrs. Carl Kern present devotions Sept. 17 when the meeting was held at the home of Mrs. Robert Bonner.

Mrs. Kern read a poem, "Just Suppose," and verses from Ecclesiastes, closing with the Lord's Prayer.

Mrs. Bonner distributed the year's books and Mrs. Paul Hadsell read a letter concerning the Rotary dinners.

Mrs. Carroll Sprague spoke on "Race and Racial Problems" and told about UNICEF for Halloween.

Mrs. Herbert Dillon introduced her daughter, Mrs. John Brown, who showed colored slides that she had taken in Berlin and told of her experiences there.

Mrs. Cleon Rupp and Mrs. Erwin Buss were co-hostesses, serving refreshments to 15 present.

Junior Music Club To Begin

Tecumseh will have a junior music club for junior and senior high school students between the ages of 12 and 18.

An organizational meeting will be held from 2:30 to 4 p.m. Sunday, Oct. 7, at the home of Mrs. James E. Danforth 804 Outer Dr.

Mrs. Orrie Gilbert will be assisting advisor.

Mrs. Danforth invites any interested persons to attend.

Dancers To Meet

A Sunday special for western style square dancers will be held Sunday, Sept. 30.

A workshop will be held from 3 to 6:30 p.m. with dancing from 7 to 9:30 p.m.

Dick Kenyon will be the caller.

Green Bees Have Guests

Mrs. Robert Beevers was hostess for the Raisin Green Bees Extension Club Sept. 17 when 10 members and four guests were present.

The guests were Mrs. Edna Bowsman, Mrs. Thelma Mullins, Mrs. Ed Osburn and Mrs. Faye Loop.

Tours for the coming year were discussed and the year books completed.

A gift of decorated cup cakes was awarded to Mrs. Loop.

The October meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. George Downard. Ideas for holiday open house will be presented.

Pvt. Williams Is Transferred

Pvt. Gordon Williams, son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Williams of 111 S. Maumee St. has completed basic training at Fort Knox, Ky. and has been transferred to Electronics School at Fort Monmouth, N.J.

Mrs. David Younglove of Britton and Mrs. Albert Williams spent the weekend with Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Williams of Aberdeen, Md. The group accompanied Pvt. Williams to Fort Monmouth and also called on the Rev. and Mrs. Donald C. Wilson of Wilmington, Del. and other friends and relatives.

Number of Secondary Pupils, Resident	1184	1217
Number of Secondary Pupils, Non-Resident	5	5
Ratio of Pupils to teachers	28.16	30.23

A Comparison of the General Fund Net Obligation position of the School District on June 30, 1962, and June 30, 1961, is as follows:

Amounts Owed:	Fiscal Year Ended June 30, 1961	Fiscal Year Ended June 30, 1962
Short Term Notes	$300,000.00	$340,000.00
Amounts Due:—State Aid, etc.,	18,261.81	107,691.59
Cash Balance	117,210.66	81,384.69
Net Amount Owed by District	$164,527.53	$150,923.72
Loans on Bus Equipment	$ 30,200.00	$ 19,600.00

It is evident from the above that the district through adhering to a very austere budget was able to reduce its debt by $24,203.81 as well as to provide $6502.48 for an additional tile field at the Ridgeway School which was needed unexpectedly, and had therefore not been included in the original budget.

Transportation costs were decreased $3.09 per child transported, but to do this, services were curtailed and the busses were not kept at the same high standards of repair as in previous years. State Aid towards the costs was again cut and has been reduced from 100% paid a few years ago to less than 70% for this year.

The Board has again provided maximum educational advantages for the community at one of the lowest operational rates in the county due to efficient control, deficit financing, and the cooperation of the staff who have accepted exceptionally heavy loads during the year. Actually the per capita cost for 1961-62 was $315.64 which was $3.40 per pupil less than last year. This means that 3083 pupils were in school 187 days last year at a cost of $1.68 per day or $0.5c per hour.

Peace Corps Placement Tests Near

Peace Corps Placement Tests will be held at Civil Service Commission testing centers throughout the nation Saturday, Sept. 29, at 8:30 a.m.

Those who take the test will be considered for new Peace Corps projects in Asia, Africa, Latin America, the West Indies and the South Sea Islands.

Peace Corps opportunities abroad cover many fields — teaching, nursing, engineering, plumbing, carpentry, agriculture, architecture, medicine, home economics, city planning, geology, physical education and rural and urban community development.

Applicants must be American citizens of at least 18 years of age. There is NO upper age limit. Married couples without dependent children may apply providing both qualify for Peace Corps service.

Many who take the tests will be applicants who have sent in a Peace Corps questionnaire since the last round of testing in June. But interested persons who have not yet filled out a questionnaire will also be permitted to take the tests on a space-available basis.

Each person will be given his choice of two types of placement tests. One is for men and women who would like to be considered for positions as teachers. For this, a bachelor's degree is generally required, although the applicant does not have to be an accredited teacher.

The other test is for everyone else who wants to serve in the Peace Corps.

While some projects call for technical skills, many others require men and women without specialized, technical training. Among these are liberal arts graduates — often assigned to community development work — and people with general farming backgrounds for agricultural projects.

Cubs Need Adults As Helpers

Cub Scout Pack 73, sponsored by the Presbyterian Church, will hold an organizational meeting Monday, Oct. 1, at 7:30 p.m. at the Tecumseh Community Center.

Parents of boys interested in continuing in the program or in joining the scout movement are urged by the Pack Committee to attend.

A committee will be selected, along with den mothers and a cubmaster.

With the advancement of 30 boys last year, new leaders are needed if the pack is to continue.

Women's Golf Champ Repeats

For the seventh straight year, Mrs. Barbara Speerstra captured the women's golf championship at Lenawee Country Club.

An English teacher at Tecumseh High School, Mrs. Speerstra has been a resident of Tecumseh for the past two years, living at 504 Stacey St.

Circle Meets

Mrs. Wilfred Waldron presented a piano solo and Mrs. Andrew Woodward gave a history of the World Council of Churches. Mrs. Robert Bonner presented the qualification cards for the WSCS and Mrs. Carroll Sprague gave a report on social relations.

Mrs. Woodward assisted the hostess in serving refreshments.

The circle's next activity will be a rummage sale sponsored by the entire WSCS in honor of the Janouseks, African missionaries. Charlotte Circle is named for Mrs. Janousek.

Newcomers Welcomed

By DOROTHY GRIGG

Mrs. William Damon, 817 Outer Dr., is the Welcome Wagon hostess in Tecumseh and most enthusiastic about her work.

She said Tuesday, "I'm really thrilled to be doing it."

Welcome Wagon is a national organization.

Hostesses call on families soon after they move to the city, making them welcome and offering assistance in acquainting them with various businesses, churches, schools and clubs.

Business sponsors prepare bulletins, coupons and little gifts for Mrs. Damon to carry in her gayly-decorated basket for distribution to newcomers.

☆

Even though busily unpacking, they are glad to learn of the services available in their new community.

About $10 in service and gifts are presented to the newcomer by Mrs. Damon from her basket.

They include such items as free dairy products for one day, free grease jobs for autos, free hair styles and a trial subscription to The Tecumseh Herald.

The Tecumseh Rotary Club is in the process of preparing a church bulletin to be given to new residents.

A letter of welcome from the mayor, Harold Easton, and one from Jule Fosbender, extending an invitation to visit the library, are also among the basket items.

☆

FOR THE PAST two months, Mrs. Damon has been visiting in the homes of people recently moving to the city.

She finds them most gracious and extremely pleased with the service Welcome Wagon extends.

She helps by learning of the hobbies in the family and suggesting people and clubs they may be interested in learning about.

Bowlers are happy to learn that Mrs. D. is abreast of the captains of the teams and can give them pertinent information.

Drug stores, doctors, dentists and clergymen are often among the queries received by the hostess.

Long & Short

By TOM RIORDAN

This is the concensus among the men and women who have been laboring diligently on the project since Sept. 20.

By a quirk of the calendar, the "Save Historic St. Peter's" committee drew an extra week for the effort. Oct. 1 was the original deadline, but since the vestry, official governing body of St. Peter's, does not meet until Oct. 8, permission was granted to report at that time.

Even so, it just does not seem possible to accomplish the goal by Monday—or even a month from Monday.

Contributions continue to arrive, but total donations are still below the $10,000 mark, a scant one-tenth of the amount needed.

The committee had hoped that charitable foundations around the state might respond to the plea issued to more than 60 by letter. This phase of the drive produced several $500 gifts, but mostly negative answers.

One gentleman made the observation that had the church burned down and the committee was making a drive to rebuild it, not $100,000 would have poured in—but probably more likely $200,000.

He estimated that about 65% of the population is always eager to help the unfortunate and build for the future, but only about 5% are anxious to preserve the past.

This seems to be the case.

It's good to note that the 5% are certainly moved by their convictions to keep a link with the heritages of pioneer days. Expressions that have accompanied their dollars are magnificent.

When the drive started, this writer frankly stated the odds of success ran about 10,000-to-1. They've probably increased 100 times that by now.

But maybe, just maybe there might be a miracle in the offing.

☆

As you will note in a feature story on this page, Jessie found herself as the star of a "This Is Your Life" program last week.

From what we hear, this marked the first time that Jessie was literally speechless. For a few moments anyway.

The honor was long-overdue and I congratulate her fellow Prebyterian Church members for pulling it off.

One part of the program which particularly tickled my wife and me—along with probably hundreds of others, was the bit about Jessie aiding the city underwrite its parking program.

Couple of months back I got the red envelope treatment under my windshield wiper when I made the miscalculation of "just dashing" into Jessie's store to pick up a lamp which had been repaired.

The distance from my car to the counter at the rear of Sluyter Electric was not over 20 yards—and even at age 40, a fellow should be able to "dash" it two ways in 15 seconds flat.

But you know the story from that point.

It wasn't a week later when my wife dropped by on a similar mission, being careful to feed the meter an ample amount.

But like everyone who ever chats with Jessie, the conversation always gets so interesting, all time is forgotten.

When Cherie walked out, there it was big as life—an overtime parking ticket.

So the Riordans well know what that deal for Jessie from the city is all about.

But, Jessie, we wouldn't have it any other way, so always stay just as lovely and sweet as you are.

☆

Plaudits, too, go to the fellows at Britton who belong to the Future Farmers of America and their advisor, Ron Fritch.

For the fifth straight year, Britton's FFA has seen one of its number selected to the rank of American Farmer, highest possible that can be obtained in the ag. program.

Lenawee County had two other American Farmers this year, James Darish from Blissfield and Larry Wood from Addison, making this county a real focal point for Michigan.

The state is limited to 11 by the national FFA, a ratio of 1 to each 1,000 members. Lenawee, with some 500 lads in FFA, stole all the thunder in the Wolverine state.

Three pages of the second session this week are devoted to the new library, which will be dedicated Sunday.

Preparing the articles was Mrs. Gordon Comfort, a former daily newspaper reporter who now lives in Tecumseh and works part-time for the Herald —when she isn't chasing bees out of the lovely old brick farm home she and her husband recently purchased.

Mrs. Comfort is a member of the Library Board and was doubly interested in the assignment. You surely will be interested in reading of your city's new "home for books" and want to attend Sunday's affair.

Fund Aims for $50,000

The annual Tecumseh Community Fund Foundation drive will get underway here Oct. 17 with a goal of $50,000 to be raised, Ken Conway, drive chairman, announces.

Other division drives and chairmen are:

- Commercial—Dyke Helms, Oct. 22.
- Profesisonal—N. S. Bovee, Oct. 22.
- Municipal—Cal Zorn, Oct. 22.
- Residential—Mrs. Jack Curtiss and Mrs. Richard Dustin, Oct. 25.

Mr. Conway, local manager for General Telephone Co., reports the goal is $15,000 less than last year, when approximately $71,000 was contributed, some $6,000 over the quota.

More will be given to charities than ever before. About $30,000 is scheduled for local, state and federal charities and civic and youth groups. Included in the budget are:

American Red Cross
Catholic Social Services
City of Tecumseh
Family Counselling Service
Huron Valley Child Guidance Clinic
Irish Hills Girl Scout Council
Lenawee County Humane Society
Michigan United Fund
Salvation Army
Tecumseh Scout Cabin Association
Tecumseh Service Club
Wolverine Council Boy Scouts
Administration

Funds donated over $30,000 will be applied to retire the new library debt.

Preliminary meetings are planned for the next two weeks with each division drive chairman organizing his campaign.

School Study Is Available

The preliminary report of the Citizen's Advisory Group on the Tecumseh Public Schools is available at the Tecumseh Library.

The citizen's group was named by the board from a list of persons interested in the school's welfare. The group studied the school buildings, administration and curriculum, and took a survey of district residents' opinions on the school system.

Hats on Sale by Altar Group

Some 250 new fall and winter hats will be on sale at the St. Elizabeth Rosary Altar Society Hat Party, Oct. 5, according to Mrs. Robert Laidlaw, chairman.

The hats along with a collection of accessories will be in the church school auditorium from 2 to 8 p.m. Refreshments will be served.

Mrs. Kenneth Kitson is co-chairman of the hat sale. Mrs. Kitson said, "Similar fashion events have been held in other cities in this area, but this is the first hat party to be held in Tecumseh."

Artists Club Has Display

Tecumseh's Artists Key Club is having a special exhibit in connection with a move for new members.

The club is open to anyone interested in learning to draw or in painting with oils or pastels.

Although organized primarily to instruct artists, the club also carries on social activities.

Weekly classes are held Wednesdays from 9 a.m. to noon and from 7:30 to 10:30 p.m. Meeting place is 1114 W. Chicago Blvd., over Don's Grill.

New Phone Book Being Compiled

The new Tecumseh telephone directory is now being compiled, according to K. L. Conway, district manager for General Telephone.

"General Telephone representatives will be contacting all business telephone users in Tecumseh, Britton, Clinton and Tipton within the next few days regarding space in the Yellow Pages. We want to be sure all businessmen are aware of our new and expanded Yellow Pages and have the opportunity to review their listing," Mr. Conway stated.

Tecumseh's new library, serving the school district's more than 90 square miles, will be dedicated Sunday, Oct. 7. An open house at the new building, on N. Ottawa St. one block east and two blocks north of the main four corners of Tecumseh, will last from 2 to 5 p.m., with the dedication ceremony at 3. Anyone interested in viewing the building is invited to attend. Refreshments will be served. The Tecumseh Herald this week devotes a special three-page section to the history and development of this new gem in Tecumseh's civic crown. Trio of pages, with pictures and stories about the library, lead off the next section. Another gem, the new Faraday plant on S. Maumee St. near the Tecumseh Products plant, also will have an open house Sunday. This will be from 1 to 6 p.m., with tours of the plant facilities.

Hardwareman Ned Baldwin Dies on Trip

Ned Baldwin, 61, one of Tecumseh's most popular and successful businessmen, died suddenly in his sleep Wednesday morning while on vacation at Curtis, Mich.

Word was received here early Wednesday morning of his death, shortly after he was found in bed at the Floyd Russell cottage. He and his brothers had planned a fishing trip to Canada.

Funeral arrangements with Collins-Corkery Funeral Home in charge, had not been completed as of Wednesday noon.

Mr. Baldwin, born at Fayette, Ohio, came to Michigan and operated a hardware store, starting in January 1925. Over the years, Baldwin Hardware became recognized as the hardware store in southern Michigan, being the largest and best stocked.

He operated the store here for 37 years, remodeling and enlarging after fire practically destroyed the building in 1951. Just this year, he transferred ownership of the store to his son, Earl.

Mr. Baldwin was an outdoorman, frequently taking hunting and fishing trips to northern Michigan and Canada with local friends.

A director of the United Savings Bank and a member of the American Legion, he was a past member of Council, School Board, and the Hospital Board. He was a veteran of World War I.

Survivors are his wife, Mae; daughters, Mrs. Arthur Williams and Linda, student at Western Michigan U.; sons, Earl, and Thomas, Ft. Bragg, N.C.; sisters, Mrs. Mary Jacobs, Florida and Mrs. Pauline Fields, Detroit; brothers, Roscoe of Marquette, Duane of Howell, Mark, Albion, and Cary of California.

MRS. JESSIE SLUYTER

Jessie Is Speechless

By DOROTHY GRIGG

Everybody loves Jessie.

This was proven last Wednesday evening when 150 attended a family night at the Presbyterian Church where a surprise "This Is Your Life, Jessie Sluyter" program was held.

The program followed a cafeteria supper which the unsuspecting Jessie had chaired, seeing to it that the birthday theme was appropriately carried out in twelve different tables representing the months of the year.

Greeting the guests, the jovial Jessie did not realize the reason for the unusually large gathering until Mistress of Ceremonies Mrs. Charles Howe interrupted the singing of hymns led by Fred C. Dickinson to announce the eventful program.

Reading from a white book beautifully hand-written by Mrs. Harry Stanifer, Mrs. Howe introduced the honored guest as "one of the unsung saints who answer Christ's calling in the day-to-day world, being a blessing and an inspiration to those they meet along life's way."

☆

THOSE attending brought gifts to be sent to the church-sponsored missionaries in Jessie's name for use at Christmas.

Mrs. John Hamilton, assisted by Mrs. James Barton arranged the program introduced by Mrs. Howe.

To represent Jessie's early girlhood, Janice Hall and Nancy Swaney danced to a record of Allen Seager's which was cut in 1920. The girls were appropriately dressed.

Mrs. Percy Bowen, Mrs. Louis S. Schneider, Mrs. Ned Baldwin and Mrs. Marvin Watkins all spoke giving details of various occasions when they served with Jessie on committees for the American Legion Auxiliary, "Eight and Forty" and the Business and Professional Women.

Mrs. Fred F. Dickinson, board member of the Tecumseh Service Club which Jessie helped to organize, spoke.

Mrs. George McCombs and Mrs. Carlos Knisely gave tribute to Jessie for her untiring efforts in behalf of the Hospital Auxiliary.

SEVERAL young people sent letters which were placed in Jessie's white book representing the young people that she has advised, loved and sent along life's way, a bit happier for having known her.

Dr. Carlton Cook, who served on the Presbyterian Session Board with Jessie, Mrs. M. R. Blanden, who served in the Women's Association, and Mrs. Fay Whelan, who helped organize the Golden Rule Class, told of the abilities of Mrs. Sluyter.

Dr. Cook said, "This is the only woman I have ever known who could put a minister in his place."

Telegrams and letters were among other interesting items added to Jessie's Life Book.

☆

A TAPE recording was made for Jessie to keep and an armful of American Beauty roses with the book were presented to her in conclusion.

An amusing certificate of merit signed by mayor Harold Easton was presented to the amazed Jessie.

The closing paragraph read: "NOW THEREFORE, we award this CERTIFICATE OF MERIT for unconsciously and unknowingly contributing, by chit-chat, to the success of the parking meter project, to our good friend and business lady: Jessie Sluyter — Long Live Jessie."

Jessie's daughter and grandchildren, Mrs. Jeanne O'Neil and daughters, Sheila and Beth, were present as well as son Ray, who made a flying trip from Ferris Institute to be with Mom on her night.

Mrs. MacDonald, Jessie's aunt, was also among the diners.

Edith Ingersoll asked the blessing before dinner and the Rev. Julian Gresham gave a fitting benediction following the evening's festivities.

Township Leaders Gather

Plans are complete for the annual meeting of all township officials for the four counties of the Second Congressional District, (Jackson, Lenawee, Monroe and Washtenaw), to be held at the Eagles Club, 205 N. Winter St., Adrian, Tuesday, Oct. 16.

The meeting, designed to bring together those who make the laws and those who must enforce them, will feature a discussion with congressmen, state senators, state representatives, state officers, county officers and township officials.

Although the meeting is called primarily for township officials of members of the Michigan Township Association, all township officials and anyone else interested in local township government is invited to attend, according to the organizers.

Letters Continue

Mrs. Hal Lewis, Sebring, Fla. — I wrote last May to Mr. Henry Ford II hoping through his influence something could be done about the preservation of the church. I received a very nice letter in reply which said he appreciated the thought which prompted me to write but as the Ford Motor Company did not have a plant in Tecumseh he felt it would not be appropriate for him to intercede. I think the time is now ripe for someone to approach him on this matter.

√

Bonnie Bielenberg, Detroit — I was baptized and confirmed at St. Peter's and sang in the choir as a girl. Since my marriage have attended St. Paul's Memorial Episcopal Church in Detroit. My husband Carl was buried from St. Peter's. My father served on the vestry there and the old church is like home to me. I love it and hope it can be restored.

√

Gerity Broadcasting Co., Adrian — We have been watching your campaign on behalf of St. Peter's with a great deal of interest, and we hope we have helped in some small measure.

Pat McNamara, Washington, D. C.—This seems to me to be a most worthy undertaking and I am happy to contribute to the cause. The church has a tremendous history and the citizens of Tecumseh are to be congratulated on their civic zeal in seeking to preserve this famous structure.

√

Lora Shaw, Ann Arbor — For years when our goal has been points south, we have deliberately gone thru Tecumseh just to feast our eyes on this beautiful church. Another association I have with Tecumseh, my grandfather Delaven Tinkhaue, whose farm was at the edge of Coldwater, in the middle 19th century, took a week off to travel by ox team to Tecumseh to do his milling. That was the nearest mill.

√

Here, in Oakland County we are restoring the home of Governor Mose Wisner and are just now meeting with more co-operation then we have had in fifteen years.

Ellen Craig, Detroit — I was baptized in that Church in the year of 1874 or 75. I am the last one of the Samuel and Katherine Craig seven children who were baptized in the late 1860s. Mr. William Hayden and wife were the sponsors.

√

Julia Norton, Toledo — Neighbors and friends of years ago came from [illegible] and the notice of St. Peter's Church brought them all back vividly and in memory of them I am enclosing a small check, the LeBaron family and remember going out to their lot in the cemetery. The Baxter daughter married James Winaus and his sister married into the Scott family here.

√

John Lee, Wayne State University—My great grandfather, Joseph Pierpont Lee, settled with his family on a farm two and one-half miles south of Tecumseh in 1836. Tecumseh and the community was the first home of the Lee family in Michigan well over a century ago.

√

Alice Manley — Given in loving memory of my father Bernhard A. Everlove and my grandfather Rudolf O. Everlove.

St. Peter's has had a big part in the life of my family. We were married there in 1947. Members of our family have also been baptized and confirmed in the church.

It is my hope that St. Peter's can be saved for its historical value. Like all things St. Peter's has served its purpose well but must make way for the new.

√

Mr. and Mrs. George Neuman, Manitowac, Wis. — Were very much impressed by your church. Stopped to admire it on our trip through your town, do hope you will meet your goal. I am employed as the steward on the Str. McKee Sons.

√

Mrs. Howard Kronberg, Tipton—If this move succeeds we will send more. This is a worthwhile project and we admire you for the effort you have made.

√

Mrs. Neva Mohrlock, Chelsea —I am a grand daughter of Dr. Galatian, one of the founders of St. Peter's church.

√

June Tansley, Lansing — We were members of the church in the 1920's and the church has always meant so much to me. It is my most sincere wish that the church may be kept. Why does progress have to destroy the old and beautiful.

√

Mary Steurer, Fullerton, Calif. —It was a bitter blow to read this winter of old St. Peter's infirmities and so I am delighted to know that the Herald and others interested are sparking a campaign for the restoration. I consider St. Peter's a part of my personal heritage in Tecumseh. My great, great, grandfather, Thomas Wright served as senior warden and I am told bought the first stove and was the first to ring the bell.

But most of all there will now be a place to house the mementoes of the community. In many an attic are interesting letters, maps and other documents of early days. As if this were not enough the history of our community during the past three decades staggers the imagination. When I say my home town is Tecumseh, Mich., people know this is no ordinary place.

Mrs. Hal Lewis, Sebring, Fla. —I was organist there for a good many years, during the Centennial and saw ministers come and go. I played for the ordination of the Rev. Edward Green and for many of the Henry Ford school graduations which were held there at that time. The late Mr. Henry Ford was very interested in St. Peter's and did a lot to help the church.

You Told Us

By DOROTHY GRIGG

"The weather is about as beautiful as it can ever be all around the world," commented the radio broadcaster Wednesday morning just before Astronaut Walter Schirra was sent into orbit.

He certainly hadn't taken into account the constant downpour of rain in the southern Michigan area.

The goose bumps popped out up and down my spine as the realization came that in 1962 we speak of the world in the universe in much the same manner as once we spoke of a continent in relation to the rest of the world.

Labor Secretary Talks at Dinner

Secretary of Labor W. Willard Wirtz, newest member of President Kennedy's Cabinet, will be main speaker Oct. 6 at the Democratic Second Congressional District Dinner.

The dinner, to be held in the Michigan Union at Ann Arbor, is for the area including Lenawee, Jackson, Monroe and Washtenaw Counties. Proceeds will be used for the coming campaign.

Association Installs Mrs. Hunt President

Mrs. Robert Hunt of Murphy Hwy. was installed as president of the Lenawee-Monroe County Association, Order of the Eastern Star, at the semi-annual meeting of the association Saturday in the Tecumseh Community Center.

The center was decorated with palms, white gladioli, pompons, red carnations and roses by Tecumseh Chapter OES, hosts to the group.

A large heart centered with an open Bible and roses was the featured table arrangement at the banquet held at the Baptist Youth House preceding the installation. The Rev. Paul Brantingham gave the invocation at the table.

The installation followed an afternoon session and program of entertainment when the Aowakiyas performed in drill and baton routines. Shirley Hunt played "Third Man's Theme" at the piano.

☆

THE FLAGS were presented by Larry Haskell, Ann Marie Crueger and Sally Hunt. The tributes were given by Philip Springer, Elsie Barnett, Mrs. Marion Haskell and Larry Haskell.

Mrs. Cecile Viele, worthy matron of the Tecumseh Chapter, welcomed the guests.

Past presidents of the association who conducted the installation were Mrs. Harold VanEtten of Jackson, installing officer, Mrs. Justin Sutton of Morenci, marshall; Dorothy Crittenden of Hudson, chaplain; Past Matron Mrs. Woodrow Hunt of Onsted, installing organist, and Mrs. Herbert Strand of Jackson, installing soloist.

Mrs. Strand, a past grand soloist of the state, sang "God Lives in My Heart" for the altar service for Mrs. Hunt.

The Knights Templar of Adrian Commandary, in full dress uniform and with raised swords, formed an aisle into which Mrs. Hunt was escorted by the Marshal to the East.

☆

TAKING office with her were Leland Yale Kerby of Morenci, first vice president; Mrs. Clark Ralston of Dundee, second vice president; Mrs. Gerald French of Clinton, chaplain; Mrs. Donald Bettis of Blissfield, marshal; Mrs. Marion Haskell of Adrian, treasurer; Mrs. Bruce Barnett of Monroe, secretary.

Others installed were Mrs. Robert Cole of Fairfield, organist; Royal Flint of Fayette, O., soloist; Mrs. Gerald Ryan and Mrs. Dorman Stout of Clayton, assisting marshalls; Katharine Hunt of Tecumseh, parliamentarian.

In accepting the office, Mrs. Hunt gave "love" as her motto with red as her color. Her flower is the red sweetheart rose and her symbol, a heart encircling the open Bible with Psalm 37:4 as the Bible verse for the year.

The Past Matrons Club of Tecumseh Chapter served punch and cookies from a table centered with snapdragons and carnations in the glass room. These were presented to Mrs. Hunt along with several other gifts.

Guests were present from the 17 chapters represented and others came from Pinckney, Ypsilanti, Yale, Jonesville, Jackson, Buchanan and Sylvia.

Kiwanians Hear Stories

The Rev. William Baird, director of the Rural Bible Mission for Lenawee and Hillsdale counties, was speaker before the Kiwanis Club last Thursday evening.

Mr. Baird demonstrated the types of Bible stories the members of the mission group give on their weekly visits to schools in 32 southern Michigan counties.

He emphasized that the mission group never asks to be included in the school program, but participates only on invitation by school officials.

Thirty-four schools in Hillsdale and Lenawee Counties are presently served by Mr. Baird.

Parents Seeking Safety Measures from Councilmen

by JIM LINCOLN

Pleas for protection of children were made to Council Monday night from two separate groups of residents.

Several from Logan St. asked Council to investigate speed of traffic on the street and the possibility of removing parking from at least one side of the street.

The requests resulted from last Saturday's accident when a young boy rode his bicycle into the path of a motorist.

Another group of residents from Shady Lane asked Council about erecting a fence around The Pit, local swimming spot off S. Adrian St.

City attorney James Beardsley reported the city could not erect the fence, since it would be on private property, but could ask the property owner to do so.

He was requested to report his findings at the next meeting.

Residents say that young children have wandered to the water's edge, and recently went into the water after a pet dog. They also reported that at one section, there's a sharp drop-off leading to the swimming hole.

☆

LOCAL firemen received an addition to the fire station and a new chassis for a new fire truck.

Contractors Cheever & Benedict were awarded construction of a 30x38 addition to the present building, and Tecumseh Motors was awarded the truck chassis bid.

Cheever & Benedict, only bidder, agreed to the construction for $4,137, excluding wiring, heating and painting.

Considerable discussion took place before Tecumseh Motors won the chassis bid.

The local Ford dealer bid $4,935, which was $682 higher than the low bid from Schneider Bros. Garage. The Chevrolet bid was $4,243.

Tecumseh Equipment Co. bid $5,100 for an International.

Apparent reason for awarding the bid to Tecumseh Motors was failure of the Schneider bid to include a 100-amp. generator or alternator.

Firemen present at the meeting said that a 100-amp generator was necessary.

In other action, Council:

► Approved a transfer of a beer and wine carry-out license to Robert Meadows, Country Market on Occidental Rd.

► Approved appointment of Don Pritchard, electrical inspector.

► Accepted a letter from the Tecumseh Junior Chamber of Commerce, thanking the city for its consideration for using the Community Center for a district Jaycee meeting and noting the city's refusal was in the best interest of the community.

The Jaycees had planned to allow liquor during the meeting, and after some deliberation, the Parks and Recreation Board disallowed it.

State Seeks Oldest Pair

Who is the oldest couple in Michigan? Which couple has been married the longest?

Gary D. Hansen, commission director, announced that when the oldest Michigan couple and the longest married couple are identified, they will be enrolled as honorary members of the Senior Service Corps, a new branch of the commission.

Mr. Hansen invited anyone who knows a couple that might be eligible for either honor to write the Michigan Commission on Aging, 230 N. Grand Ave. Lansing 30.

Early Corn Harvesting Advised

Early harvesting with a properly adjusted picker can drastically cut corn losses in the field.

More than one and a half million acres of corn are scheduled for harvest in Michigan alone this ye . . . ing the next few weeks. 33,500 pickers, combines equipped with corn heads and husker-shellers will be starting the corn harvest.

"Farmer should harvest as rapidly as possible once corn is ready," says Bob White, agricultural engineer at Michigan State University. He points out that ear and shelling losses increase only gradually through October, but jump rapidly during November.

Research has shown that farmers can expect field losses to average about three bushels per week after the middle of October.

"Farmers who are still picking corn at Thanksgiving can expect to leave about 15 per cent of their crop in the field," Mr. White estimates. The whole picking job should be done by the end of October as the weather is usually good and the crop handles better at this time.

☆

IMPROPER picker adjustment greatly adds to corn losses — even when picking conditions are ideal. And shelling losses become more of a problem as the season progresses.

Two major sources of trouble on a picker are the snapping rolls and the husking bed. "Excessive shelling at the snapping rolls is generally caused by the rolls being too far apart," says Mr. White. They should be set as close as possible without causing "plugging" — which sets the scene for many accidents.

"Plugging can also be caused by fast ground speeds," he adds. The farmer may need to change the "aggressiveness" of the snapping rolls by adding lugs or welded beads to the rolls, he points out. Snapping roll speed can also be adjusted on some type of pickers.

In heavy corn, field losses can be reduced and plugging minimized when the ground speed of the picker is held near two miles per hour.

☆

HUSKING bed problems are usually caused by wrong adjustment of the ear retarders or overloading. The picker should be set so that ears are fed uniformly into the husking bed. Excessive husks or trash found in the husking bed usually mean that the snapping rolls need adjusting.

Mr. White cautions farmers to make sure that all slip clutches are working — both on new and old machines. He advises farmers to loosen the spring tension on each clutch to the point where it actually slips.

"Let it slip for a short period of time and then tighten it back to the proper tension," he suggests. "This will remove paint and rust from the surface of the parts and allow them to work properly."

He reminds farmers to practice safety at all times. This includes stopping the power takeoff before leaving the tractor, keeping all shields in place, wearing tight-fitting clothes and driving slowly.

He concludes — 'Don't let the year's biggest loss turn out to be you — the picker operator."

Newlyweds Visit Relatives Here

James B. Clark Jr. brought his bride of Aug. 24 to Tecumseh last week to visit his grandmother and her husband, Mr. and Mrs. Leland Cheever of 712 Inner Dr., and other relatives in the area.

Lt. Colonel James B. Clark, a former Tecumsehite stationed in Spain with the Air Force, is the father of Mr. Clark.

A miscellaneous shower for them was held Saturday in Britton at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Clare Griffin for relatives and friends.

Mrs. James Hibbard baked a cake which was featured during the refreshment hour.

The engagement of Carol Brighton is announced by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Fred G. Brighton of 713 S. Union St. Her fiance is Jack L. Holderman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Versal Holderman of Michigan Center. Miss Brighton is a 1962 graduate of Tecumseh High School. Mr. Holderman, a 1960 graduate of Michigan Center High School, is employed by Bruce Foundry Co. A Nov. 24 wedding is planned.

Inez Boltz Wed

Mr. and Mrs. Mervyn Boltz announce the marriage of their daughter, Inez Jean, to Walter Harger of Rapid City.

The wedding took place Sept. 22.

Mr. and Mrs. Arch Conkey of East Lansing were the couple's attendants.

Cornerstone Ceremony Is Wednesday

The cornerstone of the new St. Peter's Episcopal Church will be laid at 5:15 p.m. Wednesday, Oct. 10 by the Rt. Rev. Richard S. Emrich, bishop of Michigan.

Clergy of the Southwest Convocation will assist in the service.

Following the service a parish supper will be served in the Baptist Youth House by the Episcopal Churchwomen.

The first part of the service will be held in the present church building. The congregation will then form a procession to the site of the cornerstone at the southeast corner of the new church.

In case of rain the service itself will be held inside the new church building.

The foundation symbols, the Cross, the Holy Bible and the Book of Common Prayer, and the record of the founders of the new church, a coy of the Tecumseh Herald, and other appropriate articles, will be deposited in the cornerstone.

The record of founders shall contain the names of the bishop, the clergy and lay officials of the congregation, and all the contributors of the building.

The new St. Peter's Church is expected to be completed in December in time for Christmas services.

Players Cast for Comedy

Rehearsals for "The Man Who Came to Dinner," Moss Hart and George S. Kaufman's wacky comedy, are underway.

It has the largest cast of any presentation of the Tecumseh Players, but large casts, Hart and Kaufman and director Ric Kureth seem to go together.

Mrs. Thomas Corkery is associate director.

This play has a cast of 20, six of whom are either new to the Players or making their debut on stage.

Duane Steele will play Sheridan Whiteside

Mrs. Fred Pokorny — Maggie Cutler

William Sanford — Bert Jefferson

Mrs. Bertha Vallelunga —Lorraine Sheldon

Gene Earling — Mr. Stanley

Mrs. Edward Mengerink — Mrs. Stanley

Mrs. Dale Bowen — Miss Preen

Fred Ward — Richard Stanley

Mrs. Kenneth McEnroe — June Stanley

Mrs. Melvin Wegner — Sarah

Mrs. Alton Snyder — Mrs. Dexter

Mrs. Irene Merz — Mrs. McCutcheon

Neil DePuy — Dr. Bradley

Miss Lillian Cesokas — Harriet Stanley

Dr. Robert Murray — Prof. Mertz

Sidney Turner — Sandy

Richard Boyd — Beverly Carlton

Thomas Riordan — Wescott

Frank Dalton — Banjo

The technical staff is headed by Mrs. Frank Dalton as technical director; Dr. Richard Coak, lights; Mrs. Vic Lawson, properties; Mrs. Ralph Dabe, costumes.

"The Man Who Came to Dinner" will be presented at the Community Center on two successive week-ends, Oct. 25, 26, and 27 and Nov. 1, 2, and 3.

The move to the Community Center enables the Players to present plays on the week-ends and offers the public a greater choice of attendance. It also allows for more flexible and interesting staging.

Season tickets will be sold this year for the first time.

A musical and a light mystery drama are scheduled for later in the season. Anyone interested in buying season tickets may call Sidney Turner, HA 3-7265.

Music Club Meets

Five from the Tecumseh Music Club were to attend the 1962 annual district convention in Eaton Rapids Thursday, Oct. 4, with Mrs. Albert S. Bradford, president of the South Central District of the Michigan Federation of Music Clubs, presiding.

They are Mrs. James E. Danforth, Mrs. Orrie Gilbert, Mrs. Wilfred Waldron, Mrs. C. B. Brock and Mrs. Paul Brantingham. Tecumseh club president.

Principal speaker will be the president of the Michigan Federation of Music Clubs, Mrs. Vernon L. Venman.

Mrs. Bradford will stress Mrs. Venman's motto, "To Know Is To Grow," and her own, "Music, the Rhythm of the Universe.

She says she feels justly proud that the South Central District has 18 of the 62 state chairmanships.

Editor Will Speak

Harry Golden, whimsical and articulate editor of THE CAROLINA ISRAELITE and nationally known newspaper columnist, will be the featured speaker at a two-day teachers conference in Ann Arbor, Oct. 18-19.

Editor Golden will address some 5,000 teachers belonging to the Michigan Education Association Oct. 18 at the University of Michigan's Hill Auditorium.

Teachers in Region 3 of the MEA from Washtenaw, Jackson, Lenawee and Monroe counties will attend the conference.

Area schools will be closed during the teachers institute to permit educators to participate in a program designed to present new teaching methods and techniques to the teachers.

A highlight of the conference will be an aerospace program designed to aid teachers in teaching aerospace courses. The teachers will be told about aerospace education in the classroom, resource materials in aerospace education and the U.S. missile launching base at Cape Canaveral, Fla. They will also see a film of the orbital flight of America's first man in space.

Some 70 group sessions featuring discussions and lectures on such subjects as international understanding, children's literature, industrial education, music and agriculture will be held.

Scout Pow-Wow Set

The Wolverine Council of the Boy Scouts of America will hold its annual Cub Scout Pow-Pow Saturday, Oct. 6, at Blissfield High School. William Beal is general chairman.

The Pow-Wow is the annual Cub Scout leaders get-together for adults in the Monroe and Lenawee County area. It is a conference for den mothers, den dads, committeemen, cubmasters and prospective leaders. There will be exhibits from every Cub Scout pack and a midway filled with homemade games. The Pow-Wow will be given in four sections games, pack administration, handicraft and ceremonies.

The day's program will close with a Blue and Gold Banquet and presentation of certificates to all participants.

Automobile Show Set at Detroit

Visitors to Detroit in October will find the Cobo Hall-Convention Arena calendar holding two outstanding events for their pleasure.

"Holiday on Ice—1963" will be the first show of its kind in Convention Arena now through Oct. 7, and the 1962 National Automobile Show, with an accompanying musical production in the arena, opens Oct. 20 for nine days.

Cards Enjoyed

Mrs. George Green, assisted by Mrs. Luther Wood, was hostess Monday to the BPCPSC.

After a short business meeting, cards were enjoyed and prizes won by Mrs. Carl Thompson, Mrs. Garth Hall, Mrs. Beth Livingstone and Mrs. Sidney Wilson.

The next meeting will be Nov. 5 in the home of Mrs. Hall, assisted by Mrs. Erwin Buss.

Power Class Sees Parables

"Parables From Nature," filmstrips illustrating Biblical parables using animals as characters, served as the devotional portion of the September meeting of the Power Class.

The group met Saturday evening in the basement of the Friends Church and enjoyed an evening of "Golf."

Score cards, caddies and maximum number of strokes were all part of the equipment.

During the business portion of the evening, the class voted to continue for another year its project of helping to support the Rev. and Mrs. Dale Neff, missionaries to Africa.

Mrs. Neff is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Russell Comfort of Rogers Hwy.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Butler and Mr. and Mrs. Lee Smith, hosts for the evening, served refreshments.

Michigan Week Officer Named

Plans for the 1963 Michigan Week May 19-25 moved into high gear in this area with announcement by General Chairman G. Daverman that Philip N. Youtz, dean of the College of Architecture and Design at the University of Michigan, will be the regional chairman for Lenawee, Livingston, Monroe and Washtenaw Counties.

Dean Youtz is one of 16 outstanding leaders appointed by Mr. Daverman, Grand Rapids architect, to lead Michigan Week in their sections of the state. He will immediately select county chairmen for his four counties and together with them he will be responsible for the success of this huge state promotion and civic betterment program in Michigan Week Region 15.

THE TECUMSEH HERALD

Return Address Held Necessary

"An extremely valuable part of our service to the public depends on the sender's furnishing a complete and correct return address on all mail matter," said Tecumseh Postmaster Jack Metcalf.

He cautions mailers not to place the return address in any position other than in the upper left corner of the mailing piece or label.

Postal employees are required to process large volumes of mail rapidly, so it is quite possible for them to overlook return addresses placed in unauthorized positions.

Mailers may assure prompt, accurate return of undeliverable mail by compliance with this advice.

Health Officer Recommends Continued Use of Vaccines

State Health Commissioner Dr. Albert E. Heustis, strongly recommends the continued use of Salk vaccine to protect the people of Michigan from crippling polio.

Basing his recommendation [illegible] effectiveness and safety of the vaccine," the public health physican said that the record of declining numbers of polio cases since the introduction of Salk vaccine speaks for itself. In 1952 there were 3,912 reported cases of polio in Michigan. Last year, there were only 33 cases.

In addition to recommending continued use of the injected Salk vaccine, Dr. Heustis advised immunization against other diseases as well — whooping cough, diphtheria, tetanus and smallpox. He urged parents to check the immunization status of their children as well as their own, and to check with their doctor about bringing the family's immunizations up to date.

"Any community immunization program should emphasize protection against all diseases for which we have an effective vaccine," he said.

"Although we have had only six cases of polio reported so for this year, we have 1,167 cases of whooping cough, three cases of diphtheria and five cases of tetanus. And while we have had no reported cases of polio deaths, we have already had two deaths from whooping cough, two from diphtheria and one from tetanus. These were needless deaths, because there is an effective vaccine against each one of these diseases, and they can be combined into a single solution for one-shot immunizations."

The commissioner stressed immunization against tetanus not only to protect against the disease, but to avoid the discomfort of the antitoxin serum administered to accident victims who have not been imunized or whose immunization status is doubtful.

He pointed to the recent "smallpox scare" in New York City as reason enough for everyone to be vaccinated against this disease and to [illegible] level of protection with periodic booster shots.

"With the St. Lawrence Seaway opening up the Great Lakes region to the commerce of the world, and jet travel making smallpox areas like the Middle East only hours away, we have no choice but to maintain a constant vigil for this disease and to do all in our power to encourage smallpox vaccinations for the entire population."

Dr. Heustis, who had urged public health officials and private physicians to discontinue use of oral polio vaccine on Aug. 22 — well in advance of the U.S. Public Health Service — reiterated the state health department's recommendation for the continued use of Salk vaccine and said that the health department is now recommending that five anti-polio shots be received for maximum protection against the disease.

State's Driver Training Wins Award

Michigan topped the nation once again in the annual National High School Driver Education Award program and, for the second consecutive year, was the only state to qualify for the Award of Excellence.

The award, created only last year by the Insurance Institute for Highway Safety, sponsors of the program, honors only states in which 90 per cent of the public high schools provide qualifying courses in driver education for 90 per cent of the eligible students for three consecutive years.

Especially commended in a letter to the governor from Russell I. Brown, president of the institute, was Malcolm Whale, DPI consultant and state driver education coordinator.

Enrollment in driver education courses increased last year to 107,140 from 104,023 in 1960-61. Non-public school enrollments brought the total to 109,018 students participating in the program in 1961-62 in Michigan.

Public schools in Delaware, Florida, Illinois, Iowa, Kansas, Maine, Utah and North Carolina were cited for achievement awards.

The achievement award requires that at least 60 per cent of a state's high schools must have given qualifying courses to at least 60 per cent of eligible students.

Boy Scouts Plan Light Bulb Sale

Boy Scout Troop 73 will canvass Tecumseh the evening of Wednesday, Oct. 10.

The boys, assisted by their leaders, will sell light bulbs in an effort to aid their empty troop treasury.

Saturday, Sept. 29, the Senior High Fellowship held a hayride party. Sixteen youth were among the straw covered riders. The Rev. Frederick was the chaperon, while Warren Allen drove for refreshments. Sloppy joes, potato chips, donuts and cocoa were enjoyed by all. Many thanks to Gwen Linger and Juanita Cox for being the cooks.

✓

The Boy Scouts of Troop 17 held a Cave Man Cookout Monday night with 10 scouts and two visitors attending. The troop cooked caveman style, using no modern utensils, pots and pans, or tinfoil. Each man had whittled his own spoon and fork from a piece of wood. This month, the Scouts are concentrating on marksmanship with small bore weapons. Every boy 11 years or older is invited to attend.

Group Splits Mission Gifts

Mrs. Perry Hayden presided over the business meeting of the Tecumseh Friends Missionary Society Thursday evening.

It was decided that instead of sending one large parcel at Christmas, the group will ship smaller packages throughout the year to missionaries in Formosa and India.

At the conclusion of the business meeting a Wedding Wheel of Service was well attended — followed by a reception in the church basement.

The wedding and the reception were under the leadership of Mrs. Everett Fielder, program chairman for the current year.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Goodrich and four children moved Sept. 27 to Reed City. Mr. Goodrich has received a promotional transfer with the Protane Gas Co.

Careful Driving Saves Life

Careful driving is said to have saved the life of 6-year-old Rickey Ruttkofsky, son of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Ruttkofsky, 317 N. Pearl, last Saturday morning when the young boy rode his bicycle into the path of an automobile, driven by Hazel M. Thompson, 73, of Clinton.

Local police credit the slow and safe driving of Mrs. Thompson for not inflicting greater injury to the boy.

According to Tecumseh police, both Mrs. Thompson and the boy were headed east when the accident happened. The boy, reportedly riding on the sidewalk, swerved out into the street and in front of the car.

X-rays Tuesday showed the boy did not suffer a concussion. His father reports that he will be placed in a cast about the first of November and be in the cast eight or nine months.

Friends Plan Harvest Home Observances

Sunday, Oct. 7, will be the annual rally day and Harvest Home for the Tecumseh Friends Sunday school at the 11:10 hour.

Plans are underway to break the attendance record of 330 set some time ago.

Special music and some surprises are contemplated for the service.

At 10 a.m. members will participate in the annual Harvest Home service.

Mrs. Maye Evans of Columbus, O. will be the speaker. She is superintendent of the Friends Home.

This institution for years has been ministering to unwed mothers and Mrs. Evans' message will deal with constructive ways of helping youths before they succumb to comparable circumstances.

At 2:30 p.m. Friends will journey to Jackson for the 3:30 vesper service in the YMCA on Wesley St.

The Rev. Bryon Teague, known to many in this area, is the new pastor of the Jackson work and will be present for the service. Mr. and Mrs. Teague and family will be residing at 914 Bachus St., Jackson.

Sunday evening at the 7:30 Tecumseh service, Pastor Paul Brantingham will conduct a Bible quiz and speak relative to "The Christian Hope in a Day of Doom."

OBITUARIES

● MRS. VIRGIL G. HESSELGRAVE

Services were held Monday in Jackson for Mrs. Virgil Hesselgrave, a former Tecumseh resident, who died Thursday evening at the family home on Lincoln St. in Jackson.

She was born December 30, 1903 in Benton Harbor and came to Tecumseh from Blissfield with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Pruyne.

She was a graduate of Tecumseh High School and was employed by the telephone company until her marirage in 1922.

Besides her husband she is survived by four sons, Robert of Palmdale, Calif., Harold of Elgin, Ill., Max of Garden City, and James of Jackson; a sister, Mrs. Forrest Mossing of Adrian; two brothers, W. F. Pruyne of Saginaw and Vaughn E. Pruyne of San Diego, Cal., and six grandchildren.

She was preceded in death by one son, Dale, in infancy.

Burial was in the Woodland cemetery.

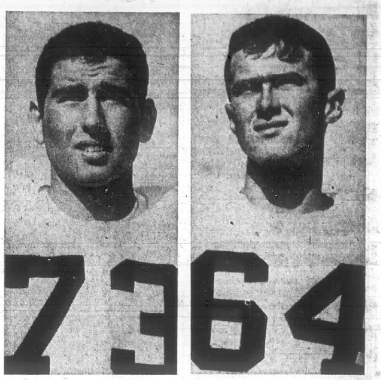
OPEN SUNDAYS

It will be the "Big Reds against the Apaches," according to Coach Tom Fagan of Tecumseh High School.

Translated, this means a powerful Milan High offense—which has brought the school 16 straight victories—battling Tecumseh's defense.



OFFENSIVE STANDOUTS — Downfield blocking of Mike (Chico) Osburn (73) and Jack Dick (64) has been especially effective in Tecumseh High's three straight wins, according to Coach Tom Fagan.

"We feel our kids are up for this one," the new THS mentor said Wednesday morning. In practice this week the coaching staff emphasized the point that Milan has piled up 46 points against Tecumseh in two years, while not yielding a single marker.

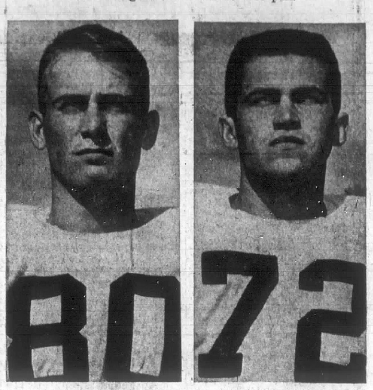
Last fall, the Big Reds routed Tecumseh, 19-0, and the season before, they coasted to a 27-0 victory.

Milan Coach Cliff Hall has a batch of strong lads, with Tackle Connie Maynard, a 200-pounder, leading the rugged line. In the backfield, Halfback John Broadhurst (No. 12) carries the ball about half of the time. He's a 5'11" speedster weighing 180 pounds.

Milan operates with an unbalanced line and a power-T. Coach Fagan's scouting reports show that the Red backs are only a couple of yards from the scrimmage line on offense.

"They run strictly power," Coach Fagan reports, "They tell you where they're going, then run over the top of you."

Winner of Friday's clash will take over first place in the Huron League. Kickoff is at 7:30 p.m.



TECUMSEH HERALD PHOTO

SPARKIE ON DEFENSE—Norm Tucker (80) and Don Becker (72) were defensive standouts in the Tecumseh line, reports Coach Tom Fagan. In the coming Milan battle, tremendous emphasis will be placed on the THS defensive crew, nicknamed the Apaches, as THS goes out to snap a 16-game Milan win streak.

Indians Score Early in Easy 27 to 12 Victory over Ypsi

The Indians tuned-up for its first big test last Friday night with an easy 27-12 victory over winless Ypsilanti Lincoln on the loser's field.

The big test is here Friday night at 7:30 when undefeated Milan tangles with the also undefeated Indians. The game is a toss-up.

The Big Red escaped unscathed last week with a 34-33 squeaker over Grosse Ile, while the unblemished Indians still are somewhat untested. Milan's line and backfield are about the same size as Tecumseh's, and there's little to choose between the speed of the backs.

Milan opened the season with a 13-12 win over Chelsea and then followed with a 7-6 victory over Flat Rock. Both Milan and Tecumseh boast 2-0 records in the Huron League.

Quarterback Tim Sisson tossed to end Dennis Martinius for a 52-yard TD play with the game less than two minutes old. Still in the first period, Tecumseh drove 65 yards for a TD with fullback Dan Greene turning the final three yards around right end.

The losers took to the air in the final period to set-up their first touchdown and then picked off a Tecumseh pass just before the end of the game for their 12 points.

Either a second half let-down or a flood of reserves accounted for an unimpressive final, two-period showing by the Indians. After blocking and tackling well in the initial two quarters, Tecumseh slumped.

Following the fourth TD, the Indians were never able to muster another real scoring threat. The defense, however, did much better, despite two TDs. The second Ypsi Lincoln score resulted on a pass interception with less than a minute to go, plus a lucky bounce of the pigskin when dropped by the runner about 30 yards from paydirt. The ball bounced straight back up and the hurrying Railsplitter never broke stride.

Acres PTA Draws 204 Members

Steve Illeck, membership chairman, announced the member drive will be open until Oct. 15, with a cash award going to the room having the largest percentage of paid members.

A flag from the Veterans of Foreign Wars was accepted for the school by Principal Wayne Kaiser.

Fun night will be held Saturday, Oct. 27. It will be chaired by Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Lavender and Mr. and Mrs. Irving Gurtzweiler.

Coffee and cookies were served after the meeting to 115 members present.

Cub Scouts Open Year October 17

Tecumseh Cub Pack 73 will hold its first meeting at the Products Union Hall on S. Maumee Street at 7:30 p.m., Wednesday, Oct. 17.

All Cub Scouts and boys interested in becoming Cub Scouts are urged to attend this meeting.

A special program of importance to boys and their parents is being planned.

New officers and committee members will be named for the coming year.

Sell, Buy, Rent with a Want Ad

GRIDIRON HIGHLIGHTS

Dave Lemerand's TD run was one of the prettiest of the season when the shifty halfback cut back after going over right tackle and then evaded several would-be tacklers.

Penalties of 75 yards against Ypsi Lincoln fell just 25 yards short of the total called against the Indians in the Dundee game.

While quarterback Tim Sisson continues to pitch the pigskin with remarkable success, second stringer John Oberlin unfortunately has recorded a somewhat unenviable record of two passes in the last two games for touchdowns—both interceptions turned into scores for the Tecumseh opposition.

Officials called an Indian for roughing the kicker early in the game, after partially blocking a punt, but ignored the same infraction against Tecumseh late in the tilt when for all purposes the game was over. The kicker was really roughed the second time, too.

Tecumseh defense is stiffening. Ypsi marked up only two first downs in the first half, one resulting from a 15-yard penalty, and didn't get the third until the last quarter.

Books, Libraries Are Precious to Tecumseh's Past

(Editor's Note: Information for this article came from the files of the Tecumseh Library, and from facts compiled by Clara Waldron.)

Books were precious belongings when Tecumseh was young. A few of the early settlers brought their volumes on the long trek from New England, and these formed the nucleus of the only library Tecumseh was to know for 50 years.

In December 1836, some of the town's "leading citizens" met to form the forerunner of today's community concert and lecture series organizations. This "Lyceum Series" sponsored traveling lecturers and encouraged local debates and discussions. It also encouraged collections of books for use by its members.

The officers and most active members included Consider A. Stacy, one of the leading lawyers; Dr. C. M. Patterson, pioneer physician; Benjamin Workman, head of the private school which then took the place of a high school; Peter Morey, lawyer and editor of Tecumseh's first newspaper, "Tecumseh Democrat;" J. A. Brown and Davis Smith, also associated with the newspaper, and Serril LeBaron, who had conducted the town's first institution of higher learning, "The Academic School."

Despite this early beginning, Tecumseh had to wait many years before it had a real library. The depression of the 1840's and the Civil War intervened.

☆

BY 1883, the desire for a library had grown so strong that several men petitioned for court permission to form a corporation and sell stock to form a library. A. W. Mills, C. A. Slayton, G. W. Marsden, J. N. Satterthwaite, G. W. DeMott, P. S. McKinnon and E. Hause signed the petition.

The organizational meeting was April 26, 1883. It was decided to seek $2,000, by selling stock at $5 a share. Some 120 shares were sold, and 645 books were purchased.

A small room was rented on the second floor of the Union Hall (now the Sage Building.) Open only on Saturdays, the library was staffed by volunteers. Shareholders became voting members of the Library Association but paid a yearly fee to use the library. Non-stockholders could obtain books for a larger fee.

The fees and occassional fines were not enough to maintain the library, however, and the association turned elsewhere for money.

Pageants at the opera house not only raised funds, but gave local talent a chance to perform and brought the library closer to the people it served.

HOWEVER, by 1895, the funds were gone, the organizers scattered. The stockholders arranged to merge their library with the small school library. The school district took over responsibility for the merged libraries, and for their expenses.

An adjacent room in the Sage Building was rented, and a paid librarian hired. The library added newspapers and periodicals to its shelves, and was open every afternoon, instead of just Saturdays.

As the library grew, it needed room to expand. Knowing local funds for a new building were not available, the school board contacted the foundation set up by Andrew Carnagie to build libraries across the nation. The board's request was granted in 1904.

The site chosen ws a fitting one. It was the homesite of Benjamin L. Baxter, who had died two years earlier. One of Tecumseh's best-read men, he was a teacher and lawyer, had been head of Tecumseh's branch of the University of Michigan, a regent of the university and an early owner of The Tecumseh Herald.

The building was ready for the formal dedication Feb. 10, 1905. By this time, the library boasted 8,808 volumes on its shelves.

Beginning in 1910, the library was given a large number of books, perhaps as many as 1,000, by a descendant of an old Tecumseh family. Tefft Hewitt was born here but spent few years in Tecumseh. He retained a sentimental interest in the town.

☆

THE BOOKS were given in memory of a daughter who had loved books all her short life. Most of the volumes were either classic or valuable reference books. The Tefft Hewitt bookplate still may be found in the library.

Except for some remodeling in 1958 which provided a new children's room, the library remained much the same

As the circulation and book supply grew, several changes were made in the operations, however. Librarian Alice Satterthwaite began using the Dewey Decimal System of numbering books for easy finding on the shelves.

And this year, twice as many books had to be moved out of the library as were moved in in 1905.

Reading Habits Change Over the Years

Tecumseh's reading habits are changing.

From the first, the book collection has been overwhelmingly fictional.

A catalogue from 1897 shows eight pages of fictional books, just over one each of history, travel, biographical and juvenile. Less than half a page of science books were listed, and these, understandably, were almost all on nature.

Some of the books still hold treasured places in the library, such as "Robinson Crusoe," "Swiss Family Robinson" and the "Arabian Nights." Louisa May Alcott's "Little Women" was on the shelves in 1897, along with a dozen other Alcott volumes.

Under the "Travels" category comes "The English Governess at the Siamese Court." Modern readers—and playgoers and moviegoers—know this as "Anna and the King of Siam."

The first real library in Tecumseh had 645 books in 1883. Today's library has 18,000.

In 1941-42 the library circulated 10,000 books and magazines. By 1951-52 this doubled to 20,000

But in the last 10 years, the circulation leaped to 60,000, an increase of 300 per cent.

Not only are the library users reading more, they are changing their style of reading. Twenty years ago, 80 per cent of the books taken out were fiction. Today, only 56 per cent are fiction, signaling a change from reading strictly for entertainment to a search for knowledge as well.

Lovelorn Get Advice

Advice to the lovelorn may be a new feature of newspapers, but the idea has been around a long time.

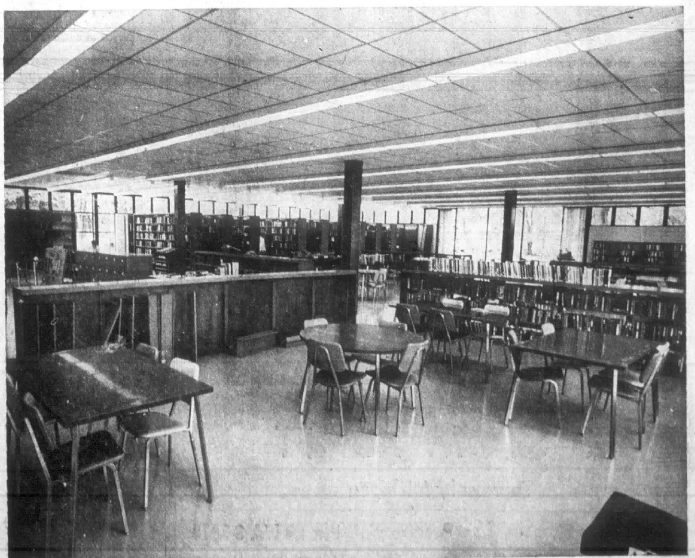
No author is given, or information on whether the book was a humerous one, or meant as solid advice.



STUDENTS WILL HAVE PLENTIFUL STUDY SPACE

Many Gave to Fund

The new library was built through the generous donations of thousands of Tecumseh area residents who gave to their Community Fund drives.

The new building has been financed completely through the annual fall charity drive. Part of each year's collections are kept in Tecumseh for use in public projects. Three year's collections have gone in to the new library building thus far, and at least one more year will be needed to pay off a $50,000 mortgage note signed to pay the last costs of constructing and equipping the $230,000 building.

Local businesses and industries, particularly the Tecumseh Products Co., have contributed generously to the fund. The Products management matches each dollar given by employees.

All monies remaining after the charity, civic and children's groups' budgets are filled are turned over to the local civic building fund.

The new building, conveniently close to the junior and senior high school students who form a large share of the library's customers, is about 138 feet wide and 75 feet deep.

The outside is of Indiana limestone, slate and large expanses of glass. About three-fourths of the interior forms one large room, broken into interest areas by low bookshelves.

A special area for children is bright with yellow, green and blue chairs.

The background was kept neutral to compliment the colorful books. The walls are of antique white, and the draw draperies of beige.

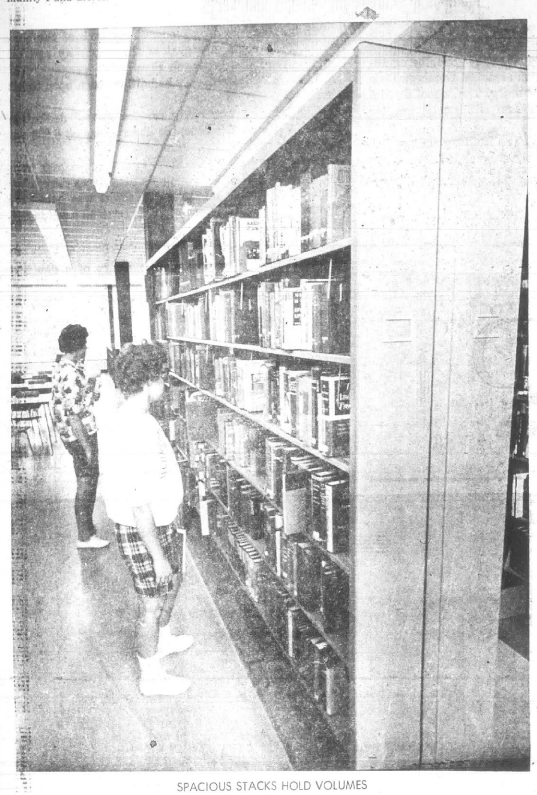
Offices are included for the librarian and circulation workers, and a separate staff room. One large room is for processing and repairing books.

Another office was included for the convenience of those using the library. It could house small committee meetings, or be used by persons doing research and using tape recorders or typewriters.

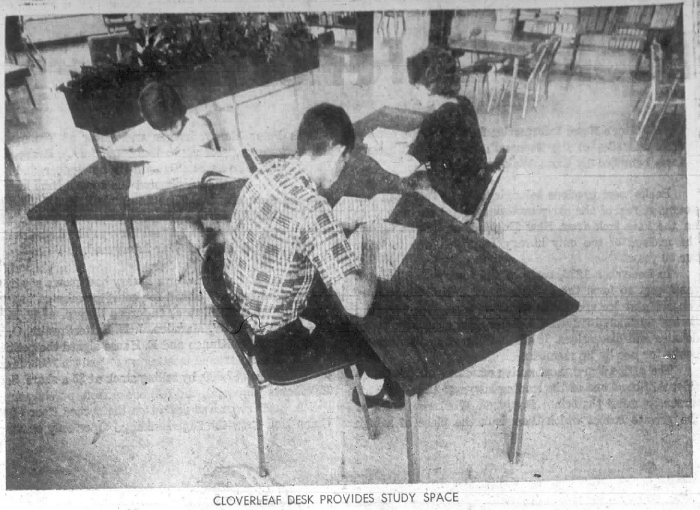
The basement contains one large room which can be used by the public for meetings. The remainder is used for storage and to house the heating equipment and air conditioning pipes.

Public facilities also include rest rooms, a drinking fountain and a pay telephone.

A large paved parking lot is there for the use of drivers, and a bicycle rack for the youngsters.



SPACIOUS STACKS HOLD VOLUMES



CLOVERLEAF DESK PROVIDES STUDY SPACE

Few Librarians Take Helm

The 80-year history of Tecumseh's library contains the names of only a dozen librarians, and two of them are Alice Satterthwaite.

For its first 12 years as a corporation, the library was open only one day a week, and was run by volunteers from the organization.

MRS. JULE FOSBENDER

Six listed in the histories were Augusta Lee, Jennie Rosacrans, Lizzie Hayden, Kate Anderson, Alida James and Alice Satterthwaite, later Mrs. Charles Patterson.

When the private and school libraries merged, the first full-time librarian was named. She was Mrs. Gertrude Huey, who served from 1895 to 1910.

When she retired, the appointment went to another Alice Satterthwaite, niece of Alice Satterthwaite Patterson, who served until her marriage in 1914.

She was succeeded by Elizabeth Widney, who left four years later to accept a position in the California state library.

Edith Ingersoll served Tecumseh as its librarian for more than a generation, from 1918 to 1944.

Mrs. Fosbender still serves with Mrs. Doris Day as assistant librarian.

Children's Books Differ

Library books for children have changed as much as their school books, which have gone from McGuffy's Readers to the familiar tales of Dick, Jane and their animal friends.

Among the titles listed in the book catalogue of about 1990 were an advisory "Better Not" by J. H. Vincent and a flat "No" by Rose Terry Cooke.

Dedication Program Is Sunday

Tecumseh's new library will be dedicated Sunday.

An open house is scheduled from 2 p.m. to 5 p.m. in the bright new building across from the Junior High School on N. Ottawa St.

The dedication ceremony will start at 3 p.m. in the basement of the building. The Rev. Frank Hawthorne will give the invocation, followed by a welcome and presentation of guests by James McKenna.

Carl Marr, who designed the building, will turn the key over to Vern Manwaring, chairman of the board of Tecumseh Community Fund Foundation, Inc., whose collections in the annual Torch Drive financed the structure.

Mr. Manwaring will give the key to Aden Mead, president of the Tecumseh Board of Education, which has final responsibility for the running of the library.

Mr. Mead will give the key to William Wright, chairman of the Tecumseh Library Board, which operates the library under the authorization of the school board.

The dedicatory address will be given by Allan Seager, a former library board chairman, an author and a professor at the University of Michigan.

Refreshments of cookies, coffee and tea will be served.

From Books Comes Knowledge

In the development of modern man, one of the greatest contributions to our civilization is the printed page. From books comes knowledge . . . how to sail a boat, how to construct a house, how to raise a child, how to send a missile to the moon. Hours of enjoyment come from books, our silent and ever trustworthy friend. From a cozy spot in our living room, we can be in Hong Kong, or Moscow or Paris in the time it takes to turn a page. We can become a knight of King Arthur's Round Table, we can bat against Bob Feller . . . and smash a home run. Books have such a vital role in all our lives. Tecumseh can surely be proud of its new "home for books" and our company is equally proud to have constructed it.

DR. DEAN S. AMMER

Dr. Dean S. Ammer, a former business and publishing executive who received his early schooling in Tecumseh, has been named research professor in management and acting director of Northeastern University's Bureau of Business and Economic Research.

In this post he will be directly responsible for programs of independent business research and various sponsored projects. The bureau directors also is responsible for encouraging and co-ordinating business and economic research by individual faculty members.

Over $1,500,000 annually is being spent at Northeastern on projects sponsored by the military, federal government agencies and industrial and business firms. A significant number of these studies are in the business and economic area.

Prior to his N.U. appointment, Dr. Ammer was employed nearly nine years by Conover-Mast Publications Inc., New York City, publishers of 14 business periodicals. He was executive editor of "Purchasing."

While in New York he was also a part-time lecturer for three years in graduate management courses at City College of New York.

Born in Detroit, he is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. Paul Ammer of 707 W. Pottawatamie St.

After graduating from Tecumseh High School, he attended MIT, receiving his BS in 1948 for engineering and business studies. He later earned his MBA (1956) and PhD (1959) degrees from New York University for studies in economics and business administration.

Immediately after receiving his undergraduate degree, he was employed by the Ford Motor Co. for five years in Detroit and Chicago, becoming one of the company's youngest department heads when he was appointed manager of purchase analysis at 25 years of age.

From 1953 to 1954 he was assistant to the work manager of Revco, Inc., Deerfield, manufacturers of freezers and built-in refrigerators.

Dr. Ammer, who lives at 82 Bay State Road, Belmont, Mass., has an 18-month-old daughter, Karen, and a four-month-old son, John.

Seat Belt Clinic Is Coming

At the last regular meeting the group adopted a program of educating all area residents of the many advantages of installing and using seat belts.

In the clinic every effort will be made to advise the public of the proven lifesaving protection available through the use of belts for every member of the family.

Chairman Jerry Barton stated that the project will consist of three phases, educational, sales and installation. The seat belts will be installed under the guidance of trained personnel Saturday and Sunday, Oct. 13 and 14.

He further stated that during the next three weeks much informative material would be available to the public.

For more information interested people may contact him, the police departments, doctors or insurance agents who are eager to tell of seat belt advantages.

St. Peter's Church Is Dear to Hearts of Contributors

Mrs. Frank Klingensmith, Birmingham—I saw your article in Sunday's Free Press pleading for the life of St. Peter's Church. It saddens me that the present generation has no reverence for anything old.

My husband's childhood home was in Pittsford. As we went to see his family we went out of our way to go through Tecumseh to see the old homes and St. Peter's church.

Why the citizens wish to demolish it and build a new church is something I cannot understand. They should be proud that their ancestors built such a beautiful church to worship in. When I drive through the country and see old homes in ruin it makes me sad.

I hope my and my son Charles' small contribution will help save St. Peter's.

√

Walter E. Norris, Staten Island, N. Y. — Please credit $4 to Walter E. Norris and $1 to Miss Marie J. Norris. We were both born in Lenawee Co. and I a few miles SW of Tecumseh on a farm more than 70 years ago. I used to see a loyal St. Peter's family drive past my home each Sunday in their two horse conveyance to their beloved St. Peter's.

They are all passed on to the great beyond, but I am sure their spirits will approve of what is being done with the beautiful old edifice.

James Purple, Lima, O.—I am a patient here in the hospital and tonight I read in the paper that my wife brought up about your asking for donations for the preservation of this church. I do not have any of my business stationary so I borrowed this. I am a funeral director and have a small business in Leipsic, O. but I always like to help out in worthy causes.

Please accept my small contribution and I hope it will be added to, to make up the amount you need.

I went to bed but could not sleep thinking about your problem so I got up wrote this check and letter.

I think I can go to sleep now.

√

Mrs. C. H. Hoyt, Toledo, O.—Please find enclosed my check for a donation in memory of my husband. I am not a member of the Episcopal Church but I dislike to see all the old land marks go. It reminds me of so many of the churches in New England, my home state is Mass.

√

Irma Bielenberg, Grosse Pointe Woods — Each time I visit my brother's grave in your cemetery, I pass by St. Peter's church where my brother's last rites were conducted. So in memory of him, Carl Bielenberg, I am mailing you a check amounting to five dollars to use in preserving this historic edifice, the very church home of Carl's wife, Mrs. Bonnie Brown Bielenberg of Detroit.

I am sending the clipping with pictures from the Toledo Blade, to my daughter and family in San Diego, Calif., to see if their church would be interested in helping. They belond to Episcopal. I sincerely hope and pray that you will reach your goal and that I might sometime get up to see it restored.

I live in LaSalle, Mich. but am working in Toledo at the present time.

If you have any literature regarding this project, could you send me some in case I might get others interested. Would I be within the law if someone asked me to send their donations for them and I collected it, without any authority from the chairman of committee?

I hope the deadline for the drive can be extended as so many people would be interested if they only knew about it.

√

This is in keeping with one of the society's objectives—historical. Good wishes for a successful drive.

√

Ingwald Wangberg, Birmingham—Inclosing a small gift to help along with preserving the old church we love to see as we drive thru Tecumseh every six weeks.

It just wouldn't be the same in Tecumseh. Good Luck.

Mrs. Emma Arrowsmith, Detroit—This is a marvelous thing Tecumseh is trying to do. It was a death struggle for the Old Detroit City Hall. Some of the buildings "becoming of age" can be put to such an honorable heritage use. I was born 58 years ago about ½ mile from the City Hall and I've cried a Detroit River of tears. Tearing it down does not restore our respect of the past because we have no visible means to demonstrate our love and respect for the labors of our ancestors.

√

Mrs. C. W. Parsons, Ann Arbor —I hope this small contribution will help save a beautiful church. I was baptized in a small town Episcopal Church that was a beautiful old edifice. But there was no one to fight for it's survival as in the case of St. Peter's.

If anyone concerned has the time, could you please let me know how things turn out?

Good luck, and God Bless you.

Mrs. Hazel Allabach, Muskegon—I read the article and saw the picture of the church in our paper a few days ago. I wish that I could send a lot more than I am sending. But if a good many people that read this will send what they can afford, they will save the church.

I have seen the beautiful church many times as we were driving by and my sister and husband did attend services when they lived in Tecumseh.

Charles Gentile, Harper Woods —Historic St. Peter's must be preserved. Please accept my modest contribution toward the success of your campaign. I am certain that thousands of people of various religious faiths will respond to your appeal. I attend St. Peter's Catholic Church in Harper Woods.

√

Mary Ellen Hays, Franklin — I was an Episcopalian, now I'm part of a small Community Church. It works like a "Little United Nations," the best from each person's denominational background.

Thank you for doing this work for St. Peter's. I believe most whole heartedly in inter-faith works. If you don't get enough money, put in another plea. Out of another pay check I could send more.

√

Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Chaffee, Adrian—We would like to add our small contribution to your fund to preserve "Old St. Peter's."

We have attended various services in St. Peter's these past years as fellow Episcopalians of Adrian parish and commend you for your efforts to preserve something so precious.

√

Mrs. Ragnar L. Arnesen, Tecumseh—Thank you for your efforts on behalf of all who are proud of Lenawee County and Michigan.

Mrs. A. Hanson, Ingleside, Ill. —Enclosed please find check for $2. Wish it could be more but just can't.

I must have been born 100 years late as I just hate to see all the lovely old places being torn down and thrown away to make room for some of the ugly modern-day buildings going up. You might think that I am an older person but believe me I am just in my thirties, so still young or old enough to know my way of thinking.

We are all trying to live faster and making our children grow up too fast for any really truly beautiful living. Take Chicago for instance, which at one time had beautiful old homes. Today hardly one stands, so I say enough of this tearing down, throwing away, let's keep old things dear.

Mrs. Netty Rubadou, Detroit—Accept my $1. I suggest leaving the old church where it has stood so many years. I was a resident 60 years. It would not seem like home without the church looking down on you. Put the new church in a new location.

My last home in Tecumseh was at 301 W. Pottawatamie St. for 36 years.

√

G. A. Newsom, Jackson, I used to sing in the choir in this church so am quite interested in its preservation.

√

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Fischer, Lapeer—Here is our contribution. We are Lutheran, however, members (Mr. and Mrs. Russell Cooper) are cousins of ours.

Thank you and may the goal be reached.

Eugene and Ruth Rosacrans, Santa Monica, Calif. — We are more than happy to make this small contribution.

We have been away from Tecumseh for many years, but we are much interested in all that goes on there.

We most sincerely hope you are able to meet your goal and congratulations for the efforts made.

√

Mrs. Altanette Heath, Perry— I am enclosing a dollar to apply on saving the 129-year-old church My grandparents were Church of England and Episcopals. I am a Congrationalist but my widow's mite (I am a widow) will help. God Bless All.

CADILLAC—A NEW STANDARD OF EXCELLENCE IN 1963

More than one hundred and fifty major advancements embrace every aspect of exterior and interior styling . . . body construction . . . chassis design . . . and appointments. And the most improved engine in fourteen years resides beneath the sweeping expanse of hood. All this, together with a unique new true-center drive line, makes the 1963 Cadillac smoother, quieter and more efficient than ever.

There are twelve new models in 1963, including two dramatically styled coupes, the distinguished Sixty Special and the world-renowned Eldorado. Each has the widest choice of colors, fabrics, leathers and options in Cadillac history.

There is a very easy, quick way to confirm all this. Visit your Authorized Cadillac Dealer for a firsthand inspection and for an hour behind the wheel. Why not do it before the week goes by? We know you'll agree that in 1963 Cadillac sets new standards of excellence.

THROUGH MY WINDOW

LOTS AND LOTS OF BUSINESS

The sunflower head was almost too big—almost, but, fortunately, not quite. It was a pretty thing, completely filled out and tightly packed with the seeds which most of the birds so dearly love. It covered about a quarter of the feeder and propped against the suet-post, hiding all but about two inches of the top of the post.

Probably this was the first time many of the young birds had encountered such a thing—I know it was the first time at our feeder—and some were understandably timid.

Happily, the excitement didn't start 'til Mom was here to enjoy it with me. Out of the wren-tree a gray trio came bounding, perky little tufted titmice. Two skidded to a stop on the feeder floor and the third perched atop the limb.

They cocked their heads from side to side and their "coming-along-nicely, thank-you" top-knots flipped up and down. What was that big thing? A few timid pecks produced nothing dangerous — everything must be OK.

Soon they were scrambling all over the sunflower head. The seeds were so tightly packed that the first few came out hard. The little birds worked and worked, they pulled and pulled and as soon as one had tugged out a seed, away he flew to eat it in peace. In no time at all a regular shuttle system was going full force.

MOM and I were totally unprepared for the next visitors. Although not the warmest afternoon we had had, it was very nice, pleasantly warm with the sun shining brightly. Snow and cold were maybe not the things furthest from our minds, but we certainly weren't consciously thinking of winter. Suddenly harbingers of our fourth season appeared. Chick-a-dees, two of them! Just imagine, on the 11th day of September!

While we didn't like the things they stood for, we were glad to see the chick-a-dees. They are always so cute, so round and cuddly. Usually, of course, they love sunflower seeds, but these two were young and inexperienced. They were most wary of the feeder and its big lunch-counter. They wanted to come down but couldn't quite summon up the courage. First one would try and then the other. Starting from the safety of the wren-tree, the little birds swooped toward us, but just before landing on the feeder, they would shy off and hurry back to "safety".

It was almost 20 minutes before hunger overcame fear and my, but that first "let down" was a nervous time. Soon they were bouncing back and forth as happy and carefree as were the tufted titmice.

It was some time before enough seeds had been removed so that the tiny chicks didn't have quite a time pulling out their snacks. They simply couldn't get a good hold, and I must confess that it was fun seeing them work so very, very hard.

MR. UPSIDE-DOWN Nuthatch was having a bad afternoon. Perhaps it was a fight with his wife, perhaps just a mad at the whole world. Anyway, when he found the sunflower bonanza he promptly claimed it for his own. Defending the prize took so much time that he hardly had time to eat. Everything was driven away but special vengeance was displayed toward Mrs. Upside-down Nuthatch. With tail fanned out, wings slightly raised and head lowered, he charged at all intruders. We didn't blame them for leaving. That long pointed bill could be quite a weapon.

Although the birds left they weren't terribly frightened and were soon back. Poor Mr. N.H. was practically going around in circles. While he chased one away, another two or three were snitching seeds. Finally, in desperation, he took to hiding. Staying out of sight behind the sunflower head, he would wait until several birds were lulled into a false sense of security and then jump out at them. Whoosh! Birds flew every which way.

So it is that a big sunflower head and some fun birds are a sure formula for lots and lots of business.

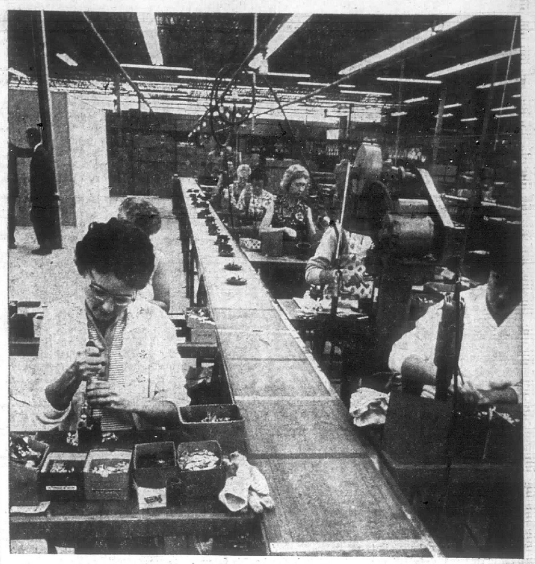
Who Is Coming To Tecumseh Oct. 31?

He Is, That Man

You Are Invited

Tecumseh's newest industry, Faraday, Inc., will open its doors to the public Sunday from 1 to 6 p.m. Tours of the office and assembly facilities will demonstrate the firms wide range of products. A hospitality area will be manned by members of the Tecumseh Area Industrial Development Association, whose efforts resulted in the new industry here. Parking will be provided south of the plant. Faraday employes some 210 persons now, and represents an investment here of more than $500,000. Most of the money came via a loan from the Small Business Administration, which had high praise for the TAIDC efforts.



Jaycee Auxiliary Hears Reports

The Tecumseh Jaycee Auxiliary met at the home of Mrs. Walter Wonderly Wednesday evening with 16 members and one guest, Mrs. Richard Shaw, present.

Mrs. Doug Dunn was installed as treasurer to replace Mrs. Paul Goodrich, who has moved to Reed City.

The auxiliary has purchased 20 new dolls and members will make two complete outfits for each. These dolls will be turned over to the service club to be given to some lucky little girls at Christmas. Judy Craig is chairman of this project.

Mrs. Earl Nesbett was named chairman of the Christmas party to be held at the Ypsilanti State Hospital Dec. 12.

Mrs. Charles Kapnick is chairman of the Halloween hayride party to be held Oct. 27.

The auxiliary assisted the Jaycees at their dog trials refreshment booth Sunday, Sept. 30. Mrs. James Hite was chairman.

Chairmen of recent projects who gave their reports were Mrs. John Day — pancake supper, Mrs. Walter Wonderly — rummage sale and picnic for Mr. and Mrs. Goodrich, Mrs. Don Stoner — style show.

Mrs. Jim Fielder gave the report of the fall regional meeting in the absence of chairman Mrs. Ray Shelton.

Members who will attend the fall board meeting in Grandville Oct. 19-20 are Mrs. Richard Creswell, Mrs. Walter Wonderly, Mrs. Dyke Helms, Mrs. Allen Barrett, Mrs. Ray Shelton, Mrs. Marvin Nelson and Mrs. Roger Butler.

School Board's Corner

The last issue of The Herald carried the audit report of Tecumseh School District for 1961-'62.

The Superintendent also issues a yearly report to the School Board, and the highlights of it are as follows:

The 1961-'62 school budget was an "austerity budget." First grades were on half days, Macon School was closed and West Branch School was operated by the county as a special education unit.

Physical education in the primary grades was curtailed. Special teachers for vocal music and art were eliminated.

In Junior High School the classes were shortened to 48 minutes and the teachers taught six classes instead of five. Senior high school stretched facilities to house over 800 students in a building rated for 600 students.

☆

Special clubs active were Future Farmers, Future Teachers, Future Nurses, and Future Homemakers, as well as Varsity Club, GAA, Spanish Club, Students Council, the annual staff and the newspaper staff.

The Public Library was operated under the Board of Education, an appointed Library Board, two librarians and some part-time assistance.

Spring census figures indicated an increased enrollment could be expected. Attendance percentages remained high in both primary and secondary grades at over 89%.

The local Michigan Education Association representing the teachers applied for a change in increments and a new salary schedule. The Board was sympathetic to the problems, but unable to meet any salary demands under the austerity budget.

Bus service was changed to allow pickup points for more economical service by the buses. When the activities bus was used cost of operation was paid by the participating groups.

☆

SOME PTA groups were active and some not. Tipton PTA was particularly commended for the volunteer program set up to augment the half-day session in first grades by arranging for "See and Tell" activity, art instruction, and other features deleted under austerity measures.

Other PTA groups purchased badly-needed equipment which could not otherwise have been obtained. Band Boosters bought equipment and instruments for the school band.

Through county cooperation there was available a speech correctionist, a teacher of the physically handicapped, a visiting teacher and teachers for the mentally retarded.

Unexpectedly a new tile field had to be installed at Ridgeway School at a cost of over $6,000.

The School Board presented to the voters in the Spring a millage request for four mill operational tax for two years. The proposal passed and this returned first grades to full session, but left other of the austerity measures in operation.

A new set of manuals for the elementary curriculum was compiled by the staff.

The board was presented a first summary report of the findings of the appointed Citizens' Committee.

The Superintendent served on the Resolutions Committee of the MEA and on the new superintendents' education committee. He thanked the school board for cooperation and for the time spent by them at the many extra meetings.

Operations have now smoothed out and the reopened schools are running normally. Extra demands put a strain on the maintenance and custodial staff.

A part-time custodian was added to finish the Sutton School work and a custodian has been switched to maintenance.

The returning to full days of the first grades made the busses overloaded in some areas. There seemed no solution through reassignment because certain areas have unusually large percentages of school age children.

The Board, after a special meeting, assigned two members to investigate purchase of two new busses to bolster a fleet that has no spare bus, and several busses approaching retirement age.

Two 66 passenger busses were purchased at a cost less than busses formerly purchased having less passenger capacity.

(Details of the purchase were published last week in the minutes of the School Board meeting. The minutes of the monthly meeting will be published until the end of the year.)

BIDS WERE taken Sept. 10 for gasoline and the company now supplying the school system was low bidder. Actually the 1962-'63 price is $.015 lower per gallon than the 1961-'62 price.

The census taken in the spring did not prove accurate, as far as forecast was concerned. It appears that the pupil count is down 137, mostly in the primary grades.

This means that our budget figure is now lowered by $29,057. The increased state aid was welcome, but cannot be collected on pupils who are not present by the final tally, so it "went before it came."

The amount set up for debt repayment is a "frozen item" and is not revised as these other changes occur in the budget. It appears that our indebtedness figure is $150,923.72, which means that $13,603.81 was repaid in 1961-'62. The emergency tile field was put in at Ridgeway at a cost of $6,502.38, and payments were made on the busses.

The bus debt is now $19,500 as indicated in the audit, plus the two new busses just purchased for $6,300. This bus debt is in addition to the quoted indebtedness, but is budgeted for repayment from each year's funds.

☆

THE NEW public library is now in operation and will be formally opened Sunday.

A detailed report of the first summary of the Citizens' Report to the School Board will be given in another column.

Copies are being given to PTA's that contributed funds. Copies will be available in the Public Library.

"It's amusing to read about rare coins. Aren't they all??"

Hopes Voiced To Save Church

My grandparents were Mr. and Mrs. Nehemiah Merritt Sutton of Tecumseh and my great-grandfather was Reuben Satterthwaite. While they were Quakers, I have always admired the old church and sincerely hope you will be able to save it.

√

Mrs. Floris Clarke, Pinckney—It is with pleasure that we are contributing toward the preservation of such a fine building. Too few historical landmarks are given consideration this day and age.

Success in this venture to you and your committee.

Mrs. Kenyon Sprunger, Berne, Ind.—We have been reading about the fate of Historic St. Peter's church in the Herald with great interest during the past few weeks. This church has always held a warm place in my heart since my father Perry Hayden attended it as a young boy.

I'm sure there were hundreds of interested people like us who felt they could do nothing to help the cause. Now with the appeal for contributions it is a privilege and duty we wouldn't want to turn down. With this small contaribution it is our wish that the goal will be met and St. Peter's saved as an historical monument to the faith of our fathers.

Our Readers Write

TO THE EDITORS:

Once again this town is faced with the decision of whether or not to allow an historic and beautiful building to be torn down to make room for "progress."

Once again it appears that the Madison Avenue principle of "planned obsolescence" has become so accepted by the public that a vestige of our city and state's history should be consigned to the wreckers with little thought or opposition by the people.

This observer (not a native Tecumsehan) has seen and read of other places in the country where historic sites have been demolished for the sake of a motel or parking lot (or worse), but it is still a bit difficult to imagine it happening here.

Therefore I was deeply shocked to hear that St. Peter's Church was to be torn down. That the congregation, especially the leaders, saw the old church as nothing more than an eyesore to be gotten rid of was hard to believe, but that was the impression given since evidently no effort had been made to find help to save it.

Certainly the old church, even if only partly restored, would be a credit to the town, since historic places are few here. As a museum it could house the relics of Tecumseh history and give the tourist reason to pause here in his travels, which now is scarcely the case.

The reason for moving the building is not evident either unless we return to the "eyesore" idea. The new church is on an entirely separate part of the church property. I do not wish to seem presumptuous, but neither a parking lot nor even a lawn would look as well on the site as the old church, in my opinion.

It is so easy to forget, in our opulence, that our grandfathers toiled long years, fighting Indians, disease and nature, suffering cold and hunger to colonize this state and help lay the foundation for the prosperity which makes this the richest nation in the world. They are dead and most of their names forgotten, but not deservedly so, and the preservation of St. Peter's would help keep their memory alive for us and our children.

When I first came to Tecumseh in 1950, St. Peter's Church was a veritable wonder to me. Built so long ago and so beautifully maintained, it contributed much to the beauty of the town and was something to be proud of and to tell friends and relatives about. And my friends and relatives invariably agreed with me.

I still feel that way about it and therefore a small contribution to the fund is enclosed. May I also invite and request all who read this to donate what they can to preserve this monument to the builders of our City and State.

Harry E. Snyder

FOR 1963, WE HAVE ENLARGED YOUR PRIVATE WORLD AND PROVIDED YOU WITH ADDED POWER

Close the doors . . . the classic Continental look is little changed for 1963. (One reason this car retains its value.) Then open the doors, and discover the new spaciousness in the passenger compartments. There is greater usable storage capacity in the redesigned luggage compartment, too.

Now, drive the car, and experience the augmented power of the 1963 Continental engine, providing superior acceleration for even safer passing at freeway speeds.

Important changes, but none for the sake of change. For the only changes we make are functional refinements which add to the quality of the finest car built in America.

This is the Lincoln Continental for 1963, your finest motorcar investment for the years ahead. And as final proof of quality, Lincoln Continental was the first American car to offer a total-car warranty of two full years or 24,000 miles.*

LINCOLN CONTINENTAL

*Ford Motor Company warrants to its dealers, and its dealers, in turn, warrant to their Lincoln Continental customers as follows: That for 24 months or for 24,000 miles, whichever comes first, free replacement, including related labor, will be made by dealers, of any part with a defect in workmanship or materials. Tires are not covered by the warranty; appropriate adjustments will be made by tire companies. Owners will remain responsible for normal maintenance service and routine replacement of items such as filters, spark plugs, ignition points and wiper blades.

NEWS of Britton

WSCS Has Discussion on Missions

BRITTON — The WSCS of the Britton Methodist Church met last Wednesday afternoon at the church.

Mrs. Ernest Maschino of the Martha Circle served refreshments preceeding the business meeting.

Mrs. Virgil Bortel led the worship service and Mrs. Edward Kanous the program on "Why Missions Today," with all taking part in the discussion.

An invitation was read from the Ridgeway WSCS inviting the members to attend the "Week of Prayer and Self Denial Service," at the church Thursday, Oct. 25 at 2 p.m.

The WSCS will cooperate with the Community UNICEF Program again this year.

The annual Hunters' Dinner will be served Saturday, Oct. 20 at the church.

Nov. 1 was set for the Church Fair.

Members will continue to meet with the WSCS.

Choir Honors Mrs. Raeburn with Shower

BRITTON — Mrs. William Raeburn was honored at a cradle shower last Wednesday evening at the Congregational Christian Church Fellowship Center.

The shower was given by the choir, of which Mrs. Raeburn is director and organist.

Many useful gifts were opened from the 35 women and teenagers present.

Games were enjoyed and a number of prizes won which were presented to the guest of honor.

Decorations were carried out in pink and blue and refreshments were served from a table centered with a fall bouquet.

Mrs. Croll Accepts Post at Cranbrook

BRITTON — Mrs. Clay Croll left Monday for Cranbrook School for Boys in Bloomfield Hills.

She has accepted a position as head nurse in the hospital which is connected with the school.

Mission Work Discussed

Devotions were led by Mrs. Ivan Olds.

A program on "What Missions Mean To Me" was presented in a playlet by Mrs. Robert McWilliams, Mrs. Gerald Richards, Mrs. Andrew Crutchfield and Mrs. Forrest Barrett.

A question and answer period followed.

Mrs. Barrett conducted the business session in the absence of the chairman.

Projects were discussed and a goal of $200 was approved for the new year.

The dollars for July and August were turned in, with each member telling how they were earned.

Date books were set up with next meeting at the home of Mrs. Richards Wednesday, Oct. 10 at 7:30 p.m. with Mrs. Olds as program chairman.

JANE SPREEMAN

Jane Spreeman Is Engaged

The engagement of Jane E. Spreeman of rural Britton to Airman 3/c Walter W. Tiede, Jr. of Offit Air Force Base in Nebraska is being announced by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. William C. Spreeman Sr.

Airman Tiede is the son of Walter W. Tiede Sr. of Sutton Rd., Britton, and the late Mrs. Tiede.

A February wedding is planned.

Macon Extension Fills out Books

BRITTON — The September meeting of the Macon Extension Club was held last Tuesday at the home of Mrs. Walter Prill.

Mrs. Floyd Barrett, co-hostess assisted in serving a noon luncheon to 13 members.

The afternoon was spent filling out year books.

The club will meet Tuesday, Oct. 23 at 12:30 p.m. at the home of Mrs. Herbert Gilmore with Mrs. Charles Riccia assisting the hostess.

Navy Training Richard Sommers

BRITTON — Richard A. Sommers, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur W. Sommers of 158 Osborne St., is undergoing nine weeks of basic recruit training at the Naval Training Center, Great Lakes, Ill.

The indoctrination to Navy life began Sept. 11. It consists of physical fitness drills, military drills, basic military law, customs and etiquette of the naval service, swimming and survival, first aid and basic shipboard routine.

During the training, recruits receive tests and interviews which determine future training and assignements in the Navy.

Britton Gets Fifth American Farmer

BRITTON — Eleven Future Farmers of America members from Michigan, three of them from Lenawee County, will receive the organization's highest degree, that American Farmer, at the 35th Annual National Convention of FFA in Kansas City, Mo., Oct. 10-12.

The national FFA constitution states that only one American Farmer can be elected for each 1,000 active members in the organization.

Barry Brablec, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Brablec of Britton, will receive the coveted degree in Kansas City Oct. 10.

Barry is farming 133 acres of rented land and 343 acres in partnership with his father. He also has been active in the chapter's activities since his graduation from Britton-Macon Area School in 1959.

The Britton FFA Chapter ranks high within the State FFA Association. Only five schools in the state can boast of having five or more American Farmers elected from their membership.

The Future Farmers of America was organized in November 1928. The Britton Chapter was chartered in 1952 and has had five American Farmers in the last five years.

The members who have received this degree are Kenneth Bortel 1958, Donald Dickerson 1959, Richard Cox 1960, Larry Wagner 1961, and Barry Brablec in 1962. All of the above men are presently farming in the Britton area, and taking an active part in the community.

The Britton chapter voted to send Fred McCrate, Russ Cadmus, Russ Lutton and Roger Bortel with their advisor, Ronald Fritch, to the National convention. They plan to drive while Barry flies his airplane to the convention.

BARRY BRABLEC WILL FLY TO AWARD CONFERENCE

Today—Wide-Track Pontiac '63

Obvious, isn't it, that Pontiac's come up with another beauty this year. Fresh over-and-under headlights, clean profile—but you can see that. There's a wider Wide-Track, too, and a full line of Trophy V-8's. [That ought to be enough to make those other cars turn green.] And we haven't mentioned such happy touches as self-adjusting brakes. So what, pray tell, could be keeping you from a new Pontiac of your own? A small suggestion. Don't run down to see one. Gallop! Wide-Track Pontiac

ROBERT G. B. MARSH

Teacher Gets Praise

Robert G. B. Marsh received recognition in the Aspen Times recently for his demonstration in the use of physics films in his Aspen classes.

Mr. Marsh is the son of Dr. and Mrs. R.G.B. Marsh of W. Logan St. He is a 1952 graduate of Tecumseh High School and teaches science in the Aspen, Colorado, High School.

The article in the Aspen Times read, "Asked to be a science consultant by Encyclopedia Britannica Films, Marsh earned an expense-paid trip to the campus of East Oregon College of Education.

"He lectured on his use of the Harvey White Physics Films before an audience composed of science teachers and superintendents from schools of northeastern Oregon."

During the summer Mr. Marsh attended a summer institute in field biology sponsored jointly by Aspen Institute and Colorado College.

Thirty-two science instructors throughout the country were selected to participate in the program financed by a grant from the National Science Foundation. Teachers earned graduate credit for completing the course.

The Aspen area was selected for the eight-week course because of the great variety of plant and animal communities within a 20-mile radius.

Master of Arts Degrees Given Two

Ray B. Sommers of 1011 River Acres Dr. and Jean Ziegler Miller of 408 Outer Dr. were among 638 to receive graduate degrees last month from the University of Michigan.

Both received master of arts degrees.

Mr. Sommers is employed with the Ann Arbor school system teaching mathematics in the Slauson Junior High School. He was formerly on the staff of the Tecumseh Public Schools.

Mr. Sommers and his wife, Kathryn, have three children; Judy, first grade at Herrick Park; Kent, 3½, and Danny, six months old.

Mrs. Miller's degree is in guidance and counseling. She and her three children came to Tecumseh from Jackson eight years ago.

Mrs. Miller teaches fifth grade at Herrick Park School. She received her bachelor's degree from Bowling Green University, O.

RAY B. SOMMERS

Kay Wagoner Has Black Band

Mr. and Mrs. James E. Danforth attended banding ceremonies Sept. 20 in the auditorium of the nurses home of the Bronson Methodist Hospital School of Nursing when Kay Wagoner received her first black band for her cap.

Miss Wagoner sang a solo part in a quartette number, "Climb Every Mountain" from The Sound of Music. She is in her second year there.

Bedside Litter Bags Are Made

Mrs. Duaine Murphy entertained 12 members of the Tri-Town Extension Club recently when the group made newspaper bedside litter bags for hospital patients.

A buffet lunch was served by the hostess.

Baptist Youths Take Hayride

Devotions were given by Lana Watson. Chaperones were Mr. and Mrs. Glen Griewahn and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Beland.

Con-Con Report

Flexibility in Financing

Editor's Note: This is one in a series about the proposed new Michigan Constitution. Additional articles will appear in subsequent weeks.

More flexibility in state and local financing is accomplished by the changes recommended by the convention in Article IX of Michigan's proposed constitution. The article deals with finance and taxation.

The basic 15-mill tax limit on property is retained (15 per $1,000 of state equalized valuation). The only exceptions are for extra voted millage and special provisions of local charters.

If the voters of a county approve, separate and fixed limits for the county, townships and school districts may be established so long as the total does not exceed 18 mills. If this option were exercised by the voters of the county, the tax allocation board would be eliminated.

If voters who are also property owners give majority approval, the total limit could go to 50 mills for no longer than 20 years. Local government bonds, however, are given unlimited tax support.

THE NEW document also provides that after Jan. 1, 1966, real and personal property cannot be assessed at more than 50 per cent of true cash value. The present constitution specifies that assessments are to be at full cash value but, as a matter of practice, this provision has not been effective. The new provision would give the legislative authority to determine true cash value and the proportion, up to 50 per cent, at which such property is to be assessed.

Property owned and occupied by non-profit religious or educational organizations, and used exclusively for those purposes, as defined by law, would be exempt from property taxes. This writes into the constitution exemptions which are presently provided by statute in Michigan

Article X prohibits the imposition of an income tax, graduated as to rate or base, by the state or any of its political subdivisions. It would permit, however, the levy of a flat-rate income tax.

☆

THE SALES tax limit continues at per cent. Under the new language of the proposed document, however, the legislature could by majority vote eliminate items covered by the present sales tax, if it so desired. It could also include items presently exempted. The 4 per cent rate could be reduced if the legislature authorized such a change

The present earmarking ratio of sales tax funds for local government and schools is preserved—half to schools; one-eighth to townships, cities and villages, according to population.

The new constitution provides for the establishment of a School Aid Fund exclusively for public education and school employees' retirement systems. One-half of all sales taxes and other taxes, as provided by law, would be dedicated to this fund. The primary school interest fund, which now provides only $62 million of the annual school aid outlay of more than $348 million, would be abolished.

Provision is made in Article IX for an elastic borrowing limit to meet current state obligations, replacing the present archaic debt ceiling of $250,000. The new limit would be 15 per cent of the undedicated revenues of the preceding fiscal year (about $70 million). The debt would have to be repaid entirely by the end of the year in which the borrowing was made.

WHILE highway motor fuel and weight taxes would continue to be earmarked for highway purposes under the terms of the new document, the legislature is given the authority to define "highway purposes".

Conceivably the legislature might find that highway police patrols, for example, qualified for such moneys. The present state highway commissioner opposes this possible interpretation, although it is a practice in some states.

Another new provision in the article specifies that accrued pension and retirement benefits would be contractual obligations of the state which could not be diminished or impaired. Such obligations would have to be funded during the year in which they arise.

Country Club Awards Prizes

Mrs. Bill Hannibal, Mrs. Alfred Shorb and Mrs. Herbert Clark were awarded prizes Sept. 26 at the Tecumseh Country Club golf event.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Hanna received the trophy in the husband and wife tournament Sept. 23.

Mr. and Mrs. C. O. Butler came in second and the Merlyn Blandens and the Robert Mays tied for third.

SHOP IN THE HERALD FIRST

GIVES DEMONSTRATION — Donald J. Vernine will present a demonstration lecture, "This Atomic World," at a Tecumseh High School assembly program Oct. 5 and at Onsted High Oct. 10. It is sponsored by the United States Atomic Energy Commission.

Ridgeway Reports

By MRS. WILLIAM WRIGHT

Henry De Jonghe, who has been making his home for the past several years at Hollywood, Fla., has returned here and will make his home with his son and family, Mr. and Mrs. Morris De Jonghe.

Saturday guests of Mr. and Mrs. David Taylor were their daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Graham, and family of Adrian; a sister, Mrs. Robert Perry, and son, and a niece, Mr. and Mrs. Roger Brumbaugh and family of Indianapolis, Ind. In the afternoon they all visited relatives at Wayne.

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Francis and family were callers at the home of Mrs. Will Fletcher.

World-wide Communion Sunday will be observed at the Ridgeway Methodist Church Oct. 7 at the 11 a.m. service with a special Fellowship of Suffering and Service offering. Also the church will hold its Sunday school promotion beginning at 10 a.m.

Plans are being made for a turkey supper and harvest festival Oct. 13, with serving to begin at 5 p.m.

The MYF will meet Oct. 7 at 7 p.m. at the church and will make plans to have a hay ride Oct. 13.

The Ridgeway garden club will meet at the home of Viola Daisher Oct. 9 at 2 p.m. The roll call will be original poems. The program leader, Mrs. D. V. Sturtevant, will talk on birds and trees. Co-hostess will be Mrs. Clifford Southard.

In observance of Rally Day the Ridgeway Methodist youths assisted at the 11 a.m. service. Those assisting were Tom Dinius, Jim Miller, Dick Papworth, Susan Smith and Diana Bishop. Tom Smith served as acolyte.

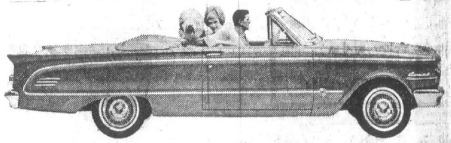
BURSTING WITH NEWS...'63 MERCURYS

NEWS-MAKING ROOF FROM MONTEREY. The advantages of Monterey's distinctive styling go far beyond its beauty. This is elegance that works. See how the recessed rear window slants inward? It stays clearer in rain or snow. On hot days, it opens for breezeway ventilation. The overhanging roof shades rear-seat passengers from the sun, gives more headroom, keeps glare off the rear window for better rearview visibility. More good news: a Mercury Marauder 390 V-8 is Monterey's standard engine.

SPARKLING NEW MODELS FROM METEOR. For 1963, Meteor is the hot brand. Meteor is the sparkler with a whole new line of models in the low-price field—sleek new low-to-the-road hardtops, sedans, and three new station wagons. Feel sporty? Try the racy Meteor S-33 hardtop, with individually adjustable bucket seats and a handy console. For brilliant performance to match Meteor's sparkle, a new Lightning 260 V-8 is available in every model. And you save on upkeep with Mercury service-savers.



THE LID'S OFF COMET. Now a jaunty new convertible joins Comet's all-fun line. This sleek, rakish beauty comes in two models: the Custom and the dashing S-22, with bucket seats and optional stick shift. All Comets now have a complete package of service-savers like self-adjusting brakes. And Comet still heads its class with the largest trunk, longest wheelbase, and best resale value record. See Comet's whole happy '63 line-up: convertibles, sedans, station wagons. Fun-test your favorite Comet now!

(Editor's Note: How much do you know about the Red Cross blood program? To test and to refresh your knowledge, the Herald publishes this question-and-answer feature.

THE QUESTIONS

1—What is the Red Cross Blood Program as it operates in Lenawee County?

2—Where is the regional center serving this county?

3—How many hospitals are served by the center?

4—How many people benefit from the program?

5—How does the program work?

6—How is the blood collected?

7—What is Lenawee County's quota each year?

8—Where and when can I donate blood?

9—How old must I be to give blood?

10—How do I know whether I am healthy enough to give blood?

11—How much blood can I give? How often?

12—How much time will it take to give blood?

14—What happens to the blood?

15—How long can whole blood be preserved?

19—If I am in need of blood when away from here, can the regional center help me?

21—What can I do to help?

THE ANSWERS

1—It is a plan whereby the Red Cross collects blood from volunteer donors, processes it, and distributes it to hospitals in Lenawee County for treatment of the ill and injured.

2—Lansing.

3—All the hospitals in Lenawee County.

4—77,000 in this county.

5—Each county participating in the regional program contributes a specific number of pints a year. The number is determined by county population and projected need for blood.

6—Chiefly by community visits of bloodmobiles operating out of the center in Lansing. A minor proportion is collected at the center itself.

8—The next bloodmobile visits to this county will be at Addison, Oct. 2, Deerfield Oct. 3 and Adrian College Nov. 12.

9—From 18 to 60, with parental permission if under 21 and unmarried.

10—Before you are permitted to donate, Red Cross workers, including a physician, check your temperature, pulse, hemoglobin and blood pressure, and take careful medical history.

11—Approximately one pint, every eight weeks but no more than five times a year.

14—Whole blood (fresh blood to which a preservative has been added)is given in transfusion when large amounts of blood have been lost as a result of injury, childbirth, or surgery. It may be used also to treat infections, diseases that cause a great deal of bleeding, and chronic anemia — constant deficiency of red cells.

Plasma, the liquid portion of the blood usually separated from the cells by settling, is frozen for use in treating hemophilia — tendency to uncontrollable bleeding. Plasma derivatives — fractions of plasma broken down by selective precipitation — also are available for medical use.

15—Twenty-one days with present refrigeration facilities. After that time it is used to make certain derivatives.

16—Yes, human blood cannot be manufactured.

17—The government has named the Red Cross the official agency for collection of blood in national emergencies.

18—The Red Cross Blood Program operates under standards established by the National Institutes of Health, County Medical societies, hospital conferences and health departments also cooperate with the program.

19—Yes — Through a reciprocal agreement with the 54 other regional centers, the memberbanks of the American Association of Blood Banks, and the hospitals both collection agencies ,serve, a system of blood credits and reimbursement has been in operation since May 1961.

OBITUARIES

● PROF. WILFRED E. MILLS

Services were held Sept. 18 in Ithaca, N.Y. for Prof. Wilfred E. Mills, former Tecumsehite who died Sept. 14 after a heart attack.

An authority on fruit disease, Professor Mills retired April 1, 1959, from his position as extension professor of plant pathology in the State College of Agriculture at Cornell University, where he had been a faculty member for 36 years.

He is credited with saving New York fruit growers many thousands of dollars annually by providing them with accurate information on spraying techniques.

In his demonstrations over the state, he conducted continual experiments to check the practicality of new scientific information.

He was the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Albert Mills. A brother, Raymond, also of Tecumseh, preceded him in death.

He was a graduate of Tecumseh High School and received his BS degree in 1920 and his MS degree in 1922 from Michigan State University.

In 1955 he was given the Superior Service Award from the U.S. Department of Agriculture for his research and help to growers.

He is survived by his wife, Antonia Ybor Schwab; two daughters; a sister, Zilla Mills of Berkley, Cal., six grandchildren; two nephews and a niece, Mrs. Harold Kempf of rural Tecumseh.

Burial was in the City cemetery of Ithaca, N.Y., where members of the VFW conducted military rites.

● FRANK HAUZER

Services were held Tuesday in Blissfield for Frank M. Hauzer, 69, father of Mrs. Charles Studnicka of Britton, who died Sept. 27 in Sebring, Fla.

Mr. Hauzer lived in Wauseon, O. spending his winters in Fla.

Mr. Hauzer was born in Czechoslovakia and came to the United States when a young man.

He married Marie Kaval, who preceded him in death in 1937.

In 1938 he married Sophia Szeliga who survives.

He is also survived by two sons, Milo and Theodore in Wauseon; a step daughter, Mrs. Roy Gillen, of Wauseon and six grandchildren.

Burial was in the Zion cemetery.

● DURWARD W. SCHUMACHER

Services were held Thursday in North Adams for Durward Schumacher, 61, who died Sept. 25 at the Hillsdale Health Center

Mr. Schumacher was an inspector at the Tecumseh Products Co. He lived near Tecumseh until moving to North Adams in 1952.

He was the son of George and Martha Roller Schumacher and was born in Washtenaw county July 29, 1901.

Mr. Schumacher was a member of the Evangelical church near Clinton. He married Nellie Hicks Dec. 20, 1952.

In addition to his wife he is survived by a sister, Mrs. Clayton Bigelow of Macon; a niece, Mrs. Gibbs Barber, and a nephew, Kennard Wise, both of Tecumseh.

The Rev. Earl Harshbarger officiated and burial was in Northlawn cemetery, North Adams.

—o—

● LEON C. EXELBY

Services were held in Plymouth Monday for Leon C. Exelby, 74, who died Saturday at Owosso hospital.

Mr. Exelby was the first Michigan State College football player to be named as an All-America fullback.

A retired farmer, he was custodian at Michigan State University for 15 years, retiring in 1953. He moved to St. Petersburg, Fla. several years ago.

The son of Wesley and Ida Wiggins Exelby, he was born at Britton April 4, 1888.

He married Floy Underwood, who died in January 1956.

A member of the Tecumseh Masonic lodge, Mr. Exelby was an honorary member of the Michigan State University Varsity Club. He won All-America honors in 1912.

Mr. Exelby is survived by a son, Robert, of West Branch; two daughters, Mrs. Esther Jean Reed of Decatur, Ala., and Mrs. Joanna Houghton of Plymouth; a brother, Ford Exelby of Britton; 10 grandchildren and one great grandchild.

The Rev. David T. Davies officiated and burial was in the Ridgeway cemetery.

BRITTON BRIEFS

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Bortel and sons of Ithaca spent from Friday until Sunday with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Bortel. Other Sunday guests were Mr. and Mrs. Cloyce Miller and family of Bowling Green, O., Mr. and Mrs. Pat McGuire and sons of Whitmore Lake, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Bortel and daughters and Mrs. Ethel Miller, all of Britton.

√

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Covell of Clinton called on his mother, Mrs. Byron Covell, Saturday afternoon. They brought word that her son Roy of Maywood, Calif. is hospitalized there following a heart attack.

√

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Rowlands and Susan called on Mrs. N.A. Baird and Mr. and Mrs. Reece Baird of Erie Sunday.

√

VOICE OF THE HERALD

Hours of Pleasure

Books offer hundreds and hundreds of hours of pleasure to young and old. They tell us of the past, they take us into the future, they entertain us.

To ignore books is to default one of the most exciting segments of this life on earth.

Of course, when we think of books we think of libraries.

Tecumseh residents can be thankful that this city has always offered excellent library facilities. Our new library, which has just opened and will be dedicated Sunday afternoon, outstrips those in many another community.

But a library—like a school—isn't just shiny bricks and mortar. First of all, it's good books, carefully selected, ones that will appeal to a wide variety of readers. Second, it's people, the folks who operate the facility.

But we don't blame anyone for feeling great pride in just the new building itself. The $230,000 structure is tastefully done, has large areas for all age groups. Few places top it as an attraction to spend a pleasant afternoon or evening.

We wholeheartedly agree with the trustees of the Tecumseh Community Fund Foundation who made the decision to provide our community with a library from funds donated to our annual charity drive, over and above the yearly budget needs.

NEW MACHINERY SEEN — Faraday Inc. will put its new assembly line on view Sunday during an open house. In the interest of safety, the machinery will not be in operation. However, company management and supervisory personnel will conduct tours and explain the operations to anyone wishing to visit the new plant from 1 p.m. to 6 p.m.

Warehouse Built for Tuttle Co.

The H. W. Tuttle Co. will lease the building, with option to buy, for use as a warehouse.

The industrial structure with modern ventilation and lighting will be completed about Dec. 1.

Construction is being carried out with the possibility of expansion for either warehouse or office space at a later date.

Band Boosters Elect Officers

Howard Wilson Jr. was elected president of the Band Boosters Thursday evening when 35 attended the first fall meeting.

Others elected were:

Vice President — George Choske

Secretary — Mrs. Russell Cooper

Treasurer — Mrs. Frank Glenn

Mrs. James Barton and Mrs. Bert Klappich gave a resume of the past year's work.

It was decided that the Boosters would sponsor the Band Festival Oct. 9 on the Recreation Field at 8 p.m.

A letter from Tom Dickinson was read thanking the Boosters for his trip to the Summer Youth Music program at Michigan State University through the David Day scholarship.

Boosters provided some of the financial aid to soundproof the cafeteria, where band classes are held.

Tentative dates for Band Boosters tag days have been set for Oct. 12 and 13. Fifteen new uniforms are needed.

Mr. Wilson will appoint project chairmen this week.

Highway Money Is Distributed

The State Highway Department has started distributing second-quarter Motor Vehicle Highway Fund collections to Michigan counties and incorporated cities and villages.

State Highway Commissioner John C. Mackie said net receipts of the Highway Fund during April, May and June of 1962 amounted to $44,778,480, an increase of $984,365 over the same period of 1961.

Lenawee County received $199,412 from second-quarter collections.

Tecumseh received $12,151 of the amount paid incorporated cities and villages.

VOLUME 112 — ONE HUNDRED THIRTEENTH YEAR — NUMBER 1 | TECUMSEH, MICHIGAN, THURSDAY, OCTOBER 11, 1962 | 16 PAGES — TEN CENTS A COPY

Long AND Short

By TOM RIORDAN

This issue marks The Herald's 112th birthday and by a happy coincedence, National Newspaper Week.

There are about 8,300 weeklies in the nation, ranging in size from 15,000 circulation to a few hundred.

Combined circulation tops 21,000,000 with a readership of more than 80,000,000.

As for The Herald, starting its 113th year—lucky 13—its distribution hits almost 3,400 with over 10,000 readers.

While on the subject of newspapering, I might point out our policy on letters to the editors.

If they are signed by the writer and not obscene or libelous, they'll be printed.

Some folks disagree with this philosophy, usually when a letetr is in direct opposition to their thinking.

However, one side has as much right to express its feeling as the other.

Readers will sometimes take off pell mell against The Herald and we'll put those comments in print. No matter how much it might puncture our pride, the letter stands as written and runs.

If for some good reason the writer does not wish his name printed, we will delete it, however, we must know who the contributor is.

☆

For those of us who don't farm for a living, one of the joys can be a brief session working in the soil.

As dawn broke Monday, I wrestled with the chore of putting in place 28 square yards of sod.

It came from the farm of Frank Csokasy, 6549 Smith Rd., who raises and sells Merian Blue Grass.

It took Frank only a few minutes to cut what was needed. Within 30 minutes, the luscious grass was in place.

The Csokasy grass acreage is all muck, the black rich soil, part of which of course comes right along with the sod.

Tugging and pulling the strips into place was sheer joy. There is nothing like getting your hands black with mother earth.

It's no wonder that Frank and his fellow "men of the soil" love their work so much.

TECUMSEH AUTHOR ALLAN SEAGER DELIVERED MAIN ADDRESS AT OUTSIDE DEDICATION OF LIBRARY

800 Tour Library Dedication Day

By MARJORIE COMFORT

Tecumseh's library was turned over officially Sunday to the people who helped make it possible —residents of the area.

An open house drew an estimated 800 persons to the building. Scheduled to end at 5, the open house was extended nearly two hours to accomodate the visitors.

In ceremonies before some 200 well-wishers, the building was dedicated to the thousands who subscribed so generously to the annual United Fund drives that enough money was left to finance the library.

Each year, all money donated beyond the needs of the score of charities and civic groups served is put into a community building fund. Three year's collections totaling $180,000 have gone into the library. A $50,000 mortgage remains to be paid off in future drives.

☆

DURING THE ceremony, Tecumseh Exchange Club, represented by Dwight Hodges, presented the Freedom Shrine, a group of 30 documents important to America's history which have been reproduced and hung on the walls of the library.

Rotary Club, represented by Hugh Walter, donated a book and plaque telling of this service organization.

James McKenna, a former member of the Tecumseh Community Fund Foundation, which financed the library, was master of ceremonies.

DEDICATORY speaker was Allan Seager, former library board president, an author whose works are represented on the library shelves and a professor at the University of Michigan. (His talk is reprinted in full on page two of this issue.)

The importance of the Tecumseh library among professional librarians is shown by the interested participation in the open house of librarians from this and surrounding counties and from Lansing.

The $230,000 library was opened Sept. 10. It replaced the Andrew Carnagie library on W. Chicago Blvd., in use since 1905.

Board Talks Busses

By JIM LINCOLN

A report indicating savings of at least $5,000 in the bus transportation system and a fire marshall report requesting action at the Ridgeway, Sutton and West Branch schools were major items on the school board table Monday night.

Board member Robert H. Moore told the school officials that although the Tecumseh bus system compared favorably with others, probable savings of $6,250 could be realized and at least $5,000.

He cited the cost of bus tires, 5c per gallon charged for pumping, purchase of parts on fleet-rate basis as the major areas where savings could be realized.

He also said that repair and maintenance costs were too high, better maintenance could be enforced, changes in bookkeeping to keep better records.

Mr. Moore stated the possible solution was the school having its own garage, bus drivers and handy-men doing minor repair work, purchasing tires from an Adrian wholesaler, and contract out major bus repairs.

Dick Purkey, of Lee Purkey & Sons garage and presently engaged by the schools to manage and supervise the bus system, reported the garage's side and their problems.

He remarked in a letter that the garage was completely fair with the schools, that certain cost factors which appeared high also included other work or services, and that the garage would be willing to discuss the situation with the board.

Mr. Moore, who had made a detailed investigation locally and with area schools, received board approval to continue the study.

Norval Bovee, business manager, was requested to meet with the garageman and determine if savings could be realized.

☆

IN THE fire marshall's report, recommendations for safety precautions will cost the schools about $1,950.

This is the second time within three years the local schools received unexpected expenditure due to the fire marshall's inspection.

Business manager Norval Bovee reported that Tecumseh would be reimbursed for expenses at the Sutton School by the county special education program.

The county is holding special education classes at the rural school, the reason for it being opened this year.

☆

IN OTHER action the board:

► Approved borrowing $75,000 against state aid at the United Savings Bank, since the state is behind its payments to the schools.

► Approved employment of assistant football coach Ray Newton as ninth grade basketball coach, providing athletic department pay the costs.

► Accepted actual enrollment of 3,080 for Tecumseh schools, about 120 less than anticipated. Both the schools and Citizens Committee had predicted enrollment of about 3,200.

► Heard a report from Vic Lawson that the Tecumseh-Milan football gate was $1,524, highest in the school's history.

► Authorized board member Mrs. June Stone to meet with local teachers' organization in regards to personal business and legal absences.

► Requested member Orville Bishop to work with and seek

Bonfire Starts Fun

The rally, starting at 7:30 p.m., on Thursday, will be held on the athletic area north of the high school. The flames will light several competitive games and a cheering session.

Tecumseh, undefeated in this season's play, may have to fight a let-down from last week's game, an unexpected walkaway. Flat Rock, winless in four games, would love to topple the high-riding Indians.

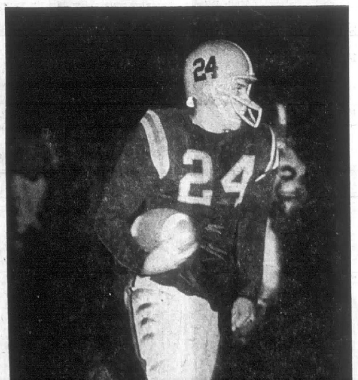
Floats are being prepared for what may be the largest Homecoming parade in Tecumseh's history. Nine floats are under construction by classes and clubs. They will be judged by four local merchants, and cash prizes will be given.

The floats will wind through downtown Tecumseh at 2 p.m. Friday, in the company of the senior and cadet bands and candidates for Homecoming Queen.

The candidates were nominated in class meetings Wednesday morning. The queen will be elected in balloting Friday. During half-time, she will receive her robe, crown and royal bouquet. The band will lead the floats in review before the spectators.

The queen will reign at the Homecoming Dance in the school from 10 p.m. to 1 a.m.

Students were aided in this year's homecoming furor by the closing of school Thursday and Friday for the annual Teachers Institute.



MAGIC NUMBER IS 4 — Tecumseh has won four straight games, is now ranked fourth in state among Class B schools This picture of Quarterback Tim Sisson, who wears 24, is emblematic of all the "fours" going for THS. Sisson and his mates mauled Milan last week and in Friday's Homecoming game meets Flat Rock's Rams.

Resident Proposes Water Recreation Area of 25 Acres

A group of Tecumseh citizens, interested in creating a water recreation area south of the city, will meet Sunday afternoon at 1:30 in the Community Center.

Ronald S. Pocklington, 7587 Pocklington Rd., is spearheading the organization.

It is his contention that with the cooperation of the state and federal governments — who would help pay—the River Raisin could be dammed.

As a result, approximately 25,000 acres could be placed under water and turned into a recreation area.

Mr. Pocklington explains that the federal government has already earmarked more than $300 million for conservation and water reclamation projects of this nature.

Much of the land that would be affected, he points out, is virgin acreage and at present is of little value.

Persons interested in helping start such a program are invited to attend the gathering.

Mayor Proclaims 2 Band Tag Days

I, Harold E. Easton, mayor of Tecumseh, proclaim Oct. 12 and 13, 1962 as official Band Booster Tag Days.

Whereas: The citizens of this community shall benefit by this event, also the students of the music department of our fine high school shall have better equipment with which to study and practice their various musical skills, this community and the nation shall benefit from this project.

Pro Grid Player Is Speaker

A change in plans has been made for the Baptist Youth Fellowship Association meeting in Shelton Park Monday.

There will be no charge and the meeting will be held across the street from the Shelton Park Baptist Church at 7:30 p.m. rather than in it.

Bill Glass of the Cleveland Browns will be the speaker.

Games will fill the remaining part of the evening following the business session of the local group Sunday evening at the Youth House.

Twenty-one members are active in the group this year according to Mr. and Mrs. Glen Griewahn, advisors.

3,000 Attend Band Festival

Nearly 3,000 music fans attended the Lenawee County Band Festival Tuesday evening at Tecumseh's Recreation Field.

It was the 16th annual edition.

The colors were presented by the Hall-Slater Post of the VFW as the cornet section of the Tecumseh Band played "To The Colors."

Richard Farley of Sand Creek led the massed band of some 600 musicians as they played three numbers, "Your Land and My Land", "Parade March No. 1" and "The Star Spangled Banner."

The Rev. B. O. Bashore was narrator again this year.

Taking part were bands from Sand Creek, Britton-Macon Area, Onsted, Hudson, Morenci, Addison, Deerfield, Tecumseh, Adrian, Blissfield and Clinton.

$25,000 Goal Is Set for Industry

Industrial drive of the Tecumseh Community Fund Foundation gets under way next Wednesday with the industrial division hoping to raise $25,000.

Tim Neill, industrial chairman, has organized the division's campaign and anticipates raising half of the Foundation's $50,000 goal.

Individual industry chairman are:

Bruce Foundry—Richard Duffin.

G&J Woodworking — George Sackett.

Hayden Mill — John Sisson

Jones Sealing — Mrs. Carlos Jones.

Meyers Aircraft — Mrs. Robert Fuller.

Ottawa Machine — William Rohweder.

R&S Mfg. — Frank Rice.

Tecumseh Sash & Door — R. D. Moore.

Tecumseh Products — T. L. Neill.

Tuttle Co. — Harold Tuttle.

Rumpf Truckline — Mrs. Isabel Aiuto.

Tecumseh Woodworking — Harry Beland.

Comfort Brick & Tile — Ralph Comfort.

Jiffy Mfg. — William Davis

Kuhlman Concrete — Terry Mackin.

Faraday — Gene Earling.

☆

Ken Conway, Fund chairman, and Vern Manwaring, president of the Foundation, spoke briefly, reviewing the goal and allotments to the charities.

Larry Erwin, brother of Mrs. Thomas Maupin of 5709 Macon Rd., was aboard the USS Kearsage Aircraft carrier that picked up astronaut Walter Schirra.

√

Perseverance and persistence characterized the pioneers as it does some of our senior citizens of 1962.

Concerned for the preservation of St. Peter's Church, a cheerful little lady of a good many years came to The Herald office to make her contribution last week.

When asked if she would like a ride home, she said determinedly, 'No thanks. I got down here and I'll get home."

√

Raymond Puffer, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. Ray Puffer, Jr. of E. Logan St. has the deep gratitude of personnel at the Tecumseh Public Library.

Following the closing of the library for three weeks, while moving was taking place, a veritable mountain of books were returned opening day.

With the library open two more hours each day and no additional help, the librarians were working full tilt to receive the books and check others out.

They were at a loss to get the returned books back on the shelves.

Mr. Puffer came to the rescue. He had been volunteering his services since early in the summer, but now his help was more than appreciated.

Mrs. Murray Day, assistant librarian said, "We just can't praise him enough for the volunteer work he has done. He has been working eight hours a day, five days a week."

Helping right through the moving procedures, Mr. Puffer carried and carried besides "slipping books" and many other time-consuming tasks that had to be done.

No job seemed to be too large or too small.

Not only are the library people grateful, but so are the book borrowers and other Tecumseh residents. We are all glad to know Raymond Puffer, who holds a master's degree from the University of North Carolina and still has time for volunteering far "above and beyond" the call of duty.

√

People far and near appreciate Baldwin Hardware for its vast inventory as well as for courteous service.

One lady tells of her experience in looking for a certain type three-way rubber electric outlet.

She searched a nearby town and came back home empty-handed. Then she stopped at Baldwin's and got the item.

√

Another odd spelling of our city's name came to the attention of personnel at the Tecumseh Products Co. last week.

A letter from Parsippany, N. J. was adressed to Temusch Products Co., Temusch, Mich.

√

"The show must go on" is a tradition followed here recently by Joe Hunting, finance chairman of the state Republican committee. He was scheduled to speak at a dinner given by Franklin Township Republicans.

At 5 p.m. he phoned to say his car had been demolished in an accident.

He rented another car and turned up at Tipton Grange Hall at 7:30, ready to speak in the GOP cause.

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Buehrer returned to the city Saturday evening after a two weeks trip through the western states and by plane to Mexico City.

Novelist Seager Tells How Books Play Role in Life

(Editor's note: Following is the complete address made by Tecumseh author Allan Seager, during the dedication of the city's new library.)

By ALLAN SEAGER

We have come here today to dedicate this library to the use of the people of this town, for it is their efforts that have made possible its construction.

What is a library?

Principally, it is a collection of books although this library will offer more than that.

What is a book? Principally it is now a bundle of pages bound together for the sake of the print on them although once it was a bundle of calfskins or sheepskins sometimes with the leg holes still visible bound together for the sake of, not the printing, but the handwriting on them.

Before the invention of printing books were written out by hand, a tedious business. There must have been something valuable about a book for anyone to go to all that trouble.

What is the value of a book. Some books are bound handsomely enough to be pleasant to look at without ever opening them, but looking AT a book is not enough.

You have to look into it and what do you find? What you find is a substitute for experience, not a perfect substitute for what you get is only what can be put into words and not everything will reduce itself to that.

☆

EVERYBODY experiences much in his life, but nobody can experience everything. If you have never fished for trout and want to, the best way to learn is to get an expert fly fisherman to teach you, but if there is no such fisherman handy, it is better to read a book about it than to walk up to the bank of the bank of the stream simple and untutored and expect to grab trout with your hands or kick them out with your feet.

Permit me to give you a longer and more serious example of the value of books as a substitute for future experience.

It is possible now to buy in any supermarket water chestnuts, pizza, and tortillas — we are becoming interested in the cookery of other countries. We lost our political isolation on Dec. 7, 1941. We are losing our cultural isolation every day. It is one of the important social movements of this century for the United States.

We have political and, as I don't need to tell anyone in Tecumseh, industrial commitments all over the world.

General Motors has just announced that it will attempt to gain stockholders in many foreign countries — it will thus become an international corporation.

We have exchange students in many homes in our neighborhood and many of our students are abroad, sampling and examining the way each other live. It is possible to reach almost any place on earth in a day's travel. (When John Quincy Adams was president, it took him two weeks on horseback to get from Masssachusetts to Washington.)

But not all of us can go. It costs a lot to travel yet the world presses in on us and we must learn about it.

How? In books here in this new library.

☆

BUT IT IS NOT only future experience that books can help shape for us, they can help us assess the past.

I don't know of any cat, however graceful, that seems to worry much about what she did yesterday or pondering over the great cats of the past. But we are human and we have to. Our memories drive us to it, whether we like it or not.

I daresay there is none of you here who has not once, reading history or fiction or poetry, come across something that has waked you up, some parallel to an action of your own that has illuminated something you have done, shed some light — welcome or unwelcome — that makes you know yourself better.

It is important to know who you are and how you got that way. And psychiatrists make a good living telling us. But books are healthier and cheaper and they can often give us our own identities, that of the nation, and of the race.

Aristotle said man was a curious animal and he was right. Everyone continually speculates about these things and books can give us the facts and ideas which will make our speculations a little more accurate.

☆

ONE LOOK will tell you what a fine building this is. In it many services will be offered, help in finding what you want, an information bureau, pictures to loan, records to loan, and the books, for children, young people and adults.

The staff and the library board will be working all the time to improve the facilities.

I seem to have left out one thing.

Reading is fun.

Come and enjoy it.

12 Receive Royal Arch Degrees

D. J. Frayer of Britton, William Chase, Thomas Judd and Walter Morden of Tecumseh were among 12 candidates to receive Royal Arch degrees Oct. 6 when Mt. Vernon Chapter 37 of Dundee was host.

Tecumseh Chapter 42 assisted with the work for all-degree day for Masons from southeastern Michigan.

In addition to the candidates, others from the Tecumseh Chapter attending were:

Jack R. Puffer — High Priest

Donald C. LeBounty — Past High Priest

Cecil E. Viele — Past High Priest

A. Elwyn Green — Past High Chief

Glenn C. Hendershot — Secretary

Weldon G. Hollar

Dewey Sturdevant

Members and candidates from Blissfield, Milan, Tecumseh, Dearborn, Monroe and Dundee were present.

MILLARD BUSH

Michigan JC Prexy To Speak

Millard Bush, state Jaycee president, will be a special guest Thursday, Oct. 11, at a district Jaycee meeting in Products Union Hall.

The dinner meeting, starting at 6 p.m., will draw members from Carleton, Dundee, Monroe, Blissfield, Adrian, Hudson, Morenci and Clinton. Tecumseh will be the host club.

Other guests will include Mayor Harold Easton and Pat Meadows, United Savings Bank president and in 1945 the state Jaycee president.

The evening's program will include seminars in leadership training, records, recreation and community development.

SCHOOL BUSSES

assistance from the Citizens Committee after receiving a North Central Accrediting Association report.

The high school can not operate next year under the present crowded enrollment.

Possible solution discussed were split-classes, building on to present high school, building a new high school, or combining with other districts for a comprehensive high school.

Committee Raises $6,626

No definite action was taken by the vestry of St. Peter's Episcopal Church at its Monday meeting to dismantle the old building.

The Rev. Frank Hawthorne explained that services will continue to be held in the 129-year-old structure until at least the time the remodeled Parish Hall is complete.

This will probably be sometime in November.

The new church is expected to be ready for Christmas services.

Art Eaton and Tom Riordan of the "Save Historic St. Peter's" committee reported to the vestry that the group had only been able to raise $6,626.28 towards the $100,000 goal.

The committee, which had been given "the blessing" of the vestry, sought to move and restore old St. Peter's as an historic building.

A deadline of Oct. 1 had been set for the campaign and this was later extended to Oct. 8, the regular meeting date of the vestry.

☆

Cornerstone of the structure was laid by the Rt. Rev. Richard S. Emrich, Epicopal Bishop of Michigan, Wednesday afternoon.

The ceremony began in the old building and moved in procession to the southeast corner of the new church, site of the cornerstone.

Sealed in the stone were a cross, Bible and Book of Common Prayers, along with the record of the founders of the new church and a copy of The Tecumseh Herald.

Outstanding 4-H Members To Be Cited

Annual Achievement Program for Lenawee County 4-H members is to be held Wednesday, Oct. 17 at 8:00 p.m. in Walsh Hall, Siena Heights College.

The public is invited.

Many of the awards are sponsored by local businessmen who recognize the important contribution of 4-H to the youth of Lenawee County.

The winners of the Chicago Educational Trip, the 4-H'ers completing 11 years of Club Work and the outstanding 4-H'ers under 14 years of age will be announced.

This year, more than 1,450 4-H members have completed over 3,000 projects and 280 adult volunteer 4-H leaders have been responsible for the success of the 4-H program.

Working at Fever Pitch

An increase of membership and new challenges and problems have sent the group's enthusiasm to new heights.

Everyone is working at fever pitch on "The Man Who Came to Dinner." Cast and crew alike are filled with inspiration and frenzy. The usual last minute changes are still going on.

At the latest report, Wendell Disbrow of Tecumseh and Charles Parker of Clinton have joined the cast.

Anyone interested in a few hours of hilarity can see "The Man Who Came to Dinner" at the Community Center on either October 25, 26 and 27 or November 1, 2, and 3 at 8 o'clock.

Tickets will be on sale at Dr. Richard Hammel's office, 102 S. Pearl St., HA 3-7135 and from Sidney Turner, HA 3-7265.

Mrs. Lask Is Elected

Child Study Group 2 will meet Thursday, Oct. 11, at the home of Mrs. George VanCamp. Mrs. George Halberstadt will be in charge of the program.

At the last meeting, officers elected were:

President—Mrs. Richard Lask

Vice-president — Mrs. Melvin Purple

Recording secretary — Mrs. Douglas Osworth

Film Will Be Shown to Club

Mrs. Orrie Gilbert opened her home Monday evening for the members of Child Study Group No. 1 with Mrs. Keith Barron, co-hostess.

Seventeen members and seven guests were in attendance. The program included a film entitled, "Roots of Happinesss."

It was about the life pattern of one Pureto Rican family, as studied in contrast with that of another.

The November meeting will be a bazaar at the home of Mrs. Carson House with each member bringing handmade articles or baked goods for auction.

The favors of tiny sacks filled with candy decorated for Trick or Treat were made by Mrs. Charles Clark and Mrs. Norman Bailey.

OBITUARIES

● JESS L. LONG

Jess Long, 76, a resident of Tecumseh for the last 22 years, passed away early Tuesday morning at his home at 812 Outer Drive where he had lived for 11 years.

He was born April 11, 1886 in LaGrange, Ind., the son of Samuel and Josephine Long.

Nov. 28, 1923 he married Lillian Bohnet at Jackson.

Mr. Long was employed at the Tecumseh Products Co. for 19 years, retiring in 1958.

He was preced in death by two brothers.

He is survived by his wife, one son, Lawrence of Berkley, one daughter, Mrs. George Pier, of Ypsilanti, five grandchildren and three nephews.

A sister, Mrs. Mary Ellen Price, of Jackson also survives.

Services will be held Friday at 2 p.m. at the Green-Dunn Funeral Home with the Rev. Laszlo Gero officiating.

Burial will be in Woodlawn cemetery, Jackson.

Fun Night To Include Ceremony

Movies, games, dancing and a royal ceremony will be featured at the annual Tecumseh Acres Fun Night from 5 to 10 p.m. Saturday, Oct. 27.

A king and queen, chosen by balloting in the sixth grade classrooms, will be announced.

Refreshments will be served.

Parent, Son FFA Banquet Day Altered

Final plans for the Parent and Son banquet of the Future Farmers Association were made at a meeting Monday evening.

The date of the event has been changed to Oct. 29, rather than Nov. 8 as previously scheduled.

It will be held at the high school cafeteria. The Rev. B. O. Bashore will be the speaker.

GOP Raises Fund Fast

Franklin Township Republicans work fast and well when they raise campaign funds.

Five days after Mrs. Raymond Platt conceived the idea of having a fund-raising dinner, the meal was served and $115 cleared for the campaign.

Supper plans were started with the help of Mrs. Lyle Whelan and Mrs. Faye Whelan of Tecumseh, Mrs. Lamont Simmons, Mrs. Richard Platt and Mrs. Merrick Dibble and Mrs. Herman Titley.

Dinner guests who made short talks included State Sen. and Mrs. Elmer Porter State Rep. Rollo Conlin, and several county officals.

Joe Hunting, state GOP finance chairman, gave a brief outline of state finances.

After the dinner extra pies were auctioned to aid the fund.

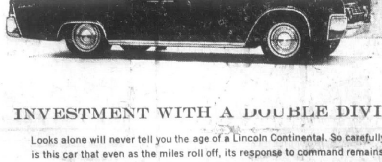
LINCOLN CONTINENTAL


INVESTMENT WITH A DOUBLE DIVIDEND
Looks alone will never tell you the age of a Lincoln Continental. So carefully crafted is this car that even as the miles roll off, its response to command remains as crisp as on the day it was delivered.
The body is rustproofed—inside and out. Critical underbody parts are galvanized. Stainless steel is lavishly used, even for fuel lines. Brake components are chromium plated. Four coats of enamel give the body its baked-in luster.
No wonder Lincoln Continental brings such high resale returns. No wonder it was the first to be warranted two full years or 24,000 miles*... a double dividend for its owner.
*Ford Motor Company warrants to its dealers, and its dealers, in turn, warrant to their Lincoln Continental owners as follows: That for 24 months or for 24,000 miles, whichever comes first, free replacement, including related labor, will be made by dealers of any part with a defect in workmanship or materials. Tires are not covered by the warranty; appropriate adjustments will be made by tire companies. Owners will remain responsible for normal maintenance services and routine replacement of parts such as filters, spark plugs, ignition points, wiper blades, brake and clutch linings, and normal deterioration of paint, trim and appearance items.

Hi-Steppers Have Ride

About 60 persons attended the hay ride Sept. 29 sponsored by the Country Hi-Steppers 4-H Club.

Two wagons pulled by tractors driven by Russell Mitzner and Harold Gove were used to draw the young people on the ride. It ended at the Ed Randolph farm, where a bonfire, wiener and marshmallow roast was held.

Diane Mitzner, Pat Randolph and Jane Mobley were on the committee.

A bowling party is planned for the November meeting with Gary Stretch in charge.

New projects have been selected.

4 Friends Churches Combine for Revival

The gatherings will be at the Raisin Center Friends Church, Oct. 14 to 21.

Services will be at 7:30 each evening.

The Musical Betts of Jackson will be in charge of the music. They come with a truckload of musical instruments. Instruments include a marimba, vibraharp, 500 sleighbells, 32 cowbells, musical saw, and Hawaiian guitar.

The Rev. Ora Lovell of Lewisville, O. will be the evangelist. Mr. Lovell is associate Professor of Bible and Theology at Malone College in Canton, O.

The public is cordially invited to attend all these services.

Halloween Floral Arrangements

A delightful demonstration of Halloween floral arrangements was presented for 30 members of the Women's Society of the First Baptist Church Monday evening.

Mrs. Floyd Bryan opened the meeting with prayer followed by the group singing the hymn for the year, "Awake, Awake to Love and Work."

Members voted to send a donation of $25 to the Colegate Rochester Divinity School in Rochester, N.Y.

The president, Mrs. Orville Bishop, presented the White Cross overseas quota and the organization voted to fill it.

Mrs. Bishop announced that 130 attended the Fall Rally held at the church Oct. 1.

A special donation of $5 was collected for Camp Louise and also the group voted to send 5c per member to the contingent fund and the Lenawee Association fund of the Michigan Baptists.

At the closing of the meeting the program chairman, Mrs. Vern Manwaring, presented the devotions.

A love gift of $14 was received and dedicated, followed by a closing prayer by Mrs. Manwaring.

One of the floral arrangements was used as a centerpiece at the refreshment table prepared by Mrs. Richard Lask and committee with Mrs. Clifford Curran and Mrs. Claude Sebring presiding.

Homemakers Meet

Mrs. Edward Aebersold was the hostess for members of the Harmony Homemakers Club for the September meeting in the place of Mrs. Ed Marks of Blissfield, who was ill.

Mrs. Herbert Murphy, Mrs. Joe O'Pravil and Mrs. Dixie Brown assisted Mrs. Aebersold in serving the potluck dinner for 15.

Mrs. Claude Sebring conducted the meeting when plans for Christmas boxes for patients at the Ypsilanti State Hospital were made.

Convalescent cards were signed by the members to be sent to Mrs. Marks and Mrs. John Snow.

The October meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Murphy with Mrs. Charles Allen and Mrs. Sebring as co-hostess.

Guest Tells Objectives of Program

Gay Mason, social studies consultant for the Silver Burdett Co., met with the fourth, fifth, and sixth grade teachers recently.

She brought out the three primary objectives of the social studies program:

► To provide the pupil with a knowledge of man and his relationship to the world around him.

► To provide a sympathetic understanding of people in other parts of the country and foreign lands.

► To provide an understanding of and pride in this form of government.

She showed how to meet the needs of the advanced, average and slow pupils.

☆

SINGER BOOK, Co. brought Joe Primo, a science consultant, to Tecumseh on Oct. 1 to huddle with first, second and third grade teachers.

Fourth, fifth and sixth grade teachers also met with Mr. Primo.

He stressed the importance of using the eight steps of the scientific method in problem solving.

Donors to Drive Write

Elizabeth Gilmore Seymour Detroit—In this day when some good-intentioned but not particularly culturally-minded persons seem intent upon tearing down every historical shrine, it is a pleasure to support a society which seeks to enrich the present by preserving the best of the past.

While I have not seen St. Peter's Church, I have heard about its beauty all my life. My grandparents and great-grandparents worshipped there and my mother often spoke of the church, and they and my mother are buried at Tecumseh.

It was quite a struggle to preserve Old Mariners' Church, here in Detroit, but now everyone is glad that we did. People come from all over to visit it, and it blends beautifully with our otherwise contemporary Civic Center.

Our first problem was to move the building to a suitable spot. After this was done, more money was raised as the church was gradually being restored. People of all walks of life and all religions contributed to the restoration of the church, and today, all Detroit is proud of Old Mariners' Church.

I sincerely hope and pray that St. Peter's may be as fortunate as Old Mariners' and not suffer the fate of St. Stephen's Episcopal Church of East Haddam, Connecticut—the finest early Episcopal edifice in Connecticut at the time of its demolition — which church, because of apathy and a lack of appreciation of the beautiful in architecture, met the same fate as the delapitated buildings of Skid Row, here in Detroit are sharing.

✓

Mrs. Walter Johnson, Detroit — I have lived in Detroit nearly all my adult years, but will always remember St. Peter's Church — how it stood so majestically on the rise by the street. I lived in Brownville and had to pass the church on our way to school and up town.

Edward C. Parker, Metamora — Back about 1920, the church was green and my mother was so upset by its appearance that she said she'd pay if it were painted white. The offer was accepted and it cost $500.

The rector's salary wasn't enough to support him, so he went into the antique business with a shop near Evans Lake. He did so well that he left the ministry entirely and bought the Walker Tavern at Cambridge Junction.

I contributed to and attended the centennial in 1933. Henry Ford was there and contributed a new organ.

Too bad that the church has outlived its usefulness as a place of worship. I'd give more if it remained a place of worship, not just a monument.

✓

Mrs. K. L. Schwartz, Hartville, Co. — A good friend in Toledo sent me a clipping about the old church. I so hate to see the old churches torn down.

Although of a different faith than ours (we are Baptist), we are all working for the same God. Wish I could send more.

✓

Mrs. Adella Zeller — Just received my Redford Record, and there was the picture of the church. We go through there often on the way to Adrian to see the Treats. So I will send my bit. As I live alone, I can't do much. God bless you all.

✓

Mrs. James H. Sheppard, Grand Rapids — Having seen your plea for help both in the New York Times and the Grand Rapids Press, the members of St. Anne's Guild of Grace Episcopal Church, Grand Rapids, send you the enclosed check for $25. It goes with our best wishes for your success, and our commendation for preserving such a beautiful old landmark.

Dear Mr. Riordan:

Thank you very much for your letter indicating that you are endeavoring to save the historic St. Peter's Episcopal Church. At the moment I am hard pressed but I am happy to send you a token $5.00 check to indicate my approval and support of your activity.

As requested, I have corresponded with President Kennedy and I hope that in all the troubles he has, he can find a moment to do this little thing.

With every good wish.

Sincerely,

G. Mennen Williams

✓

Mrs. Calvin C. Hughes—Being co-owners of the oldest frame home still occupied in Michigan, the Lyle Nasons and our family sincerely hope you succeed in your efforts to preserve such a lovely monument of history to our community.

Few people realize until too late the historical value of such property.

The home we purchased was in a state of pitiful neglect. Built in 1827, used for a while as an inn, it now is divided in apartments. Basically it is in wonderful repair. Today it is not the basis of a petition by the neighborhood to have it demolished. We feel now they are proud to know it still stands.

Such care was taken to built it, we hope in the future to restore it. (Location, 411 E. Logan St.)

✓

Mrs. Dorothy M. Hovey — That the building fund of beloved St. Peter's will be most successful is my daily prayer. God bless all who are working to make it so.

✓

W. Sprague Holden, Chairman Wayne State Department of Journalism— In re my small contribution passed along at Ann Arbor. I hope you have more good fortune with the church than Detroiters who cared had with old City Hall.

Methodist Women Convene

Mrs. Robert Bonner and Mrs. Paul Hadsell returned to the city Monday from Minneapolis, where they attended the 21st annual meeting of the North Central Jurisdiction of the WSCS and the Deaconess Association.

They were representatives of the Ann Arbor District, attending with over 1,010 other Methodist women from 17 conferences.

In the final day a record pledge of $2,565,161 was made to the 1962-63 mission work of the Woman's Division, including a pledge of $196,800 by the Detroit Conference.

Dr. Tracey Jones Jr., associate general secretary of the division of world missions of the Methodist Church, said Thursday night that Christians of the Western World must have faith in the Christians of Red China.

The national Methodist mission leader declared, "Nothing is more revolutionary for the time into which we are moving than the stubbornness of the faith which trusts fellow Christians — This is the witness for the emerging world civilization."

Program features included a reception for 56 of the jurisdiction's missionaries and deaconnesses; daily devotions led by Minnesota's Bishop T. Otto Nall and a banquet of the World Federation of Methodist Women attended by the founder, Mrs. Thomas Nicholson.

WABJ Airs Homecoming Grid Game

WABJ will broadcast Friday's Homecoming battle between Tecumseh and Flat Rock.

A pre-game show at 7:10 will feature an interview with THS Coach Tom Fagan.

Half-time festivities, during which the Homecoming Queen is announced and winners of the float competition named, will also be aired.

Open House Will Honor Murray Days

An open house, to honor the 25th wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Murray Day, has been arranged for Sunday from 2 to 4 p.m. at the Day residence, 1301 W. Chicago Blvd.

Doris Fishlock and Murray Day were united in marriage Oct. 2, 1937 in Stony Creek, near Ypsilanti.

They are the parents of three daughters, Mrs. Frank McGlasson of Lafayette, Ind., Mrs. Gary Ahner of Tecumseh and Susan, a sophomore at Western Michigan University.

A son, David, passed away in 1961.

The open house has been planned by the children and his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Day.

Druggist Seeks 500

Top prizes include one boy's bicycle and one girl's bicycle.

Other awards will be a dual walkie talkie, portable radio, road race set, movie camera and six other items.

Mr. Lamb explains that complete details can be obtained at his store with entries due to close Oct. 20.

GERALD O. CHASE

Helicopter Mechanic Promoted

Gerald O. Chase, son of Mrs. Norma Cook of Tecumseh and Oliver Chase of Saline, was recently promoted from Airman Second Class to Airman First Class at Pease Air Force Base, N.H.

Airman Chase is assigned to Detachment 45, Eastern Air Rescue Service as a helicopter mechanic.

Mr. and Mrs. Ellis Honeycutt, 734 S. Union St., parents of Mrs. Chase, returned last weekend from a visit with the Chases in New Hampshire.

GRIDIRON HIGHLIGHTS

How long has it been since fans saw such terrific downfield blocking as the Tecumseh players constantly bowled over would-be Milan tacklers.

✓

Dave Lemerand, one of Tecumseh's brightest backfield stars, dropped a pass from Tim Sisson which could have gone all the way in the first period. However, three plays later, the stocky halfback reeled off 38 yards to set up Tecumseh's third touchdown.

✓

Jack Dicks' first varsity punt traveled all of seven yards, but the Indian lineman looked promising in practice before the game with several punts of 45 and 50 yards.

✓

Tim Sisson has fans buzzing with his quarter-backing, and with good reason. The senior QB has handled the pigskin and passed so well that his performances have been the best seen here in a long time.

✓

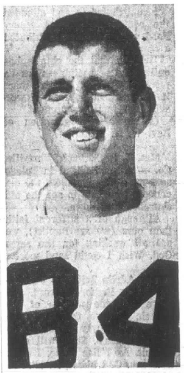
The defensive eleven called Apaches, stopped Milan cold and held the visitors scoreless except for the fluke safety just before the end of the game. Milan had averaged 18 points per game before being knocked out of the undefeated column.

✓

Milan made four of its first downs in the final quarter when the Indians had the ball for only three plays from scrimmage and scored.

✓

In rushing, Sisson averaged 8.1 yards per carry; Greene, 4.2, Johnson, 1.5; Lemerand, 17; Rosacrans, 9; and Oberlin 6.



Jerry Forsyth, husky Tecumseh defensive senior end, doesn't usually have much chance for glory, but in the third period against Milan Jerry found himself in the spotlight. When a Big Red ball carrier was hit hard and fumbled, the ball squirted into the air and Jerry promptly grabbed it and ran from midfield to the Milan 10 before being pulled down.

WSCS Agrees To Assist Annual Drive

WSCS of the Methodist Church voted Oct. 3 to help sponsor this year's UNICEF drive.

Mrs. Edward Beal presided, and devotions were led by Mrs. Luther Wood. Mrs. Edna Wilcox presented a program on "New Frontiers in Home Missions."

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Rose Service, Mrs. Donald Long and Vera Gilbert.

Nazarene Church 'Singspiration' Set for Saturday

The Rev. Herbert Nation announces a "Singspiration" at the Church of the Nazarene, 807 Sunset St., Saturday night, beginning at 7:30 p.m.

The "Family Four" will vocalize and lead the congregation in singing.

"Everyone is invited to attend," states the Rev. Mr. Nation.

Teen-Age Musicians Organized

The Tecumseh Music Makers organized a new club Sunday at the home of Mrs. James E. Danforth. The purpose of the club is to encourage junior and senior high school students to further their interest in music.

The 28 members who were present enjoyed a talk given by Mrs. A. V. Smith, state junior extension chairman.

The election of officers was held:

President — Dexter Bailey

First vice-president — Terry Haughn

Second vice-president — Ann Marks

Secretary-treasurer — Diane Ries

Corresponding secretary — Linda Gilbert

Historian — Fawn Choske

The Music Makers' counselors are Mrs. Danforth and Mrs. Orrie Gilbert, who served refreshments after the meeting.

The next meeting will be Nov. 4 at 2:30 p.m. at the home of Mrs. Gilbert at 710 Wenonah.

An installation of officers will be conducted by Mrs. Paul Brantingham.

Kitchen Shower Staged by LCW for Parish House

Twenty-six ladies attended the meeting of the LCW of the Gloria Dei Lutheran Church Monday evening when a kitchen shower for the parish house was held.

During the business session, Mrs. James Tonneberger was chosen as delegate to the LCW convention at Bethlehem Church in Detroit, Oct. 23-24.

Mrs. Burton Wright will be alternate delegate.

The evening was spent by members making Sunshine Bags for the Lutheran Social Service.

Mrs. William Macbeth and Mrs. Stanley Rentschler served refreshments.

Observe Birthday

Mr. and Mrs. Donald Escott and Mr. and Mrs. Paul Escott enjoyed dinner in Jackson recently. The occasion was in honor of Donald Escott's birthday.

FUN AT FARADAY—Hundreds of area residents toured the new Faraday, Inc. facilities on S. Maumee St. Sunday, including these two cousins, Bobby Stevenson, 13 of Wyandotte and Margaret Woods, 10 of Blissfield. They're looking at a relay for a Western Electric extension trouble system. After brisk turns around the 84,000-square-foot structure, visitors munched on cake and donuts, drank cider and coffee.

Baptist Youths Get Awards

Richard Packard and Camilla Rickard were recognized in services at the First Baptist Church Sept. 30 when attendance awards were presented.

Richard has completed seven years and ten weeks of perfect attendance through three departments, beginners, kindergarten and primary.

Camilla had missed only five or six Sundays in seven and one half years of attendance in the same three departments.

Bibles were given to students of Primary III graduating into the Junior Department. The Rev. B. O. Bashore assisted by Robert Gillespie, chairman of the Board of Deacons, presented them to:

Richard Packard
Guy Manwaring
Camilla Rickard
Sue Curran
Ruth Lavender
Luann Hand
Marcy Gove
Mary Burkhard
Laura Halberstadt
Gary Gove
Irene Dauber
Robert Brooks
Kathy Laslo

The students earned their Bibles by attendance, memory work, book work and participation in church school activities.

Their teachers have been Brian Packard and Mrs. Francis Packard, assisted by Brynn Packard.

Indians Crush Big Reds

By JIM LINCOLN

A Tecumseh blitz in the first quarter all but ran a visiting Milan team off the field last Friday night, as the Indians shellacked the Big Reds, 38-2.

The somewhat easy victory was good medicine for Coach Tom Fagan's gridders, who now top the Huron League with Blissfield at three wins apiece, and puts the Indians in position to meet Blissfield in a showdown for the league title.

This Friday night's homecoming game with Flat Rock probably will lack the excitement of the Milan game, but the extras which prevail at homecoming games should make up for it.

Flat Rock is winless in four games and should prove no match for Tecumseh — unless there's a wet field or the Indians get too overconfident.

Milan never got going in its first loss of the season, despite scoring a disputed two points on a safety late in the fourth period.

After the first 12 minutes of play, the Big Reds found themselves 19 points behind, and at the half, the difference was hiked to 32 points.

☆

MAGNIFICENT blocking and tackling sparked the Indians, who tallied with the game less than two minutes old.

Following the opening kickoff, Tecumseh scored in five plays. Dave Lemerand picked up two yards to the Indians' 38. Quarterback Tim Sisson bootlegged the ball 18 yards to Milan's 44. Sisson on another keeper barreled to the one.

On the ensuing play, fullback Dan Greene, trapped at the eight-yard line by three Milan tacklers, broke loose for the TD. A penalty ruined Jim Johnson' run for the extra point, and a pass from the seven was incomplete.

After Milan took the following kickoff and was unable to move, the Big Reds punted to Sisson on Tecumseh's 32. The Indian's quarterback handed off to Green who scooted 51 yards to Milan's 17.

Dave Lemerand then turned left end for 11 yards to the six. Greene punched to the one. Where Sisson sneaked over. The Indians had their second TD and the first quarter was still less than half over.

☆

FOR THE second time in the initial period, Milan took the kickoff, ran three plays and then punted.

This time, it took the Indians just seven plays to score, driving 58 yards to paydirt before the quarter ended.

After Lemerand n ithe clear dropped Sisson's pass, Greene and the Tecumseh quarterback alternated for a first down on Milan's 46. Here, on a double reverse, Lemerand ran 38 yards behind terrific blocking to Milan's eight.

On the third play, Sisson pitched out to Greene, who scored from the three without being touched. Johnson ran for the extra point.

Milan found the Apaches, Tecumseh defensive unit, even tougher on the next series of plays, losing 16 yards to its 15 before being forced to punt.

Lemerand took the punt and handed off to Sisson, who romped 38 yards to Milan's 10. Blessed with an Indian penalty after Johnson drove to the Milan one on the first play, the Big Reds held and took over on their 28 following a fourth-down fumble by Sisson.

☆

ALTHOUGH the visitors moved for their only first down in the half, Milan finally punted to its 47, where Tecumseh roared off again for its fourth touchdown.

After two plays netted just three yards, Sisson tossed a screen pass to Greene, who rambled 25 yards to Milan's 19. Sisson on the next play, a keeper around right end, scored standing up.

Milan, now trailing 25-0, took to the air and on the first play, Greene intercepted on the Big Reds' 42. Seven plays later, including two passes to end Norm Tucker, Greene bulled over from the two.

Johnson, top Indian scorer who tallied in the third period on a pass from Sisson, boosted the half-time Tecumseh lead to 32-0 by running the extra point.

☆

THE FACT that Milan was completely outclassed not only showed on the gridiron, but also in the statistics.

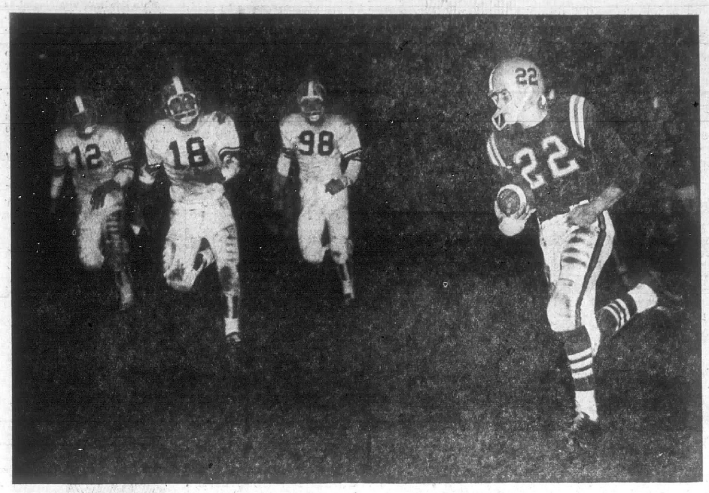
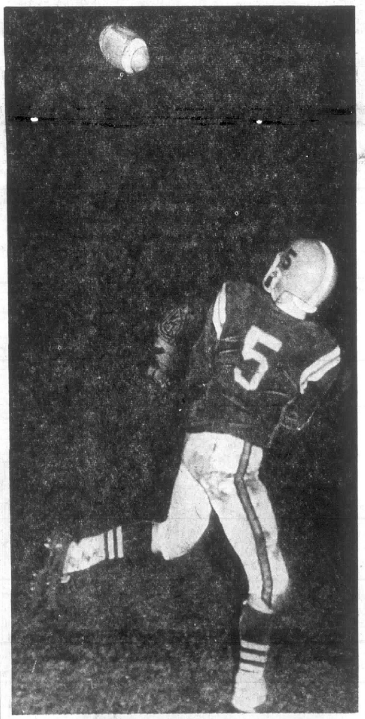
Say You Saw It in The Herald



OFF AND ROLLING—Tecumseh Halfback Dave Lemerand, who is enjoying a fine year, turns on the steam to outdistance a trio of Milan would-be tacklers, John Broadhurst (12), Terry Trail (18) and Randy Baisch (98). Dave and his mates played their best game of the season to date against the Big Red.

BLOCKING WAS GREAT—One of the major reasons Tecumseh was so superior to Milan was downfield blocking, like this perfect pickoff by Phil Radant, a senior tackle, who knocks down a Big Red. THS tackling was also sharp and crisp.



ANOTHER SCORE FOR JIM—Late in the battle, Tim Sisson corked a long throw to one of his favorite targets, Jim Johnson, who hauled in the pigskin as he stepped into the end zone with Tecumseh's final tally.

NEWS of Britton

Mary Martha Circle Holds Noon Luncheon Before Business Session

BRITTON — The Mary Martha Circle of the Congregational Christian Church met last Wednesday at the home of Mrs. Lee Keeling for a noon luncheon and business meeting.

Mrs. Ned Brown and Mrs. Gerald Benedict assisted the hostess in serving 11 members and one guest.

Roll call was answered by "Name the Prophets."

Members were reminded of the church Cafeteria Supper and Christmas Bazaar, Thursday, Nov. 29. The Mary Martha Circle will serve on the dining room committee.

They will also have charge of the December Fellowship meeting at the church.

Mrs. Don Judd and Mrs. Don Mueller are program chairmen and Mrs. Loren Dicks will give the devotions.

Mrs. Gerald Benedict, Mrs. Elwood Tucker and Mrs. Dicks were appointed for the kitchen committee.

Mrs. Alfred Spohr gave the devotion on "Incline Your Ear and Come Unto Me."

Mrs. Roger Gillespie read "The Nightingale of the Psalms."

Kids Drink 12,781 Half Pints Milk

BRITTON — Mrs. Forrest Barrett, cafeteria manager, reports that a total of 6382 school lunches were served during the month of September, making an average of 370 daily.

In the same period a total of 12,781 half-pints of milk were served.

Comedy Will Be Offered by Seniors

BRITTON — "Quit Your Kidding," a three-act comedy by Felicia Metcalfe, was chosen as the senior play.

A committee set up by class members and their director, Alfrava Latham, selected the play.

The books arrived last Tuesday and tryouts were held Wednesday evening.

Miss Latham was assisted in selecting the cast of seven girls and five boys by Mrs. Marilyn Preston, Mrs. Dorothy Long and Robert Miller.

The cast includes Suzie Rowlands, Diane Bailey, Tom Komon, Connie Godzina, Fred McCrate, Yvonne Osterhout, Sandy Beal, Larry Dicks, Keith Steele, Joe Prochaska, Jan Ehlert and Judy McClue.

The play will be presented on Thursday, Nov. 15 and Friday, Nov 16 in the auditorium of the Britton-Macon School.

'Reformation Heritage' Is Circle Program

BRITTON — The October meeting of the Sarah Circle of the Emmanuel Lutheran Church, was last Thursday evening at the home of Mrs. Otto Miller.

Devotions were led by the hostess. A program on "Our Reformation Heritage" was presented by Mrs. Miller. Mrs. Gaylon Furgason conducted the business meeting.

Projects were discussed for the coming year.

A contribution was sent to Bethesda for their building program. It was decided to repair, some of the hymnals.

The remainder of the evening was spent making bed pads for the Old Folks Home at Monroe and making slippers for Bethesda for Christmas.

Mrs. Lee Spohr Reports on Trip to Sunshine Circle

BRITTON — Last Wednesday evening, the Sunshine Circle of the Congregational Christian Church met at the home of Mrs. Earl Taylor's home.

Mrs. Mae Willis presided at the meeting and Mrs. Earl Murphy was co-hostess.

Mrs. Lee Spohr gave a talk on the tour through the central states taken by Mr. and Mrs. Spohr in February.

'Holiday Open House' Duties Are Assigned

guests attended the meeting which was conducted by the chairman Mrs. Ronald Maschino.

The group also discussed two tours which they will take in Adrian in the near future.

They also made plans to attend the United Nations Day Program, which will be held in Dawson Auditorium at Adrian College on Monday, Oct. 22 at 8 p.m.

James J. Wadsworth will be the guest speaker.

Mrs. Charles Seegert was welcomed as a new member.

The club will meet Tuesday, Nov. 6 at the home of Mrs. Robert Bush.

The lesson will be "Expressing Yourself with Words." Members are to bring materials for wall plaques.

Women Sew for Children at Bethesda

BRITTON — The Esther Circle of Emmanuel Lutheran Church met last Thursday evening at the home of Mrs. Wesley Gilmore.

Roll call was answered with a Bible passage. Devotions were given by the hostess.

The Lutheran Children's Friends annual convention and luncheon will be held at St. Paul's Lutheran Church in Ann Arbor, beginning at 10 a.m.

The rest of the evening was spent sewing for children at Bethesda.

The next meeting of the Esther Circle will be at the home of Mrs. Charles Hagans.

Extra Points Win Game

SAND CREEK—Joe Hemphill scored twice and Fred McCrate ran for the extra points as Britton-Macon nipped Sand Creek, 14-12, Friday.

This was the first Tory win against two defeats. The club goes to Ida for this week's 7:30 kickoff.

In total yardage, Sand Creek outgained Britton, 246 to 217, but McCrate's extra points proved the big item of the evening.

Hand Craft Items Are Displayed

BRITTON — Mrs. Harold Osterhout served a noon luncheon last Wednesday to members of the Priscilla Circle of the Congregational Christian Church.

She was assisted by two of her daughters and Mrs. James Squires.

Devotions and the program, led by Mrs. Charles Patterson, were centered on Priscilla of the Bible.

A report of the Central Michigan Congregational Association was given by Mrs. Gustav Hanevik.

Handcraft articles were displayed.

High School Is Busy Place

Within the past few weeks the activities at Britton have been getting into full swing. Here are a few items from the past weeks of activity.

Things were started by the election of class officers and their Student Council representatives.

The senior class chose:

Fred McCrate — president
Joe Prochaska — vice president
Yvonne Osterhout — treasurer
Sandy Beal — secretary
Judy McClue and Larry Dicks — Student Council.

Mrs. Dorothy Long and Robert Miller are their advisors.

Phil Benedict was elected president.

Other officers:

Marilyn Korican — vice president
Milton Naugle — secretary
Becky Ramage — treasurer.

For the sophomores:

Walter Korican — president
Jim Conrad — vice-president
David Prill — secretary
Mary Ann Komon — treasurer

Sharon Mann and Harry Graham are the representatives.

Ronald Fritch and Kenneth Limberg are the advisors.

The advisors for the freshman class are Vern Neidlinger and Mrs. Sharon Brittain. Joanne Check and Bill Prochaska are the freshmen representatives.

Karen Ivan was elected president.

Others are:

Jack Brown — vice-president
Sherry Squires — secretary
Keith Auten — treasurer.

☆

ANOTHER important election was the election of the Student Council officers.

They are selected by the student body from four junior and four senior candidates.

The offices were filled by the senior candidates.

Tom Komon was elected as the president, Russ Cadmus as the vice-president, Janice Ehlert as secretary, and Diane Bailey as treasurer.

The new principal, William Hettrick, is the advisor for the representative body.

The Council will meet every other Thursday during fourth hour in the ag room.

At last week's meeting the "Seasons of the Year" was chosen as the theme for the Homecoming.

It was also decided that the Varsity Club will be allowed to sell candy to earn money for a camera and that the Girls Athletic Club will be able to sell sweatshirts as a money project.

They made plans for sponsoring the Homecoming Dance on Friday, October 26.

Other plans were made for the dates of the next class meetings and the dates when the classes will begin their floats.

☆

Suzie Rowlands was elected as president, Jan Ehlert as secretary, and Judy Rohrback as treasurer.

A rules committee was set up to make some regulations for the club.

Another committee was appointed to look into available information on selling sweatshirts after the group decided on the project.

Mrs. John Korican and Nancy Pippett are the advisors.

FFA Sponsors Field Day

Thursday, Oct. 18 is the date set for Tractor Field Day sponsored by the Britton Future Farmers of America.

The boys hope to interest more people in tractor pulling and plowing with a full day of fun and events for young and old.

A barbecue chicken dinner will be served at noon at the Kitty Kurtis Farm, two miles east of Tecumseh on M-50 where the events will begin at 8:30 in the morning.

Prizes of $15, $10 and $5 will be given in three classes for tractor pulling according to weight.

Prizes of the same amounts as above will be given to winners in both junior and open classes of a plowing contest.

Fred McCrate is the general chairman. Russ Lutton is plowing chairman, assisted by Lee Wagner and Al Ross.

Contestants must pre-register by Oct. 15.

Foundation Seeking $1,700 in Campaign

BRITTON — Charles H. Chaskes, director of public relations for the United Fund, will be guest speaker Tuesday, Oct. 16 at the Britton-Macon Community Fund Foundation meeting.

The meeting which will be held at the L and M Restaurant at 7:30 p.m. will precede the "Kick-Off Drive for 1963."

Persons desiring to help with the drive and who have not been contacted are urged to attend and lessen the burden for those who make the door to door canvass each year.

The goal for the 1963 drive has been set for $1,700 which is an increase of $200 over last year's budget.

Mom, Daughter Head for Scotland and Lieut. Pape

BRITTON — Mrs. Harry Pape and infant daughter, Nancy, left Monday from Metropolitan Airport for London, England.

From there they will go to Glasgow, Scotland where they will meet Lt. Harry Pape, who will see his daughter for the first time.

They will make their home at Dunoon, Scotland where Lt. Pape is stationed with the USS Proteus.

Mrs. Pape is the former Diana Seagert, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Seagert.

Sue Austin Is Guest of Honor at Birthday Party

BRITTON — Sue Austin was the honored guest at her 16th birthday party Saturday evening.

Thirty classmates and friends attended the party given by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Gail Austin, in their home on North Britton Highway.

The feature of the evening was a game called "Court Whisk."

Decorations were carried out in orange, brown and gold.

Barbara Gillespie assisted Mrs. Austin in serving refreshments.

GO JET-SMOOTH '63 CHEVROLET — IT'S EXCITING!

If all roads were superhighways, Chevrolet's remarkably smooth and silent ride might be just another luxury. But as most town and country roads will demonstrate, this is one Chevrolet advantage that's mighty easy to get excited about. (The way those four deep-coil springs put the kibosh on bumps, you'd almost think Chevrolet was working for the highway commission.) The new '63 Bel Airs, Biscaynes and Impalas are built to be equally easy going on upkeep. Brakes are self-adjusting. New Delcotron generator s-t-r-e-t-c-h-e-s battery life. Even the rocker panels on the Body by Fisher are self-washing and ventilating to cut down on rust. 'Silo Gas' Becomes More of Problem

Michigan farmers need to watch out for a danger known in the medical profession as "silo fillers disease."

Nitrogen dioxide—more commonly known as "silo gas" — is found in many silos during the fall filling season.

When inhaled, this gas can result in permanent damage to the oxygen exchanging cells of the lungs, according to Richard Pfister, agricultural safety engineer at Michigan State University.

Death may even result in extreme cases.

"Silo gas" seems to be much more of a serious problem today than it was 10 years ago, Mr. Pfister points out. The gas is more commonly found in silage made from corn produced on heavily fertilized organic soils, but can be found in most any silage.

Mr. Pfister measured the amounts of "silo gas"—with the aid of a gas mask—in more than 20 silos last fall during the silage-making season.

He found the nitrogen dioxide concentration in some silos was 20 times that which the human body can inhale without some damage to the lungs.

"Although silo gas should be a concern during the first two weeks after filling, I'm convinced that the first three days are the crucial period," says Mr. Pfister.

☆

SYMPTOMS OF nitrogen dioxide poisoning include coughing, weakness and a shortage of breath. The symptoms may leave after two or three days, but usually reappear in about three weeks, says Mr. Pfister.

Warning signs for noting the presence of the gas vary greatly. In many cases there may be no warning signs. An unusual odor, bleached corn or the presence of a brownish-yellow gas all spell danger.

Mr. Pfister advises farmers to operate their silo blower for 10-15 minutes before going into the silo or silo chute during the filling season.

Also, leave chute doors open at the silage level and if you have a silo room open the windows. This will allow the heavier-than-air "silo gas" to escape down the silo chute.

The large number of silos found in Lenawee County increases the danger of silo fillers disease reports John Comstock, Lenawee County Extension Director.

Parking Lights Illegal Now for Driving during Darkness

"Don't go roamin' in the gloamin' with your parking lights on," is the admonition of the State Safety Commission to fall and winter drivers. A law passed in 1961 specifies that when it is dark enough to turn on lights they must be the regular driving lights.

The dim and often obscure bulbs provided for parking lights do nothing for the motorist's own visual alertness and provide uncertain warning for other motorists and pedestrians alike.

The parking light is usually located closer to the dust and mud of the highway and the least likely to receive attention either from the driver or serviceman. The parking light is deliberately made low powered to conserve battery energy. This modest gleam, seen through layers of road grime in the twilight, frequently deceives the passing motorist or crossing pedestrian as to its distance and his percentage of making good on the next move.

Early evening bicycles are a special danger this time of year. Parents should insist that their children know elementary traffic laws before the bike is bought.

Most towns and cities have bicycle ordinances which require that bikes be licensed just like Dad's car. This is good because it helps son or daughter to regard it as a vehicle — which it is under state law.

Lights and reflectors are a must in twilight and dark. Unless it is necessary, cycling in the dark is a dubious activity. There is no armor around a cyclist or a pedestrian. In any contact with an automobile it is no secret who gets the biggest bump.

Scooting out of driveways and parking areas and free coasting on downhill streets are a sure way to head for trouble. Even in good daylight the pedaler must be alert to things on all sides, stay as far to the right as possible while still being wary of persons emerging from the driver's side of parked cars.

Motorists should be prepared for the hundreds of young two-wheelers who ride to and from school every day saving the taxpayers the cost of school buses and helping to keep physically fit.

But parents should also share the responsibility for seeing that their young charges know and obey the common rules for safety.

Wit Club Has New Leader

Mr. and Mrs. Wilfred Waldron were hosts for the Wit and Wisdom Club last week when the new president, Ralph Comfort, presided.

Mr. Waldron presented a program including a two-piano duet by Mrs. Fred Oberlin and Mrs. Waldron and another piano number by Mrs. Paul Brantingham and Mrs. Ashley Chase.

E. H. McConnell showed pictures of a recent trip west and some of the World's Fair.

A dessert was served to a good number of the membership attending.

THROUGH MY WINDOW

SUGAR COATING OF A BITTER PILL

When you read this our vacation will be about over. What a horrible thought! I hope we have been enjoying two weeks of bright, sunny days and a spectacular display of fall colors up north. October can be such a beautiful month.

Planning for our trip started me thinking how lovely fall is around here. Everywhere we look there is color. When Mother Nature collaborates with and directs the work of Jack Frost, Father Time and Ol' North Wind our window pictures are riots of vivid and exciting colors. The yellows usually come first, the elms, walnuts, birches and willows with, of course, a few maples.

Mornings we are treated to a thrilling sight. An ever later rising sun struggles to lift a sleepy head above Mrs. Mast's house and the tree tops are transformed into brilliant golden things. As Ol' Sol continues to climb, his magical rays slowly creep downward and finally the whole world is gold.

Sunsets can be even more spectacular. As the sun sinks, the back lighting gives the leaves a radiant illuminated quality and the creek is turned into a shimmering, glittering ribbon.

☆

THE ELM and walnut trees shed their leaves early and fast. Have you noticed how they spiral down in regular showers of gold? When the north wind starts making us shiver with the first serious cold blast of the year, the masses of red start. Now the maple trees really come into their own. Showing every hue and shade of red, theirs is the shocking beauty that can make us stop and catch our breath in amazement. Flaming red, brilliant scarlet and bright, bright orange shout for attention—each day the excitement of fall mounts.

Usually our wren tree is the last maple in the neighborhood to change color. All the others are proudly showing off, but this tree definantly clings to its summer coat of green. When finally the inevitable happens, Mother Nature outdoes herself and, almost overnight, the wren tree bursts into a flaming torch.

In our line of vision, the very last summer holdouts are the mulberry trees. Long after everything else has turned, their bright shiny green offers complimentary accents to the golds and reds of the neighboring leaves. At last, however, they too will give in to fall, but instead of adding to the nearby splendor, they merely shrivel into a lifeless yellow-brown.

☆

ALTHOUGH perhaps not as romantic as the idea of Mother Nature using a brush and palette to produce this annual fall display, the actual reasons for the chromatic change are interesting too. The leaves which turn yellow owe their old gold coloring to the color pigments creotene and zanthophyll. Always present in the leaves, they are, during the summer time, masked by an outer layer of chlorophyll.

Although cool weather does not affect the trees' consumption of chlorophyll, it does retard the production and thus, with more being used than is being manufactured, the green soon disappears and the leaves show yellow.

The red leaves owe their color to an entirely different process. All of the many, many shades of red are due, not to the subtraction of anything, but to the addition of pigments called anthocyarmins. Carried in the sap of the tree, these coloring materials are also, quite logically, called cell-sap pigments. Sunshine and cold weather combine with these anthocyanins and a few other lesser known substances, to produce the most spectacular in autumn's color extravaganza.

So it is that our beautiful fall is something to look forward to. It's a wonderful time of year but winter comes next and I always have the nagging suspicion that Mother Nature uses her pretty third season as a bribe, the sugar coating of a bitter pill.

MR. AND MRS. JOHN KOPKA

John Kopkas Will Be Feted on 25th Anniversary Sunday from 2 until 5

An open house honoring the 25th anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. John Kopka will be held Sunday, Oct. 14, from 2 to 5 p.m. at their home, 111 W. Pottawatamie St.

Arrangements for the event were made by Mrs. Kopka's sisters, Mrs. Opal Brady and Mrs. Golda Updyke, for relatives, friends and neighbors of the couple Florence Beevers Mackey and George W. Kopka were married Oct 13, 1937 at the home Mr. and Mrs. William Hones by the Rev. Eugene Allen.

They have lived in the Tecumseh area all of their lives.

The Kopkas are the parents of four children, Mrs. Joseph Baker and Mrs. Kenneth Nichols, both of Kalamazoo; Richard E. Mackey of Vicksburg and Glenn E. Mackey of Goebles, Mich.

They have 21 grandchildren.

NEWCOMERS

Who Have Moved to Tecumseh

Phillip Wickey is a new salesman in Tecumseh for Standard Oil Co. He and his wife, Arlene and two children, Linda Jeanne, 2; and Brenda Lee, four months; moved to the city recently from Allegan.

The Wickey family change their place of residence often since Mr. Wickey has his office in his home and covers 15 towns in the area for his company.

Mrs. Wickey was especially pleased when the Welcome Wagon hostess, Mrs. William Damon, called on her because she didn't realize that Tecumseh would have this service.

Having been the happy recipient of a welcome wagon visit on two previous occasions, she was glad to delay the unpacking for a chat with Mrs. Damon.

Judith Sherwood, 114½ N. Pearl St., is a newcomer this fall from Adrian.

She teaches second grade at the Tecumseh Acres School, having graduated from Adrian College last year.

Miss Sherwood comes from a family of instructors. Her mother teaches junior high classes in Adrian and her brother, Jim will graduate next spring, hoping to teach in the fall of 1963.

Spray Weeds in Fall

Control weeds this fall, and let Old Man Winter lend a helping hand.

John Comstock, Lenawee County extension director, and farm crops specialists at Michigan State University report that farmers can control quack grass by spraying before mid-October.

Yellow rocket and broad-leaved winter annuals can be killed by spraying after one or two good frosts.

The specialists, William F. Meggitt and Milton H. Erdmann, recommended 15 pounds of dalapon per acre to control quackgrass. On corn fields, two pounds of amitrole-T or four pounds of atrazine will do the job. Each of these chemicals should be mixed with 30-40 gallons of water per acre and sprayed when the quackgrass is 4 to 8 inches tall.

If possible, farmers should fall plow 7 to 10 days after spraying with dalapon or amitrole-T. However, plowing can be eliminated if freezing weather arrives shortly after spraying.

St. Elizabeth NEWSETTES

Sister Maureen Therese, OP, was pleasantly surprised on Wednesday morning with roses, prayers and best wishes from the St. Elizabeth students on the occasion of her feast day.

The fourth graders presented her with an autumn tree of brightly colored leaves on which they wrote their greetings.

The student body presented Sister with a Spiritual bouquet of prayers and had the Holy Sacrifice of the Mass offered for her intentions.

The St. Elizabeth gym echoed with cheers and the school song on Friday afternoon. It was the first pep-rally of the season. The football team must have been impressed because we won the game at Britton that night by a score of 37-0.

Careless Smoking Habits Are Major Cause of Fires

This week's annual observance of National Fire Prevention Week is aimed, in Michigan, at control of a peril which last year took 235 lives and which causes annual econimic loss of approximately $50,000,000.

As it does in other areas of safety effort, Michigan has an excellent program of fire prevention and fire fighting activities. But, as in all safety fields, the results leave much to be desired.

During the past five years, the annual economic loss of approximated from a low of $47 million to a high of $53 million.

☆

PROGRESS IN both prevention and control has been greatest in business and industrial establishments and public buildings, where organized and supervised fire programs can be used.

Nearly one-third of all fires, and about 40% of the fire loss, take place in dwellings, where fire prevention depends upon the knowledge of hazards and their control by the individual family.

Carelessness in smoking and in the use of matches and open fires continues to be a major cause of fire loss, closely followed by careless use or maintenance of heating and electrical equipment.

Throughtout the year, these hazards are the continuous target of a comprehensive effort in both education and technical programs conducted by the insurance industry.

The fire prevention aspects of insurance are reflected in the standards for fire departments, fire fighting equipment, municipal water systems and building construction which have resulted from the insurance industry's engineering studies.

Standards for heating, electrical and other equipment, established by the insurance-sponsored Underwriters Laboratories, has also helped.

SOLD OUT!

That's what we found ourselves saying following the tremendous three-day showing of the fabulous new Pontiac and Tempest last week.

We sold all eight new models shipped to our agency for the first weekend showing. But don't worry, there will be more, in fact if you missed the opening, come on up and we'll get out the red carpet and let you test drive a '63 Pontiac or Tempest.

START PULLETS OFF RIGHT. Once a flock has developed a habit of laying on the floor it is difficult to correct the situation. Many poultrymen report fewer initial floor eggs if they house pullets late—between 16% and 20% production. The idea is that the pullets go directly to the nests instead of a dark corner to lay. Use artificial eggs to attract pullets to the nest. Don't overcrowd birds. Locate nests near the floor and space nests so birds won't have a long distance to travel.

SOYBEAN PRICE MOVEMENT will fare a little better than last year, but prices won't "run away" as they did two years ago. The price basis is the $2.25 per bushel average loan rate. The government resale price of 10c per bushel over the No. 2 loan will, in effect, put a ceiling on prices. If you have farm storage available, use it. Prices probably won't go much over your county loan rate plus 19c, but they should move up enough for your net return to equal gross loan level.

FEED COSTS make up about three-fourths of the cost of growing hogs to market weight. It is here that the greatest opportunity lies in reducing costs. You can cut feeding costs by adjusting protein content in the ration according to the weight of hogs fed. From weaning to 75 pounds, feed between 14% and 18% protein; 75 to 150 pounds, reduce protein to around 12%, or 14%. From 150 pounds to market weight the hogs will need only 10% to 12%.

IT'S TIME AGAIN to make farm rental agreements for next year. Under the present high capital requirements of modern agriculture, many farmers are revamping their agreements to suit changing farm conditions. In a fair agreement the landowner and tenant divide the income in the same proportion as their costs, including labor.

Cowcutta Sale Has Odd Twist

One of the most unique cattle sales ever to be held in Michigan is scheduled for Saturday, Oct. 20 at the Wolverine Sales Pavillion in Williamston, starting at noon.

Actually this will be two sales of purebred Angus cattle, including everything from blue ribbon winners at the recent State Fair to cows with future prize-winning calves at side.

The first part of this double-barrelled event will be the fifth Annual Michigan Motorland Cowcutta sale, featuring purebred Angus from some of the largest herds in the state.

It always causes quite a stir amongst cattle breeders as a mystery judge is brought in after the cattle have been sold at auction. Then without knowing what the animals sold for, he picks out what he considers to be the six best animals.

The original owners and the buyers then share a $560 pool offered for the top cattle.

Club Tells of Dreams

Mrs. Raymond Bird was hostess for members of the Northeast Tecumseh Extension Club last week.

Mrs. Wilbur Boyce demonstrated the making of a plastic purse trimmed with foam.

Program plans for the year were completed.

Members answered the roll call by relating dreams that they have had and a discussion of dream analysis followed.

Terror seemed to be the most common emotion in the dreams, with several telling about always trying to reach a special destination and never quite making it. Others found themselves in high places or in danger of fire.

Harold Covell of Clinton called on Mrs. Byron Covell Saturday. Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Frayer of Deerfield were Sunday afternoon guests.

Bike Riders Have 'Rights and Duties'

Bicycles hum over city streets these days and it's appropriate we run the "rights and duties" of cyclists as set down by Council.

DRIVER REGULATIONS APPLICABLE—Every person riding a bicycle upon a roadway shall be granted all of the rights and shall be subject to all of the duties applicable to the driver of a vehicle under this ordinance except as to those provisions which by their nature can have no application. Where such person dismounts from the bicycle he shall be subject to the regulations applicable to pedestrians.

NUMBER AND MANNER OF CARRYING PERSONS—

A—A person propelling a bicycle shall not ride other than upon or astride a permanent and regular seat attached thereto.

B—No bicycle shall be used to carry more persons at one time than the number for which it is designed and equipped.

OPERATION AT RIGHT OF ROADWAY, SPECIAL PATHS—

A—Every person operating a bicycle upon a roadway shall ride as near to the right side of the roadway as practicable, exercising due care when passing a standing vehicle or one proceeding in the same direction.

B—Persons riding bicycles upon a roadway shall not ride more than two abreast except on paths or parts of roadway set aside for exclusive use of such vehicles.

C—Wherever usable paths for bicycles have been provided adjacent to a roadway, bicycle riders shall use such paths and shall not use the roadway.

SPEED—No person shall operate a bicycle at a speed greater than is reasonable and prudent under the conditions then existing.

CONTROL—The hands of the operator shall be on the handle bars at all times except when he is in the act of signaling.

PARKING—No person shall stand or park a bicycle upon a street other than upon the roadway against the curb, or upon the sidewalk, in a rack to support the bicycle, or against a building, or at the curb, in such a manner as to afford the least obstruction to pedestrian traffic.

RIDING ON SIDEWALKS—

A—No person shall ride a bicycle upon a sidewalk within a business district.

B—When signs are erected on any sidewalk or street which prohibit the riding of bicycles thereon by any person, no person shall disobey such signs.

C—Whenever any person is riding a bicycle upon a sidewalk, such person shall yield the right of way to any pedestrian and shall give audible signal before overtaking and passing such pedestrian.

LIGHTS, BELLS, BRAKES—

A—Every bicycle when in use at night time shall be equipped with a lamp on the front which shall emit a white light visible from a distance of at least 500 feet to the front and with a red reflector on the rear which shall be visible from all distances from 50 feet to 300 feet to the rear when directly in front of lawful upper beams of head lamps on a motor vehicle. A lamp emitting a red light visible from a distance of 500 feet to the rear may be used in addition to the red reflector.

B—No person shall operate a bicycle unless it is equipped with a bell or other device capable of giving a signal audible for a distance of at least 100 feet, except that such vehicle shall not be equipped with nor shall any person use upon such vehicle any siren or whistle.

C—Every bicycle shall be equipped with a brake which will enable the operator to make the braked wheels skid on dry, level, clean pavement.

We'll Miss Ned

Many knew him as one of Tecumseh's biggest and most successful businessmen. Others as a fishing or hunting companion. Many, many others knew him as a friend.

Ned Baldwin was all of these and more. After approximately 38 years on Tecumseh's main street, he probably had more friends and knew more people in this community and area than anyone else.

Last week's death of this Tecumseh merchant left not only a sorrowful vacancy in his family, but one with his fellow merchants and friends.

Not only was he a fine husband and father, he was also a pillar among the business men, and one who had given his service generously to the community.

The community has lost one of its finest citizens. We'll miss Ned Baldwin.

Sen. Hart Cites Project

LETTERS ST PETERS

Two communications regarding the "Save Historic St. Peter's" campaigns are of significant interest.

One contains remarks made by Sen. Philip A. Hart, which were entered in the Congressional Record of Oct. 5. The other comes from Jeanne Hewitt Keith, who owns Historic Walker Tavern.

☆

SEN. HART commented:

"The citizens of Tecumseh, Michigan—a pleasant, leafy city in the southern part of the state — are engaged in a vigorous campaign to restore and preserve a lovely church that has been in the community for 129 years.

"This is another symptom, I think, of the nation's growing awareness of its history. As we mature, I think we'll continue to attach more and more importance to these links with our past.

"Too often in previous years, our communities have tended to be impatient with their earliest structures, even embarrassed about them.

"But Tecumseh realizes that old St. Peter's Church has many lessons to teach about the beginnings of the town. I think this is a commendable project. I have personally contributed to it.

"Clearly this is the sort of project that should be encouraged in every community in the nation."

☆

FROM MISS KEITH came these observations:

To The Editors
The Tecumseh Herald
Tecumseh, Michigan
Dear Sirs:

"In response to your appeal for funds to save St. Peter's Church for a Historical Preservation I am happy to send you $50 from Historic Walker Tavern for this project.

"I realize the enormous effort you people working on this project are making.

"Historic Walker Tavern Museum has been entirely maintained open to the public as a historical preservation for 40 years on the income from admissions to this building. In view of this fact we are certain that St. Peter's Museum could, once established, also be sustaining.

"Your historical preservation at Tecumseh would draw thousands of interested persons to Tecumseh thus bringing much business into the comunity for motels, restaurants, gas stations and stores.

"We at Walker Tavern Museum shall be pleased to send you many visitors. Tourists in our area want TO SEE EVERYTHING: The 14 miles from Tecumseh to Cambridge Junction on M-50 could become a famous sight-seeing stretch.

"First, your Tecumseh Museum, then beautiful Hidden Lakes Gardens, Frontier City, St. Michael's 1854 Episcopal Church, then Historic Walker Tavern.

"The Irish Hills Tourist Association also finds many persons interested in driving past your beautiful old homes on Chicago Blvd."

Other Letters

Ernestine Galatian Sapp, Philadelphia, Pa.—A few days ago I received a clipping of the work you and others are doing to try to save St. Peter's Church. As my great-grandfather was really the founder of the church, I am sending a contribution from my two daughters, a friend of theirs and myself. I hope you succeed in your project. My great-grandfather was Dr. Peter P. Calatian. He and his wife's pictures did hang in the vestry room at the time of the 100th anniversary.

Dr. Galatian was a lay reader in the Episcopal Church and always read the services to his family. One Sunday the lawyer in the town came to get medicine for his wife and stayed thru the balance of the service. His wife was an Episcoplian and had missed the services and he asked if she might come the next Sunday. Of course grandfather said yes. With that others began to come and the house was too small. They moved to the lawyer's office, then the school house. Then the church was built.

Rev. Lyster later went to Ireland and before leaving gave my grandfather his prayer book. I still have the book.

We hope you make the goal. Several years ago we gave a memorial from our family toward the organ in the church. I would be interested to know how successful you are.

✓

Mrs. Dagmar Ritma, Muskegon—Hope some day to be able to come and see the church. We need more historical places in Michigan. Best of luck in your project.

✓

St. Peter's Church, Hillsdale—The rector, wardens and vestry send along this check as a helping hand toward the preservation of its old namesake and a neighborly gesture on this historical project.

✓

Otis Day, Lapeer — I stayed in Tecumseh when we were paving M-50 back in the 30's. My opinion is that it is the most beautiful town in Michigan and also most historic. The best of luck in your drive. Keep the same as it was.

✓

Mrs. John VanderMolen, Martin—I am a member of the Martin Methodist Church, but have a tender spot for a church as old as St. Peter's. I surely hope you can save the church.

✓

Geraldine Yates, Los Angeles, Calif.—I was at one time a member of St. Peter's church and very happy it will be restored as a museum piece. My best wishes for your success.

School Report Has 50 Pages, Many Facts

(Editor's note: This is the first in a series of articles regarding the recent Citizen's Committee report.)

By MARJORIE COMFORT

A 50-page report on Tecumseh's schools has been published.

Although it compliments the administration on several facets of the school operation, it shows that a large number of district residents are definitely unhappy with the way their schools are run.

The report came after months of study by a large group of men and women who were nominated for the study by various local organizations.

Despite the work done, this is only a preliminary report. It was given to the school board with a request that the board study it, and recommend any further investigations needed or other areas of study to take.

Five committees reported on such areas as school buildings, teacher qualifications, bus transportation and finances.

Perhaps of greatest import is the report of a survey on what district residents think about their schools.

Where the remainder of the reports were based on thorough study and concrete facts, the survey was based on the personal feeling of approximately 400 parents and taxpayers.

Conducted with the help of University of Michigan researchers and tabulating machines, the survey was taken on the most unbiased method the committee could discover.

Five hundred questionnaires were sent out. The committee took every 11th name from the list of school voters registered. Since the voter lists sent to the schools by township clerks weren't up to date, many names had to be eliminated because the voter had moved or died.

☆

ANOTHER random sample of every—11th name, starting with the fifth name, was compiled, and the list used to fill the vacancies.

The complete list was checked, to make sure that any one community didn't have an unbalanced representation, in comparison to the number of total residents.

Volunteers from various PTA groups were instructed on how to present the survey in an unbiased manner before they delivered the questionnaires personally to every home on the list.

Of the 500 sent out, 419 questionnaires were returned. Ten of these returned too late to be included in the machine tabulation, or were returned unmarked. These were not counted.

The written remarks included were tabulated by committee members.

Several PTA's and service organizations contributed funds to help pay for the university's work in the survey.

The survey tells what those questioned think about the school board, the superintendent, teachers and the buildings. It tells about the parents' relationships with their children's schooling.

What citizens think of the schools

Long AND Short

By TOM RIORDAN

When you slip that smiling fellow two-bits to park your car at Tecumseh home football games, you're aiding the town Sports Boosters.

nearly a dozen Boosters give up their early Friday evenings to perform the task of parking cars.

They use a portion of the athletic field, plus other areas around the front of the high school.

Their immediate goal is to finish paving for the press box. When completed, it will contain a refreshment booth and rest rooms, in addition to game viewing facilities for newsmen, radio, motion pictures and public address folks.

This project — done at no charge to the taxpayers or school board— will run $4,000.

To date, the Boosters have been able to pay for about half of it. Parking is proving a big factor in shooting out payments for some of the balance of materials.

It's a wonderful undertaking and the Boosters should be given lavish praise for their jobs.

School Board President Aden Mead says the board applauds the work of the Boosters and is "anxious to see the press box completed. I'm glad to see the Boosters going ahead with this."

So park your car right next to the gridiron and forget the long walk. The 25c fee will help the local sports program.

☆

It would seem that tiny St. Mary's School in Adrian spares no expense in bringing half-time entertainment to folks who watch the Junior Irish perform.

At Sunday's battle with St. Elizabeth of Tecumseh, three sail planes soared over the gridiron for nearly the entire intermission between halves.

Made a swell show.

☆

So much is going on around Tecumseh these days, it would seem The Herald should hire a half dozen more reporters just to keep abreast.

Our newly-formed Area Redevelopment program is being joined by one which may bring a real boom to Tecumseh in the form of added water recreation areas and improvement of the town's two ponds.

St. Peter's new church is fast approaching completion.

The Indian football team is keeping fans breathless.

Wonderful hours of pleasure beckon from the spacious new library.

Through it all, Indian summer is doing a great job of making us stare out the windows at the beautiful sunshine slicing through the multi-colored leaves.

Did you realize that as Tecumseh area folks we are living in one of Michigan's most picturesque regions?

Merchants Seek Free Parking on Weekends

Aiming to improve public relations between customers and merchants and the city, the Retail Division of the Chamber of Commerce requested from Council Monday night the possibility of free parking on Fridays and Saturdays.

In a letter, Retail Division parking chairman Dick Eggleston asked for a cost figure per meter per day and also inquired about issuing complimentary parking violation tickets.

The merchants requested free off-street parking the first three weeks in December, as allowed in the past. Last year, the city charged the merchants a fee for the free parking.

Although Police Chief Murrel Clark said the ordinance would not allow free parking or leasing the meters, City Attorney James Beardsley doubted that the bonding company would cause any trouble and advised Council he would investigate.

City Manager Ed Nelson was requested to submit a cost figure for the merchants for free parking.

Residents living near the swimming pit off Adrian St. were given some hopes of having a fence erected around the water when attorney Beardsley told them the city had the authority by declaring the pit a nuisance.

Neighbors in the area have complained that the pit is dangerous and tempting to their children.

Councilmen John Hamilton inquired whether residents would have to share in the expense of erecting a fence. The attorney was requested to check.

The Council agreed to investigate the situation and arrange for a meeting with pit owner, Regina Gallo.

☆

IN OTHER action, Council:

► Requested city manager to investigate costs of looping water main on Russell Rd. to Evans St.

► Answered complaints from Oscar Meads about hauling trash and garbage on Sunday and allowing a contractor to put in a sidewalk without license.

► Listened to report from Dick Waltz, partner in Acme Hauling, about prospects for better service, hauling on Sundays and holidays, and complaints that some residents are not complying with the city agreement as to size and condiiton of containers.

► Discussed printing annual report of the city.

Bishop Performs Rite

When the Rt. Rev. Richard Emrich laid the cornerstone of new St. Peter's Episcopal Church here last week he advanced an idea to preserve the memory of the building it replaces.

In a brief message, given in the new church to 200, he suggested that members "consider placing a bronze plaque on the grounds where the old church now stands."

He pointed out that moving to the new facility was "not abandoning our past and our heritage."

"We have built a new church for a new Tecumseh," the bishop said.

Old St. Peter's, erected in 1833, is the oldest church of continuous use in Michigan.

Church officials said the parish could not afford to maintain two churches, so the ancient building will have to be dismantled.

A state-wide drive to raise $100,000 to move and restore old St. Peter's as an historic shrine fell far short.

☆

SERVICES WILL continue to be held in the old church until sometime during November or December, explains the Rev. Frank Hawthorne.

When the remodeled Parish Hall is finished in November, temporary services could be staged there. First service in the new church is scheduled for Christmas.

The spacious new building, which will seat 300, is faced with

Plans Are Mapped To Create 200-Acre Lake South of City

It would come into being, along with other water reclamation projects, if preliminary plans of a newly-organized group come into being.

There's an excellent chance, since the federal government has already earmarked sizeable amounts for water reclamation efforts.

An initial gathering of nearly 60 persons was held Sunday in the Community Center with Mr. Pocklington explaining the possibilities.

The new lake would be formed by damming the River Raisin at Comfort Rd. The dam would probably be 25-feet high with an earth-filled road over it.

Land over which the lake would form is now practically useless. James Beardsley and Willis Porter, who own most of the area which would be affected, were on hand and gave their approval.

In addition to this dam, there could be one at Newburg Rd., which would form a lake north of there.

Both the Red Mill and Globe Ponds would be included in the project, cleaned and deepened.

The undertaking could be continued along the Raisin, all the way to Deerfield, the audience was told. Although there could be 14 dam sites.

A second meeting is planned for Monday evening at 7:30 in the Community Center. A representaitve of the State Conservation Department will attend.

In outlining the program Sunday, Mr. Pocklington pointed out that officials in three other adjoining counties—Jackson, Monroe and Washtenaw—are interested.

Rep. Rollo Conlin said that he would assist the program as a member of the Legislature and recommended that Michigan State University and the state water resources commission be contacted.

Rep. Conlin said that MSU Civil engineering students might make the preliminary survey.

☆

THE GROUP named a committee to guide the program, including Mr. Pocklington, Richard S. Schoenberger, Monroe city planner; Royal Welch, Edmond Eisner, Mr. Beardsley, City Engineer Cal Zorn, Mr. Porter, Wilfred Waldron, Eugene Vaughn, James Mitchell, Earl Baldwin and Tom Riordan.

The Tecumseh Area Redevelopment Committee, which is chairmaned by Pat Meadows, president of the United Savings Bank, has agreed to cooperate on the water reclamation effort.

Water Supply Drops Fast

Tecumseh homeowners are using water as if it were free—and inexhaustible.

This isn't the case.

City Manager E. J. Nelson reports the city pumped a record 433,491,000 gallons of water during the last six-month period.

This is 11,000,000 gallons more than was pumped during the same period last year, although the city's water customers have dropped from 1,850 to 1,808.

Mr. Nelson also comments that the increased pumping has been in private households, not in industrial use.

He sees no obvious reason for the increases, unless it would be an increase in automatic clothes and dish washing machines which use more water than the older cleaning methods.

☆

THE ADDED business doesn't appeal to Mr. Nelson. "It would perhaps seem that this should make us happy when we can pump and sell that much water. However, in the past years we have been drilling new wells in hopes of finding additional water supplies. They are very expensive to install.

"It is my wish that everyone in the city try not to be wasteful with the city water."

A bright note in the problem was the establishment this month of a new 52-inch well off Union and Patterson Sts. This well tested at 1,500 gallons per minute.

Two of the city's former large

MR. AND MRS. DELMAR B. FINCH

Finches Celebrate 59 Years Together

Mr. and Mrs. Delmar B. Finch observed their 59th wedding anniversary Sunday at their home at 209 W. Pottawatamie St., with a quiet dinner.

Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Bryan and Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Bryan were guests.

Ora L. Bowen and Delmar B. Finch were both born in Tecumseh in 1896, attended high school here together and were married here Oct. 14, 1903.

Mr. Finch attended Ohio State University and Michigan State University, receiving his degree in mechanical engineering and industrial education with the class of 1901.

During World War II he served with the War Production Board and the Veteran's Administration. He retired in 1954 and the couple returned to Tecumseh after having lived in Portland, Ore.; Mt. Pleasant, Iowa; Parkersburg, W. Va.; Columbus, O.; Montgomery and Charleston, W. Va. and Fort Lauderdale, Fla.

They are life-long members of the First Baptist Church. Mrs. Finch has been active in women's clubs wherever they were living and Mr. Finch is a Scottish Rite Mason.

The couple have one daughter, Mrs. Robert Childers, of Fort Lauderdale.

You Told Us

By DOROTHY GRIGG
Herald Society Editor

Birthday and wedding anniversaries are an everyday occurrence. Someone celebrates every day, but two occasions this week in Tecumseh were not the everyday, ordinary variety.

Mr. and Mrs. D. B. Finch observed their 59th wedding anniversary Sunday and Fred Sheldon and his wife, Jessie, dined with their immediate family Friday night to honor Fred on his 89th birthday anniversary.

These certainly deserve special mention.

Mrs. Vaughn Curtis and her husband of Adrian entertained for the Sheldon gathering when her sisters, Mrs. Chris Anderson of Flint, Mrs. Dale Hoag of Saginaw, and Mrs. LeRoy Bacon of Toledo and her brother, Paul, and his wife, Dorothy, of Dundee were guests.

The Herald extends greetings and salutations to these fine senior citizens.

Gail Austin, church school superintendent, and Mrs. William Osburn, primary superintendent, are urging parents and families to attend rally services Sunday, Oct. 21, at the Holloway Presbyterian Church.

They are especially inviting anyone in the community without a church home to attend. This is the point emphasized in the Rally Day service.

The worship service will be held at 9:30 a.m., followed by the program at 10:45 with each class participating.

A potluck dinner will be served at noon with those attending bringing a dish to pass and table service. Rolls and coffee will be furnished.

15 Given Green Hand FFA Degrees

Fifteen boys were given Green Hand degree Oct. 8 and made members of the Tecumseh Future Farmers of America.

The local officers conducted the ceremony in the Agriculture room of the Tecumseh high school.

The Sears Roebuck commercial sheep chain was passed on to Gilbert Relyea, Dennis Avery and Charles Relyea. Each boy received eight sheep.

The broiler project report was given by Gary Spreeman, who is raising the broilers for the Parent and Son Banquet. It will be held in the cafeteria Oct. 29.

The Rev. B. O. Bashore will be the speaker for the event.

The boys also voted to buy a running gear for a sheep dipper which they are now making in the Farm Mechanics Class.

Accountants Hold Conference in Secor Hotel

An Educational Seminar was held by the Toledo Chapter, National Association of Accountants Oct. 16, at the Secor Hotel.

The four concurrent discussion groups met following a social hour and dinner.

Paul E. Myers, treasurer of the Lathrop Co. of Toledo, and past President of the Toledo Chapter, National Association of Accountants was moderator a discussion of "Financial and General Accounting".

Oscar Swaya, director of budgets, Consolidated Paper Co. of Monroe, moderated a discussion of "Forecasting and Profit Planning".

Greg Rothe, Controller, Toledo Scale Co. moderated a discussion of "Casting Methods and Applications."

Lord's Supper Carving Will Be Dedicated

During the worship service Sunday at the First Presbyterian Church, the carving of the Lord's Supper, given to the church by Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Herrick, will be dedicated.

Taking part will be the Rev. James P. Martin, minister of the First Presbyterian Church of Jackson.

Five feet high and seven feet wide, the carving is of cativo wood, shipped here from South America in three sections, glued together and finished following arrival.

The carving was done from the one completed piece of wood which is approximately 13 inches thick. Eight months were required to ship, finish and complete the work.

It was done by Leo Jungblut of Holland and is one of several which he has made. Mr. and Mrs. Jungblut will be in attendance at the dedication service.

After completion, the carving was delivered and installed on the rear wall of the chancel which was redecorated this spring.

Following the dedication of the Lord's Supper Group, the sermon will be given by the Rev. Mr. Martin, who is a former moderator of Lansing Presbytery and has participated in services on previous occasions in the church.

Coffee will be served in the Fellowship Center following the service. Members of the community are invited to participate in the service and reception following when Mrs. LeRoy Titley will be in charge.

Weekend Guests

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Blue of Flint and Mrs. Jerry Fox and sons of Tecumseh were recent weekend guests of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lyle Whelan.

Grace Bible Will Host Conference

Pastor David Holly of the Grace Bible Church announces speakers for a Missionary Conference to be held nightly Oct. 21-28 at 7:30 p.m. and Sundays at 11 a.m. and 7:30 p.m.

300 Youths Will Make UNICEF Drive October 28 and 29

Nearly 300 Tecumseh children and teen-agers will visit area homes Sunday and Monday, Oct. 28 and 29, in the annual Halloween UNICEF drive.

The older groups will go to homes in the rural areas surrounding Tecumseh the first night of the drive.

They will travel in some 20 cars to points as far away as Rogers Hwy. on the east, Academy Rd. on the south, Wisner Hwy. on the west and Staib Rd. on the north.

The teen-agers are members of:

Baptist Youth Fellowship, led by Mr. and Mrs. Glen Griewahn

Gloria Dei Luther League, led by Mr. and Mrs. Edward Solarski

Methodist Youth Fellowship, under Mr. and Mrs. Robert Wood

Presbyterian youth group, led by Mr. and Mrs. John Hamilton.

Hours for the Sunday drive will be 5 to 7 p.m.

Monday's calls in the city will be made by children and junior high schoolers of St. Elizabeth Catholic School and Sunday School classes and Grace Lutheran, Gloria Dei Lutheran, First Methodist, First Presbyterian and First Baptist churches.

The Methodist Church will have refreshments and games for the campaigners both evenings.

Homes in other areas will be visited by youths from other nearby communities.

Miss Munger, Michael Green Are Married

MRS. MICHAEL GREEN

Meredith Ann Munger became the bride of Michael Harold Green Oct. 13 in a lovely autumn wedding at the Tipton Community Church with the pastor, the Rev. Paul Frederick officiating.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Lester Munger and Mr. and Mrs. Harold Green, all of Tecumseh.

Four cathedral candleabra lighted the background of the chancel with 15 branch candelabra faced with lovely white chrysanthemums on either side of the prie dieu.

More of the large white blossoms and pompons filled the gold altar vases. Green potted palms were used to soften the setting.

Jerry Munger, brother of the bride, and Jim Neitling placed a white aisle cloth down the center aisle preceding the wedding party.

Linda Dean accompanied by Mrs. Harold Every was the soloist.

The bride, given in marriage by her parents, chose a floor-length gown of white peau de soi fashioned with a wide scoop neck line and long sleeves ending in points over the hands.

The bustled back topped with an obi bow, ended in a brush train.

Her elbow-length bridal veil of French silk illusion was attached to a matching circlet of leaves.

Her bouquet was of beautiful white roses, phalenopsis orchids and ivy.

Mary Cutler, was maid of honor, Mrs. Jerry Munger, Mrs. Steve Kruger and Sharon Green were the bridesmaids.

Their gowns were made of autumn green crystal de beau with jeweled necklines, bell skirts and elbow length sleeves.

They wore matching bows with circular veils on their heads and carried cascade arrangements of green or toast Fuji chrysanthemums edged with natural bittersweet.

Ruthie Green, sister of the groom, in a dress of white mermist with tiny self bows was the flower girl.

Bill Sisson served as best man. Pat Holdridge assisted Jerry Munger and Jim Neitling in seating the guests.

About 300 attended the wedding with Mr. and Mrs. John Graham and Mr. and Mrs. John Becker as hosts.

The brides table was draped with white taffeta and edged with strands of simlax. Tall silver candelabra centered with white flowers flanked the tiered wedding cake served by Debbie Munger and Mrs. Pat Holdridge.

Mrs. Charles Matthews and Jeannine Brown served punch, Mrs. Richard Coller, Pat Anderson, Jane McConnell, Larry Titley and Debbie Munger had charge of the gifts.

Mrs. Bill Williams and Mrs. Raynor Hardy were the reception hostesses.

Following a trip to northern Michigan the couple will make their home at 313 W. Logan St.

The bride is employed at the United Savings Bank and her husband is employed at Schneider, Chevrolet and Buick Inc. Both are 1961 graduates of Tecumseh High School.

The groom is a graduate of Wolverine School of Trades, Detroit.

The bride was honored at showers given for her by Mrs. Ed Mitchell and daughter, Polly; Mrs. Steve Kruger and Mrs. Paul Velandra and Mrs. Jerry Munger and Mrs. Kenneth Munger.

Evelyn Arnold, Daniel Hancock Exchange Vows

Evelyn Marie Arnold and Daniel Evan Hancock exchanged marriage vows Oct. 6 in an evening ceremony at the Overbrook Presbyterian Church in Columbus, O.

The new Mrs. Hancock is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Arnold, 107 S. Oneida St.

Mr. Hancock is the son of Mrs. Evan Hancock of Columbus and the late Mr. Hancock.

After a trip through the southern states, the couple will reside at 943 Eaton Ave. in Columbus.

Mr. and Mrs. George Wittrup were entertained last weekend at the home of her cousins, Mr. and Mrs. G. M. McDonald of Highland Park.

$50,000 Drive Starts Monday

Three Tecumseh Community Fund Foundation division drives start here Monday in campaign towards raising $50,000, the local goal.

Commercial, professional and municipal drives are planned and organized. Tuesday night the commercial division held an organizational meeting at the General Telephone office. Refreshments of coffee and doughnuts were served.

The industrial drive started Wednesday. Residents of Tecumseh will not be solicited until next Thursday, Oct. 25.

Methodist Layman Will Be in Charge

First Methodist Church laymen will preside and speak at the Sunday's 10 a.m. service under the leadership of Maynard Lucas, local church lay leader.

Layman's Day, the third Sunday in October of each year, is specifically set apart by the General Conference of the Methodist Church for the recognition of the responsibility laymen hold in the program.

Robert Bonner, Aden Mead, Jack Babcock, Mrs. Edna B. Wilcox and Mr. Lucas will take part.

The MYF will leave the church at 4 p.m. Sunday to go to Chelsea to hear Vivian Otto, returned missionary from Southern Rhodesia, Africa.

Miss Otto, along with her sister, Grace, have completed three terms in the African Country. She will speak on Missionary Recruitment.

The members and friends of the First Methodist congregation are asked by the pastor to bring store canned fruits and vegetables, jellies and jams during this week and leave them in the kitchen.

They will be laid at the altar for the Sunday morning worship service and dedicated to the Glory of God.

In the afternoon, the youth, under the direction of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Wood, and the pastor, the Rev. Donald C. Porteous, will present the gifts to the Chelsea Home for the Aged.

Skin Diving Instruction Held at 'Y'

A complete course in skin diving and Scuba (aqua-lung) diving will be offered this winter at the Adrian YMCA.

Classes will start Tuesday, Oct. 23, and continue for eight weeks. They will be held from 7:30 to 9:30 p.m. Tuesdays in the "Y" pool at 146 S. Main St.

Registrations may be made at the "Y" the first night. The fee of $25 covers study materials, furnishings of aqua lungs and instruction in classes and in the pool.

Floyd H. Guy Jr. is instructor.

Males 16 years of age or older are eligible to enter. Those under 18 must have written parental consent.

This is the second year the course has been offered.

Conference Attracts 1,150

A glow of inspiration and thanksgiving marked the conclusion of Grace Lutheran Church's second annual Missionary Conference Oct. 7.

The lectures, films and sermons were seen by over 1,150.

The mission offering was the largest received to date, and insures the beginning of the project, "A 'Grace' in Japan."

The local congregation hopes to buy a tract of land and furnish a chapel for the Mito congregation of the Rev. Richard Poetter.

The Mito church members sent many objects to the local church, which were on display at the Conference, along with a large exhibit of Rhodesian curios belonging to Missionary Mueller of Rhodesia.

☆

THE MISSIONARY tea Friday, when Mrs. John Morovitz of Detroit lectured on Japan, was enjoyed by more than 80 women.

The Rev. K. F. Koeplin calls Mrs. Morovitz a "dedicated dynamo."

Three speakers addressed the Sunday services, The Rev. Edgar Hoenecke of Mesa, Ariz. the Rev. James Schaefer of Milwaukee both Synod officials, and the Rev. Walter Beckmann of Battle Creek, district evangelism chairman.

The Saturday morning program drew 250 boys and girls, accompanied by a number of pastors and Sunday School teachers.

The Rev. Koeplin expresses his "heartfelt thanks for the wonderful co-operation of those who prayed, worked and gave, to make the Conference a blessing and a success."

Football Parking Nets $150

The Tecumseh Athletic Boosters Club will meet next Wednesday night at 7:30 at the high school gym.

The program will be under the direction of Coach Tom Fagan and the football players.

Ken Conway, club president, reports the club has raised about $150 this football season by parking cars for games on the athletic field. The club is still short of the $400 needed to pay off costs of the new press box.

After next week's program, the club will hold a short business meeting and appoint committees to plan the annual dance.

Top Notchers

Jackie Fogelsong was hostess for the Tecumseh Top Notchers 4-H Club meeting Sept. 25 when the group named committees.

Peggy Loughney, Miriam Puffer and Bob Smith are the nominating committee.

☆

In other nearby areas, serious water troubles have been noted.

In some cases, an upsurge in building has meant not only an increase in water consumption, but less exposed ground to soak up rainfall, so underground water systems are diminished.

In other areas, water has been contaminated by detergents.

Natural bacterial action removes soaps from the water as it soaks through the earth, but man-made detergents defy any natural attempts to break them down into harmless substances.

In badly-affected areas, water foams from the tap, because of the detergent. It also has an unpleasant odor.

To date, Tecumseh has had no trouble with detergent contamination.

Auto Show Is Readied

Cobo Hall's vast seven-acre display area will be transformed into a glittering automobile wonderland for the National Automobile Show, to be held Oct. 20-28.

Setting up the show provides a stimulating economic shot in the arm for Detroit, inasmuch as at the height of activity more than 400 men will be at work. They include riggers, teamsters, electricians, carpenters and decorators. In addition, more than 50 men will be given work as ushers and ticket takers during the show. Many private policemen will also be employed.

The show will be ready for a press preview Friday afternoon. An invitational audience of 50,000 persons will preview the show Friday night. It will officially open to the public at noon Saturday.

Entertainers have arrived for the special stage show in Convention Arena, a revue which will be staged four times each day of the Automobile Show.

'High Road to Adventure'

"High road to Adventure the Hostel Way," a movie for the young in body and young in heart, will be presented at 7:30 p.m., Friday, Oct. 26 in the Republican Campaign Headquarters on W. Chicago Blvd.

This is one of a series of programs sponsored by the local GOP organizations.

Carol Cole of the Detroit Center for Youth Hosteling will present the movie. Refreshments will be served.

Thursday, Nov. 1, the Elite Studio of Adrian will present a demonstration of the latest hair styles and make-up. This will start at 7:30 p.m.

On election night, Nov. 6, a potluck dinner will start at 6:30 for all persons of Spanish or Mexican heritage. Movies of Mexico will be shown.

Society Members Show Hobbies

A display of hobbies and novelties by members of St. Elizabeth Rosary Altar Society highlighted the October meeting held last week.

During the business session delegates were named for the National Council of Catholic Women convention in December at Detroit's Cobo Hall.

Going to Detroit will be Mrs. Robert Laidlaw, Mrs. Jack Osburn, Mrs. Louis Schneider, Mrs. Robert Koffron, Mrs. Kenneth Kitson, Mrs. Gerald Hendricks, Mrs. William Miller, Mrs. Jack Ries and Mrs. Elmer Dick.

St. Elizabeth's UNICEF representative, Mrs. R. W. Dixon, selected drivers for the children's collection night. They are Mrs. Koffron, Mrs. Robert Murray, Mrs. Paul Breintenwischer and Mrs. Ray Zimmerman.

A guest at the meeting was Mrs. David Woods, president of the Altar Society of St. Alphonsus, Deerfield.

Mrs. Louis Caterina gave a talk on Mother Cabrini.

Following the business meeting the 52 women present viewed the display of talent among the members.

Among the displays were floral arrangements by Mrs. Laidlaw, Mrs. Murray and Mrs. Robert Sage.

Mrs. Elmer Spreeman displayed furniture that she had refinished, and Mrs. Benjamin McWilliams showed a large collection of her antiques and samplers.

Also craft items were shown by Mrs. Paul Clauda, crocheted items by Mrs. Anna Blesing and Mrs. Nellie Drouillard; a knitted item and pencil sketch by Mrs. Melvin Baugh, and needlepoint works by Mrs. Joseph Tressler.

Mrs. Joseph Lefevre displayed her still-life oil paintings.

Refreshments were prepared and served by a committee of Mrs. Joseph Cabla, Mrs. Clauda, Mrs. Allan Barrett, Mrs. Lawrence Cote, Mrs. Caterina and Mrs. Donald Phelan.

Friends Top School Mark

The record attendance of 330 established nine years ago was broken last Sunday at Tecumseh Friends Church.

Several classes had perfect attendance records and there were a number of visitors present.

Mayor Harold Easton and Councilman Carl Lamb, as invited guests spoke briefly on the importance of church people realizing their responsibility to constructively support city government.

OBITUARIES

● MRS. GUSTAVE WELLNITZ

Services were held Saturday at the Collins-Corkery Funeral Home for Mrs. Gustave Wellnitz, 82, who died Oct. 10 at Herrick Memorial Hospital where she had been a patient for five days.

Sophomore Float Captures 1st Place

Ingenuous ideas, following the Homecoming theme of "Mother Goose Land," won top prizes for sophomore and Varsity Club floats Friday.

The tenth graders did an extremely professional job in creating an old-fashioned well in which an Indian was depositing a Ram, standing by a large bell.

On the sides of the float was the rhyme, "Ding-dong bell, Rams in the well. Who put 'em in, Tecumseh Indians."

The junior class won second place and $10. The freshmen were third and the seniors fourth.

☆

THE LETTERMEN'S effort featured three live braves, two of whom held a full-grown ram about to be butchered.

Signs on the float proclaimed, "Lead the Rams to slaughter."

The Varsity Club was given $10.

In the remainder of this division, the French Club took second and $5, GAA was third, Future Homemakers fourth and Science Club fifth.

☆

The court included Barbara Colgrove, Sharon Bottorff and Karen Miller.

A bouquet of roses was presented to the queen by football Tri-Capt. Norm Tucker. During the dance after the game, she received a necklace from the student body. It was presented by Dave Lemerand, who was co-chairman of Homecoming festivities with Dave Dustin.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Gross led the grand march in the gym, which was decorated by Future Nurses with blue and pink streamers to form a false ceiling. At the end of each streamer was a sucker.

Favors and tickets for the dance were handled by the Future Teachers Club.

Nearly 80 couples attended the post-game affair.

ROY PRICHARD

Kiwanis Cites Roy Prichard

Roy Prichard, lifelong Tecumseh resident, was recently awarded a citation by the Tecumseh Kiwanis Club for his contribution to the beauty of our community.

Roy has been active for many years representing Santa Claus to our children.

This past summer, he planted and maintained floral arrangements in the parking area adjacent to the United Savings Bank.

Well-known for his creative talents, Roy can transform metal, wood, stone and bricks into objects of beauty and usefulness in his workshop at the rear of the bank.

The citation reads:

"This Citation is Awarded to Roy Prichard by the Kiwanis Club of Tecumseh for his quiet love for our community expressed by bringing joy to our children as Santa Claus, by devoting his resources and creative talents, bringing beauty, friendliness and value where there was no hope for use."

It was signed by Kiwanis President Fred Nash and Secretary Sydney Turner and also Mayor Harold Easton.

Exchange Has $156 in Sale

A total of $156 was realized from the recent rummage sale.

Al Taylor presided at the Oct. 1 meeting in the absence of President James Barton.

Dale Tuckey, representing Radio Station WOIA at Saline, told of the management and activities of the station.

Card of Thanks

A GREAT BIG thank you to everyone at the time of the sickness and death of my husband and father; Ned A. Kotts, — to Dr. Coak and nurses and the nurses at the hospital, the many times Ned was there. Thanks to the many friends and neighbors and relatives for flowers and food. Also we thank the ministers, and the women of the Friends Church and for the kindness of Tom Corkery.
Rhoda E. Kotts and family.

IN APPRECIATION: We would like to express our sincere appreciation to all our many friends and relatives who were so kind to us at the time of the death of our son and brother, Richard D. Billow. The many cards, floral tributes, memorials and the special acts of kindness were so very much appreciated.
The Grenval Spangler Family O18,c

WE WISH to express our sincere thanks to the friends and relatives for the flowers, cards and many expressions of kindness extended to us while we were in the hospital and since our return home. A special thanks to the nursing staff at Herrick Hospital for the wonderful care.
Mr. and Mrs. Elvin Witherell O18,p

Card of Thanks

WE WISH to thank the Tecumseh Fire Department for their prompt re-action to the fire at our home on Oct. 10, 1962. We would also like to express our heartfelt thanks to all our friends, neighbors and strangers who offered help, food, clothing and sleeping quarters. Words can't express the joys we've received in knowing so many people care. Again we say thanks to all.
The Richard Lask family O18,p

I WISH TO THANK all those who so kindly remembered me on my birthday.

Slow Start, Bold Finish for THS 11

By JIM LINCOLN

After an obvious letdown in the first quarter, Tecumseh exploded before approximately 3,000 homecoming fans in the final three periods for a 47-0 rout of Flat Rock.

Sluggish, and not nearly as sharp as in previous games, especially in the Milan fray, the Indians ripped off two touchdowns in the second quarter, three in the third, two in the final stanza.

Coach Tom Fagan's team goes to Airport Friday, then runs into what will be its three toughest games of the season—Blissfield, Grosse Ile and Adrian.

Airport will field about the same caliber of the team the Indians beat here last week.

If the Indians take the game too lightly, they will probably find themselves in the same boat as they were against Flat Rock at the end of the first period—tied in a scoreless deadlock.

The luckless Rams were no match in the homecoming tilt, although battling Tecumseh on even terms in the first 12 minutes.

The second quarter was less than three minutees gone when Dave Lemerand scored from the 10 on a reverse to climax a 77-yard drive. Just prior to the TD, the shifty halfback broke clear for 60 yards, being pulled down from behind on FR's 12.

☆

ALTHOUGH the Rams stymied the Indians on their next opportunity—a bad pass from center forced the Flat Rock punter to run, being smothered on the 15—Tecumseh got the ball back on FR's 32 and scored on the picture play of the night.

Quarterback Tim Sisson arched a beauty to senior end Norm Tucker who made a twisting, over-head catch on the goal-line. With the score reading 13-0, Sisson missed on a pass for the extra point.

Flat Rock kicked off to start the second half and to fall completely out of the picture.

HIGH CAMERA ANGLE—When this bit of action took place Friday evening as Tecumseh walloped Flat Rock, The Herald camera was perched about 45 feet directly above the gridiron sideline, giving a bird's eye view of play. Jim Johnson (5) was stopped just short of a first down, despite valiant assists from Tom Matteson (63) and Mike Osburn (73).

Tecumseh moved to its third TD in six plays, including a Sisson to Mark Vaillancourt pass for 14 yards.

On the following series, in which Flat Rock picked up its second first down of the game, Tucker snatched a FR fumble out of the air and raced 43 yards for Tecumseh's fourth score and Tucker's second of the game.

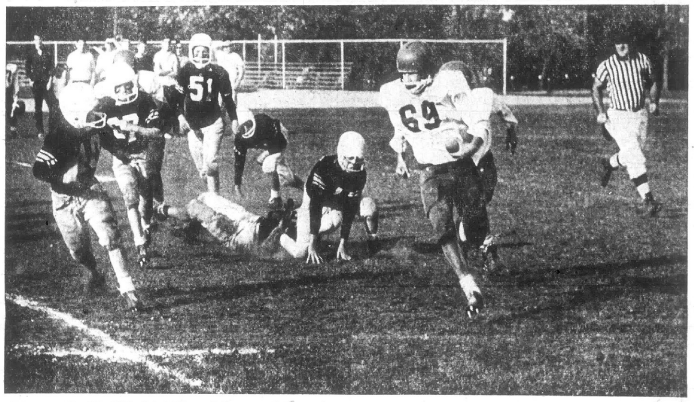
Coach Fagan substituted freely after the TD, but the Indians continued rolling.

☆

TWO MINUTES later, fullback Dan Greene added a TD to his three runs for extra points.

Reserve quarterback John Oberlin passed 15 yards to Vaillancourt for the TD, and then Oberlin sneaked for the extra point.

Bob Baker, understudy to Green at fullback, showed the fans some power running in the final TD drive with the 175-pound fullback bulling over from the one.



SIX POINTS FOR CUBS—Eric Wilkins (69) sprinted 35 yards for St. Elizabeth's lone touchdown Supday as the Cubs fell to Adrian St. Mary's, 13-6. The play was St. Elizabeth's last offensive thrust of the afternoon. So far the Cubs have been Britton while dropping three decisions.

Youngsters Will Pass, Punt, Kick for Prizes

Youngsters, ages 7 to 11, have less than two weeks in which to sign up for the second annual Punt, Kick & Pass contest, sponsored here by Tecumseh Motors, local Ford agency.

Last year the contest attracted approximately 75 lads who tried their skill at the high school athletic field.

The contest will be held there again, but Jim Finch, dealer, anticipates twice as many youngsters trying to win the top three prizes.

First prize for each age group again will be a Detroit Lion jacket.

Second prize—helmet

Third prize—a football.

A total of 21 prizes will be awarded. Every youngster who enters will receive a National Football League rules and record book.

High school football Coach Tom Fagan will be the top official at the contest which calls for distance and accuracy in all three catagories. The lad with the greatest combined distance wins in his age group.

Oct. 31 is the last day to register. All a parent must do is bring his boy to Tecumseh Motors and fill out and deposit the entry blanks, available at the Ford agency.

From Discus Thrower to 'Whiteside'

EFFICIENT SECRETARY — Playing the ever-efficient secretary Maggie Cutler in "The Man Who Came To Dinner" will be Mrs. Fred Pokonry. Mrs. Pokonry, who did such an excellent job in the Tecumseh Players offering of Blythe Spirit," has a raft of catchy lines in "The Man."

'The Man Who Came To Dinner," should be one of the most delightful plays presented by the Tecumseh Players.

There are a variety of reasons, not the least of them being the co-authors—George S. Kaufman and Moss Hart.

The famous Broadway team also turned out "You Can't Take It With You," which the Players did last winter.

One of the surprise stars of that production, Duane Steele, has been hoisted to the lead role for "The Man Who Came To Dinner."

Folks who saw "You Can't Take It With You" will recall Mr. Steele as DePinna, the fellow who posed as a discus thrower and brought down the house in every performance. Although it was his first stage experience, Duane tabbed himself then and there as a fine comedian destined for great things in the local drama group.

☆

MR. STEELE is growing a beard for the role. He has been subjected to every imaginable joke about the sprouting foliage.

All of which he seems to enjoy if the extra twinkle in his usually bright eyes is any proof. His children are delighted and think it's wonderful, but the distaff side of the family has some reservations.

The set crews have had extra responsibility in this production, first to be held at the Community Center.

The Players have built a stage of movable platforms. This stage will be available to other groups using the Community Center.

In addition, properties has received offers of furniture and furs.

The furniture will be of Danish modern and highlight the new set.

Instead of the conventional oblong stage, the new one at the Center gives a three-quarters angle to the audience. There is only one corner in the room—dead center—the two main walls angle off at 45 degrees to left and right.

It will give the audience the illusion they are practically sitting in the room with Whitesides and the other zanzies making up the cast.

☆

THE FURS will be worn by Mrs. Bertha Vallelunga, who has the role of Lorraine Shelton, a thinly-disguised Tallulah Bankhead.

Well-known as a Players "varsity" crew member, Mrs. Vallelunga has sparkled in rehearsals.

The show will be staged Oct. 25, 26, 27 and Nov. 1, 2, 3 at 8 p.m.

SORRY, MR. WHITESIDE—In the zanzy comedy, "The Man Who Came To Dinner," Duane Steele plays Sheridan Whiteside. In this scene, his nurse, being portrayed by Mrs. Dale Bowen, takes away candy from the re cuperating Mr. Whiteside. Both played in the last comedy staged by local thespians, "You Can't Take It With You," a show also written by George S. Kaufman and Moss Hart.

Friends Help Days Celebrate

More than 50 friends, neighbors and relatives attended the open house honoring the silver wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Murray Day Sunday.

A large three-tiered cake decorated with pink and white icing and topped with the numerals 25 in white wedding bells was served with punch and coffee from a table centered with pink roses.

Guests attended from Milan, Ypsilanti, Clinton, Kalamazoo, Tecumseh and Holloway and LaFayette, Ind.

Rally Day at Onsted Is Sunday

Rally Day will be observed Sunday in the Onsted Baptist Sunday School.

Six young people from the Grand Rapids School of the Bible and Music, will be present to sing and take part in the Sunday School Hour at 10 a.m.

This group will also sing in the worship hour at 11. and be in charge of the Youth Hour at 6:30 p.m. and in the Gospel Service at 7:30.

The Rev. Frank Thompson is the pastor of the Onsted Church and Robert Ostrander is the Sunday School Superintendent. They extend a cordial invitation to the community to attend these services.

Youth Training at Pensacola

Aviation Officer Candidate Thomas Neil O'Hara, son of Thomas N. O'Hara of 207 W. Pottawatamie St., is undergoing pre-flight training at the Naval School of Pre-Flight in Pensosola, Fla.

The 16-week course covers preflight and officer indoctrination subjects. Upon graduating, the class members will be commissioned as Ensigns in the Naval Reserve.

The 18-month flight training program eventually leads to designation as a naval aviator.

Laymen's Sunday will be observed Oct. 21 in Macon.

2 Ex-City Lads Play in 'W' Band

When the University of Wisconsin band comes to perform at Ann Arbor during the University of Michigan vs University of Wisconsin football game, two former Tecumsehites will play in the "W" band.

The game is Nov. 3.

Much credit for their talents goes to their one-time Tecumseh music teachers, Mrs. Margaretta Brisbin and Don Johnson.

Richard Stephenson, a junior, plays a tenor saxophone and his brother, Ross, a freshman, plays a baratone saxophone in the Wisconsin marching band.

They are the sons of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Stephenson and grandsons of Mrs. Charles Laskey of Tecumseh.

In addition to his music, Richard has been elected president of the House this year. This carries the major responsibilities for the entire program of the YMCA residence.

Included on the roster of the YMCA are students from the Soviet Union, Poland, Vietnam, Japan, Pakistan, Taiwan, Germany, Bolivia and Mexico.

Their social program attempts to bring together students from around Wisconsin and the world in a variety of activities.

Through these, University YMCA men may come to understand better the ways of living of other students.

VOICE OF THE HERALD

They'll Trick To Treat

Scores of Tecumseh area young people will travel door-to-door soon, for the "trick to treat all the world's children."

Instead of collecting candy and tummy-aches, the youths will collect pennies and dimes to help UNICEF, the international organization which feeds and gives medical care to millions of needy children in more than 100 nations.

This Halloween drive began in 1950, with a few children in a Pennsylvania church. It grew rapidly, until last year more than 2,000,000 American youngsters in 10,000 communities took part.

They raised more than $2 million.

In terms of the total UNICEF budget, this is a small amount, only three per cent. But in terms of international understanding, it is worth much more.

The American children, most of whom have never known actual hunger or real need for unavailable medical care, get a valuable lesson in helping the less fortunate.

In case you hesitate to give when these children come around, because you have heard that UNICEF is Communist-dominated, here are some facts:

✔ UNICEF's program is governed by a 30-nation board. At no time have more than four of these nations been from the Communist bloc.

✔ Since 1951 UNICEF aid has been given in only two countries with Communist governments—Yugoslavia and Poland. During this time, seven Communist-bloc countries have given funds to UNICEF.

It Happens Ever y Year

It happens every year.

Regular as the change in season from summer to fall come the volunteer workers for the United Fund.

They started here this week.

Every year the Boy and Girl Scout groups need money to help their character-building programs.

Every year the Red Cross needs funds to run its blood bank program, and research groups need money to help in the search for cures to heart trouble, cancer and other diseases.

Social agencies need help in their programs to help disrupted families and troubled children.

Tecumseh also needs money for its community building projects.

You know the story. It's the same in your own home. There are always new shoes to buy, more fuel, pre-winter home repairs.

A dollar or two won't go far when you buy shoes and fuel. It won't go far either when it's split among the score of youth and health agencies served by the annual united fund drive.

The dollars should come in fives and tens. Tecumseh's fund needs enough of these to total $50,000.

The goal has been cut this year by $15,000.

You can be sure the money will be well-spent. The agency budgets are gone over closely by your neighbors and friends who are United Fund trustees, to eliminate any unnecessary projects.

Tecumseh's residents and businessmen have been generous in the past. The concrete results can be seen if you look around you.

Just as baby needs new shoes to walk, the United Fund Foundation needs your dollars to reach its goal.

Tecumseh Girl Enjoys Living with Formosa Family

Sharon Ries, living with a series of families on Taiwan as part of the International Farm Youth Exchange program, has a try at using chopsticks with her host family (upper left). The meal was prepared in this far from lavish kitchen (upper right). Wash day brings out bamboo poles (lower left), which are less expensive than rope would be on this Pacific island nation. The family's Buddist shrine can be seen on the high shelf in back of the dining table (lower right.) Sharon will live with families in 11 of Taiwan's 14 counties.

Palmyra Farmer Wins with Corn

Lawrence Fisher, 23, of Palmyra won first prize in the National Corn Picking Contest at Grand Island, Neb. Friday.

Mr. Fisher was one of eight entering the corn combine division, transporting his own combine for the event.

He scored 97.41 out of a possible 100 points to establish a new record in that division. He was sponsored by the Partridge Implement Co., Allis Chalmers dealers.

Mr. Fisher is a graduate of Blissfield High School. He is married and farms about 800 acres with his father and two brothers.

Cub Mothers Plan Bake Sale

A Halloween bake sale will be staged Saturday, Oct. 27, by Cub Scout mothers of Pack 4 in costume.

Pumpkins for jack-o'-lanterns will be on sale along with centerpieces appropriate to the season and lots of baked goods.

The committee headed by Mrs. Douglas Hall is aiming at a goal of $100 to be used through the year for cubbing activities, such as trips and a picnic, perhaps a Christmas treat.

They are asking that cub mothers have their articles at the four corners in front of the former Watkins Shop by 10 a.m.

Further information may be obtained by calling Mrs. Hall at HA 3-3810.

Knights Have Contributed $1,600,000 for Operation of Boysville High School

Knights of Columbus throughout the 83 counties of Michigan are preparing for their annual Boysville Fall Festival on December 1, 1962.

Their 155 local council units, state-wide, will sponsor social functions to further this unique charitable and educational project to aid needy teen-agers.

Boysville of Michigan, in the village of Macon, is a boarding eighth grade through high school, for teen-agers with a problem—not problem boys. Nor is it a correctional or custodial institution.

Boysville's 180 students are innocent orphans or victims of homes disrupted by deaths, illness, separations, discord, improvidence or other like detriments beyond the boys' own control.

It is sponsored by the five Catholic dioceses of Michigan, under the teaching and direction of the Brothers of Holy Cross of Notre Dame, Indiana. The Knights of Columbus of Michigan provide the operating finances.

Since its 1948 opening, 171 boys have graduated with a 12th grade diploma accredited by the University of Michigan. Lads who, in all probability, but for Boysville, would have been typical "drop-outs", and possibly delinquents today.

Over the past 15 years, Michigan State Knights of Colubus have contributed some $1,600,000 to Boysville maintenance and promotion. They have promised this continuing support indefinitely into the future.

THROUGH MY WINDOW

FIRE SIRENS, OWLS AND CHURCH BELLS

When the fire-siren wails what a horrible, horrible sound! Whether during the day or the night, it is a sinking-in-the-stomach, chills-up-and-down-the-back noise. I hate it!

So do the neighborhood dogs. Cliff's hound starts sounding off as soon as the siren begins. She does a beautiful job; sometimes it's hard to tell where the siren ends and dog begins.

Dad's Great Lady tries but her heart really isn't in it. I think she merely goes along with the bunch; they howl, so she does too.

Sometimes, though, she runs out of steam midway and what a silly sound, a run-down howl.

Our across the street neighbor Duke, doesn't slack off any; he wails long and loud, — just as does the siren.

One day Dad, Doctor and Duke were standing out in front talking—Duke is a big dog and not above showing off a bit—he was doing so this day.

Doctor's arm was held out fairly straight and Duke was standing up, his front paws easily resting on Doctor's arm. As we said before, this is a big dog.

Suddenly the fire siren started screeching — poor Duke, he must hate it almost as much as I do. Even though he wasn't 'among friends' up went his nose and oh, what a sad, mournful howl.

No amount of petting or soft talking did any good. As long as the siren wailed so did Duke.

What a ridiculous sight, such a large dog standing on his hind legs, his long nose pointing straight up and howling. I had to join Dad and Doctor in laughing at his predicament even though I knew exactly how he felt.

☆

NOT SO laughable was the spell the Great Lady had the first part of August. Fortunately it lasted but a few nights.

The weather was warm enough so that the windows were open—we received full benefit of the whole performance.

I don't know whether it was a young owl or not but it sounded not very old. It's hoot was well, not weak but it did waver.

The owl would not have kept us awake but Lady did. She was apparently trying to make friends or carry on a conversation or something.

Whenever the owl hooted she howled an answer. Believe me, such a dog-owl gossiping session does not make for a restful night.

And speaking of dogs howling, this happened a long time ago when the little girl involved was really very young.

She had a big dog—Janey was large for an English Setter and, of course, since the girl was quite small the dog seemed even bigger.

To put the dog on a leash and take her for a walk was a big deal; it really didn't matter that who took whom for the walk was questionable. Both dog and girl enjoyed the outings.

It was late Sunday afternoon and at that time they still had evening church services. The girl and dog's walk had progressed as far as the Methodist Church when suddenly the church bells started ringing.

Now Janey was a dedicated howler; she put her heart and soul into it. Two things would set her off, fire sirens and church bells.

☆

THERE WERE a great many people going into the church but Janey didn't care. At the first peal of the bell, she went into her act.

She sat down, lifted her head until her nose pointed straight up, opened her mouth just enough to insure perfect 'pear-shaped tones' and howled.

The little girl was so embarassed and so helpless. The dog sat right there and howled until the bell stopped ringing—the girl pulled and tugged but she was simply too small to make the big dog move.

How could the church-goers help but he amused; it must have been quite a sight. A large liver and white setter howling in front of the church and paying absolutely no attention to her mistress. Is it necessary to say that Janey and I don't take a walk the following Sunday?

Tipton PTA Will Stage an Auction

Tipton PTA's meeting Oct. 27 will feature a Harvest Festival Auction, open to the public.

The committee asks members to bring something for the auction. It begins at 7:30.

Those attending in masquerade costume will be awarded prizes for the funniest, spookiest and the best dressed.

A twist contest will be held following the auction with prizes for the best male and the best female twister.

No admission will be charged but proceeds from the auction will be used to purchase library books for the school.

Party Precedes Family's Move

Six friends of Billy Schroer celebrated at a pre-birthday farewell party Tuesday given by his mother, Mrs. William Schroer.

Billy will be nine years old in December, but his family will move in November to Columbus, O. so the party was held ahead of the actual birthday date.

Homemaker Club Has Initiation Rite

BRITTON—Initiation was held and pins, emblems, candidates for regional offices and the FHA princess were among items discussed at the October meeting of the Britton FHA.

Twenty girls were initiated in both formal and informal ceremonies before coming members of the Future Homemakers of America.

Sue Austin and Ginger Fraiser were chosen as candidates for regional offices.

Kathy Bailey was elected to reign as the FHA princess during the Homecoming, Friday, Oct. 26.

In order for the girls to join FHA they must have completed one year of home economics or to be taking it at the present time.

Emblems for each member will be bought from funds in the treasury.

These emblems will be worn on the girls' blouses.

Following the meeting and initiation, refreshments were served by the new members.

Extension Club Gives Funds Cash

BRITTON — The L and M Extension Club met at the home of Mrs. LaVern Tubbs Thursday. Around tables centered with fall floral arrangements, the luncheon was served by the hostess and Mrs. Mae Willis.

Decisions at the business meeting included making contributions of $3 to UNICEF and $5 to the United Fund.

Mrs. Elmer Eberhardt, Mrs. Tubbs and Mrs. Anthony Ivan were appointed to arrange a display for Holiday Open House at the Alexander School Oct. 20.

The rest of the afternoon was spent making four dozen bed pads.

Samples were displayed of articles to be given for the Good Will Gift Shop. Items are to be brought to the next meeting Nov. 8 at Mrs. Anthony Ivan's home, when the program theme will be, "Expressing Yourself with Words."

Beetle Control Program Starts

An 80,000-acre area in Lenawee and Monroe Counties awaits treatment to destroy the crop-wrecking Japanese beetles.

The 1962 aerial eradication treatment in Michigan has begun with airplanes spreading dieldrin pellets over a 1,250-acre infested area in Berrien County, where the pest was detected this summer by the Michigan Department of Agriculture's trapping program.

The Lenawee and Monroe County infestation grew from infected areas in Ohio.

The Japanese beetle feeds on more than 250 different kinds of vegetation. It is a hitch hiker and gets into new areas on cars, trucks, planes and other vehicles.

The treatment program in southeastern Michigan is contingent on the state making available funds to match an allocation up to $250,000 by the Plant Pest Control division of the USDA to pay for pesticide and application. Cost of the Monroe-Lenawee project will be $366,400, although this was originally estimated at $480,000. Limited areas in other parts of the state are to be treated, some with ground equipment.

Japanese beetles destroy field and forage crops, fruits, vegetables, lawns, ornamentals, turf, grains and nursery stock. Of equally great concern to southeastern Michigan residents is the threat of quarantine. This would require treatment or certification of all agricultural products moved out of the quarantine area between June 15 and Oct. 1 when the adult beetle is in flight.

The eradiction program calls for the insecticide to be applied after Nov. 1 when most crops have been harvested and birds have migrated to the south. The dieldrin pellets are spread by planes over infested areas at the rate of 20 pounds per acre, only two pounds of which are active ingredient.

Rains and melting snow carry the dieldrin ito the earth where it destroys the over-wintering larvae. The compound is effective for three to five years in the soil.

Democratic Candidates Speak At Macon Rally

Frank Wroblewski introduced the guests. William Nichols, candidate for state senator from the 19th district, was the principal speaker.

Jerry Fay, representative, and Tom Payne and Neil Stabler, both candidates for congress, spoke on "Get Out and Vote."

Jerry Horkey, Lenawee County Democratic Party chairman and candidate for county clerk, addressed the group as did Dorothy Breckel, candidate for county treasurer, and James Crawford, candidate for sheriff.

Con-Con Report

Cooperation

Editor's note—This is another in the series about the proposed new Michigan Constitution).

A new section in the General Government Article of the proposed new Michigan Constitution recognizes the emerging problems involved in cooperation between this state or its political subdivisions and one or more of the other states, the Federal government, the Dominion of Canada or any of their political subdivisions.

This new section would permit the state or any of its political subdivisions to enter into working agreements with other units of government for the performance, financing or execution of their governmental functions.

It was pointed out in the recent Constitutional Convention that compacts and working agreements between various governmental units have become an increasingly imortant part of the American political system within the past 25 years.

Compacts between the states, which require the consent of Congress under the Federal Constitution, have existed since 1789, but in recent years they have become far more important than formerly.

☆

THEY DEAL with such matters as flood control, navigation, water conservation, protection of wildlife and game, harbor development and regulation and a variety of other subjects.

Interstate compacts may be viewed as at least a partial answer to the inability of states to deal with certain questions which extend beyond their own borders and which would otherwise have to be delegated to the Federal government.

Compacts between one or more states and the Federal government are also growing in significance.

Again, they are a successful device for preserving, in part at least, the authority and sovereignty of the states in matters which have national sweep and significance.

The whole area of grants-in-aid falls generally in this category, of general law."

So does State-Federal cooperation in the field of atomic energy and in waterway development in the Great Lakes and the St. Lawrence seaway.

In this last instance, cooperation with the government of Canada has been necessary to the successful execution of state and Federal functions.

☆

THE FRAMERS of the proposed new Michigan Constitution foresee the probable necessity for even closer cooperation among this state, the Federal government and Canada in matters relating to defense, commerce and navigation.

Hence, this section of the new document secifically recognizes such agreements when the state authorities so decide.

The convention was aware that such agreements, under the Federal Constitution, are subject to the consent of Congress, a point covered by the new section in the phrase 'subject to revisions of general law."

The proposed section permits any officer or employee of the state or any of its political subdivisions to serve as a member of joint governmental bodies, but the legislature is empowered to impose such restrictions and limitations as it deems appropriate on the service of the officer or employee.

keep cozy with oil heat

IT'S SAFEST

You never need to worry about family security when you choose modern oil heat. There are no dangerous leaks to be wary of—since fuel oil is non-explosive. It burns only when properly atomized and mixed with air inside your furnace. It is so safe, you can put out a lighted match by dipping it in oil. There's never any concern either about distant pipe line accidents cutting off your fuel supply in cold weather. Your own oil . . . in your tank . . . when you need it . . . guarantees comfort and security of all.

TIPPER FLINTLOCK says . . .
"Hunting is a lot of fun, sight that bird but watch that gun!"
THE NATIONAL RIFLE ASSOCIATION teaches shooting safety

Gun Safety Tips Given to Hunters

Want to reassure your family that you'll be safe while hunting this fall? If so, you might inform her that hunting is far less dangerous than driving a car.

Hour for hour, riding an auto is two and a half times as risky as hunting. However, Michigan State University extension wildlife specialist Charles Shick warns hunters not to get overconfident. A single hunting accident is one too many.

"There is no such thing as a trusty gun," Shick states. "A shotgun or rifle has no conscience and cannot think. But when treated with respect, it can provide many hours of a safe sport."

Shick lists several important gun-safety tips:

1—Know your gun. Be sure you know how to load and unload it correctly.

2—Never point it at anyone, and don't carry it into a car, camp or building when it is loaded.

3—When you pick up a gun or take it from a friend, check the chamber and magazine for shells.

4—Check the gun safety. You can easily flick it off without realizing it.

5—Know where your partners are and watch for strangers in the field.

6—Don't hestitate to tell your hunting partner when he is mishandling a weapon. He may not like advice, but you could be doing both him and yourself a big favor.

7—Treat every gun as if it's loaded.

George Kopkas Are Honored

Mr. and Mrs. George W. Kopka celebrated their silver wedding anniversary Oct. 14 with an open house arranged for them by her sisters, Mrs. Opal Brady and Mrs. Golda Updyke.

In last week's issue of the eHrald, it was inadvertently printed that Mr. and Mrs. John Kopka would be the honored guests at the event.

Tecumseh Community Fund Foundation

In three short years, our community has come to value its Tecumseh Community Fund Foundation as one of its greatest assets. The Foundation will become increasingly important, not only for adults, but for our youngsters. Through co-ordinating efforts by people actively involved in conducting the annual drives, the Foundation could be the basis for many fine assets to the community — only, if we as donors, realize the value and its potential. The Foundation is not just for Tecumseh, although it was devised and organized to help local citizens, but for charities and organizations beneficial to the needy. After we meet our initial financial obligations, the balance is used here in Tecumseh. Our first, actual evidence is the new Library. Although we still owe on it and some monies are to be applied to the mortgage this year, what other community of our comparable size has such a lovely Library? This is merely a start to obtain other equally important assets for the community. As we acquire more and more, we will continue to evaluate the Foundation's importance. Now, the Foundation is you – your contribution. Let's further its progress again this year. You'll be glad that you did.

Quaker Pond May Live Again

How many old timers can remember the old Quaker Pond?

Located south of town and much bigger than the Red Mill Pond, the Quaker may live again.

It dissappeared back in the Twenties with abandonment of the Quaker dam—located where the bridge on Comfort Rd. crosses the River Raisin.

Restoring the old Quaker Pond and enlarging it to about 900 acres will be the first step of the proposed River Raisin Development Project.

City Councilmen pledged their assistance Monday evening to the program and will join with the Raisin Township Board to get initial action underway. The government bodies will ask Michigan State University to furnish civil engineering students to make a preliminary survey of the Quaker Pond area.

Quaker Pond dam would be the first of a dozen along the river, in a network stretching from Newburg Rd. to Deerfield.

Proponents of the plan feel that the water reclamation program would be a real boon to Lenawee County, both in recreation and park possibilities, business and employment.

Of greatest importance would be the boost to declining water tables throughout the area.

Thirty-six persons attended Monday's session in the Community Center and evidenced great enthusiasm for the program.

Congressman George Meader said he would help in Washington, getting information from federal agencies concerning water reclamation.

Woody Barclay of Adrian, who is with the United States Soil Conservation Service, said his agency could make an intensive survey of the entire Raisin watershed, running from Jackson County, through Lenawee and into Monroe.

Raisin Township Boardmen Jim Mitchell stated, 'I'd like to see it go through—all the way. The water table is going down fast and the Water Resources Commission is getting concerned."

Art Eaton, a Tecumseh farmer and county supervisor, expressed the opinion that since the watershed project will eventually benefit all of Lenawee, a county-wide tax should finance it.

Britton's Ron Pocklington, who spark-plugs the effort, stated that the federal government has already earmarked more than $3 million for water reclamation.

Water Benefits Are Many

There would be many benefits from the proposed River Raisin Development Project.

Major facets include:

- Restore water table in southeastern Michigan
- Conservation
- Restore flyway for migratory birds.
- Control silt
- Purify water through wind and sun
- Create public parks on sub-marginal land
- Provide hundreds of home sites along water
- Stimulate economy and employment
- Provide water recreation

'Man Who Came to Dinner' Opens in Center Theater

One highlight of the Tecumseh Players' production of "The Man Who Came to Dinner" is certain to be the appearance of Mrs. Bertha Vallelunga.

Playing the role of a sophisticated actress, Lorraine Sheldon, "Bert" is one of the most talented members of the local little theatre group.

TECUMSEH HERALD PHOTO

MRS. BERTHA VALLELUNGA

The comedy opens this weekend, with performances Thursday, Friday and Saturday nights at 8 p.m. in the Community Center.

Mrs. Vallelunga has had extensive summer stock and professional acting experience. She also is adept at theatre makeup and for some time worked in this field in television and stage productions.

In her two previous performances with the Players, she was exceptional in "Charlie's Aunt" and "Blithe Spirit".

She also was excellent at Clark Lake last summer in "Thurber Carnival."

"Bert" will have to vie for honors in "The Man Who Came To Dinner" with some other fine performers.

In rehearsals, Duane Steele as Sheridan Whiteside and Mrs. Fred Pokorny as Maggie Cutler, his secretary, have been particularly good.

One player has actually gotten applause in practice. He's Dick Boyd, a veteran of three previous Players' shows.

As the actor Beverly Carlton, Mr. Boyd has kept the cast and crew howling.

Director Rik Kureth and Associate Director Mrs. Tom Corkery have led their charges through a busy pace the past three weeks as the thespians rehearsed on their all new stage.

It's in the Community Center's Glass Room, which will accommodate nearly 200 and give spectators the feeling they are on the stage — and that's about how it will be.

☆

IN ADDITION to the intimate aspect of the theatre, guests will use the large room of the Center between acts to smoke, visit and have refreshments,

House manager for this production is Mrs. Robert Bowers, who is arranging the sale of lemonade, coffee and cider.

"The Man Who Came To Dinner" will also be presented the following weekend on Nov. 1, 2 and 3.

Working backstage will be Mrs. Frank Dalton as technical director, Dr. Richard Coak, lights, Mrs. Victor Lawson, props and Mrs. Ralph Dabe, costumes.

Others in the cast include:

William Sanford — Bert Jefferson

Gene Earling — Mr. Stanley

Mrs. Edward Mengerink — Mrs. Stanley

Mrs. Dale Bowen — Miss Preene

Fred Ward — Richard Stanley

Terrie McEnroe — June Stanley

Mrs. Melvin Wegner — Sarah

Mrs. Alton Snyder — Mrs. Dexter

Mrs. Ralph Dabe — Mrs. McCutcheon

Charles Parker — Dr. Bradley

Lillian Cesokas — Harriet Stanley

Dr. Robert Murray — Prof. Mertz

Sidney Turner — Sandy

Thomas Riordan — Wescott

Frank Dalton — Banjo

William DePuy — John

☆

THE PARTS of six young choir boys will be played by Bobby Murray, Bill Russell, Bernard Riordan, Mike Vallelunga, Tommy Corkery and Kevin Corkery.

Tickets for Show Available

Tickets for "The Man Who Came to Dinner," first production of the season by the Tecumseh Community Players, are now on sale at:

Drs. Murray and Laidlaw's office, 515 W. Chicago Blvd.

Dr. Richard Coak's office, new Medical Center.

United Savings Bank.

Tickets are $1.50 for adults. Special student prices for the Thursday evening performances will be 75 cents. There will be no matinees.

Long & Short

By TOM RIORDAN

The Community Center was really jumping Monday evening.

Four sessions were being held and parking space was at a premium.

► The Tecumseh Players ran through a rehearsal for "The Man Who Came To Dinenr," which opens Thursday night.

► In the Teen Club, the National Cash Register Co. staged a demonstration on NCR paper (No Carbon Required) for several dozen area printers.

► Thirty-six folks, intent on developing the lake south of town, met in the large room.

Only one problem arose — when the gun clubs lads began to fire, the sound of the burst rose through the floor, into the water meeting.

But chairman Royal Welch had a remark to cover the situation.

Turning to one of the guests, Congressman George Meader, he chirped, "The president asked for action this evening, Mr. Congressman, and already our boys are going to it."

John is doing a bang-up job of bringing events to the facility.

It was through his urging that the Players moved there and had a portable stage built for their rehearsals and shows. This can be stored and also used by other groups.

Way to go, John.

Opening day for pheasant hunters was a trifle damp. The birds stuck close to the ground, not helping matters.

However, all was not gloom and wet clothing.

Two veteran gunners, Al Tonneberger and Bob 'High Pockets" Moore, were non-plussed about the whole thing, bagged their limit in jig time.

Chief Murell Clark, Gene Skinner, Joe O'Pravil and his son, Joe, Jr., knocked down five among them.

There were other kills in the area, indicating that this might not be such a bad year for the Ringneck.

For those who aren't exactly sure what they're searching for, The Herald, as a public service, runs this illustration.

OK, fellows, go to it.

☆

"Sorry, there isn't room for the police blotter this week." your writer chirped to the backshop crew Wednesday afternoon as the last run was being made-up.

There were a few groans.

For some reason, several of our people wanted to "splash" the blotter in last week's paper. Seems there was a guy named Riordan listed among the law breakers.

50 Miles of Cable Going In

Approximately 50 miles of underground cable is now being ploughed-in to provide modern, direct distance dial telephone service for the present customers of the Macon Telephone Exchange.

Ken Conway, Tecumseh phone manager, says dial instruments are being installed to replace the crank type, magneto phones now used by the Macon subscribers.

Conversion work for hooking up with General Telephone's Tecumseh, Saline, and Britton exchanges and with Bell Telephone's Milan exchange is on schedule .

Initial surveys and publications determined the placement, as much as possible, of boundaries to locate people in their chosen locality, according to general areas of interest.

Mr. Conway says necessary data for publication of the telephone directory is being gathered and should be completed by mid-November.

Non-phone subscribers in the Macon area now desirous of telephone service can still be listed in the directory by contacting the local General Telephone office.

Checking Car License, Then Wham

Checking a license plate of a passing motorist caused an accident Saturday afternoon involving a Tecumseh police car.

George Kempf, local officer, crashed into the rear of a car driven by Mrs. Helen Mohr on W. Chicago Blvd. at Cairns St.

Just before the acicdent, Officer Kempf turned to check a car similar to one reported being operated by a parole violator.

At the time, Mrs. Mohr had slowed to turn onto Cairns St. The rear of her automobile was extensively damaged as was the local patrol car.

Thomas Mohr, young son with his mother, suffered a head bump, which did not require treatment.

INDUSTRY AGAIN LEADS THE WAY

Workers Ring Doorbells

Although the Industrial Drive of the Tecumseh Community Fund Foundation will not wind-up until Monday, already over $16,000 has been raised.

Tim Neill, drive chairman for the industry, expects the drive to eclipse $20,000, and probably finish in the neighborhood of $23,000.

Again, employees at the Tecumseh Products chipped in the most with their contributions running over $14,700. More donations are expected and some of the local industries have not yet reported their final figures.

More than 100 women will visit homes in Tecumseh between Oct. 25 and Nov. 7, seeking funds for the annual Tecumseh Community Fund drive.

Mrs. Richard Dustin and Mrs. Jack Curtiss, co-chairmen of the residential drive, held a coffee hour Monday to instruct their zone leaders on the drive dates, budget allotments and use of supplies.

Ken Conway, drive chairman, and Vern Manwaring, Community Fund Foundation president, attended to present the information.

At least 10 women will be working in each of nine zones. Where residents have already donated to the fund, a Community Fund sticker in a window will make a house call unnecessary.

Halloween Fun

Halloween will last five days in Tecumseh this year.

The first special parties will start Saturday, and the last will be Wednesday, Oct. 31.

In between will come the two evenings of canvassing for UNICEF; and the official "trick or treat" night will close the festivities.

Wednesday has been set as the "official" night for the masked and costumed children to make their rounds, bags in hand.

Householders wishing to join in the traditional event have been asked to turn porch lights on, to guide the trick-or-treaters.

First rounds of parties for the teen-agers will be Saturday.

☆

JUNIOR High School will be host to students of that age, starting at 2 p.m. Cider, doughnuts and prizes will be offered.

The Teen Club will open its doors to all senior high students from 9 p.m. to midnight Saturday. Held in the Community Center, the affair also will offer cider, doughnuts and prizes.

Sunday, groups of young people will travel though the rural areas seeking donations to UNICEF. The funds go to help ill and hungry children around the world.

Younger children from the city's Sunday school classes will canvass the city Monday, also in the UNICEF cause.

First Methodist Church will have refreshments for the youngsters both evenings.

All grade school students are invited to a party at 4 p.m. Wednesday at the Community Center. The children will gather in the lot west of the Center, and parade by judges who will award prizes for the most original, ugliest and prettiest costumes.

Later, cider and doughnuts will be served in the Center's main room.

We're Sorry

Despite an extra large issue of 18 pages this week, we ran out of space, due to a last minute avalanche of political advertising.

We are sorry that we could not run the second in a series of articles on the school report and a number of other important stories, but these are ones which can be held until next week.

Auxiliary Hears Talk About Plan

Jim Smith spoke at the meeting of the Herrick Memorial Hospital Auxiliary Tuesday, Oct. 9, at 8 p.m. at Fellowship Center of the Presbyterian Church.

He used slides to present the master plan of Tecumseh recently approved by the City Council.

A progress report of the hospital landscape committee was given by Mrs. Carlton Coak.

The committee was authorized to obtain the services of an architect to draw up a landscaping and site plan for the hospital.

Fruit cakes have arrived and are on sale from Mrs. Ray Sluyter or Mrs. Norris Morehouse.

Members who have not advised the committee as to which project they are working on this year may contact Mrs. Joseph Rohweder 607 E. Logan St. by mail or call HA 3-2296.

Three new members, Mrs. William Adams, Mrs. James Wheeler Brown and Mrs. Lewis Schultz, were welcomed.

Mrs. E. L. Simmons and Mrs. Robert Karle were hostesses for the evening.

October 31 Is Deadline

Boys, ages seven through 11, have less than a week to register for the annual Punt, Kick and Pass Contest, sponsored annually here by the local Ford dealer, Tecumseh Motors.

All the boys have to do is simply register at the agency, and by Oct. 31, next Wednesday.

The contest will be held at the high school football field with three prizes to be awarded in each age bracket.

On the Air

Firemen squelched a fire in a radio at the office of Dr. M. R. Blanden Tuesday at 10:30 a.m. Damage was minor, confined to only a radio.

Kiwanis To Gather Books

The Tecumseh Kiwanis Club has launched a community-wide campaign to help "Fill the Shelves" of the Tecumseh Public Library.

Impressed by the facilities of the recently-dedicated building and the need and space available for additional books, club members decided to enlist the aid of other interested citizens in making the library a still finer and more complete facility.

It is the feeling of the members that in many homes in the community, books that have served their purpose for their owners could now be donated to the library to continue serving still others. Either hardbound or paperback books are acceptable.

Books that are donated will be screened by library personnel as to suitability for library use.

Those not appropriate will be offered to the public in a book rummage sale.

Donors wishing to place names in the books will be able to pick up stickers at the Library, Lamb's Drug Store or Larry's Grill. Those stickers will be provided without charge.

Kiwanians will provide a free-pick-up service for books. Two evenings from 6:30 until 9 have been set, Nov. 6 for those living south of Chicago Blvd., Nov. 8 for those north.

Trick or Treat

Halloween is drawing near;
Nothing to fret about,
Nothing to fear
As long as you treat the goblins right —
Keep 'em gobblin' all through the night.
— Good Housekeeping Magazine

The little people of the neighborhood are a delight in their costumes, with their big eyes looking through spooky masks.

If the parents will just teach them that there is a time when they are too old for this sort of thing and keep the little ones in their own neighborhood . . .

When 150 to 200 goblins show up at the door, Halloween can be a pain in the neck.

Business Women Hear Report on Juveniles

John Barton presented devotions for the Women's Association of the Presbyterian Church Oct. 17 in Fellowship Center.

Mrs. Fred Feight, program leader, introduced Harold Tesch, a graduate of Adrian College and a teacher at the Lenawee County Youth Center in Adrian.

The program came under the general topic "Who Cares" and Mr. Tesch spoke on youth problems in the community.

He told of some of the problems involved, how they are met, the education program and the facilities of the Youth Center which provided both home and guidance for delinquent young people.

He also gave several suggestions on ways various groups or individuals could assist the center.

Following the program Mrs. John Hamilton presided at the business meeting when plans were made for attending Presbyterial in Ann Arbor Oct. 23. The report of the nominating committee was presented by Mrs. Gerald Kruse and officers were elected:

President—Mrs. Robert Ries
First vice president — Mrs. John Saling
Second vice president—Mrs. John Hamilton
Recording secretary — Mrs. James Barton
Corresponding secretary — Mrs. Elmer Wilt
Treasurer — Geraldine French
Member nominating committee —Mrs. Charles Howe

Hostesses from Circles 1, 2 and 3 served refreshments.

Irene Circle Hears Report on Meeting

Mrs. Edna Wilcox will teach a reading course soon at the Good-Will Industries Workshop.

She invited volunteers to help her at the meeting of the Irene Circle of the Methodist Church Oct. 15. Mrs. Herbert Dillon was the hostess.

Mrs. John Harley presented devotions built on the theme, "Call To Witness."

Mrs. Glen Work bought 10 dish towels for the group to give to the church kitchen.

Mrs. Robert Bonner gave a report of the conference attended in Minneapolis recently and presented a program on "Our Mission Witness."

Mrs. Clifford Adams and Mrs. Lee Kayner served refreshments to 11 members and one guest, Mrs. Bess Livingstone.

Exchange Club Hears Coach

He made no predictions on the outcome of Friday's game with Blissfield, but urged all who wished to attend to go early, because of limited seating at the Blissfield school.

The coach added that Tecumseh can be proud of the sportsmanship shown by his players.

Avery Downer, district Exchange governor, made his official visit to the Tecumseh club at Monday's meeting.

Libraries Look for More Funds

Mrs. Jule Fosbender, Tecumseh librarian, attended the Michigan Library Association meeting Wednesday through Saturday at Grand Rapids.

Leading the list of speakers was Dr. Lillian Gilbreth, noted efficiency expert and the mother in 'Cheaper by the Dozen." She spoke on improving the operations of library work.

Proposed new legislation discussed at the state session included a plan in which libraries could improve services and be made eligible for more state aid.

Tecumseh could do this by joining Monroe County for certain services such as movie rentals. This combined library districts would have the needed 100,000-plus population to be eligible for increased state money.

John Browne Has Session in Germany

Army Specialist John T. Browne, son of Mrs. William Browne, 332 N. Union St. and the late Mr. Browne, recently completed eight weeks of intensive field training with other members of the 4th Armored Division at the Seventh Army Training Area in Grafenwohr, Germany.

The training included day and night tactical exercises emphasizing mobility and chemical, biological and radiological warfare.

An essential part of the training is range firing of individual and crew-served weapons including the Army's new M-60 machinegun and the 105 and 120-millimeter tank guns.

The 4th, a major element of NATO forces in Europe, plays an essential role in maintaining world peace.

Specialist Browne, a fire direction chief in Battery C of the division's 14th Artillery in Furth, Germany, entered the Army in April, 1960, completed basic training at Fort Knox, Ky., and arrived overseas in October of the same year.

He is a 1959 graduate of Tecumseh High School.

GRIDIRON HIGHLIGHTS

No wonder Airport has suffered so many injuries, including their regular quarterback. While the field is one of the best lighted in the area, it is probably also the hardest, has least amount of grass, and the most rocks.

Diet Winners To Graduate

Ten members of the Tecumseh TOP Trimmers plan to attend a special meeting in Jackson, Saturday, Oct. 27 from 9 a.m. to 1 p.m.

Anyone with overweight problems is welcome.

Members who have reached their goals will graduate.

The local club was organized last January and has grown to a membership of 17.

Anyone desiring information may contact Mrs. Don Yoder at HA 3-4054.

Instructor Seeks Help

The English Department of the high school under the direction of John Babcock is asking for assistance from parents.

Opportunity is offered by the University of Michigan for students to attend the production of Ibsen's "Ghosts" starring Eva Legallienne Thursday at 3 p.m. at the Lydia Mendelssohn Theatre, Ann Arbor.

Due to the austere budget bus transportation is not available and 154 students would like to attend.

The Babcocks ask, "Can you help?"

93rd Birthday Feted at Daughter's Residence

Clarence Gilmore, former Tecumseh resident, was honored on his 93rd birthday anniversary Saturday when his daughters, Mrs. Alvin B. Clark and Mrs. August Ruttman, entertained at the Clark home in Manchester.

Guests at dinner were Mr. and Mrs. Ray Gilmore of Macon, Mrs. Sam Boyce and daughter Marjorie of Tecumseh, Lulu Gilmore of Ridgeway and Mr. and Mrs. Ruttman of Fowlerville.

Other relatives were entertained from 2 to 5 at an open house. Mr. Gilmore expects to divide his time between his daughters' homes.

Reading Class Set

A workshop for persons interested in helping to teach adults to read will be held Friday and Saturday, Oct. 26 and 27, in First Methodist Church.

Sponsored by the WSCS of the church, the workshop will convene at 7:30 p.m. Friday and 9 a.m. Saturday. There is no charge for the course, but a fee will be asked to cover the cost of materials.

Edna Wilcox, chairman of the WSCS literacy program, asks Herald readers to supply the group with names of persons who are non-readers. She also appeals for persons who can spare an hour a week to help the program to attend.

Area Obituaries

● ARTHUR J. SCHROEDER

Services were held Sunday at the Emmanuel Lutheran Church for Arthur Schroeder, 63, who died Friday at 6 a.m. in his home in Macon Township.

He was born July 23, 1899 at Sandusky, O., the son of John and Matilda Mielke Schroeder.

He was a farmer and for the last 15 years was employed by the Tecumseh Products Co.

Mr. Schroeder was a member of the Emmanuel Lutheran church on the Ridge and the Macon Farm Bureau.

He was married to LaVina Price Nov. 29, 1923, at St. Paul's Lutheran church in Blissfield.

He is survived by his wife and four sons, Clarence and Donald of Britton, Melvin of Ridgeway and Franklin Schroeder of Tecumseh.

A brother, John, of Macon township; a sister, Mrs. Minnie Nimtz of Eau Claire, two stepbrothers, the Rev. Carl Lieder of Chatfield, O., and Frank of Sandusky; a step-sister, Mrs. Bertha Luberger of Sandusky, and 10 grandchildren also survive.

He was preceded in death by three sons, Willis, who was killed in World War II, Richard and Arthur Jr., both in infancy, three brothers and two sisters.

Arrangements were made by the Niblack Funeral Home with burial in the Lake Ridge cemetery.

o

● MRS. HAROLD WARREN

Services were held Tuesday for Mrs. Harold Warren, 47, of 1203 Russell Rd., who died at 7 a.m. Saturday at Herrick Memorial Hospital where she had been a patient since 3 p.m. Friday.

Lucille T. Warren was the daughter of William and Lillian Stark, born March 2, 1915 in Toledo, O.

She was a member of the Methodist Church; the Gray Ladies and the Hall-Slater Post VFW Auxiliary.

She is survived by her husband; three sons, Hal, Jay and James; a daughter, Mrs. Thomas Weatherwax and two brothers, Harold and Theodore DeCuis, both of Toledo.

The Rev. Donald Porteous officiated and burial was in the Brookside cemetery.

o

● ROBERT L. LAWSON

Services were held Wednesday at the Tecumseh Friends Church for Robert L. Lawson, formerly of Tecumseh, now of O'Fallon, Mo. who died Saturday morning at his home.

Mr. Lawson, 31, was employed by the McDonnell Aircraft Co. in St. Louis.

Born in Deerfield July 21, 1931 he was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Lawson.

He is survived by his wife, Nadine Ruhl Lawson; one son, Thomas; one daughter, Linda, and his father.

Two brothers, James of Tecumseh and Calvin; two sisters, Mrs. Harold Righter of Tecumseh and Mrs. Carl Tiede of Britton also survive.

The Rev. T. D. Bowditch of Coldwater officiated and burial was in the Lenawee Hills cemetery.

Arrangements were made by the Corkery Funeral Home.

o

● BETTY LOUISE ANDREWS

Services were held at Brookside cemetery Monday for Betty Louise Andrews, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Richardson, who was dead at birth Sunday morning at Herrick Memorial Hospital.

Mrs. Andrews is the daughter of Mrs. Harry Richard of 108 Maple St.

Arrangements were made by the Green-Dunn Funeral Home with the Rev. Frank Hawthorne officiating.

LINCOLN CONTINENTAL

LONG-TERM INVESTMENT

The Lincoln Continental endures as an investment commanding unusually high returns on resale, because when this car is crafted, the emphasis is on precision and unprecedented quality. Floors, roof and walls, for example, are unit-welded as a structure that can never be shaken loose. And every Lincoln Continental is tested and tested—punished to perfection in pre- and post-production proof trials.

These steps are but forecasts of long, long life and remarkable reliability—extraordinary capacity to weather the years and miles ahead.

We invite you to see and drive this magnificent car at your earliest opportunity.

TECUMSEH INDUSTRY

Each year, the industry kicks-off the annual Tecumseh Community Fund Foundation drive – and each year the industry does a terrific job. This year, Tecumseh industry will top $20,000, and may well boost its drive to $23,000 or $24,000 – about half of the Foundation's goal of $50,000. Now it is up to the rest to give generously and push the drive over the goal. The Commercial, Professional and Municipal drives are underway – the residential drive starts today, Oct. 25.

"climb on cloud nine ... give generously!"

Residential Drive
Starts Today, Oct. 25th

APPROXIMATELY 100 TECUMSEH LADIES, ALL VOLUNTEERS, WILL BEGIN SEEKING CONTRIBUTIONS FOR THE TECUMSEH COMMUNITY FUND FOUNDATION. THEIR EFFORTS AND YOUR DONATIONS WILL NOT ONLY ENABLE US TO REACH OUR GOAL BUT GIVE US THE INCENTIVE AND DESIRE TO CONTINUE THE FOUNDATION FOR GREATER WORTHWHILE PROJECTS. THROUGH THE FOUNDATION, WE HELP THE NEEDY AND THE CHARITIES, AND OUR COMMUNITY. IN THIS WAY, WE MAKE OUR COMMUNITY AN EVEN BETTER PLACE TO LIVE. THEREFORE, DURING THE NEXT WEEK OR SO, WHEN ONE OF THE LADIES ASKS FOR A DONATION, BE READY AND BE GENEROUS. YOU'LL BE GLAD AND HAPPIER IN YEARS TO COME – THAT YOU HELPED MAKE TECUMSEH THE FINEST COMMUNITY ANYWHERE.

MAKING FRIENDS AND SELLING CARS FOR MORE THAN 25 YEARS

Many Thoughts Forged as One

Our nation faces crucial times.

We have before, in our relatively short history, and always came out on top. We can now.

Uncle Sam must play the role of gentleman and often takes kicks in the shins from delinquent leaders without flinching.

But then there comes the time when it is apparent further provocations will seriously injure the common good.

At this point Sam says, "Put up or shut up, slob. One more trick like that and you'll get a slap in the chops."

In essence, that's what President Kennedy told Castro and Khrushchev in his dramatic report to the nation Monday night.

As Americans sat about the dinner table, watching their leader on television and listening to Mr. Kennedy's every word and intonations, their thoughts forged as one — "We're solidly behind you, Mr. President."

Patience is a virtue, but one cannot sit forever on his hands while another society tries to tear the very ground from under you.

We know, as do most Americans, that the road ahead will indeed be perilous.

America stands with you, Mr. President.

REASSIGNED—Airman Basic James W. Ruff, son of Mr. and Mrs. James L. Ruff of 415 W. Pottawatamie St. is being reassigned to Amarillo AFB, Tex., for technical training as a US Air Force aircraft maintenance specialist. Airman Ruff, who completed the first phase of his military training at Lackland AFB, Tex., was selected for the specialized course on the basis of his interests and aptitudes. He is a 1962 graduate of Catholic Central High School at Adrian.

Outstanding Farmer Sought by Jaycees

The search for this year's outstanding Young Farmers is beginning this month as thousands of U.S. Junior Chamber of Commerce members begin collecting information on the 1962 accomplishments of the nation's young farmers.

Local winners will be named early next year to compete for state and national titles in the spring.

Charles Kapnick of 6375 Pocklington Rd. is the local chairman.

This year, all farmers between the ages of 21 and 36 located in a Jaycee chapter-area participating in the program will be judged. Competition is based on farm progress, conservation and contribution to civic affairs.

The new co-sponsor for the national project this year is the National LP-Gas Council whose members produce and sell liquefied petroleum gas and appliances throughout the United States.

Council members are located largely in farming communities where LP-gas is used extensively for home and farm.

More than 1,000 chapters of the U.S. Junior Chamber of Commerce are expected to participate in the program this year.

Local winners will be recognized in their communities at a Farmer Recognition Program and honored at their state banquet.

Announcement of the four national winners will be made at a national recognition program in Tulsa next April.

Well, GEORGE ROMNEY,

what are you going to do about the mess in Lansing?

First, let me say that only the people lose from all the bickering in Lansing. All the people.

Why all the bickering? The answer is that there is no leadership in Lansing. The legislature cannot lead. No committee can lead. Only the man in the governor's chair has the authority and the responsibility to lead the state government.

But no man, regardless of his authority and responsibility, can lead unless he has developed the ability to get people thinking and acting together. He certainly cannot get cooperation by blaming the other fellow when things go wrong and taking all the credit when things go right.

We all lose when there is no leadership. We either get top-sided legislation which suits no one, or we get deadlock. The people can't win when we have deadlock and division in Lansing.

LEADERSHIP is necessary to get all sides working together to provide a government that can get things done for all the people of Michigan. I'd like to put my experience in leading people with diverse ideas to work for you.

The sun, when it shines, has an unobstructed path these days. Almost all the trees are stripped of their leaves in the changing of the season. It was wonderful for a while, seeing the gold and scarlet boughs. And it was fun to kick through the rustling piles, and to smell the smoke. Hold on to these memories. Some of those clouds overhead lately look too much like they could contain snow.

Fellowship Has Roast

Thirty members of the Youth Fellowship of the First Baptist Church attended a weiner roast at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Glen Griewahn recently.

Chaperones were Mr. and Mrs. Ted Brooks and the Griewahns.

Apple ducking and records were enjoyed following the business session.

A meeting will not be held Sunday, when the members will collect contributions for UNICEF from 5 to 7 p.m.

Ten members of the Fellowship attended an associational meeting in Temperance recently when Bill Glass of the Cleveland Browns was the speaker.

David Grigg, Glen Griewahn and Dr. George Burkhard were the drivers.

Plans for a bake sale were completed.

Nurses Hold State Convo

"Nursing in Transition" is the theme of the Michigan State Nurses Association convention to be held in Grand Rapids Oct. 31 through Nov. 2. Over 1,200 nurses are expected.

The transition theme will be the topic of keynote speaker Rozella M. Schlotfeldt, R.N., dean of Western Reserve University School of Nursing, Cleveland.

Three films will be shown during the convention: "The Role of Nursing in Infection Control"; "Pulse of Life" and "Sorting in Mass Casualty Care." Three clinical nursing sessions and a closing business meeting will conclude the annual convention.

Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Karle of Cincinnati were recent weekend guests of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Karle and family.

Say You Saw It in The Herald

Are You Between 21 and 29?

Young Americans have the worst voting record of any age group.

They just don't take the time and energy to go to the polls on voting days.

They should. They will live longer — and pay the bills longer, in the world their parents and grandparents helped make through their past voting.

Many in this 21 to 29 age group don't vote because they are away from their homes. To help them take their privilege and vote, absentee ballots are ready. They can be obtained at the office of any township clerk or from the Tecumseh City Clerk's office until 2 p.m. Saturday, Nov. 3, for this coming election.

If you are new at the job of voting, get in some practice this November. It's an important election which will effect your life in Michigan.

If you are the parent of a student or serviceman away from home, drop him a note to tell him his absentee ballot is ready.

Don't Just Stand There

For want of a vote, an election was lost.

This happens more often than you might think, in these days of large populations and heavy get-out-the-vote campaigns.

Only four votes meant the difference between approval and rejection of a millage vote in Tecumseh. Nearby Ohio and Michigan communities have had even closer outcomes.

Even if you think your favorite candidate or issue won't win — vote. It may be that the other side is overconfident, and stays home too. Or your vote may give your candidate confidence to run again and win.

Remember, if you don't exercise your duties and privileges as a citizen, you don't really have a right to object to what happens in Washington, Lansing and Tecumseh.

So don't just stand there complaining — do something about it. Vote Nov. 6.

Legion Auxiliary Seeks Names for Service Gifts

Mrs. Richard Beasley and Mrs. Elroy Johnson are looking for the addresses of servicemen from the Tecumseh area who are in the armed forces.

The American Legion auxiliary annually sends a remembrance to each Tecumseh area man or woman in service.

Parents may assist by calling either woman.

Twenty-five members attended the recent auxiliary meeting when reports on the fall conference were given by Mrs. Lavern Seizert and Mrs. John Zarnoch.

Mrs. Beasley, chairman of the rehabilitation committee, spoke on gifts for the Veteran's Gift Shop at the hospital in Ann Arbor.

Mrs. Zarnoch said that there are now 45 paid-up members in the organization and that dues are payable to her.

Mrs. Marvin Higgins, president, reported on the 2nd District meeting which she attended with Mrs. Louis Schneider, Mrs. Ned Baldwin and Mrs. Zarnoch.

Games were played and refreshments were served by Mrs. Beasley, Mrs. Lee Phibbs, Mrs. Viola Daehne and Mrs. Otto Baaske.

What's Going on at BOYSVILLE

By RICHARD McMILLAN

Neri Hall, the freshman recreation hall, held a pool and ping pong tournament during the last three weeks. Winner of the ping pong tournament was Paul Scully and the runner-up was Jim Schwanki. First place in the pool tournament went to Jim Schwanki and second place went to Bob Scott.

√

Boysville's yearbook, the "Pioneer," has received a new name, the "Knight," announced Brother Thomas Friel, CSC., the new yearbook moderator. Formal work on the "Knight" will begin Thursday, Oct. 25, when the Senior pictures will be taken.

√

The Boysville Knights saw their closest win of the season last Friday night when they beat Sand Creek by scoring the winning touchdown with only 11 seconds of play remaining.

Charlie Stone and Mohanda Jacobs ran the first two touchdowns which put the Knights ahead 13-0 at one point in the game. But the Sand Creek Aggies in the 3rd quarter began to move and didn't stop until they had pulled into the lead with a score of 14-13. Boysville then took to the air with three consecutive passes to Jacobs which put the Knights on the Sand Creek five yard line. Michaulk on an end run picked up the necessary 5 yards, winning the game.

√

The Brothers defeated the All-Stars in a game of two-hand-touch 13-0. The All-Star team was made up of boys chosen from the Intramurel Major League. Team members included Mike Deubel, Vic Dennis, Jim Pichette, Joe Maline, Bill Schwanki, Dennis Frei, Jonas St. German, Rick McMillan, Bob Stitt, Leon Sykes and Ken Jacoby.

√

The Sophomores put on a pep rally Oct. 18, which aroused the entire student body to a new peak in school spirit. The rally consisted of three skits made up by Vic Dennis and a series of cheers led by Mike Deubel, John Barta, Larry Miller, Ed Lemanski, Rick McMillan and Vic Dennis.

√

Plans for a Junior Prom Nov. 10 are now in the making. This year's Prom will be held in the new Dining Hall and will be attended by the Seniors, Juniors and Sophomores. Girls from different parochial schools in Detroit are being invited.

√

The school has various clubs which the boys are free to join.

Those in the Photo Club learn the fundamentals of photography.

Boys who are members of the Saddle Club learn how to take care of horses, as well as ride them.

The Glee Club and Drum and Bugle Corp enable boys with musical ability to utilize their talent and at the same time see a little of Michigan as they travel to various concerts and parades.

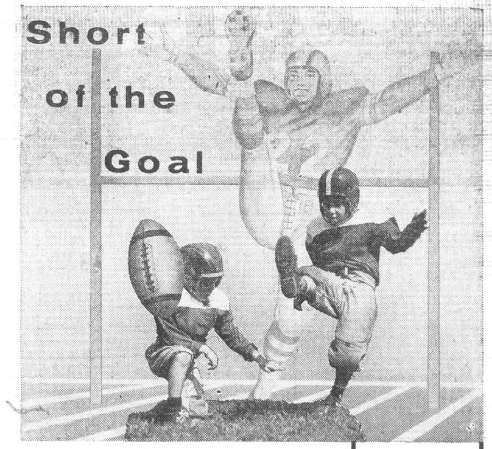
For All We Hold Sacred ... Attend Church



Larry is a fullback. You ought to see him finding those holes in the line . . . driving off tackle . . . slashing through the secondary. Oh, Larry has scored a dozen touchdowns!

But he can't kick an extra-point! The cross-bar is too high, the goal posts are too far away.

Just give Larry a year or two—with lots of practice. Then we'll win those close ones . . . 7-6 . . . 14-13 . . . 21-20!

Never worry about failure when its cause is being overcome. Don't lower the goal . . . keep trying. Grow stronger. You'll reach it!

That's one of the lessons of life that Larry has learned on Sundays when he goes to church with his family . . . one of many lessons that help us achieve our best every day of the week.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

REV. AND MRS. GUSTAV HANNEVIK WELCOMED VISITORS TO THE NEW PARSONAGE

Parsonage Opened for Guests

BRITTON — Open house at the new Congregational Christian Church parsonage was a happy occasion for the members and friends of the church Sunday afternoon.

Ground breaking for the three-bedroom ranch style house was on April 18 on a lot east of the church. Sept. 7 the Rev. and Mrs. Gustav Hannevik were moved into the lovely home.

Of brick veneer construction with about 1,450 square feet of living area, it has hot water heat, one and a half baths, built-in oven and range and a garage.

Builders were Benedict and Cheever. The parsonage committee, in addition to Charles Benedict, are Elmer Eberhardt, Elwood Tucker, Ned Brown, Roger Gillespie, Mrs. Harold Rohrback, Mrs. Charles Patterson and Rev. and Mrs. Hannevik. They express a sincere thanks to all from the church and community who helped on the work projects.

Refreshments were served in Fellowship Center to all who attended the open house.

Lickfelt-Mason Vows Exchanged

BRITTON — Marilyn Mason of Britton and Vaughn Lickfelt of Tipton were united in marriage Saturday at 1 p.m. in the Lutheran Church in Dundee.

The immediate families of the bride and groom were present for the double-ring ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thurman Mason of Britton and the groom the son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Lickfelt of Tipton.

Kathleen Forsyth of Britton was the maid of honor and Carl Lickfelt of Petersburg served his brother as best man.

Duets Class Has Supper

BRITTON — The Duets Class met last Wednesday evening in the Fellowship Center of the Congregational Christian Church for a potluck supper and business session.

Hosts for the evening were Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Kable and Mr. and Mrs. Harold Rohrback conducted the business.

The Rev. Gustav Hannevik gave a short devotional followed by a question and answer period on Norway.

They visited Mr. and Mrs. Harry Lohmeyer.

Ballots Due Soon

BRITTON — Saturday, Nov. 3, at 2 p.m. is the deadline for picking up absentee ballots for the Nov. 6 general election.

They are available at the home of Mrs. Viva Brown, Ridgeway township clerk, 145 Osborne St.

Homecoming Game Near

BRITTON — Activities got underway Monday evening in various garages and barns throughout the community for floats for the Homecoming Parade.

Grades seven-12 participate in this annual event. Each enters a float in the parade and a king and queen are selected from each class.

The Homecomong Queen will be crowned at half-time by her King and together they will reign at the dance following the football game with Whiteford.

Senior queen candidates are Yvonne Osterhout, Diana Bailey and Barbara Gillespie.

Larry Henning Gets Top Prize in Crop Show

Larry Henning of the Britton FFA Chapter received the top award at the 1962 Fall Crop Show in Lenawee County held Oct. 13 at the Fairgrounds.

Larry's award will be a trip to Chicago, which will be sponsored by the County DeKalb Association, for having the best 1/100 acre entry.

The sweepstakes award in small grain was presented to Jon Kishpaugh of Sand Creek for the top blue ribbon soybean display.

Charleen Nieman of Blissfield received the Canning Display sweepstakes ribbon, and James Creger of Clinton was declared tops in the 10 ear sample contest.

The crop show is an annual event held each year for 4-H and FFA members and sponsored by the Lenawee County Bankers Association.

Auxiliary Chairmen Are Named

BRITTON — Seven members were present at the American Legion Auxiliary meeting last Wednesday evening at the home of Mrs. Willard Exelby.

Mrs. Exelby president, appointed her chairmen for the year:

Mrs. Harold Osterhout — membership and Girls State

Mrs. Douglas Palmer — rehabilation

Mrs. Joseph DaVilla — civil defense

Mrs. George Cline — Americanism

Mrs. Willard Exelby — community service

Mrs. Clare Griffin — child welfare

Mrs. Dean Downing — poppy

Mrs. LaVern Weyther—sewing

Mrs. Paul Rowlands — Publicity

Plans were started to attend and purchase gifts for the Christmas Gift Shop at the Veterans Hospital, Ann Arbor, Dec. 10.

Mrs. Cline and Mrs. Downing volunteered to purchase the gifts, which are given to the hospitalized veterans for members of their families.

Children Aid UNICEF Drive on Halloween

BRITTON — Halloween evening the children of this area will again participate in the UNICEF program.

Instead of seeking goodies for themselves, they'll be out to help save the lives of children in more than 100 countries which are aided annually by the United Nations Children's Fund.

Under the sponsorship of the Britton-Macon P.T.A., the youngsters will receive cartons at school Wednesday, insuring participants of having proper identification.

Children in all grades up to sixth will make posters to be judged and placed in the Britton shopping district.

First, second and third-place ribbons will be awarded.

The church bell will ring at 6 p.m. when the children will begin their 'trick or treat' for UNICEF.

At seven they will deposit their coins at a stand near the school and then form a parade.

The fire truck will lead the parade through the downtown area and back to the school gym, where prizes will be presented for costumes, including adults', and refreshments will be served in the cafeteria.

For $1, UNICEF can ship enough dried milk for 500 glasses to areas where it is most needed, also 500 vitamin capsules for children suffering from malnutrition.

A penny can mean the vaccine to protect a child from TB, a nickel can supply penicillin to cure a child from yaws, a crippling, highly contagious tropical disease.

A dime can buy enough DDT to protect a child from malaria for nearly a year and a quarter can mean the antibiotics to save a child from blindness of trachoma.

The committee this year is headed by Mrs. Lee Taylor.

Woman's Club Votes Funds

BRITTON — Mrs. Earl Taylor opened her home last Tuesday afternoon to the Britton Woman's Club.

Seventeen members answered roll call with their favorite hymn.

The club president, Mrs. Fred Schober, reminded the group that this is the club's 40th anniversary and that the theme for this year is "Study, Serve and Share."

It was announced that gifts for the Good Will Industries Christmas Gift Shop were to be brought in by Nov. 15.

Five dollars was voted to the Lenawee County Youth Center and $5 to the Britton-Macon Community Fund.

Mrs. Robert McCrate, program chairman, was assisted by Mrs. Fay Wiggins, who gave a memorial for Mrs. Mary Adams.

Mrs. Elmer Eberhardt and Mrs. Lee Spohr also assisted with the program.

Refreshments were served by the officers following the business meeting.

Methodists Plan Supper, Fair

BRITTON — The Annual Church Supper and Fair will be held at the Britton Methodist Church Thursday, Nov. 1 with serving starting at 5 p.m.

Besides the fried chicken supper various booths will feature homebaked goods, aprons, rugs and other articles of interest.

Mrs. Virgil Bortel is the chairman of the event.

What's Happening in Tipton

A cradle shower for the migrant mission nursery at Paw Paw was held last Tuesday evening at the regular monthly meeting of the Tipton Women's Fellowship at the home of Mrs. Merrick Dibble.

The table centerpiece was a doll cradle in which the many useful gifts were placed.

Chairman of Friendly Service Mrs. Paul Frederick told of the quotas for the year and gave a short skit. It was reported a gift of sweaters was sent to Korea and that the Fellowship is to purchase a half-dozen maid uniforms.

Discussion of the annual Church Fair to be held Nov. 7 was held and committees were named:

Baked goods Mrs. Don Hunt, Mrs. Paul Geiger

Fancy work Mrs. Clifford Hardy, Mrs. John Cook

It was requested that all articles for the fair be at the church by 3 p.m.

The distributing of the year books, price of the anniversary plates and hangers and the price of the church fair dinner were other business of the meeting. It was also decided that the Women's Fellowship would have charge of the service on "Women's Fellowship Sunday," Nov. 4.

The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Dean Cook Nov. 20. The 9 members and one guest present were served refreshments by the hostess.

✓

The UNICEF party will be held at the K of P Hall Oct. 31. There will be games, prizes and refreshments after the children return from the trick or treat for UNICEF.

✓

The family fellowship meeting was held Thursday evening at the Tipton Community Church. A potluck dinner was served to about 75 persons. The program was in honor of Herbert Munger who is retiring after over 50 years as a deacon and church board member. The Rev. Frederick opened the program with a sing-along with Mrs. Shirley Dibble at the piano. Mrs. Thelma Swarts, church clerk, read a letter of appreciation to Mr. Munger written by Howard Evans, a fellow deacon with Mr. Munger for many years.

Mrs. Swarts escorted Mr. Munger to the front of the room, where Rev. Frederick reminisced of happenings over the years. Laurence Dibble, another member of the board and a deacon, was also escorted to a seat of honor with Mr. Munger. In conclusion the church board chairman, Arthur Fritz, presented a gold ring to Mr. Munger as a token of appreciation for his years of service and devotion to the church. Mrs. Munger, Mr. and Mrs. Lester Munger and Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Munger, Charles and Kathie were present for the occasion.

✓

Mrs. Ray Stockinger entertained Friday afternoon in honor of her daughter Debbie, who was observing her eighth birthday.

Eight school friends gathered to play games. Refreshments were served by Mrs. Stockinger and Debbie opened many lovely gifts.

Sunday, Mr. and Mrs. Stockinger entertained 35 guests for a buffet supper. Guests were present from Manchester, Chelsea, Pleasant Lake, Ann Arbor and Jackson.

✓

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Swarts and Jim of Charlevoix are spending a few days with Mr. and Mrs. Grover Swarts. Sunday Mr. and Mrs. Swarts entertained at a family gathering. Mr. and Mrs. William James of Lansing, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Snyder and sons of Adrian, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Radant and Duane, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Munger, Charles and Kathie, Mr. and Mrs. John Jones, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Jones and Jeff, Mark and Pamela and Mr. and Mrs. Glen Jones and Norman, Gary, Wesley and Sharon.

✓

Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Simmons returned home Wednesday after visiting friends in Kansas City and attending the American Royal Stock and Horse Show.

✓

Mr. and Mrs. Perry Wilson of Dearborn were dinner guests Sunday of Mr. and Mrs. Merrick Dibble.

✓

Mrs. Paul Frederick and children, Shannon and Rusty, were weekend guests of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Kent Stiner in Detroit.

Mrs. Merrick Dibble, president of the Womens Fellowship of the Tipton Community Church, has announced that the various chairmen of the booths for the annual fair are urging members to finish their articles for the booths and to plan on having their contributions at the church at 4 p.m.

✓

The birthday of George Ernst was Sunday and his children and grandchildren came for the afternoon and evening to help him celebrate.

Present at the home of his son, Kenneth, were Mr. and Mrs. Harold Ernst and family of Royal Oak, Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Ernst and family of Ann Arbor and Mr. and Mrs. Basil Smith and family of Adrian.

His son, Harold, has been promoted to the rank of detective sergeant with the Michigan State Police and has been transferred from the Centerline Post to the seventh district headquarters of the State Police at Traverse City, effective November 4.

✓

Mr. and Mrs. Wayland Kahle attended a cousins party in Lyons, O. at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Lamb Sunday. Julie Aten, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Aten, in Tecumseh is spending two weeks with her grandparents while her mother, Mrs. Aten is a surgical patient in Herrick Hospital.

✓

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Willnow entertained a family group Sunday in honor of the birthday of their grandson, Jerry, and Mr. and Mrs. Lowell Crockett who were celebrating their fourth anniversary and the Willnows 30th wedding anniversary. Mrs. Kathryn Crockett and daughter, Collen, of Riga were also dinner guests.

Additional supper guests were Mr. and Mrs. Leland Richardson and family of Adrian. Jacklyn, 15, daughter of Leland Richardson who is in a cast resulting from back surgery attended the party on a stretcher.

Grecian Players is Held Oct. 11

By ROBERT OSBURN

The sixth grade at Tipton School staged a Grecian play for the fourth and sixth grades and their parents. It was held Oct. 11 in the school auditorium. For the dress rehearsal Wednesday, the first, second and third grades were invited.

The play was written by the sixth grade teacher, Mrs. Lois Shaw. All the children in the grade participated and made their own costumes. Scenes included inside the tents of the Greeks and inside the walls of Troy.

The play was about Grecian and Trojan warriors who have fought for ten years to own the straits where pass the ships of trade. After a clever trick the Greeks won the war.

✓

The two showcases at Tipton school look well. In the north case next to their room, the fifth grade has made a display about Cape Canaveral.

In the other showcase, Mrs. Bailey, first grade teacher, has a Halloween display. There is a safety motto "Be Safe Halloween Night". The case includes a small tree and three small owls made with balloons.

On the bulletin board in the hall the sixth grade has put up little Greek soldiers and shields and other things. It shows about how the Greeks fought the war with the Trojans and where they fought.

McConnell-Hoch Rite Performed

Harley H. McConnell and Mary Hoch were united in marriage by the Rev. Blair Bashore Oct. 18 in a single ring ceremony at the First Baptist Church.

Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Holdridge were the attendants.

The immediate families attended the wedding, followed by a dinner served at Bauer Manor.

After a short trip the couple will make their residence at 706 Wenonah St.

Hospital Landscaping Committee Visits Sites

The landscape committee for the Herrick Memorial Hospital Auxiliary visited two cities last week investigating recently completed projects in landscaping.

Oct. 12 the group with Mrs. Carlton Cook, chairman, was in Monroe to visit the Beech Nursing Home and the Lutheran Home for the aged, where landscaping was completed nine years ago.

Oct. 15 the committee went to Norwalk, O. as guests of the William Slabonick, administrator of the new Fisher-Titus Memorial Hospital.

They also visited with the director of volunteers, who presented the group with many ideas for auxiliary projects applicable here, since the hospitals are of similar size.

The auxiliary there has about the same number of members as has Herrick Hospital Auxiliary.

Music Club Hears Talks

Mrs. Charles O'Neill opened her home for the Oct. 16 meeting of the Tecumseh Music Club. Mrs. Ray Sommers, vice-president, presided in the absence of Mrs. Paul Brantingham.

Mrs. Wilfred Waldron reported to the group about the District annual meeting of the National Federation of Music Clubs in Eaton Rapids Oct. 4. Mrs. James Danforth and Mrs. Clarence Brock were the representatives for the Tecumseh Music Club.

Mrs. Orrie Gilbert told about the first meeting of the Junior Music Club, which will be a studying, listening and performing group. The next meeting will be Sunday, Nov. 4, from 2:30 to 4 p.m.

The membership of the Senior Music Club voted to offer last year's "Hymns of the Month" books to be used by the Junior Music Club.

The program ending the evening was on record. Operatic arias were enjoyed and the stories of the operas from which the arias were taken were told. Mrs. Gaylon Robinson was in charge of the program.

Mrs. Don Purkey was a guest of the evening.

Immortality

An assuring message about immortality will be brought out at Christian Science services Sunday in a lesson-sermon on the subject "Probation after death."

SHOP IN TECUMSEH

LIVESTOCK WATER is as essential in winter as in summer. For best profits, livestock need adequate, ice-free water in cold weather. Besides the bother of breaking ice in water troughs, it usually costs more to feed livestock enough feed for body heat to warm cold water they drink than it would to heat the water artificially with gas or electric heaters. Set the thermostat at 45 degrees. Above this isn't economical — much below, the surface of the water is likely to freeze.

MOST FARM FIRES happen during the fall and winter months. The best method a farmer has for controlling a fire is to have a good water system. See if some changes need to be made. If the lines carrying electricity to the pump are broken or burned through, you can't fight the fire. If the meter is on the house, it might help to re-plan the farm wiring. A central distribution pole will give you more uses from the electricity and it will be easier to run an independent circuit to the pump.

CANNIBALISM IN POULTRY FLOCKS is a common occurence and can choke off profits. A milk outbreak can be cured by using hydrogen peroxide. The bleach is applied from the bottle to the raw wounds and bloody feathers. It is painless, stops bleeding and removes blood stains. If cannibalism is a severe problem, however, treating individual birds takes too much time. Debeaking will probably require less labor and be more effective.

CONSERVATION RESERVE CONTRACTS which expire December 31, 1962, can be extended another year if you choose. Don't destroy protective cover on the land until you get the details of the new program. Conditions will be similar to those for existing contracts.

ALSO RUNS—Quarterback Tim Sisson, who has really shined this season and kept the opposition's pass defense honest, carries here around right end against a feeble Airport eleven Undefeated and ready to explode, a team that already is tied with the Tecumseh Indians for the top spot in the Huron League — that's the Blissfield Royals, opponents for Tecumseh Friday night at Blissfield.

The game's a big one, equally important for both clubs. The Royals are really being prepped for this one — including a townwide pep rally Thursday evening.

Blissfield, yet to really jell, has won week after week, sometimes barely squeaking by. The Royals nipped both Hudson and Grosse Ile by one point, clobbered Airport as did Tecumseh, and played great but sometimes spotty ball against the other teams.

Which team wants to win the most undoubtedly will come out of Friday night's clash on top of the Huron League and a big favorite to cop the league title.

☆

THE INDIANS and Blissfield are comparable in size and speed and both clubs are in top physical shape for the big game.

The Royals, running from the old single-wing formation, have last year's top league back in Tom Billington, plus veteran and experienced players as Jack Cory, Mike Hermanensen, Steve Brown, Keith Knapp and others.

The Royals are especially difficult on defense, completely halting Flat Rock last week, as much, if not more so, than the Indians in their tilt with the Rams.

Can the Indians win? We think so, but it will be close.

Coach Tom Fagan has the best tackling and blocking team Tecumseh has seen in many years. The Indians have improved not only on offense but each game has seen a better and stiffer defense.

The "Apaches," defensive unit, may well decide the outcome. They'll have to hold the Blissfield ground and passing attack — and the Royals employ three passers — or Blissfield will surprise the Indians.

☆

IT'S DOUBTFUL that the Royals can completely stifle Tecumseh's offense, which can move equally well through the air or on the ground.

The Indians, not fast but quick, have averaged about 36 points per game, and it's doubtful that Blissfield can keep the local team from scoring.

Dan Greene, tri-captain along with Norm Tucker and Tim Sisson, will be back after missing the Airport fray. It was first feared last week that Indian fullback and linebacker was headed for the hospital with an appendicitis attack.

At full strength and with lots of hustle and drive, Tecumseh should take the Royals — we hope!

Indians Outclass Jets

By JIM LINCOLN

Outmanned and outclassed Airport fell to the Tecumseh Indians last Friday night by the thumping score of 45-0. The host Jets were the sixth straight Tecumseh victim.

Even frequent substitution, jockying of defensive and offensive players in positions they haven't played under game conditions, failed to slow the onslaught.

Although the Indians were not really sharp, especially the first half, Coach Tom Fagan's club returned in the final two periods was the rock'em, sock'em bunch Tecumseh fans have enjoyed this year.

☆

Tecumseh tallied twice in each of the first three quarters and once in the fourth. The scoring was easy.

After quarterback Tim Sisson's 23-yard TD run was called back, halfback Jim Johnson scored four plays later from the 11. The 59-yard drive took just seven plays.

A few minutes later and in six plays, excluding two Indian penalties, Dave Lemerand tallied from the two. Johnson ran the extra point.

Midway in the second period, Sisson completed a 56-yard march in six plays, pushing over from the one. Fullback Bob Baker plunged for the extra point.

Late in the first half, Sisson picked off a Jet pass on Airport's 40. After Johnson picked up nine through the middle, quarterback John Oberlin tossed long to Johnson for Tecumseh's 26th point. Craig Rosacran ran for the extra point.

☆

THE FIRST time with the pigskin in the third quarter, Tecumseh moved 59 yards in eight plays with Lemerand scoring from the three.

Just before the final period, Oberlin bootlegged right end for 30 yards and a TD, ending a 40-yard drive in just two plays.

Rosacrans capped the slaughter just before the end when Oberlin's pass found him completely alone beyond the Airport secondary.

The game was almost a mockery of football — from many view points. Tecumseh was so superior to the Airport 11 that there was little competition between the two teams.

Perhaps the worse part of the game was the horrible condition of the field. It was exceptionally hard, rocky and for the most part, bare of grass.

The game was played on Airport's new field, which was well lighted, but poorly kept.

Green Bees Plan

Mrs. George Downard was hostess to 10 members of the Raisin Green Bees Oct. 15. Plans were completed for the Holiday Open House Oct. 20 at Alexander School, Adrian.

Mrs. Robert Beevers, chairman, urged members to attend the United Nations Day observance at Dawson Auditorium, Adrian, Oct. 22.

James Wadsworth was the speaker.

The Raisin Green Bees, working with the Clinton Homemakers Extension Club, completed plans for a Nov. 12 birthday party for residents of Maple Lane Manor.

Games will be played and refreshments served to about 75 in the home. Prizes will be awarded.

Mrs. Wynne Matteson will be hostess for the Nov. 19 meeting.

Candidate Outlines State Tax Program

William G. Bradstreet, Democratic candidate for the state legislature, speaking at Newburg Farm Bureau Saturday night called for an end to extreme partisanship in Michigan state government.

Mr. Bradstreet, a Hudson area farmer, said the many factors causing Michigan's financial troubles continue only because of the unwillingness on the part of many politicians to put aside party labels.

Pointing out that the solution to Michigan's critical problems depend on fiscal reform, Mr. Bradstreet outlined the following program:

1—Enact a 3% personal and 5% corporation profits tax and earmark it for educational purposes.

2—Prohibit any school taxes being levied under the present 15 mill limitation.

3—Repeal the Business Activities Tax.

4—Repeal the sales tax on food and prescription drugs.

5—Eliminate the state General Fund appropriations for schools and local units of government.

6—Levy 2½ mills (state average) or 1½ mills for rural townships under the 15-mill limitation to replace the General Fund six and seven mills, state equalized, as well as no sales tax on food and drugs.

'I feel that this plan opens the way for local units of government to support themselves in the type of program needed by Michigan, and this is the goal I would strive for."

State Runs Short of Vaccine To Fight Asian Flu Outbreak

Physicians and public health officials are faced with a dilemma concerning influenza, according to Dr. George H. Agate, director of the Michigan Department of Health's Division of Epidemiology.

"On the one hand, the U.S. Public Health Service has predicted an outbreak of Asian flu this winter and recommended immunization against the disease with influenza vaccine," Dr. Agate said.

"However, the demand for the vaccine is exceeding the supply, and there's just not enough of it for everyone.

"The only answer right now is to ration the limited supply of vaccine and administer it to those who should not be without," he said.

The public health physician cited an article in a recent issue of the Journal of the American Medical Association by Dr. Fred M. Davenport, professor of epidemiology at the University of Michigan's School of Public Health, who recommended priority guide lines for physicians faced with a vaccine shortage.

His recommendations are the same as those set forth by the state health department earlier this fall.

"The epidemic of Asian influenza in 1957-58 and the experience of 1960," Dr. Davenport said, "focused attention once again upon the fact that during epidemics of influenza there occurs a marked excess of mortality which is not distributed equally among the population but is clustered in certain 'high-risk' groups.

"At all times, vaccination of persons in these groups should receive first priority."

He listed the high-risk groups as: (1) persons of all ages who suffer from chronic debilitating diseases such as chronic cardiovascular, pulmonary, renal or metabolic disorders; (2) pregnant women; and (3) persons in older age groups—those over 45 and particularly those over 65 years of age.

Although influenza does not strike persons in these categories more frequently, the disease is more apt to be a life-threatening event than among other persons.

Dr. Davenport listed a second priority group, including persons performing certain critical services such as medical and health services, public safety and utilities, transportation and communication.

NEW PLAY, NEW STAGING—A bright play in a unique setting will introduce Tecumsehites to the new home of the Tecumseh Players. The group opens its 1962-63 season Thursday, Oct.. 25 in the Glass Room of the Tecumseh Community Center. The stage, designed to fit the room, is 18 inches high. Set on an angle, it extends into the room to allow intimate contact with the audience. The first production, "The Man Who Came to Dinner," is scheduled Thursday, Friday and Saturday, Oct. 25, 26 and 27 and Nov. 1, 2 and 3. Duane Steele (left) has the title roll. Mrs. Bertha Vallelunga will portray the "femme fatale," Lorraine Shelton. Caught between the unwanted attention of Lorraine and the wanted affection to Maggie Cutler, played by Mrs. Fred Pokorny (right) is Bert Jefferson, newspaperman and would-be playwright, played by William Sanford.

Civil Service 'School' Unnecessary for Jobs

Joseph A. Connor, regional director of the Chicago Region, US Civil Service Commission, announced that complaints have been received from persons living in the vicinity of Tecumseh regarding the activities of salesmen representing so-called "civil service schools."

Some organizations make exaggerated claims about job opportunities and about the help they can give in getting people jobs with the federal government.

Their salesmen may sometimes imply that if a person takes their course he will get a certain job in a certain federal installation.

Often there is no such job or it is one usually filled by promotion from within the service.

Mr. Connor stated that no course is required to take a civil service examination or to learn about job opportunities.

He also announced that information about examinations for positions in the federal government may be obtained, without cost, from the post offices or from the United States Civil Service Commission, Washington, D.C. or regional offices of the commission.

Mr. Connor suggests that anyone contemplating taking a so-called "civil service course" check with one of these sources to learn of employment opportunities and job requirements before signing a contract or paying their money.

Garden Club Makes Plans

Mrs. Archie Dunsmore presented a program on chrysanthemums Friday for members of the Tecumseh Garden Club.

The meeting was held at the home of Mrs. R. H. Moore on Red Mill Dr. Co-hostesses were Mrs. Hugh Walter and Mrs. Earl Wickwire.

Reports of a regional meeting in Morenci were given and plans were formulated for the Dec. 3 meeting at 8 p.m. in the Tecumseh Community Center.

Mrs. Harold Pickard will present a demonstration program entitled, "Christmas Fantasy." The public is invited.

Drying Is Part of Corn Harvest

Harvest of this year's corn crop is underway in many parts of Michigan. Today's successful farmer — in step with modern methods — accepts crop drying as an important part of successful crop production.

Corn needs to be harvested promptly when mature to reduce field losses and to lessen the chance of damage from bad weather. However, most early harvested corn is high in moisture and needs to be dried before storing.

Farmers should seriously consider a number of possibilities before investing in a drying system, according to Robert Maddex, agricultural engineer at Michigan State University.

Farmers producing less than 4,000 bushels a year should stick with an ear corn operation. The farmer with up to 7,000 bushels to store could most profitably purchase an in-storage drying system. Farmers growing more than a 1,000 bushel crop should consider investing in a high-capacity, batch-type, drying system, he says.

Natural or forced air drying of ear corn will insure its keeping-quality through the winter and spring months for feed purposes. Bulk cribs using forced unheated air can be as wide as 30 feet with ear corn reaching depths of 20 feet.

However, cribs depending upon natural ventilation should be less than six feet wide, according to Mr. Maddex. Circular cribs should contain a center air duct and measure less than six feet from the outside of the crib to the duct.

☆

LARGE diameter cribs equipped with center ducts for forced air drying can meet government loan requirements. They must be equipped with forced air drying and a center tunnel at least one square foot in diameter.

"Heated air drying of ear corn is not recommended," says Mr. Maddex.

Corn shelled in the field or immediately after picking also requires drying. Heated air should be used for properly drying shelled corn.

Batch-type dryers using bins up to a capacity of 400 bushels are commonly used today. Batch dryers use high air flows per bushel and high air temperatures.

Continuous-type heated air dryers are also available for drying both corn and small grains. Correct placement of the dryer and cribs increases the efficiency of a drying system, he adds.

☆

BOTH BINS and building suitable for storing shelled corn can be adapted for this type of drying — providing a duct system, fan and supplemental heat are added. Low air flow requirements per bushel and limited temperature increases are used in such a system.

New construction lends itself better to "in-storage" drying because mechanical handling systems and better air distribution can be built into the storage bins, says Mr. Maddex.

A drying schedule is required for "in-storage" drying. Over-drying takes out too much moisture and under-drying leaves the moisture in the corn too long—causing spoilage.

Aeration of grain provides a very low air flow for controlling grain temperatures in storage. Such a system is not designed for removing moisture from stored grain, Mr. Maddex concludes.

Historical Site Can Attract Business

An interesting historical site can bring in as much money to a community as a new business.

"A spot that will attract 28 tourists a day to a town can mean as much revenue as an industry with a $100,000 annual payroll.

That's what a recent study of Michigan's tourist business shows

Clare Gunn, tourist and resort specialist for Michigan's Cooperative Extension Service believes most people remember vacations because of catching big fish, seeing beautiful scenery and sunsets, unusual sights and unusual experiences.

Broad highways, good restaurants and attractive tourist facilities are pleasant experiences—but are seldom ends in themselves, Mr. Gunn points out.

"But — unfortunately, many tourist and resort people think largely of objects. They fail to promote things that may provide pleasant and lasting experiences for the vacationer."

☆

FOR EXAMPLE, Mr. Gunn found that most boat tours, historic sites and commercial attractions had a good summer season. At the same time, motels and resorts reported less trade than in past summers.

The MSU specialist believes that too often motels have gone up with little regard to attractions that might bring in business. Owners have tended to feel that well-traveled highways alone held the key to success.

Tourists now spend about $650 million annually in the state. While impressive, that figure could be increased substantially, Gunn believes.

"Michigan has more natural, historic and man-made recreation sites than most states," he observes. "Aggressive planning, management and promotion could attract larger numbers of tourists from heavily-populated southern Michigan and northern Illinois, Indiana, and Ohio."

Mrs. Illeck Leads Region Symposium

Mrs. Stephen Illeck was chairman of the symposium for the elementary beginning teachers meeting at Ann Arbor last Thursday and Friday.

This was part of the annual Region III, Michigan Education Association Teacher Institute.

Lenawee, Jackson, Monroe and Washtenaw Counties are included in Region III.

"The New Image of the Teacher" was the theme of the conference with Harry Golden, editor of The Carolina Israelite, as featured speaker.

Some 5,000 teachers packed Hill Auditorium Thursday morning.

Geraldine Beal, Tecumseh elementary teacher, is also among the committee chairmen.

During the two-day session, all public school students were on vacation.

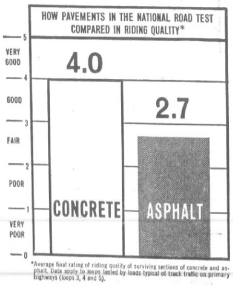
concrete roads keep their riding smoothness!"

The National Road Test confirms for taxpayers that concrete provides lasting riding quality.

Concrete and asphalt were tested side by side on 5 loops in the recent National Road Test, sponsored by the American Association of State Highway Officials. Loaded trucks traveled 17 million miles over the hundreds of pavement test sections.

At the end of test (two years of traffic), the surviving sections were measured for riding quality. Concrete averaged "very good." Asphalt averaged "fair."

It's with good reason that concrete is preferred for important roads such as state primary routes. The low upkeep cost of concrete saves taxpayers money year after year.



*Average final rating of riding quality of surviving sections of concrete and asphalt. Data apply to loops tested by road typical of truck traffic on primary highways (loops 3, 4 and 5).

Allan Seager Translates Noted Book

Allan Seager of Tecumseh soon will have a new book added to his volumes at the Tecumseh Public Library.

It is the 'Memoirs of a Tourist," by Stendhal, translated from the original by Mr. Seager after a visit to France in which he talked with Stendhal, or rather, Marie Henri Beyle, whose pen name is Stendhal.

Vogue Magazine's October issue contains a quote from the book in the magazine's section called 'Best of the Best." Also, an interview by a Detroit News critic with the Tecumseh author and University of Michigan professor will be printed soon in the paper.

Mr. Seager worked intermittently on the book for nearly three years. It has been published by the Northwestern University Press.

GOP Plans Meal, Shows

Tecumseh area residents are reminded of the series of programs to be presented in the Republican Campaign Headquarters on W. Chicago Blvd.

A film entitled 'High Road To Adventure, the Hoist Way" will be shown Friday, Oct. 26, at 7:30 p.m. by Carol Cole of the Detroit Center for Youth Hosteling.

Thursday, Nov. 1, the Elite Studio of Adrian will present a demonstration of the latest hair styles and make-up at 7:30 p.m.

A Spanish- American night featuring a potluck dinner will be held at 6:30 p.m. in the Republican Headquarters Tuesday, Nov. 6, election night.

Colored movies of Mexico will be shown and people of Spanish or Mexican extraction are especially invited to attend. It is hoped by the committee that the Spanish-speaking people will bring native dishes to pass.

Mrs. Collins Wins

Mrs. Clifford Collins was high scorer at the bridge tables Oct. 17 at the Tecumseh Country Club.

Table prizes were awarded to Mrs. Frank Rice, Mrs. Earl Lindsley and Mrs. Randall Pilbeam.

Mrs. Percy Bowen was the hostess.

Coast Guard Seeks Cadets

The 87th annual examination for admission to the U. S. Coast Guard Academy at New London, Conn., described by President Kennedy as "second to none of its sister academies," will be held Feb. 18 and 19 in over 150 cities of the United States, its possessions and selected cities abroad.

Appointments as Cadet, United States Coast Guard, are made solely on the basis of competitive examination and prospective adaptability to military life. There are no Congressional appointments or geographical quotas.

An information booklet and application forms for entering the Coast Guard Academy may be obtained by writing the Commandant (PTP-2,) U. S. Coast Guard, Washington 25, D. C. The completed application forms must be returned by January 10.

SOCIAL SECURITY Questions and Answers

SOCIAL SECURITY m'oi.exA-d

QUESTION: During the summer vacation from school I have been working one day a week at a service station. Must I have a social security number and pay social security tax on my wages from this part time work?

ANSWER: Yes. Even though you work only one day a week your wages are subject to social security tax. When the work is in the course of the employer's trade or business, the wages you receive are taxable regardless of the amount. However, wages of over $4,800 are not taxable.

√

QUESTION: When I enter college this fall, I will work part time for the college. Will my work be covered under the Social Security Act?

ANSWER: No. If you are enrolled in the college and are regularly attending classes, such work is not covered by the Social Security Act.

√

QUESTION: I hired a lady to clean my house one day a week. I pay her $10 to do this work plus 50 cents for car fare. Is it necessary for me to pay social security taxes on the wages I pay her?

ANSWER: If you hire a domestic employee who is paid $50 or more in cash wages during a calendar quarter, you are required to report her earnings. The amount you give her in cash for car fare would also count as part of her earnings, and would be subject to social security taxes.

Do you have a question about social security? If so, write to your social security representative for Lenawee County, James Hushion, 536 N. Jackson Street, Jackson, Michigan. All letters are confidential and you will receive an immediate reply.

Moms of Twins Wear Flowers

Members were met at the door with individual corsages to observe Founders Month when the Mothers of Twins Club met Oct. 16 in the home of Mrs. Paul Rudd.

During the business meeting each member chose a kit which will be made into a Christmas decoration at the November meeting, in the home of Mrs. Walter Gillen of Brooklyn.

Games were played with the door prize won by Mrs. Donald Hardcastle. Children's favors were furnished by Mrs. R. H. Dixon, and the hostess was assisted with refreshments by Mrs. Richard Upell.

PRIZE WINNER — Tecumseh High School Junior Class took second place and $10 in the homecoming float competition last week. Re-writing the nursery rhyme theme, the juniors said, "A tisket, a tacket, put the Rams in a casket." First prize in the division went to the sophomores, while the top prize in the organization division was taken by the Varsity Club. The parade was only one of a round of homecoming activities. Others included a pep rally and the post-game homecoming dance, attended by nearly 80 couples. Reigning at the dance was Sherry Packard, Homecoming queen, with her court, Jane Mobley and Bonnie Staup, Barbara Colgrove, Sharon Bottroff and Karen Miller. The queen was crowned by football Tri-Capt. Norm Tucker. She also received a necklace, a gift from the student body.

Youths Form Auto Club For Teens

The Cam Twisters, a teen-age boys car club recently organized, gave $5 to the Save Historic St. Peter's Fund as a first project.

The group meets each Tuesday evening at Ed's Auto Service behind the local branch of the Adrian Federal Savings and Loan Assn.

Dan Wiemer, president, invites any interested boy over 15 to join. To date there are 13 members in the club.

Members attended the National Auto Show at Cobo Hall Saturday.

Band Plans Concerts

After a busy fall season, the Tecumseh High School marching band will retire and assume duties as a concert band inside the building.

Instructor Don Johnson told the students that this year they would try some of the lighter music, perhaps do a vaudeville program.

To go along with this theme the band will play such tunes as "The 1812 Oveture" and the "Parade of the Charioteers" from Ben Hur.

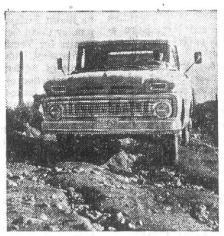
When we came to a river we got wet. This river bed was paved with rocks the size of melons. What a test for new light- and heavy-duty suspension systems this was!



Conventional light-duty units have coil-spring independent front suspension —easier on truck, load and driver.

Users of new conventional medium- and heavy-duty units who have to operate in close quarters are going to like the narrower front ends (up to 7 inches).

With months of proving-ground tests under their belts, why did new Chevrolet trucks take on the rugged Baja (bah'hah) Peninsula?

This is the toughest line of trucks Chevrolet has ever built. Sending them over the most punishing terrain in North America (a road totally unlike the fine highways on the Mexican mainland) was double proof of this fact. Frames, engines, suspension systems were subjected to stresses far greater than trucks normally encounter. You can be sure that trucks that can handle this kind of beating can handle any kind of work.

RECRUIT TRAINED — John L. June, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur W. June of 6960 Green Hwy., has completed recruit training at the Naval Training Center, Great Lakes, Ill.

Auxiliary Heads Meet

Mrs. Marvin Nelson, district vice president, conducted the meeting Oct. 15 when local presidents of the Jaycee auxiliaries from Chelsea, Milan, Saline and Tecumseh gathered at the home of Mrs. Richard Creswell.

An exchange of ideas for Christmas projects, social hours, money-making schemes and community service projects was made.

This group meets about four times each year.

A Halloween masquerade party will be held Wednesday, Oct. 24, by the local auxiliary. Mrs. Allen Barrett is hostess.

Exchange Hears Banking Talk

Ollie Musch led group singing for the Exchange Club Oct. 15 and Forest Abner introduced Merlyn Downing, cashier of United Savings Bank, who was the speaker.

Mr. Downing explained what happens to a check from the time it is written and cashed until the check goes to the clearing house in Detroit and is returned to the individual who issued it.

On a typical day, he said, 4,400 checks, 900 remittances and some 600 deposits are handled at the Tecumseh bank.

David Dick and Douglas Dunn presided at a fines session which provided many laughs for the group.

Youths Train at Navy Center

GREAT LAKES, Ill. (FHTN-C—Richard L. Meads, son of Mr. and Mrs. George O. Meads of 315 Adrian St., and Patrick C. Lee, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arnold N. Lee of 1850 N. Twin Lake Rd., Tipton, are undergoing nine weeks of basic recruit training at the Naval Training Center, Great Lakes, Ill.

The indoctrination to Navy life began in September. It consists of physical fitness drills, military drills, basic military law, customs and etiquette of the naval service, swimming and survival, first aid and basic shipboard routine.

During the training, recruits receive tests and interviews which determine future training and assignments in the Navy.

Romney Advances His Thoughts on Education

George Romney has outlined an 11-point program which he considers essential for improving Michigan's total educational system.

The accomplishments of Michigan's educational system have been impressive, he states, "yet, if our schools and universities are to continue to excel and if they are to improve even more in the future as they must, then this state must take decisive and positive action now."

Romney's program includes:

1. The basic answer to adequate educational financing is to encourage the economic growth and development of Michigan. An expanding economy, which will provide new jobs and broader revenue bases, is absolutely essential to raising the state and local taxes necessary to support our present unmet educational needs.

2. The superintendent of public instruction should be removed from partisan politics. This position should be appointive, as are comparable jobs in all our local school systems and at our universities.

3. We must proceed, subject to local approval, with the orderly consolidation and re-organization of school districts in areas where such action will clearly lead to better education at lower cost.

4. Our present school aid formula with its many exceptions and allocations for specific purposes is complicated and confusing. The formula should be completely re-evaluated with a view to making it more simplified and equitable.

5. We must expand our facilities and our financial support of all higher educational institutions. Our postwar population explosion is about to sweep into our colleges and universities, and Michigan is simply not prepared.

6. Scholarship and loan programs should be expanded so that gifted students and others who need financial assistance may continue their education and make their maximum contributions to the future of our society.

7. We must develop and expand our commendable system of community colleges. State aid and community support must be satisfactorily blended and improved to strengthen this localized approach to higher education.

8. We must coordinate and encourage agencies at all levels —voluntary and public — dealing with out-of-work and out-of-school youth. Our school dropout situation is one of our biggest social and economic problems, and must be faced squarely and adequately.

9. We must encourage development of research centers with programs, facilities and funds for educational institutions at all levels. To a growing extent, our future as a state rests with expansion of research, and Michigan must be in the forefront—not lagging behind.

10. And enlarged state board of education can supply much needed planning, coordination and review of all proposed state expenditures in education.

11. Teaching is a profession. Starting salaries for teaching in too many areas of the state need to be higher. Teacher salaries must reflect the professional status of our educators. Young people must be encouraged to enter the teaching profession and remain in it.

MARDA GENE DUNCAN'S

Thru My Window

LOG by DUNCAN

The last two weeks in September I worried. A silly thing to do, such a senseless, wasteful emotion especially when it concerns matters over which one has no control. And what is more uncontrollable than the weather! But, you see, we were planning an October vacation for the express purpose of seeing fall colors—what if it were cold and rainy and miserable?

Not helping my state of mind were news bulletins that the colors were early this year. It didn't do a bit of good but I worried.

Departure day arrived and wow, one could not have asked for a prettier day; 'twas warm, the sky blue and the sun bright. Whizzing to Mackinaw City along the almost completed Interstate 75 was beautiful.

The new road has cut hours off the driving time and what a pleasure to get away from billboards and other cheap advertising which were fast spoiling the old 27.

We started seeing color right away but one gets the impression that stopping along 75 to take pictures would be frowned upon. We just looked and enjoyed.

Monday, bright and warm. After a quick look at Mighty Mac we headed west for a short drive through Wilderness State Park.

This is a lovely spot, situated at the tip to the lower peninsula and all too often, I am afraid, overlooked by travelers anxious to get into The Upper'.

Along a stretch of road which winds through a heavily wooded area we saw partridges — another addition to our close-up bird list.

☆

BACK IN Mackinaw City we ohed and ahed at the Bridge, then started across. I guess the thrill will never wear off, each crossing is as exciting as the one before.

The color in the upper peninsula was tremendous! The hills north of Cedarville were absolutely ablaze. Mother Nature must have an interest in Eastman Kodak Company—film can certainly run through cameras fast in the midst of such beauty.

Tuesday morning in Sault Ste. Marie, Ontario, more bright warm sunshine. Coming into the city we could hardly believe our eyes, but it was real, the hills — well, I once heard the Smoky Mountains in the fall described as looking as if they were draped with a luxurious Persian rug.

Ontario's rug was the loveliest thing we had ever seen.

From the Soo, Highway 17 goes north along Batchawana Bay and through Lake Superior Provincial Park. The spectacular fall colors, an irregular rocky shore line and the deep sparkling blue of the big lake added up to a tremendous day of good looking.

WEDNESDAY at Wawa, Ontario, and more good weather. Leaving the shore of the big lake we had a long drive through small lake and river country. Gorgeous!

We were surprised at the number of mountain ash trees, they were everywhere. Their big clusters of fiery red berries added much to the fall spectacle of color, and what a wonderful food bonanza for the birds.

Thursday morning at Terrace Bay and oh no! We awoke to the soft pit-a-pat of rain. By the time we were ready to leave our most comfortable motel, the rain had let up but the fog and haze were all day companions.

It was frustrating, we could just see far enough to realize how much magnificent scenery we couldn't see and, of course, the camera was almost completely helpless.

Friday—ho ho, sunshine again. There was still a little haze but the sun was out and the forecast was for even better things so we headed back to Terrace Bay.

The scenery was breath-taking but so many people have taken the Great Circle Route that I shall try not to rave about the mountains and the island dotted inlets.

Color-wise, it was a world of bright gold; this is the country of white and silver birches with just enough pine for emphasis. Between Terrace Bay and Nipagon we used a whole year's supply of 'beautiful and lovely'.

Saturday ugh! An odd type of day, a bit of sun but much haze. Fortunately the prettiest part of the day's drive we had seen yesterday in good light. It was amazing though how many leaves had come down overnight — fall comes quickly and leaves the same way.

Indians Face Crucial Test in GI Contest

By JIM LINCOLN

Grosse Ile, which faces Tecumseh Friday night, is the most dangerous team in the Huron League.

This view is shared by coaches and scouts, who have watched the Islanders in action this fall.

If Tecumseh upends GI, the Indians will be undefeated and league champs. A loss would probably result in Tecumseh sharing the loop's title with Blissfield.

There are eight seniors on GI's team, some of whom were on the 1960 squad which came to Tecumseh two years ago with championship dreams. That night, GI was favored — but lost.

This Friday evening, the Indians also will be favored, and there's no doubt of title aspirations. A GI victory is the only thing that can prevent Coach Tom Fagan's club from taking the championship.

What scares the local coaching staff most is the scoring ability of GI. They rang up 33 points against Milan — and according to scouting report, literally gave the game away. Milan whipped GI, 34-33.

Against Blissfield, a tough defensive team which the Indians edged last Friday night, GI lost its second league encounter — by just one point.

☆

MARK PETT, 172-pound left halfback, is rated one of the fastest and shiftiest backs in the league. He's scored over 40 points so far this season.

Quarterback Steve Leonard is an excellent left-handed passer and a far better-than-average runner.

Coach Fagan's Indians for the second week in a row will be giving away a weight advantage. GI will average only 163, on the offensive line and 169 in the backfield, but defensively, GI will run nearly 177 pounds per man on the line with linebackers and secondary players tilting the scales at almost 170 pounds each.

BLISSFIELD STORY, PAGE 8

☆

TECUMSEH CANNOT afford to look past Friday night's opponents or there'll be only one undefeated team in Lenawee County, depending on whether Adrian can get by East Lansing — which is doubtful.

A letdown after whipping the Royals is not expected.

Tecumseh should be able to run against GI and win. If necessary, the area's finest passer in Tim Sisson hitting ends Norm Tucker and Mark Vallincourt, or halfbacks Jim Johnson and Dave Lemerand, should provide additional trouble for the visiting Islanders.

The "Apaches," gaining a lot of friends and confidence after a workmanlike job on Blissfield, should be tough defensively for Pett, Leonard and Beauchamp and not allow them to scamper the way they did against Milan, and last week against Airport.

Long and Short

DEAR PAULA,

So you went and did it. You had to go and marry a weekly newspaperman and set up housekeeping in a small town.

Well, the die is cast, you'll have to make the best of the deal.

You're now officially Mrs. Frederick Flox, first lady of The Dundee Reporter.

Please don't be flustered when you go into a strange store to sell an ad and introduce yourself as Paula Green of The Reporter, using your maiden name. From now on you're Paula Flox.

You needn't bother telling me you have never sold ads before. I suspected that.

Before long, you'll find yourself a star advertising salesman for the Dundee weekly, along with being an expert writer, subscription seller and public relations standout.

Seeing your beautiful picture in last week's Reporter and reading about your lovely wedding and honeymoon trip to Nassau reminded me of another young couple.

They were married in 1950.

Like your Fred, who purchased his paper while a bachelor, this fellow did the same thing, only it was just one month before the wedding. Your hubby had a year as Dundee editor before taking on his life partner.

In that other case, the newlyweds walked in the front door, with little knowledge of the weekly business. And they didn't get that nice trip to Nassau, as you did, being married Saturday and starting Tuesday to produce that week's paper.

But is was all so exciting, those first hectic weeks and months.

Paula, you're going to find that being the wife of a weekly editor is an unusual existence, to say the least.

You'll meet a variety of folks — from the warm-hearted and the considerate to the vain and the downright kookie.

Your classes at Fairleigh-Dickinson University in New York didn't cover one-tenth of the odd situations you'll find yourself coping with around the office of a weekly newspaper.

At first you'll be bewitched and a little bewildered. But gradually you'll peg your readers and your advertisers. There are so many wonderful folks in small communities. Don't let the handful of loud and snide characters

Home Builders Class Meets

Mrs. C. O. Baily presented devotions for members of the Happy Home Builders Class of the First Baptist Church Oct. 17.

Nell DePuy presided and Mrs. R. T. Pennington and Emma Taylor were the hostesses.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernie Topps will host the Nov. 14 meeting.

Ticket Sale Runs Brisk

Advance ticket sale for this week's three performances of "The Man Who Came to Dinner" has been brisk. Saturday is nearly sold out, although a few seats remain on sale at the United Savings Bank. Thursand Friday offer more chances to acquire pasteboards. The show starts promptly at 8 p.m. in the Community Center and is presented by the Tecumseh Players, local amateur theatre group.

AEBBERSOLD-SPICER "MOCK" NUPTIALS — Don Aebersold as the bride and Stewart Spicer, the groom, will be married in a mock ceremony at the Ridgeway Fun Fair Saturday, Nov. 3. Dean Hamilton plays the part of the performing minister. Festivities at the school will begin at 5 and continue until 10 p.m. with food and game booths in abundance. Story on page 2.

Tuesday Is the Day

Lenawee County residents will have 23 national, state and county posts to vote for and a proposal to consider Tuesday, Nov. 6, in the general election.

For the first time, they will vote for a congressman who will represent the entire state, instead of a small district.

The constitutional proposal confuses many. This is NOT the proposed new Michigan Constitution, which a special convention worked on for months to provide a complete replacement for the old constitution. That will be voted on in April, 1963.

This Tuesday's proposal is only to allow lawmakers to revise state laws.

The present constitution prohibits a complete revision of the laws, but makes it possible for a group of commissioners, appointed by the governor, to recommend to the Legislature the repeal of obsolete laws.

☆

THE STATE-WIDE congressional post exists because the governor and legislature weren't able to agree on a revision in congresisonal districts. The 1960 census gave Michigan one more congress post to fill.

Both the Democratic governor and the Republican legislature wanted a revision that would give their party the new congressman.

Running for the post are Neil Staebler, Democrat; Alvin M. Bentley, Republican, and Ralph W. Muney, of the Socialist Labor Party.

☆

GEORGE Romney is given the best chance the odds-makers have given any Republican to break the long-term Democratic hold on the Michigan governorship.

He heads a Republican state office ticket which includes candidates Clarence A. Ried for lieutenant governor; Norman O. Stockmyer, secretary of state; Robert Danhof, attorney general, Glenn S. Allen Jr., treasurer and L. William Seidman, auditor general.

Gov. John B. Swainson heads a list of Democratic office holders including T. John Lohn Lesinski, lieutenant governor; James M. Hare, secretary of state; Frank J. Kelley, attorney general; Sanford A. Brown, treasurer, and Billie S. Farnum, auditor general.

The Socialist Labor Party also has a full list of candidates for state office.

☆

IN THE RACE for state senator from the 19th District are Incumbent Elmer R. Porter, a Republican, and Democrat William Nichols.

Vying for state representative from the Lenawee District are Republican Incumbent Rollo G. Conlin and Democrat William G. Bradstreet.

Two county officers, Surveyor Walter E. Frazier and Harvey A. Koselka, county prosecuting attorney, have no opposition for election.

Democrats seeking to unseat the Republican incumbents for county office are James V. Crawford, running for sheriff; Jerry F. Horky, clerk; Dorothy L. Breckel, treasurer; George W. Wagner, register of deeds; Noel B. Osborne, drain commisisoner, and Fred Jaeger and Edward Kamke, coroners.

Asking voters to return them to office are Republicans Robert C. Stites, sheriff; Alice M. Welch, clerk; Willis L. Moore, treasurer; Leonard A. Warner, register of deeds, Donald E. Mitchell, drain commissioner, and Edward

Fund Drive Slows Down

Unless there's a surge in contributions, the Tecumseh Community Fund Foundation will fall far short of its $50,000 goal.

Ken Conway, Fund drive chairman, reports solicitations, so far, are more than $20,000 short of the goal, despite the fact that the industry division drive topped its Fund quota of $17,500 by nearly $5,000.

None of the division drives is completed, although the industry division, with $22,104 in, is about 90% completed.

The professional drive, about a fourth through, has raised $500; commercial drive, nearly completed, $2,299.50; and the municipal and residential drives are just under way.

Over 100 ladies are conducting the residential drive, and so far have received about $300. Residents not being contacted who wish to contribute to Tecumseh's welfare, can do so by making their donations to Mr. Conway at the General Telephone office.

Last year, the community raised over $71,000 with a goal of $65,000. Drive chairmen are still optimistic that forthcoming donations will bring the total raised nearer the 1962 goal of $50,000.

After the charities receive their quota of the total Tecumseh donations, the rest will be applied to the debt on the new library.

'Fill the Shelves'

The Tecumseh Kiwanis Club will provide free pick-up service for those wishing to donate books during the campaign to "Fill the Shelves" of the Tecumseh library.

Two evenings, from 6:30 to 9 have been set, Nov. 6 for those south of Chicago Blvd. and Nov. 8 for those north.

Persons having books that they are willing to donate need only turn their porch light on.

Books can also be turned in at the library, Lamb's Rexall Pharmacy and Larry's Grill, where stickers are available with which donors can dedicate books and sign their names.

All books that are donated will become the property of the Tecumseh library and none will be returned.

Library personnel will screen them and those that are not appropriate for library use will be offered to the public in a book rummage sale.

Kiwanis Club members, impressed by the recently dedicated building and the need for additional books, decided to enlist the aid of the public.

It is their feeling that perhaps there are many books in homes in this community that have served their purpose for their owners and could now be donated to the library to make it a finer and more complete facility.

Moms, Dads

"Parents Night" will be observed here Friday evening at the Tecumseh-Grosse Ile football game.

The school will honor parents of the players at the game and later with a coffee hour following the tilt in the high school cafeteria.

Comedy Scores as Rousing Hit

By MARJORIE COMFORT

"The Man Who Came to Dinner" is a delight to the eye and the ear.

And not a bit of color, the action or the hilarious lines is lost on the audience. Even the back row gives an orchestra-seat proximity in the "Glass Room" of the Community Center.

This is the perfect setting for an intimate, fast moving comedy, and the Tecumseh Players give it their all.

Three more performances are scheduled for Thursday, Friday and Saturday, all starting at 8 p.m.

Each night since the opening last Thursday, the Players have become sharper in their parts. Their timing is as distinct as the Moss Hart-George S. Kaufmann lines.

Director Rik Kureth has put together a rapid-fire show, one by the largest cast the Players have attempted to date — 26 persons.

☆

DUANE STEELE, in the title role of Sheridan Whiteside, has the heaviest load. Not only does he have the lion's share of the dialog, but he must feed the other characters their lines, and react to their comments.

The heaven-cast eyes and tugged-at beard make him an actor even without lines.

Wary of her recalcitrant patient, she can't believe it when he shows some signs of humanity.

Bertha Vallelunga has hit a new peak as Lorraine Sheldon.

She stalks, gestures and grouns in the grand tradition of the worldly-wise actress she is portraying. Her wrath is enough to make even the stolid Mr. Whiteside cower.

Maggie Cutler, on the other hand, is played with more restraint by Jackie Pokorny. Maggie, although grown cynical in the employ of Sheridan Whiteside, retains an awakening enthusiasm.

☆

GENE EARLING as the harried Mr. Stanley, Marilyn Mengerink as the hand-wringing Mrs. Stanley, and Lillian Cesokas as the fluttery, ethereal Harriet Stanley, give able performances.

Richard Boyd won several rounds of applause as he frolicked in the role of Beverly Carlton, actor, man-about-town and trouble-maker.

Fred Ward as Richard Stanley, Terry McEnroe as June Stanley, and Syd Turner as Sandy gave their touch of young idealists to contrast with their jaded "elders."

The eager, confused and bemuddled Dr. Bradley was played to the hilt by Charles Parker.

Although the play starts slowly while the varied characters build their rapport with the listeners, it picks up speed to a whirling finish.

It's hard to imagine a better spot to give such a play. The nearly square "Glass Room," with the stage set at an angle well into the seating area, allows close contact between actor and spectator.

The surrounding facilities are welcome, too, to playgoers. There is ample free parking area and space to mingle over refreshments or, after the play, with the actors.

Possible — Water by 1965

Next week will be a busy one for the Tecumseh Community Development Committee as its members push the River Raisin reclamation project.

On Monday, the committee meets with City Council and the Raisin Township board to get their official endorsement and sponsorship of the water program.

On Tuesday, the development group will huddle with the Lenawee County Soil Conservation District in Adrian to make application under Public Law 566 for a survey of the Raisin watershed.

If everything falls into place at the second session, the effort will go to the state for its OK. With state approval, public hearings would be set up.

☆

CONSIDERABLE paper work is involved and at best construction work probably couldn't be started until next summer. This would mean water by 1965.

Contact with the Michigan Water Resources Commission has brought good news. It is currently making a water-flow, flood survey and temperature survey of the Raisin. The commission survey will be finished in a short time and the information made available to the local group.

At both meetings, the committee will present scale drawings of the proposed dam sites and resulting lakes.

Two initial projects loom largest at present, restoration of the old Quaker Pond, which runs north from Comfort Rd. and creation of a lake, running north from a proposed dam at Sutton Rd.

Between the two, approxi-

Mr. and Mrs. Edward O'Neill 215 N. Union St. found themselves right in the center of world activity last Monday.

When the President announced the US quarantine of Cuba, the O'Neills were aboard the HMS Victoria between Cuba and Haiti, blissfully enjoying a Caribbean cruise which Mr. O'Neill had won for his sales accomplishment for Western Auto Supply Co.

The whole ship had been chartered for winners for the company.

Those on board were told of the blockade Tuesday morning in bulletins which were slipped beneath their cabin doors and even then they did not realize the momentousness of the decision until they reached shore.

They saw aircraft carriers and destroyers. Among the islands they toured were Nassau and Jamaica.

☆

Next time around, Mrs. Carlos Knisely will read the date on the invitation more carefully.

She trooped over to the new Medical Building, which now houses the offices of Drs. Cook, Coak, Ocamb and Adams.

There weren't too many people on hand, she thought to herself. Someone asked Mrs. Knisely if she planned to attend the open house. Wasn't this it? No, that will be Nov. 11. Sunday's gathering was for relatives of the doctors.

Blushing profusely, Mrs. Knisely exited in haste.

☆

We were thrilled that they were thrilled.

That's our way of passing along the word from the fellows at Underwood Chevrolet-Pontiac, who were so well pleased with the full page used car ad they ran in last week's Herald.

John Underwood reported that five of the eight cars listed were marketed by Saturday night. The first sale more than covered his ad cost.

To show his appreciation to the town, John said he has a dozen or so Indian headdresses, given the agency by Pontiac Motor, which he would like the Tecumseh cheerleaders to have for this Friday's game with Grosse Ile.

All they have to do is stop by and pick them up.

☆

Well, "The Man Who Came To Dinner" drew almost 150 spectators on both Thursday and Saturday evenings in the new Community Center theatre, which seats 185.

Friday night, as more than 3000 jamed around the Blissfield gridiron to watch Tecumseh notch its seventh straight victory, there were 15 people at the little theater performance.

This week, the Players might do well to import about six dozen comedy lovers from outside Lenawee County who think that kickoff means a ballet step — or else start the Friday show at 10 p.m.

We suspect that a few cast members, who aren't scheduled to be on stage until the second or third acts may spend the early evening at Recreation Field.

☆

Parked adjacent to the D and C Store, it looked like any other Chevrolet station wagon except that it had a platform protruding front and back with attached wheels used to operate on a railroad track.

Six track and transportation officials including E. P. Frasher, division superintendent of the New York Central line, were passengers in the trainmobile.

Mr. Frasher explained that the auto is used for inspection purposes and may be taken from the rails at any crossing and driven on the highway.

In a recent paper you read a story about the Kiwanis Club honoring Roy Prichard.

This was a grand gesture and We'd like to add our compliments both to Roy and Kiwanians.

AUTHORITY — Bernice Heineman, operator of a beauty school in Adrian, will give a demonstration Thursday night at the Tecumseh GOP Headquarters. Republican candidates will be there earlier.

Politics, Beauty Really Do Mix

Politics and beauty do mix.

This will be evident Thursday evening at Tecumseh Republican headquarters, next to Easton's service station, when an unusual double-header program will be staged.

In the opening portion, Congressman George Meader will meet with voters at 7:30.

His presence in Tecumseh is of special note since Mr. Meader has evidenced considerable interest in the proposed River Raisin Development Project.

This is the effort which could produce a vast water reclamation project in Lenawee County which would result in a chain of lakes and ponds from north of Tecumseh to Deerfield.

Other Republican candidates will be present during the evening. Their wives will be honored guests at the second half of Thursday evening's program about beauty.

GOP candidates who'll be on hand include:

Rollo Conlin, representative to State Legislature.

Elmer Porter, State Senator

Willis Moore, county treasurer

Alice Welch, county clerk

Charles Warner, register of deeds.

Don Mitchell, drain commissioner.

Husbands not interested in seeing the four models may like to attend the Tecumseh Players production of "The Man Who Came to Dinner" at the Community Center.

Other play-goers are invited by the committee to stop at the Republican Headquarters to meet the candidates.

Featured in the second half of the double header here will be Bernice Heineman, who operates the Elite Academy of Beauty Culture in Adrian.

Her talk will start about 8:30 and cover four major catagories:

◄Hair styling

◄Care of the skin

◄Show make-up with a natural look

◄Glamour of beautifully-groomed eyes.

She will present four models from the Academy with the current trend in hair styling, will lecture on care of the hair and discuss hair coloring.

Mrs. Heineman is an authority on the art of make-up, having been in the beauty field for 28 years. Part of her training was in Califonia and part in the Virginia Farrell Academy, Detroit.

There is no charge for the program, arrangements for it were made by Mrs. Charles Howe, who invites the public to attend.

Wrights Observe 50 Years

Mr. and Mrs. Earl N. Wright will observe their golden wedding anniversary Nov. 2 at their home.

Ethel I. Downard and Earl N. Wright were married Nov. 2, 1912 at Napoleon, O.

They have seven children, Marvin and Mrs. Clair Davis of Grand Rapids, O., Mrs. Dale Leiter of Dover, O., Mrs. Walter Wiemer, Raymond and Curtis of Tecumseh, and Robert of Adrian.

A daughter, Hazel, is deceased.

The Wrights moved to Tecumseh in 1956. Mr. Wright was employed by the Tecumseh Products Co. for 13 years before retirement.

They have 13 grandchildren and four great-grandchildren.

A family celebration will be held Nov. 4. Friends are welcome.

Ridgeway PTA Stages 'Wedding'

"Mr. and Mrs. Clem Higgenbottom request your presence at the wedding of their daughter Esmeralda to Tyrone Bumwater."

A mock wedding with an all male cast will be featured at the Fun Fair Saturday, Nov. 3, at the Ridgeway School sponsored by the Ridgeway-Macon PTA.

Members of the cast are:

Minister—Dean Hamilton
Bride—Don Aebersold
Groom—Stewart Spicer
BeBst man—Wayne Blanchard
Matron of honor—L. DeJoghne
Bridesmaid—Wayne Filter
Flower girl—Dean Moore
Ring bearer—Bob German

warp your opinion of small town Americana.

That couple I mentioned earlier went straight out of a big city. They came to love the casual pace of the tiny community and vowed never to return to the big metropolitan area.

They worked and struggled, side by side, for six years. With ink-stained hands, they labored long hours getting out their paper each week.

Once when the press was balky and the Linotype just didn't want to set type, the pair worked around the clock, dropping off the bundles of papers at the post office as dawn broke through the skies.

Their two children were born while they lived in that tiny Ohio community.

Laughs, heartaches, fun and tragedy were dealt in almost equal parts to them.

Once, the husband, after weeks of extra work and little rest, had to bed down in a nearby hospital for nine days.

The paper never missed an issue though, Paula, because the wife picked up the strings and kept things humming.

Marriages are made strong and lasting by such shared experiences.

It's a safe bet that you and Fred are going to have a raft of wonderful years together and your stint as operators of The Dundee Reporter will be among your happiest and most-remembered.

As for that other couple, my wife and I wouldn't trade our six years in that tiny Ohio town for a million dollars.

Sincerely,
TOM RIORDAN

mately 600 acres would be flooded. All of this land is now submarginal.

Major share of the proposed Quaker Pond, 40 acres, is owned by Tecumseh Products Co. Other property to be flooded is owned by Jim Beardsley, Ollie Musch and the City of Tecumseh. With a high-level dam, the body of water there would eventually cover 120 acres.

In the Sutton Rd. area, a high level dam would flood approximately 600 acres, running 2¼ miles along the east side of Raisin Center Hwy. There are many land owners whose property would be touched here.

☆

A NEW possibility for a lake was advanced by City Engineer Cal Zorn. This would be north of M-50 and east of Globe Pond, covering nearly 120 acres, now owned by Dr. M. L. Blanton and Mrs. Bill Keith of St. Petersburg, Fla. All of this area contains submarginal, scrub-growth land.

Under projects approved by Public Law 566, the federal government provides 50% of money needed and will lend the remainder at a low rate of interest for as long as 50 years.

You Told Us

By DOROTHY GRIGG
Herald Society Editor

Joy was mixed with gloom in the office of the Tecumseh Herald Monday.

Joy because the morning's mail brought a brief letter from Adolf Petrus with his dollar to help with the "Save Historic St. Peter's" action, as he called it.

Sadness because it still appears that the beloved old church will be demolished.

Adolf, exchange student who spent last year in the James Barton home, wrote, "To show you that I still belong to you' I want to send my dollar, hoping that I am not too late."

He said that he had some difficulties in getting American money and hopes that enough is obtained to save the church.

How wonderful and how sad.

PERSONS voting on machines must take care to vote for state supreme court justices. Since they are nominally non-partisan, pulling a party lever for a straight ticket will not cast a vote for the justices. They are in a separate section of the machine.

Paul L. Adams and Otis M. Smith are the incumbent justices.

Both are appointees of Governor Swainson. Justice Adams was elected in 1960 as attorney general and Justice Smith as auditor general, both on the Democratic ticket.

Opposing them are Michael D. O'Hara and Louis D. McGregor, both endorsed by the state Republican Party and eGorge Romney.

Also non-partisan is the post of Lenawee Circuit Court Commissioner. Two posts are open, but only one candidate is on the ballot. She is Natalia M. Koselka.

Pushing Big Vote

Standard Oil Dealers in Michigan, including Sebring Service of Tecumseh, will sponsor their third "Get Out The Vote" campaign prior to the coming November 6 election.

Steve Theis, a dealer in Detroit and chairman of the Michigan Standard Dealers' Advisory Council said, "Our sole objective is to increase the number of people who will go to the polls and vote this fall. Vote as they please — but vote.

"Our campaign slogan, therefore, will be — "Invest in good government, vote November 6."

Standard Dealers will use hand-out materials at their stations. Motorists will receive a stock certificate of one share in our government. This certificate actually is a litter bag that can be retained for a practical use as well as a reminder to vote.

Dealers will also hand out bank books with entries of previous elections to permit customers to check themselves whether they had made "deposits" or "withdrawals" in their Bank of Good Citizenship in prior elections.

Pranksters Are Watched

Doug Aylesworth, operator of Doug's Gas Service, Don Purkey, Mobil Oil distributor donated gas to the Citizens Band and Civil Defense Wednesday night for use in their cars to patrol the streets for Halloween night.

Turkey Dinner in Tipton

TIPTON — Final plans for the annual turkey dinner and bazaar of the Tipton Women's Fellowship in Tipton Community Church are being made.

Tickets will be on sale at the Nov. 7 event in the lobby. Booths will be in the basement.

The seating arrangement is being changed to accommodate 140 at one time, which will eliminate a long wait.

At the last meeting of the "Fellowship" members voted to raise the price of the fair dinner to $1.50, but tabled any action on the regular monthly suppers.

Booths are open at 4 p.m. so all articles should be at the church by 3 p.m.

Chairmen for the booths are:

Baked goods — Mrs. Don Hunt

Fancy work — Mrs. Clifford Hardy

Candy — Mrs. Donald Whelan

Fish Pond — Tim Baker

Parcel post — Mrs. Raymond Platt

Dining room — Mrs. Wallace Wilkin and Mrs. Richard Platt

This year there will be two booths for children sponsored by the Junior High Fellowship.

All receipts from these will go toward purchasing a hearing aid system for the church.

They Liked Comedy

Here are some comments from playgoers who watched "The Man Who Came to Dinner" last week:

Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Schultz— "Play was wonderful, excellently cast and well portrayed. We liked the Community Center, and the accoustics are excellent."

Mrs. Jessie Sluyter — "Positively hilarious. I loved and laughed every minute of it. Everyone in the cast is outstanding, and I like the Community Center very much"

Mrs. Jean Colgrove — "Excellent. Tops anything the Players have done. I especially enjoyed the intimate atmosphere of the Center."

Mrs. James Finch — "Best show we have done yet. Enjoyed the play and everyone in it."

Mr. and Mrs. Fordyce Bragg, Otsego—"Feel they have a budding genious in the family in the person of Duane Steele, alias Mr. Whiteside. Enjoyed the play immensely."

Mr. and Mrs. Orville Farver — "We thought the production better than recent shows at the Fisher Theater. Enjoyed the play hilariously. We approve the Community Center for a little theater."

Mr. and Mrs. Percy Bowen— "Had a fun-packed evening. Thought the acting excellent . . . like the Community Center."

Mr. and Mrs. William Lunsford, Monroe—"Well worth the trip. Thought the play and cast excellent."

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Ammer — "Very professional job. Loved the play and the entire cast. Impressed with the Community Center as a little theatre."

Rally Planned Before Contest with Maple '11'

Tecumseh Athletic Boosters will host a giant pep rally next Thursday night at 7:30 at the high school athletic field.

All the details and plans for the rally, just before Tecumseh's game with Adrian, have not been completed and will be announced next week in The Herald.

Fans are again urged to park their cars with the Boosters at this Friday night's final home football game with Grosse Ile. Only a slight charge is assessed, and money raised is used to retire a $400 debt on the press box.

The Boosters have raised about $150 toward the debt.

Schools Plan Open House

Students and staff members of Tecumseh Public Schools are working and planning for the forthcoming American Education Week and the ensuing "open houses" in the various schools.

This year the theme is "Education Meets the Challenge of Change."

This theme has seven variations for each day of the week, and it follows the over-all picture of education in today's most demanding era.

The daily topics, each of which could be expanded into a worthwhile study, are:

►Our American Heritage
►A Modern Curriculum
►Effective Teaching
►School-Community Partnership
►Lifelong Learning
►International Understanding
►A Look Ahead.

With all these topics in mind, the schools are initiating a "Get Out the Folks" campaign for parents to visit the buildings and classrooms where their children spend so many hours.

Theme Is Used

An inspirational program centered around the theme of the year, "Spreaders of the Gospel," was presented Thursday by Mrs. Percy Slater, Mrs. Arthur Gray and Mrs. Paul Brantingham for members attending the October meeting of the Friends Missionary Society.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Sheldon Chase and Mrs. Roland Mohr.

The elementary schools will reach the parents through the regular PTA meetings this month, the Junior High and the Senior High schools will set aside special open house dates wherein the parents may visit classrooms, meet the teachers and enjoy a planned program.

The primary objective of American Education Week open house programs is to give the community in general, and the parents in particular, an understanding of and an appreciation for the school's program and its personnel.

There is no more effective medium of communication between school and community than personal face-to-face contact.

For this reason all citizens should make the effort this one time of the year to visit the schools in their area.

Circle your calendar for the Tecumseh Junior High open house on Wednesday, Nov. 14 and the Tecumseh High School open house on Thursday, Nov. 15.

Youngsters Collect $483 for UNICEF

The threat of hunger and disease will bear less heavily on many of the world's needy children next year, thanks to the selfless and enthusiastic participation of some 300 local youngsters in the UNICEF Trick or Treat program last Sunday and Monday evenings.

Sponsored by six churches, the traditional doorbell-ringing activity lasted from 6 to about 8.

Life-saving coins showered into the orange-and-black collection cartons bearing the symbol of the United Nations Children's Fund and piled up to the amount of $483 which was a gain of $40 over last year.

"We are deeply grateful to all the parents who allowed their children to take part in the program," Mrs. Carroll Sprague said.

Who Have Moved to Tecumseh

Mr. and Mrs. James Curtiss, Jr. moved recently from Clinton to 303 Russell Rd.

They have four children at home, Joyce, 16; Linda, 14; Jimmy, 10, and Barbara, 12.

✓

Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Rochowiak and their two children, Pamela, 3, and Leonard, 4, moved from Onsted to 1300 Southwestern Dr.

Mr. Rochowiak is employed by Clinton Engines Corp.

✓

The Leonard Earling family, 'Gene," Joy and their four children, Debbie, 13; Vickie Jo., 8; Charmaine, 11, and Gerald, eight months, have returned to Tecumseh from Adrian.

Mr. Earling is chief engineer for Faraday, Inc.

The Earlings lived in Tecumseh previously and have retained their interest in the Tecumseh Players. Mr. Earling is playing Mr. Stanley in the play, "The Man Who Came to Dinner," now in production, and his wife is working on publicity.

She also loves to play bridge and sew and does some modeling.

'The Man' Highlights

Something new was added to the Tecumseh Players production last week: intermission entertainment.

While members of the audience enjoyed their between-acts coffee or lemonade, they also watched the whirls and fancy steps of the square dance group using the main hall of the Community Center Saturday night.

✓

Among the attractions offered play-goers are free parking, a room for wraps and a six-page program containing not only the play synopsis, but pictures of the main characters and character sketches.

✓

Familiarity is supposed to breed contempt. But familiarity with 'The Man Who Came to Dinner" bred only a fascinated attention from one of the Players' technicians Saturday night.

At the climax of the second act, he was to cut the lights for a fast curtain. Lost in the dialog and action, he looked on unaware as the actors ad libbed until someone pulled the switch.

Even Chaperons Enjoy Themselves at Youth Parties

The Tecumseh Teen Club, in co-operation with the Recreation Department, held its annual Halloween dance Saturday night.

Door prizes were won by Jim Brown, Sue Whitney, Linda Weekly, Tim Fero and Tom Elliot.

Admission and refreshments were free, thanks to the Tecumseh Community Party Fund as 200 were in attendance.

At the Junior high a party was held for all students there and also boys and girls of St. Elizabeth.

Over 300 came and the main door prize was won by John Bailey.

Cider and doughnuts were enjoyed by all. Even the chaperones had a good time.

Faces Charge

Stefnia Jurkowski, 104. S. Division, was arrested and charged with shop lifting at the D&C store Monday noon.

When apprehended by the Tecumseh police, she had some yarn, thread and a pair of hose.

Mike Kronberg Feted at Party

Mrs. Howard Kronberg entertained a group of children in her home Oct. 27 honoring the seventh birthday anniversary of her son, Mike.

Nut cups marked each child's place at a decorated table centered with a cake holding seven miniature train candle holders and candles.

Games were played.

Guests were Jeannie and Paul Lemanski, Sandy Drexler, Mary Ann Haviland, Scott Lask, Billy Rohrer, Tom Wilson, Doug Eggleston, Larry Bird and Phillip Driscoll.

Mike's two sisters, Linda and Karen, were home to help with the celebration too. Linda assisted her mother in serving the cake, ice cream and punch.

Elderly Folks Need Anti-Flu Shots This Fall

Elderly people in Michigan were advised to get anti-flu shots by Gary D. Hansen, Director of the State Commission on Aging, because of an expected outbreak of Asian flu this winter.

"Persons over 65 are usually not more susceptible to the influenza virus than those in any other age bracket," Mr. Hansen asserted. "But if they to get the flu, it is more dangerous because of their age."

Although anti-flu shots are recommended in general, senior citizens should consult their doctors before being inoculated, he cautioned.

Mother, 4 Children in Mishap

Orida May Clement, 108 Hiawatha, lost control of her car on Rogers Hwy., just south of M-50 early Tuesday morning, hitting a tree and doing extensive damage to the car.

Two of her four children riding with her suffered minor injuries. Donald Lee, eight months, had a slight bump and bruises on his head, but was treated and released at the hospital.

Donna May, six, complained of pain but suffered no visible injury.

Diana, four, and Franklin, three, were not hurt.

Reformation Celebrated

The 445th anniversary of the Protestant Reformation will be celebrated with Holy Communion at the Gloria Dei Lutheran Church Sunday, Oct. 28 at the 10:30 a.m. worship service.

Mrs. Ray Willnow, Mrs. Charles Gross and Mrs. Laszlo Gero will be hostesses for the husbands and wives night Saturday, Oct. 27, at 7:30 p.m. at the parish house of the Gloria Dei Lutheran Church.

An evening of Halloween fun is planned for the members and friends.

The Women's Auxiliary of the Lutheran Social Service will hold a convention for the Dundee Area at the St. John's Lutheran Church in Dundee Oct. 29, starting at 2 p.m.

Area Obituaries

● HOWARD JOHN SWIFT

Services were held Monday at the Niblack Funeral Home for Howard Swift, whose body was found about 10:30 a.m. Friday in a granary at the Swift farm, 5462 Sutton Rd.

The death of the 62-year-old Holloway-area farmer was ruled suicide by Edward J. Braun, coroner.

Mr. Swift and his wife, Ina, lived on Sutton Rd., east of Ridge Hwy.

The son, Ned, told sheriff's deputies that he had seen his father on the farm at 7:45 a.m. Friday before he left for work. He returned about 10:30 a.m. and found the body.

According to Mrs. Swift and the son, Mr. Swift was in good health at the time of his death.

The son of John and Barbara Swift, he was born May 14, 1900, near Riga.

March 10, 1927, he married Ina Pocklington who survives.

Mr. Swift was a member of the Britton Farm Bureau.

He had farmed in the Holloway area since 1927.

In addition to his wife, he is survived by one son, Ned of 5502 Sutton Road; two grandchildren; two brothers, Edward and Arnold, both of Tecumseh, and two sisters, Mrs. Melissa Thurston of Detroit and Mrs. Carolina Hooton of Adrian.

Dr. Howard Emrick, Adrian College chaplain and former pastor of the Holloway Methodist Church, officiated and burial was in the Raisin Cemetery, Holloway.

● JERRY SPAFFORD

Funeral services were held in Grand Rapids and graveside services at Brookside cemetery Monday for Jerry Spafford, former Tecumseh resident, who died Friday morning.

He was born in New York State. He was employed as western Michigan representative for the Beecher, Peck and Lewis Paper Products Co., Detroit.

The Spaffords moved to Grand Rapids about nine years ago.

While in Tecumseh, Mr. Spafford was a member of the school board, vice "president at the time of their moving.

He was a member of the Presbyterian Church and served two terms on the Sessions Board.

Mr. Spafford was a member of the Tecumseh Chapter, F & AM.

He is survived by his wife, Marian, and a daughter, Mrs. James Forsburg of Wayne.

The Rev. Julian Gresham officiated.

BY ANY PHONY CLAIMS FOR "HAND-WIRED" CHASSIS!

In the early days of television, RCA — like all other manufacturers, had to depend on all hand-wired circuitry. Today, people at RCA feel that the kind of circuitry specified by the U. S. Gov't. in the production of missiles that cost millions of dollars each MUST be the best. That's why every RCA Victor "New Vista" TV uses Security-sealed Circuitry instead of hit and miss hand wiring.

Lineman Are Praised for Strong Defense by Coaching Staff

This is gang of linemen that Coach Tom Fagan is justly proud of—and no wonder. They've yielded only three touchdowns this season and held Blissfield to less than 80 yards rushing.

Several of these lads go both ways, offense and defense, and have little time for a breather, except when the Indians have routed their opponents and the reserves come in.

Friday night, these linemen will face their toughest test this season in meeting Grosse Ile, rated only second to Tecumseh as the best offensive team in the Huron League.

THS Posts Victory No. 7

By JIM LINCOLN

Tecumseh — not as sharp as in some other games — hurdled a big foe enroute to the Huron League championship Friday night with a 13-0 victory over previously undefeated Blissfield.

Going into the fray, Tecumseh held the No. 4 spot in The Detroit News Class B rating and Blissfield No. 13.

The somewhat cautious Indians scored in the second period and again early in the fourth stanza. Another touchdown was in the making when the game ended with Tecumseh killing time on Blissfield's 15.

Only once, and that in the initial quarter, did Blissfield threaten the Indian goal line. The second half found the Royals held to two first downs and 36 yards rushing.

The Royal's deepest penetration came when Jim Johnson, top Tecumseh scorer, bobbled the pigskin in the first period with Blissfield recovering on the Indians' 28.

Seven plays later, including a five-yard penalty against Tecumseh, Blissfield attempted a field goal from the Indians' 14. Fullback Steve Brown's kick was short and wide.

TAKING OVER on the 20, the Indians moved 75 yards in eight plays to Blissfield's five, where the unfortunate Johnson again was the victim of a fumble — actually, the halfback was a victim of a long official's whistle, the second toot coming long after the play should have ended and after the Blissfield theft.

After an exchange of punts, the last with punter Norm Tucker eventually putting the Royals on their own five, Blissfield then fumbled on a third-down and three situation with Tecumseh recovering on the 14.

Halfback Dave Lemerand moved four yards to the 10, and fullback Dan Greene carried to the five in two plays. On a sneak, Quarterback Tim Sisson crossed the goal line standing up for the six-pointer.

Greene, playing the greatest game of his prep career, was ruled short of the end zone on his plunge for the extra point.

Tecumseh's second score resulted from a 55-yard drive, climaxing with a Sisson-to-Lemerand pass play and a TD. Key to the score was the beautiful faking by Sisson and Greene which drew in the Royals' secondary.

A three-TD victory margin undoubtedly could have been racked up when the Indians drove 38 yards in four minutes to the Blissfield 15.

Tecumseh played it safe with victory in its grasp, apparently not wanting to risk injury or giving Blissfield another chance.

☆

THE ROYALS, while by far the toughest defensive team encountered, certainly did not have an offense worth writing home about. Their slow and sluggish running game found the "Apaches" defensive unit too nimble and tough.

Blissfield's passing game also was no threat with just two completions in nine attempts. Two passes were intercepted.

The game, attracting the biggest crowd in Blissfield's history, in excess of 3,000 fans, was played in freezing weather.

GRIDIRON HIGHLIGHTS

Not enough credit can be given Dan Greene for his outstanding play Friday night against Blissfield. It seemed that he was in on about half the tackles from his linebacker post.

Offensively, he carried 10 times for 56 yards, and often gave that extra effort some ball carriers possess to pick up just another yard or two.

He played the best game of his prep career.

✓

All too often, fans watch the runner, sometimes see the blocking, follow the handoff, etc., but seldom do they get a good view of the interior linemen.

Who makes the coaches smile, the scouts ponder, and have contributed a large share to Tecumseh's winning?

Guys like big Steve Fretwell, 220-pounder in the middle of the Apache's defensive line; tackles Don Becker and Dennis Martinus; linebackers Jim Tilton and Jay Osburn.

There are others who are equally important, but rarely mentioned — Doug Luce, Mike Osburn, a 200-pounder answering to the name of Tom Matteson, Jerry Forsythe (remember the jersey tackle he made on a key play against Blissfield's Tom Billington?), Phil Radant — and the rest of linemen who each week play up front where the football is the roughest.

☆

Blissfield probably possesses the finest football field in the Huron League with its lights and turf. Its seating arrangements are another thing, however, with about half of Friday night's fans standing and lining the field.

☆

The Indians moved up a notch in the Detroit News state ranking of Class B football teams, moving up from the fourth rung to the third. It's the highest rating Fagan's club has been given this year.

The Free Press rating still lists the Indians in the 9th spot, a position they've held since early in the season.

Winter Rolls In

Dark clouds swirl across the Red Mill Pond as winter looks in on Tecumseh on a recent Tuesday. The sun tried hard to keep the area warm and bright, but it just couldn't match Old Mr. Winter, who seems more and more inclined to take over the whole situation. From some local experts the word is that the coming months are going to be mighty cold, so we better shake the moth balls out of the long johns and be ready.

Venezuela's 5-V Echoes Work of American 4-H Organizations

Five-V—Venzuela's answer to 4-H—offers projects in growing lechosas trees and making beautiful cabulla handbags. Members show Brahma and Santa Gertrudis beef cattle rather than Herefords and Angus.

Despite these surface differences, 5-V and 4-H share the same basic aims. They seek to develop civic-minded, well-trained rural youth who can help lead their nations toward a prosperous, peaceful tomorrow.

'Five-V 'clubs don't offer the wide variety of projects found in American 4-H work," according to Richard Bailey, Venesuelan IFYE delegate who just completed a two-month visit in Hillsdale, Kent and Lenawee counties. "But the program is expanding.

"Just as in American 4-H work, 5-V stands or falls on its local volunteer leaders," says Mr. Bailey, a college student at home. "I plan to become a 5-V leader when I graduate and start farming."

☆

THE V's stand for Venezuela and the Spanish equivalent of valor, vigor, truth and conscience —a strong resemblance to the 4-H'ers hand, heart, head and health.

First supported by the national government in 1960, the 5-V program has nearly 12,000 members. A team of over 93 American Peace Corpsmen is now helping to organize clubs in western Venezuela.

Two Michigan 4-H alumni — Rex Bullen of Mason and Maurice Spencer of Kalkaska — are on the Peace Corps team.

Incidentally, the lechosas is a fruit somewhat like our watermelon or muskmelon. One 5-V club devotes most of its efforts to cultivating these trees.

Near Maracay, 5-V girls teach the art of breadmaking. They are encouraging natives to eat bread rather than arepa—a low-value, bread-like food made of ground corn and water. Habits change slowly, but bread is gaining in popularity.

Jaycees Auxiliary Costumed

Costumes drawn earlier from grab-bags were worn Oct. 24 when 17 members and two guests of Tecumseh Jaycee Auxiliary met at the home of Mrs. Allen Barrett.

The guests were Mrs. Franklin Sandhoff and Mrs. Clifford Bird.

Mrs. James Hite reported on the field trails. Mrs. James Rundell reported seven members visited the Adrian Auxiliary Oct. 2.

Mrs. Walter Wonderly and Mrs. Dyke Helms reported on the fall board meeting in Grandville Oct. 19-20.

Mrs. Marvin Nelson, chairman of the project to "adopt" a patient in the state hospital at Ypsilanti, said the group will provide gifts for the patient for Thanksgiving and Christmas.

The Tecumseh auxiliary also sponsors a Girl Scout Troop, No. 123.

Mrs. Ray Shelton was named chairman of a Christmas party Dec. 19 for all children of the Jaycees.

Mrs. Rundell is chairman for the selling of Bandaids, and Mrs. Roger Butler for the selling of dish cloths. Anyone wishing to buy either or both may call HA 3-4458 or HA 3-2973.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Richard Creswell and Mrs. Douglas Dunn.

Newburg Group Talks on Vote

Don Buell led the discussion at the Newburg Farm Bureau meeting Oct. 20 at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Gus Brenke. Twelve members were present.

The topic was 'Vital Issues in the Coming Election."

William Bradstreet, Democratic candidate for the state legislature, was a guest.

Refreshments were served.

Mail Box Damage Punished

The Post Office Department warns that it is a federal offense to willfully or maliciously injure, tear down or destroy any receptable used for the receipt or delivery of mail. In the past, rural mail boxes have been frequent targets of pranksters.

Before such pranksters attack a rural mail box it might be well for them to consider that their activities could net them a $1,000 fine or three years' imprisonment.

Stealing, taking or abstracting mail from any receptable is also a federal offense and could net a $2,000 fine or five years' imprisonment, or both.

Postal inspectors investigate cases of thefts of and damage to rural mail boxes and also the theft of mail and turn offenders over to the United States attorney for criminal prosecution.

Connie Wins $450 on TV Quiz Show

(EDITORS NOTE: Connie Godzina, senior at Britton-Macon High School, last week won $450 as a contestant on a television program. Here is her story.)

By CONNIE GODZINA

BRITTON — My family and I went to New York City the week of Oct. 12, for a vacation.

While we were there we saw quite a few television shows, including "Pass Word."

They announced that anyone in the audience interested in being a contestant on the program should remain after the show to fill out a card.

Since this is my mother's favorite show, she filled out one and waited while a man came along and read them, one by one.

When he got to mom, she pointed me out as her daughter.

The man asked me to fill out a card and gave me an appointment to come to his office on Park Ave. the next day.

☆

THERE were about 30 of us and each of us played a few games of "Pass Word." Then he asked 10 of us to come back that evening.

There we met the producer and after playing some more games two of us were chosen to be contestants on the night-time show.

Mom, dad and Sandy Beal flew back to New York City with me Oct. 22.

Tuesday at noon I went to CBS Studio 52. There we met the interviewer, who accompanied my opponent and me to lunch.

We went back to the studio and watched the daytime version.

☆

WE PLAYED more practice games until we finally got ready for the show.

We met Red Buttons and Jane Powell about five minutes before the show started.

My partner was Red Buttons and together we won the first game. After changing partners for the next game, Jane Powell and I lost.

All in all I won $450.

Everyone at CBS was simply wonderful and the celebreties were nice too.

We flew back home Tuesday night.

The whole thing was a wonderful experience.

CONNIE GODZINA — MONEY WINNER

Two Receive Three Prizes

BRITTON—Mrs. Walter Prill entertained the G 8 Club last Thursday evening in the home of Mrs. Lee Taylor.

Four members and four guests were present and the evening was spent playing cards.

Mrs. Eldon Reeck won high prize and Mrs. Taylor received two prizes, one for the most lone hands the other for low score.

Tickets Available for Play

BRITTON — Tickets are now available for the senior play and may be purchased from any member of the senior class, 75c for adults and 50c for students.

Profits from the play will be used for the senior trip next spring.

"Quit Your Kidding," by Felecia Metcalfe, is a three-act comedy about the Buford family.

Ever since Mr. Buford's death, the clan has had a hard time with little money and many bills.

Mrs. Buford, who has three children, writes to her husband's wealthy aunt in California, and tells her of her family. Aunt Sophronia decides to come for a visit and then the confusion starts.

The play will be presented Thursday, Nov. 15 and Friday, Nov. 16 at 8 p.m.

Named Queen

BRITTON — Diane Bailey became Homecoming queen Friday at the half-time of the Britton-Macon vs Whiteford game.

The hard-fought game ended 6-0 with Whiteford the victor through a first-period touchdown.

Diane was crowned by Tom Komon, Homecoming king, who in turn received his crown from Russ Cadmus. Russ escorted the second lady-in-waiting, Yvonne Osterhout, and Joe Prochaska escorted the first lady-in-waiting, Barbara Gillespie, during the half-time festivities.

☆

DESPITE the near-freezing temperatures, the Homecoming parade went on as scheduled Friday afternoon.

The general theme for the event was the seasons of the year.

The Britton police led the procession, followed by the American Legion Honor Guard. Next came the Britton-Macon Marching Band under the direction of Roy Gowman.

The cheerleaders' car was next.

The senior float followed with the three Homecoming queen candidates and the Homecoming king.

☆

THE OTHER class kings and queens also rode in the cars which pulled their floats.

The junior float with King Tom Cadmus and Queen Linda Downing was followed by the Britton Boy Scouts and Cub Scouts.

The sophomore float with King Tom Smetka and Queen Sharon Man was followed by the Whiteford High School Band.

The FHA Princess, Kathy Bailey and FFA Prince, Fred McCrate, followed riding in Earl Griffin's pony carriage.

Next came the eighth grade float with King Doug Fairbanks and Queen Diane Dospoy, followed by the Britton fire truck which brought an end to the procession.

☆

HALF-TIME festivities were narrated by Judy McClue.

The Britton Band began the half-time show with a salute to graduates of Britton High School.

Next the class floats circled the field. The ninth grade float was first, with "We'll Harvest Them" as its slogan. They had pieces of Whiteford uniforms sticking out of corn stalks.

The eighth grade float, "We'll Beat 'Em Every Season" included a basketball player, baseball player, track member and football player.

The senior float, winning third place and four dollars, punned "We Autumn Beat Em." It held a large Indian drum and fall decorations.

The second-place sophomore float, winner of six dollars had "We'll Snow Em Under" as slogan. It had several Whiteford players snowed under a mountain of cleansing tissues.

The first-place float built by the junior class and winner of ten dollars had a large red coil spring behind a Britton player representing the slogan "We'll Spring to Victory."

☆

A DANCE was held in the study hall after the game. It was sponsored by the student council.

Tom and Diane reigned over the royal dance until midnight.

Refreshments were served in the cafeteria. Music was provided by records.

BRITTON — Mr. and Mrs. Resat Demirtas have moved to 10824 Walker in Grand Blanc, Mich.

Mr. Demirtas is employed in electrical engineering Dept. of A.C. Spark Plug Co. in Flint.

Students Practice Politics

BRITTON—The senior American Government class organized last Friday into Democratic and Republican committees in preparation for a school gubernatorial and congressional election this Friday.

The election will involve grades 9 thru 12.

Members of the Republican committee are Joe Prochaska, chairman; Susan Rowlands, Connie Godzina, Ray Harris and Russell Lutton.

Members of the Democratic committee are Russ Cadmus chairman; Larry Brockman, Barbara Gillespie, Fred McCrate and Yvonne Osterhout.

The committee spent the weekend preparing and collecting campaign material for posting in the school halls.

Both candidates will operate out of the lobby during preschool and noon hours and will distribute campaign literature at that time.

☆

WEDNESDAY noon will be set aside for registration. At this time it will be necessary for all students in grades 9-12 to register.

Failure to do so will result in their being unable to vote in the Friday election.

Registration will be handed by members of the senior class.

In the final election Friday, the Senior Election Board will check signatures against those registered Wednesday before giving a student a ballot.

A bi-partisan board will be responsible for counting the votes and posting the results.

☆

STUDENTS will only be voting on offices of governor, representative to U.S. House of Representatives from this district, and congressman-at-large.

In conjunction with this, the entire Government class will be visiting the Township Hall Tuesday afternoon.

Glen Gripton will explain the voting procedure and the use of voting machines to the class, after which each class member will have an opportunity to use the voting machine.

Staebler Campaigns Here

Neil Staebler, Democratic candidate for Congressman-at-Large, said in Lenawee County Oct. 23 that private health insurance plans can never meet the needs of Michigan's senior citizens.

The Ann Arbor businessman and Democratic National Committeeman, campaigning in Lenawee County made stops at Adrian, Blissfield and Tecumseh.

Mr. Staebler campaigned with Democratic candidates and discussed medicare, Democratic programs for bringing more jobs to Michigan and Gov. Swainson's "courageous fight for his program to meet Michigan's needs."

Mr. Staebler pledged that when he is elected he will support President Kennedy's health insurance program for the aged under Social Security (King-Anderson Bill).

"The health insurance problems of our aged are not being met and cannot be met by private insurance plans," Staebler declared.

"Tell me how many couples among our elderly with a cash income of less than $1,000 a year —and more than half the people over 65 are in this category — can spend $400 for health insurance as has been proposed by Blue Cross-Blue Shield," he said.

Right now, Staebler said, the "charity approach to health care for the aged fails heavily on our already overtaxed property owners. A better way is President Kennedy's pay-as-you-go approach.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Rowlands and Susan were Sunday afternoon visitors of Mr. and Mrs. N. A. Baird and sons and Mr. and Mrs. Albert Mills and son of Temperance.

Neil O'Hara Joins Navy

Neil O'Hara, son of Thomas O'Hara of 207 W. Pottawatamie St. and the late Mrs. O'Hara, is undergoing pre-flight training at the naval school in Uensacola, Fla.

Neil was graduated from Tecumseh High School, attended Michigan State and received his AB degree from Adrian College in June.

He is a member of Alpha Tau Omega fraternity and Lamba International Honorary Literature Society.

Upon graduation from the pre-flight school, class members will be commissioned as ensigns in the Naval Reserve.

Missionaries Speak at Friends Services

Dr. Charles DeVol of Formosa will be the main speaker for the Quarterly Meeting of area Friends Churches held Friday through Sunday at the Tecumseh Friends Church.

Dr. DeVol is superintendent of the Friends missionary work of Formosa, and also is a professor at the University of Taiwan.

Dr. and Mrs. DeVol served for some years as missionaries to China. Upon the closing of that field they returned to the states. For a time then he was a professor in Marion College, Marion, Ind.

Upon request of the missionary board, the DeVols were asked to superintend the Friends' work in Formosa. Under their guidance several new churches have been established and a healthy growth has continued.

DR. DeVOL will be speaking at 7:30 p.m. Friday, Saturday and Sunday. Mrs. DeVol will be the leader for the 10 a.m. Prayer and Praise service Saturday, and the speaker at 10 a.m. Sunday worship service.

The Rev. Sherman Brantingham of Salem, O., will be the speaker for the 11 a.m. Saturday service. Rev. Brantingham is a brother to Tecumseh pastor Paul Brantingham and serves as assistant to the general superintendent of the Ohio Yearly Meeting.

The Saturday noon and evening meals will be served to Friends and guests by the ladies of Tecumseh Friends.

The Saturday 1:30 p.m. business session will be conducted by the Rev. Herbert Burch of the Ypsilanti Friends Church. Rev. Burch is the son of Mrs. Carl Burch of Tecumseh.

Arthritics Warned of Drug

Arthritis sufferers in Michigan should not use or consent to the use of a Canadian drug preparation, Liefcort, warns the Michigan Chapter of the Arthritis and Rheumatism Foundation.

Dr. James J. Lightbody, chapter medical director, said "supplies of the liquid formula brought into the country before the ban on its importation by the U.S. Food and Drug Administration are probably still available." The FDA clamped down on the preparation as "imminently dangerous" after several arthritis victims suffered serious reactions. Its use is not authorized even for investigative purposes.

Among the serious symptoms already observed in patients taking this product in Canada and the U.S., Dr. Lightbody listed internal bleeding, menstrual disturbances, breast enlargement in men and growth of facial hair in women.

At least one death indirectly attributable to Liefcort has already been reported in this country, Dr. Lightbody noted. A 71-year-old California woman who had used the drug developed severe uterine bleeding and died of pneumonia following an operation to stop the bleeding.

Liefcort gained widespread publicity following a magazine article last May. At that time the ARF issued a statement denying the claims that the product "could practically wipe out the symptoms of arthritis in one year."

"The Foundation's information indicates that, following the publicity, many Americans have obtained Liefcort," Dr. Lightbody emphasized. "We urge them not to use this dangerous drug or permit it to be used on them. We ask anyone who has received the drug, knows of its use, or of a supply, to contact the chapter immediately at 1528 Woodward Ave., Detroit, or the FDA regional office, 1560 E. Jefferson Ave., Detroit.

The liquid preparation is labeled as being distributed by Endocrine Research Laboratories, Beaurepare, Quebec, Canada.

"Liefcort is but one shocking example," Dr. Lightbody declared, "of the fraud and deceit practised on the 12 million Americans with arthritis by the promoters of hundreds of misrepresented products which cheat arthritics of some $250,000,000 a year."

Constitution Facts Printed in Booklet

Ready for public distribution this week are two pamphlets outlining the provisions in Michigan's proposed new constitution.

Available in limited quantity is an 110-page booklet which contains the full text of the new constitution plus explanatory notes. It is attractively printed in two colors to distinguish the text of the document from the interpretative material.

For distribution in greater quantity is a 12-page pamphlet which describes briefly the work of the Constitutional Convention and summarizes what its delegates believe are among the most significant changes proposed in the new constitution.

The larger booklet has been sent to all schools and public libraries in Michigan, to newspapers, radio and television stations and to representatives of groups which have expressed an interest in a detailed study of the proposed constitution.

The Herald has a copy available to interested persons.

Michigan residents who wish a copy of the general distribution pamphlet may address a postcard request to: Con-Con Office, Civic Center, Lansing.

Exchange Club Views Movie

Exchange Club members saw movies of the Tecumseh-Dundee football game Oct. 22. Tecumseh Coach Tom Fagan, spoke to the group.

He made no predictions on the outcome of Friday's game with Blissfield, but urged all who wished to attend to go early, because of limited seating at the Blissfield school.

The coach added that Tecumseh can be proud of the sportsmanship shown by his players.

Avery Downer, district Exchange governor, made his official visit to the Tecumseh club at Monday's meeting.

OF TECUMSEH TOWNSHIP:

GENERAL ELECTION

TO BE HELD ON

Tuesday, Nov. 6, 1962

at

Tecumseh Equipment Co.

POLLS OPEN FROM 7 A.M. TO 8 P.M.

A. W. Merz, Clerk

In the last two years, the Michigan taxes you pay have increased more than $100,000,000 a year. Yet, despite this added income, we owe more than we did two years ago—with the State's deficit today standing at a whopping $85,000,000.

Well, GEORGE ROMNEY,

what are you going to do about our STATE FINANCES?

The real question here is not alone one of money—but, mostly, one of serving people.

Can a state government which is bankrupt, deeply in debt and poorly managed provide the right kind of services for the people of Michigan? Or can a state with a sound financial structure and which is well-managed provide better services? Under which kind of government will the people of Michigan benefit most?

Better schools. Better mental health facilities. Better employment services. Better social services. All of these services, to be better, must be supported by a sound, well-managed state financial program.

Sound financial management for Michigan starts with spending reform. Spending reform does NOT mean the cutting of vital services. It does mean improving the quality of these services by eliminating waste and duplication. Then we need tax reform to make sense out of our present crazy-quilt tax program. A new tax program must reflect the wishes and the ability to pay of all the citizens.

LEADERSHIP in Lansing is necessary to bring all sides together to work for a sound, equitable financial program that will benefit all the people of Michigan. I'd like to put my experience in leading groups of people with diverse ideas to work for you.

Will you give me a chance to PROVE what a new team in Lansing can do?

George Romney

1963 Tabs for Autos Go on Sale

Michigan's 1963 vehicle license tabs will go on sale in all 83 counties on Thursday, Nov. 1.

The tabs, which will have the numerals "63" in white on a green background, are the reverse of green on white 1962 plates which they will validate.

As an economy measure in 1959, the Michigan Department of State began issuing heavier plates which could be utilized for more than one year. This practice saved the state hundreds of thousands of dollars through reduced use of metal in tabs, in printing registration record books used by the police, in freight costs, and in processing.

In the past, when new annual plates were available and before the 'plate goes with the owner" law was in effect, some persons waited until new licenses were available before buying the fall line of cars. This saved an extra transaction fee.

The motor vehicle law gives the Secretary of State authority to begin the sale of new license plates at any time between Nov. 1 and the beginning of the calendar year.

With interest in new cars spurred on by the 44th National Automobile Show in Detroit this month, Secretary James Hare anticipates a flurry of activity at some of his 268 branches as tabs go on sale.

Scout Calendar Sales Beginning

Girl Scout calendar sales start Nov. 3 and end Nov. 17. Mrs. Clyde Grady of 105 W. Russell Rd. is chairman.

She asks that all Lenawee County Girl Scout leaders pick up their calendars anytime Thursday, Nov. 1, or on Friday, Nov. 2, until 4 p.m.

The calendars sell for 40c with five cents remaining in the troop treasuries and the other 35c going to the Irish Hills Girls Scout Council.

● GEORGE M. STEELE

Services were held Sunday at the Green-Dunn Funeral Home for George M. Steele, 57, of 609 S. Evans St., who died at 5:50 a.m. Thursday at Herrick Memorial Hospital. He had been a patient there since Oct. 21.

Mr. Steele was born in Freedom Township, O. April 5, 1905, the son of J. H. and Phoebe Kline Steele.

He married Vera Patterson at Tecumseh Oct. 7, 1944.

Mr. Steele is survived by his wife, five sons, George Jr. of Jackson, Frederick of Adrian and Richard, Jackie and Lawrence, all at home; a daughter, Alice, at home; two stepsons, Vern and Floyd Sharp, both in the armed forces in Germany, and six grandchildren.

Two sisters, Mrs. Ethel Martin of Tecumseh and Mrs. Cora Waliver of Jackson and a brother, James Fred Steele of Tecumseh, also survive.

The Rev. Alfred Sheley officiated.

—o—

● ELOISE WARING

Graveside services were held Wednesday at Brookside Cemetery for Eloise Waring, who died in a Grand Rapids nursing home Oct. 22.

Miss Waring was born in Tecumseh Jan. 23, 1878, the daughter of Joseph and Frances Slayton Waring.

Miss Waring was a graduate of Tecumseh High School and the University of Michigan.

She taught Greek and Latin at Alma College before going to Central High School in Grand Rapidc where she taught 24 years until retirement in 1938.

The Waring residence in Tecumseh was at 205 S. Pearl St.

Two sisters and a brother preceded her in death. She is survived by cousins including Fred Waring of 318 N. Maiden Lane.

The Rev. Julian Gresham officiated.

Miss Waring was a member of the Presbyterian Church.

● MRS. HERMAN PRIELIPP

BRITTON—Services were held Saturday at the Niblack Funeral Home for Mrs. Herman Prielipp, 65, of 228 W. Chicago St., who died Wednesday night at the Saline Community Hospital. She had been a patient there for several days.

Mrs. Prielipp had been in ill health for several years.

The daughter of James H. and Anna Miller King, she was born near Deerfield Nov. 24, 1896.

She married Mr. Prielipp Dec. 18, 1919, and they lived in Britton since 1946.

Mrs. Prielipp was a member of the Methodist church here.

In addition to her husband she is survived by a son, Donald J. Prielipp at home, and a brother, Wilford J. King of Adrian.

The Rev. Paul Sullivan officiated and burial was in the Deerfield cemetery.

—o—

● MILTON J. RIGHTER, JR.

Graveside services were held Oct. 23 at Lenawee Hills cemetery for Milton J. Righter, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Righter, who died soon after birth Monday at Herrick Memorial Hospital.

The Rev. Paul Brantingham officiated.

The baby is survived by his parents; a sister, Delores; a brother, Daniel; his grandmother, Mrs. Milton Righter, and his grandfather, Edward Lawson.

Scottish Rite Group Convenes

The Scottish Rite Bodies of Detroit, serving the 11-county Southeastern Michigan area, including Lenawee County, will open their 101st year of Masonic activity in Detroit on Friday evening, Nov. 2. The 1962 Fall Class composed of 200 candidates, will bear the name of the late Ira Waite Jayne, 33°, noted Detroit jurist and civic leader.

The 252-nd semi-annual Reunion will begin with presentations of the 12th and 14th Degrees Friday in the Scottish Rite Cathedral of Detroit's Masonic Temple.

Saturday afternoon, Nov. 3, 15th and 16th Degrees will be presented. The 16th Degree will feature a group of participants from the Jackson Scottish Rite Club.

Mt. Olivet Chapter of Rose Croix will complete the first weekend's work at 8 p.m. with exemplifications of the 17th and 18th Degrees.

Detroit Consistory will open the concluding weekend of the Fall Reunion at 8 p.m. on Friday Nov. 9, with a presentation of the 31st Degree. Prior to the degree, the Scottish Rite Orchestra will provide a concert for the membership.

Consistory degrees will continue Saturday, Nov. 10, beginning at 1:30 p.m. with exemplifications of the 24th and 32nd Degrees. Members of the Washtenaw (Ann Arbor) Scottish Rite Club will be featured in the 32nd Degree.

LEADERSHIP

...is a quality requiring foresight, experience, judgment, lack of vacillation, and, above all, freedom from any suspicion that what is done is motivated by politics or any other consideration than devotion to duty.

Al Bentley, said in 1958: "We talk about the Mohroe Doctrine, but what are we doing about Communist infiltration and colonization in Latin America?"

Al Bentley repeated this same position in 1960.

On September 18, 1962, Al Bentley wired the President to urge "a sea blockade around Cuba expressly to keep war materials from being shipped to Cuba."

His Democrat opponent branded Al Bentley as "foolhardy" and guilty of "shallow thinking."

Al Bentley's opponent maintained his same position almost to the hour when the President took firm action on the Cuban situation . . . the sea blockade Al Bentley advocated . . . with the statement that "the greatest danger of all would be to do nothing."

Leadership? Who showed leadership?

Michigan needs Al Bentley's leadership in Washington.

Michigan needs Al Bentley's experience as a Congressman and a member for 8 years of the House Foreign Affairs Committee.

Vote Tuesday, November 6

Return AL BENTLEY to Congress as Congressman-at-Large

Sharon Offers Tour of Sugar Cane Field

EDITOR'S NOTE: Sharon Ries, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Ries of Tonneberger Dr., is on Taiwan for a program of the International Farm Youth Exchange. This is one of a series of letters she has sent home, describing her life with the Formosan families with which she lives.

By SHARON RIES

Get out your bicycle—I want to show you my host family's 1.2-acre (4-Hectare) farm. We need the bicycle for the first half-acre which is a 20-minute ride from here.

My host family's half-acre of rice has already been harvested by a team of 30 men and women. Since labor is so plentiful on this small island, the workers received a total of $650 NT (NT=New Taiwan and $40 NT=$1 US). Therefore they received slightly over $16 US for all 30 of them during the two days they harvested the 2 hectares by hand.

The field has already been worked up and is ready for the planting of the winter vegetable crop. My host brother hired one of the new garden tractors for $1.000 NT per hectare to prepare his field after the rice harvest.

☆

USUALLY the farmers use a water buffalo and a wooden plow with one steel blade, but, though my brother has a water buffalo, he doesn't have the time to do the plowing himself because he works every day but Sunday in the Chiao To Township Office.

My family is considered a well-to-do farm family because both of my married host brothers have good office jobs in addition to their 2 hectares of rice, 2 hectares of sugar cane (the average farmer in Taiwan owns 3.8 hectares or about 1.1 acres), 5 hogs, 2 holstein heifers (dairy cows are very rarely found on an average farm) and about 20 chickens and turkeys (very commonly found on most farms).

Many farms also raise ducks because they are easier to raise and less susceptible to disease.

Let's continue our tour. We can cycle to my host's home and walk to the sugar cane field which takes 10 minutes in the opposite direction from the rice paddy. It is very common in Taiwan for the farmers to live in small villages and go outside the village to their farmland, which may be far or near and split into several locations.

Sugar cane, both the edible variety and the variety used for sugar manufacturing, and rice paddies line the path on either side of us. The stately 8-foot stalks of sugar cane, with their long, slender leaves erupting in a lopped-over spray from the top of the stalk, are slightly tilted as a result of the strong winds which the last typhoon brought only two weeks ago. Much of the rice is lying flat on the ground, making harvesting somewhat more difficult.

WE'RE RIGHT in the middle of the edible sugar cane season and my host brother's hired crew is harvesting his now. Let's help; it looks easy.

Two older men, their brown bodies bent with age and much toil and their skin beginning to wrinkle, are uprooting the tall stalks from a row width with large-bladed hoes and laying them across the rows.

A girl in slacks, coolie hat and long sleeves to protect her arms follows them and tops the canes with her short curved-blade knife.

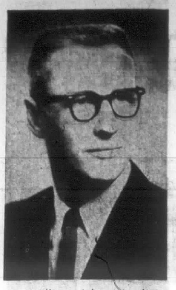
Another girl is collecting the top leaves into bundles as big as her arms can hold and tying them with some of the long leaves.

Let's work with this next group of girls; they're using their curved knives to remove the root hairs along the cane and any extra dirt clods still clinging to the uprooted end. We can do this at almost the same speed as the girls working, and we won't be slowing the pace.

Behind our crew we can see two men sorting the cane into large piles of 20-30 cane per pile. They tie the piles at either end with lightweight rope, and the bundles are ready to be loaded on the waiting cow carts to be taken to market.

Getting tired? That sugar cane certainly can feel heavy after awhile, even lifting only one at a time. We're almost done tho—I can see the end of the row just ahead—and it's about 5:30—time for supper soon.

Thanks for going on our tour. I'll show you more in several weeks.



Dr. William Adams is the newest dentist in the city, opening his office in the in Tecumseh Medical, Dental Building near the Herrick Memorial Hospital. Open house will be held Nov. 11. Dr. Adams and his family are living at 716 Winonah St.

Square Dance Class Begins

A beginning class in western style square dancing will begin at 8 p.m. Thursday, Nov. 1, in the Community Center.

No charge will be made for the first class meeting. Bonnie Mattis will be the caller.

WSCS Has UN Talk

BRITTON — The WSCS met last Wednesday evening in the dining room of the Britton Methodist Church.

Mrs. George Forsyth conducted the business meeting in the absence of the president.

The annual church fair and supper was discussed. Mrs. Virgil Bortel is the general chairman; Mrs. Paul Frazier, dining room chairman; Mrs. Ernest Maschino, in charge of the booths, and Mrs. Ivan Olds, the advertising and posters.

A program on the United Nations was presented around a worship center of United Nation flags, centered with a lighted candle.

Mrs. Forsyth and her committee gave the program.

Mrs. Fenton Barrett served refreshments after the meeting.

The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Wilton Gittus, Wednesday, Nov. 28 at 7:30 p.m. with Mrs. Edward Kanous in charge of the program.

MARDA GENE DUNCAN'S Thru My Window

LOG BY DUNCAN . . . continued

Last week I tried to share the first part of our vacation, the northern half of the Great Circle Route. Having driven along the lovely Canadian shoreline of Lake Superior, we now come down the western side of the lake and head east into our own pretty state.

Sunday, Grand Marias, Minn., dull, dark and dreary. A whole day of driving through this gook was a repetition of last year's trip.

We still think it would be lovely if one could only see — Minnesota has provided so many parks and scenic over-looks right on Lake Superior but with fog, what's the use.

Monday, Duluth and still dreary. Exploring a bit and getting off the beaten track, we discovered that County 13 in Wis. was delightful.

Closely following the shoreline of a large peninsula, it winds through forests and orchards.

Blue-jays, flickers, juncos and little yellowish warbler type birds, who would not sit still a second to give us a good look, were our companions. Prentice Park in Ashland was also worthwhile, deer and ducks there.

☆

TUESDAY, Ironwood, Mich. and I'm through complaining about weather. As we drove toward the Porcupine Mountains the sky brightened and by the time we were there, the sun was actually shining brightly.

The colors were beautiful and the scenery—well, I just can't recommend the Porcupines enough; they are gorgeous!

While still in the Park we had the thrill of seeing, and hearing, a huge flock of Canadian geese. They were so low we could clearly see their black heads and snowy white tummies.

Wednesday, Houghton and back, to overcast skies. No use of trying to see the Copper Country so we headed for Marquette and Munising.

More flocks of wild geese. The color was defintely gone—a few die-hard trees were hanging onto their leaves but many were bare.

Thursday, Manistique and back to good weather. Wonderful because we had a special visit to pay.

After a pretty drive along Lake Michigan we headed for Germfask and the Seney Wildlife Refuge. What a spot!

The ponds were full of Canadian geese— Mom and I had a fieldday looking and Dad's camera went wild. Finally breaking away, it was back to Route 2 and more wonderful coastal driving. Across Mighty Mac again and as always, a thrill.

☆

FRIDAY, Mackinaw City, a gorgeous day! One last look at, and picture of, the Bridge.

We had finally caught up with Mother Nature's Fall Spectacular and so decided to take the long way home. A little back roading around Vanderbilt was successful, we caught a brief glimpse of three elk.

Saturday, Traverse City, bright and warm. Swans in the bay. We couldn't resist the color tours so drove around the Leelanau Peninsula—lovely!

A bit of haze was setting in when we reached one of our favorite spots along Lake Michigan, an overlook, high, high on a hill just north of Arcadia.

It is a breath-taking view and we enjoyed a picnic lunch there. So much color and good looking had changed our plans; instead of pushing for home we would be on the road an extra day.

Sunday, Manistee, sunny and hazy. No pictures today, but through Ludington, the Park at Pentwater, Muskegon and Holland and the drive was beautiful. Interstate 94 whizzed us home.

So it is that all my September worrying came to naught. We had some bad weather and missed some color but the good points of our trip far, far outnumbered the bad.

We had a great time and thoroughly enjoyed every minute of the two weeks we were gone. And thus endeth, for 1962 at least, the Log by Duncan.

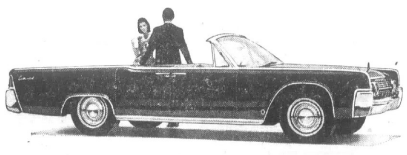
LINCOLN CONTINENTAL



INVESTMENT WITH A DOUBLE DIVIDEND

Looks alone will never tell you the age of a Lincoln Continental. So carefully crafted is this car that even as the miles roll off, its response to command remains as crisp as on the day it was delivered.

The body is rustproofed—inside and out. Critical underbody parts are galvanized. Stainless steel is lavishly used, even for fuel lines. Brake components are chromium plated. Four coats of enamel give the body its baked-in luster.

No wonder Lincoln Continental brings such high resale returns. No wonder it is the most admired car in America . . . a double dividend for its owner. We invite you to see and drive it soon.

George's Motor Sales
TECUMSEH ROAD CLINTON, MICH.

YOU COULD LOSE YOUR REPRESENTATION!

Remember July 18?

Memories are short these days. So much is happening that we sometimes forget the events of only a few months ago.

But, when we vote on November 6, we'd better remember July 18.

That was the day when the Supreme Court of Michigan threw out, by a one-vote margin, the State Senate apportionment we voted for just 10 years ago. The court told us we had to take the kind of apportionment demanded by Gus Scholle, regardless of the fact that the people had overwhelmingly rejected it at the polls.

By that same one-vote margin, the Court also cancelled the primary election and told the people they might have to elect 32 Senators on an at-large basis.

This could easily have meant that all the Senators would come from one or two counties, depriving us of our voice—of any voice—in the Senate of Michigan!

Only action by the U. S. Supreme Court saved us! And the fight isn't over yet.

What does this mean to us on November 6?

Well, the present Governor has said that the Michigan Supreme Court decision, which almost cost us our representation in the Senate, was "A great victory for the people." Which people, Governor Swainson? Certainly not those of us who live here. Certainly not the 1,269,807 of us (a 294,289 majority) who voted for the present Senate plan that the Michigan Supreme Court threw out.

Fortunately, the Governor's opponent, Mr. George Romney, supports a Senate apportionment plan which provides effective representation for all the people. He also supports the right of the people to vote on the kind of legislative representation they want. Romney has called the Swainson-Scholle apportionment steamroller a "power grab." He's right.

When we vote on November 6 we ought to remember what John Swainson wants to do to our voice in the legislature. We ought to remember where George Romney stands.

We ought to remember that Governor Swainson's appointee, Attorney General Kelley, deserted the people and argued for Gus Scholle.

We ought to remember that two Justices of the Supreme Court are up for election, and that we can change the make-up of the Michigan Supreme Court by electing two new Justices.

Let's remember July 18 on November 6. Let's do what we can to see that we still have a voice in the State Senate.

RIDGEWAY

The World Day of Prayer and Self denial services were held at the Ridgeway First Methodist Church Thursday, Oct. 25, at 2 p.m. with combined groups from Tecumseh, Macon and Britton.

Lulu Gilmore attended the 93rd birthday anniversary celebration of her brother, Clarence, which was held at the home of his daughters, Mrs. Alvin Clark at Manchester.

Mrs. Will Fletcher and Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Francis visited Mrs. Mattie Haviland and Mrs. Bertha Tryon who are patients at a Hillsdale nursing home last Sunday.

Callers at the Clifford Southard home recently were Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Geierman and family of Erie and Mr. and Mrs. Clinton Jewell of Detroit.

Recent callers at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Hamilton and family were Dr. and Mrs. C. L. Hodge of Reading, Mich. and Saturday evening dinner guests were the Rev. and Mrs. Allison Mitchinson and family, Mrs. Tom Birdsall and Elmer Pocklington.

Mrs. Luella Hayford returned home recently from a two weeks visit with her son's families. Byrl Hayford of Three Rivers, William and Melvin Hayford of Battle Creek are the sons.

Rotarians Welcome Five More

Congressman George Meader attended the Rotary dinner Oct. 23 at the Methodist Church. Five new members were welcomed.

Mr. Meader spoke concerning the happenings in the 87th congress. He was en route to Adrian for a scheduled debate with his Democratic opponent, Tom Payne, at Dawson Auditorium.

Dr. John Van Schaick, Adrian Rotarian, spoke on eyes from infancy through life. He used charts to illustrate relationships between the senses of touch, hearing, taste and sight.

Several from Blissfield, Clinton and Adrian were present, along with the five new members, Pat Meadows, David Oosterhout, Roy Olsen, John Henderson and Clayton Greenwald.

Leon Bodell of Clinton announced that the Clinton Rotary Travelogue series, 'The Wonders of Michigan," has started and invited the public to attend.

Man Buys Dining Hall at Boysville

Paul Kollar of Macon has purchased the old dining hall and kitchen building at Boysville, replaced by the new one last May.

The old hall was originally part of the National Youth Administration school facilities on Southfield Rd., north of Plymouth Rd., Detroit.

The NYA training schools were closed in 1943 and the equipment was given to community schools of the neighborhood.

In 1946 Boysville was scheduled to be opened in the NYA site and buildings.

When the Ford-Macon property was found available, plans were changed and the frame building was sawed into sections and trucked overland to Macon and reassembled.

Mr. Kollar will use the salvaged materials from the old building to build a new home.

The Herald Recommends

One of the most vital elections in Michigan's history is on the docket for Tuesday. A record turnout is expected.

Citizens will have many decisions to make.

Their most important one will be — who shall lead our state, back to respectability?

It seems to us that the key in the vote for the No. 1 chair in the capitol is leadership. Michigan must have a man who is a proven leader, a man who can get various sides to sit down together and come up with some solutions, who can study a problem and work out the answer, who can get thing done.

Obviously, that man is George Romney.

His opponent, John Swainson, is a nice guy. We've met John and like him personally. But he is a third-rate governor. He proved this conclusively during the past two years.

John just could not cut the mustard. Whether he was simply inept or so tightly bound by Big Labor that he couldn't call his soul his own, we don't know — or care, now. We just know Swainson is not the key to the future, despite the attractive pins following this theme our Democratic friends wear in their coat lapels.

Mr. Romney is a leader in the most basic sense.

In the armed forces they say a good leader is one who will never ask his men to do something that he himself has not done or would not do. George Romney passes this description with flying colors. His campaigning has proved that. He meets and talks to everyone. He never sidesteps an issue, never sloughs off a challenge.

The Herald unhesitatingly recommends you vote for Romney.

Now as to the rest of the ticket, we are in a less vigorous mood. If you vote for Mr. Romney, pick Clarence Reid for lieutenant governor.

On Secretary of State we think that Democrat James Hare has done an excellent job and should continue in this post. His opponent, Norm Stockmeyer, is qualified, but Mr. Hare has the background and experience.

In the case of the attorney general, things are reversed. Democratic-appointee Frank J. Kelly should get the axe. Republican Robert J. Danhof is the better man for this job.

One candidate we feel strongly about is L. William Seidman, a Republican, who would like to unseat Democrat Billie S. Farnum as auditor general — and we hope Tecumseh area voters will help him do just that.

Mr. Seidman is an expert in the field of accounting and enjoys a fine reputation. He spoke several years back at a Michigan Press gathering regarding depreciation on equipment, taxes and other allied subjects.

His knowledge of business is uncanny and he has already come up with ideas for improving Michigan methods, via better analysis of state books.

Never forget that your vote is vital. So is that of other members in your family and your next door neighbors.

Why not take it upon yourself to be a one-man or one-woman "Get Out The Vote" gang? Tell everyone around you not to forget — do it several times.

It's a Lovely Theatre

In many editorials over the past five years, we have said that Tecumseh has many blessings to count.

We've lauded expansions at the hospital, bigger and better business places, new subdivisions, our far-reaching community chest program, activities of various clubs and organizations.

We about popped the buttons on our vest when the Community Center became a reality —thanks to the generosity of one man, who sincerely loves his home town and the people in it.

At first, residents just stood in wonderment at this facility. The Teen Club got the ball rolling, as members shaped their new quarters on the third floor. Then marksmen and archers went to work on the basement.

Square dancers, bridge players started to hold sessions at the Center. The Hospital Auxiliary tossed a Caribbean Fashion Show that packed the place.

The city hired a full-time recreation director, who has devoted much of his time and effort to the Center and greatly increased its use.

Latest "star" in the Center's crown is the little theatre, which has been established in the Glass Room. The stage and set is mobile, can be dismantled and stored in the basement.

Last weekend, the Tecumseh Players staged the first three of six performances of this season's first show. "The Man Who Came To Dinner."

Both artistically and facility-wise the effort was a grand success. To start with, patrons had plenty of free parking spaces, seats are close to the stage, there is an ample area next to the theatre for smoking and visiting between acts to go along with refreshments, all within the Center.

Acoustics are perfect.

We dare say that when Henry Ford built what is now our Center, back in the Thirties, he certainly had no idea his electricity-making control room would one day be the setting for an amateur theatre.

If by chance you haven't seen this show by the Players — who deserve great praise for their cultural efforts in the community — you can catch it either Thursday, Friday or Saturday nights, starting at 8.

Eyes on Grosse Ile

Sweet victory best describes Friday's win by Tecumseh over previously undefeated Blissfield. It all but insured an Huron League championship.

Nearly every local gridiron fan, who was able, journied to the Royals' field for the battle. It was close and well-played, with emphasis on the defense.

THS just had too many horses.

At the risk of putting the THS lads in a relaxing mood, we offer our congratulations — with the warning that last week's play never means much at this Friday's encounter.

We're sure that Coach Tom Fagan, who has proved again and again this fall his ability to psych his gridders to a proper edge, will be going over this point every night in practice.

This is evident by the impressive record to date of the Faganmen, who have shown great scoring power — but equally as impressive, a defensive prowess extraordinary.

What's Going on at BOYSVILLE

By RICHARD McMILLAN

Sixty boys of the junior and freshman classes attended the Auto Show in Detroit Sunday. The tickets were donated by Mr. Roe, Ticket Chairman for the Show. Brother James Reese, CSC, freshman moderator, contacted Mr. Roe and made all the arrangements.

√

The freshman class held a humorous pep rally Thursday night. It consisted of scenes from the Boysville side line and cheering section, as well as several comical commercials. There was also a cannibal skit with Edward Johnson as the head cook and Hugh Tabor as the "Victory Feast."

√

Boysville has its own instrumental and vocal group. The group consists of Joe Laus, Bob Stuart, Frank Turner and Charlie Stone. They will play at various concerts and activities throughout the year. Last year they played for the Knights of Columbus in Detroit; and this year they will be doing a lot more for the entertainment of boys at Boysville.

√

Twenty-three members of the upper class attended the play in Tecumseh Thursday night entitled "The Man Who Came to Dinner." They enjoyed the play very much and would like to thank the Tecumseh Players for the donation of the tickets.

√

The Hobby Shop will open its doors Nov. 5, announced Brother James Kinsella, CSC. As in the past years Mr. Laidlaw is sacrificing his time to help supervise and direct the boys in their various projects.

√

Boysville's campus is receiving a face lifting by Ollie Musch of Tecumseh, who has been planting evergreens and shrubs this past week around the dining hall and gymnasium. The money to pay for this project was given to us by a generous benefactor and loyal Boysville Booster for many years, Gerry Becker of South Orange, N.J.

√

The annual Halloween party, sponsored by the Sophomore Class, was held Wednesday night. Prizes for the best costumes plus games of chance and skill made up most of the program for the evening.

Man for Man, THS Superior Coach States

"Our boys will be up for Adrian, and we expect to win."

This statement by Coach Tom Fagan summarizes the feelings of the coaching staff for the undefeated Tecumseh Indians in their forthcoming game with Adrian Friday night at 8 p.m.

COACH TOM FAGAN

"Man for man, I think we're better and believe that it will be shown during the game," explained the Indian mentor, who says the difference in the two clubs may be Doug Nelson, Adrian halfback.

Nelson already is being promoted for all-state honors, based on his record of scoring and defensive play this season. Although not exceptionally fast, the 170-pound halfback has the knack of slipping out of tackles, and once open is tough to bring down.

Coach Fagan rates the "stop Nelson" problem the biggest chore for the Tecumseh defensive unit, one of the best in the area.

Tecumseh is physically fit for the game and certainly will be up for the Maples. One of the top games, perhaps in recent years, is promised—and a Tecumseh victory would make it a clean sweep for the season.

Kickoff is 8 p.m. Full details of the game appear in The Herald's "Football Special," pages 1, 2, 3 and 4 of the next section.

Long and Short

BY TOM RIORDAN

"I couldn't stay away a moment longer," were his first words. My jaw dropped as I saw the little fellow, but he didn't wait for me to say anything.

"I tried to believe that football was just a game for kids and that I had more important things to do."

"Like what?" was my first query.

"Well, like slipping a little arsenic in Castro's morning coffee," he shot back, grinning all the while.

"You've been in Cuba?"

"That's correct, lad," Bootin' Pussy purred, as he smoothed down a patch of fur that obviously had seen better days.

"It wasn't any picnic, either," he went on, then abruptly changed the subject

"Now about this game Friday night. Is it really true that Tecumseh is terrific this year and going to knock the socks of Adrian?"

"Yes to both questions," was the ready rejoinder.

Bootin' was now clamping down on the business end of a genuine Cuban cigar, which had seen several previous owners.

He was his old self, completely taking over.

"The word filters to the island a little more slowly these days," he rambled on.

"The first I heard about Tecumseh this fall was from a sailor over at Guantanamo, who said the Indians were riding high with five or six straight wins.

"I got to one of the boys in the radio shack and had him zero in on the scores over WJR last week and heard about the win over Grosse Ile.

"That did it. I was off and running. Let someone else worry about the international crisis. My entire attentions are now on the Tecumseh-Adrian fracas."

Without leaving time for any comments, he asked, "What about my seat — on top of the press box? Will you fix me up? I can give the view from the top' sort of report."

How can you handle a little guy like that?

By this point, the whole gang at The Herald was gathered about Bootin', who loved the attention. He blew several smoke rings to reward their ardor.

"Well, what about it, Wilbur, will you handle the details?" he chirped and the girls giggled.

"OK, OK, here's your Herald press pass," was about the only thing to say.

That clown.

But a fellow has to admit he has long been a Tecumseh football booster — from about the Year One.

Bootin' never missed a game. Then a year ago, he said he was heading west for a long trip and was going to forget all about football, adding something about finally maturing.

He stuck to his word for a solid season. But Cuba? Could he really have been there? And did he ever get close enough to the bearded one's coffee to administer the coup de grace?

Before I could come up with a single question, the scamp had bounded to the floor, flicking cigar ashes wildly about and was heading for the back door.

"See you Friday, buddie," he called over his shoulder. Then speaking to himself, "How was I able to stay away from my Indians such a long time?"

2,570 Ballot Locally

With a turnout of 2,570 voters —one of the biggest off-presidential your totals — Tecumseh citizens helped send George Romney to Lansing.

In 1958, the count was 2,113 and the 1960 presidential year, 2,968.

City and township citizens cast 1,748 votes for Mr. Romney, while Gov. John Swainson picked up 799.

The remainder of the ballots went as expected — heavily Republican.

Both Senator Elmer Porter and Representative Rollo Conlin were returned to the Legislature, picking up substantial margins locally.

In the two-county senatorial district of Lenawee and Monroe, Mr. Porter garnered 29,580 votes to William Nichols' 23,716.

Mr. Porter's margin over William Bradstreet was a wide, 15,143 to 8,914.

Records Sold for Hospital

A special record sale will be sponsored Friday and Saturday by the Herrick Memorial Hospital Auxiliary.

The sale will take place in the showroom of Schneider Brothers car dealership, 1111 W. Chicago Blvd.

The record being sold is a long-playing compilation of the most popular recordings of such songsters as Perry Como and Jo Stafford, and the top bands.

Donations of a dollar or more are asked for each record.

VFW Auxiliary Aids Hospital

Taking part were Commander and Mrs. Lloyd Stites, Auxiliary President Mrs. Richard Eisenmenger and Mr. Eisenmenger, Mr. and Mrs. James Felton, Mrs. Robert Starkey, Mrs. Harlon Boyes, Mrs. Bonnie Sniffen, Mrs. George Downard and Mrs. Joseph Laslo.

Council Gives OK

By JIM LINCOLN

City Council gave unanimous approval Monday night to development of the River Raisin in this immediate area, appointed Councilman Royal Welch and City Engineer Carl Zorn to make the preliminary application which could eventually lead to Federal funds for the project.

The city must first apply to the Lenawee County Soil Conservation Department, seeking approval in the county before proceeding to the state and Federal departments for assistance. This was to be done Wednesday evening.

Mr. Welch displayed placards, showing the establishment of dams, creation of lakes, and the benefits to Tecumseh and this area.

Pat Meadows, president of United Savings Bank, told council that the project is important to the community and that the Tecumseh Community Development Committee would appreciate its support.

Considerable paper work and processes are involved and will take possibly two or three years before any real action will be undertaken.

☆

THE PUBLIC hearing in regards to fencing the "Pit," just off Adrian St., was continued to the Dec. 3 Council meeting. Residents in the area and Regina Gallo, owner of the pit, argued their cases without reaching any decision.

City Manager Ed Nelson was to investigate the cost of fencing the area and report back. Melvin Smith, Clinton attorney for Mrs. Gallo, requested more time to study the situation.

Residents in the area say the pit is an attraction for their young children and the deep water endangers their lives.

☆

COUNCIL also:

► Handled requests for trailer permits.

► Tentatively approved plans for merchants to buy meters for free parking during December.

► Approved alloting $70 to complete sign to city's entrance.

► Authorized the city manager to proceed with plans for Evans Creek Interceptor Sewer project.

► Approved printing and distribution of city's annual report.

OPEN HOUSE—An open house from 1 to 4 p.m. Sunday will introduce to Tecumseh the new Medical-Dental Building situated just east of Herrick Memorial Hospital. Designed by A. J. Smith, the building houses the offices of three doctors and a dentist. (Story, page 3.)

Big Night for Rotary

Tecumseh Rotarians and Rotary Anns will join with the more than half a million Rotarians in 128 countries next week for a special observance of Rotary Foundation Week, announces Hugh T. Walter, president of the Tecumseh Rotary Club.

The Rotary Foundation seeks to promote understanding and friendly relations between the people of different nations. Its major activity is granting Rotary Foundation Fellowships to outstanding graduate students for one year of study abroad as Rotary ambassadors of good will.

Since this program was established in 1947, as a memorial to Paul P. Harris, the founder of Rotary, 1,594 young men and women from 71 countries have received Rotary Foundation Fellowships for study in 55 countries, with grants averaging about $2,600.

Total grants now exceed $4,000,000.

Rotary Fellowships are unique in that, with more than 11,000 Rotary Clubs throughout the world, the student is in direct contact with Rotarians and their families wherever he is studying. He attends their Rotary Club meetings, visits in their homes and places of business, and travels as much as possible during his school holidays. In this way he sees at first hand how the people in his host country live and he lays the foundation for increased international understanding, which is one of Rotary's principal objectives.

Local Rotarians will highlight their observance of the Rotary Foundation Week at their meeting Nov. 13 at the Methodist Church with a presentation by Michel Valdigue, Toulouse, France, who is studying under a Rotary Fellowship at the University of Michigan. Mr. Valdigue will share some of his experiences and impressions with Tecumseh Rotarians.

Punt, Pass, Kick Contest Is Saturday

Second annual Punt, Kick and Pass contest for boys, ages seven through 11, will be held this Saturday morning at 9:30 at the high school athletic field.

The lads will be competing for helmets, jackets and footballs in the contest, sponsored here by the local Ford agency, Tecumseh Motors.

Judges at the contest include high school mentor Tom Fagan, Jim Finch, local dealer, Fats Karle and Tom Riordan.

Post Office, Banks Close for Veterans

Tecumseh's post office will be closed Monday, Nov. 12, to observe Veteran's Day, which falls on Sunday.

United Savings Bank and Adrian Federal Savings and Loan Assoc. also will be closed all day.

Postmaster Jack Metcalf announced that all special delivery mail received will be delivered Monday, and all mail deposited in the boxes in the business district and the two boxes in front of the post office before 4 p.m. will be dispatched Monday.

Thursday Night Pep Rally Set

A huge pep rally—open to all Tecumseh Indian rooters—will be held Thursday night following a downtown parade of the Indians marching band.

The parade is scheduled for 7 p.m., with the rally afterwards at the athletic field.

The band will march west on Chicago Blvd. from Maumee St. to Pearl St., turning around in the downtown section and then marching out N. Evans St. to the field.

The Tecumseh Athletic Boosters, co-sponsoring the rally with school officials, also has planned a giant car-caravan to the Tecumseh-Adrian football game.

The caravan, to be escorted by Sheriff Bob Stites' cruisers, will start forming on N. Maumee at Shawnee at 6:30, and move out at 6:45, arriving at the Maples' stadium about 45 minutes before game time.

Jim Beach Attends Classes in Germany

James C. Beach, son of Mr. and Mrs. Chester Beach of 210 Pine St., is in Muenster, Germany to "soak up the culture" and see the country side.

A junior at Kalamazoo College, Mr. Beach is attending classes in Germany as an experiment of the college.

He sailed for Germany Sept. 15 and is expected to arrive home March 19.

While attending school there for two quarters he is a house guest of a private family with two children, a boy 14 and a girl 9.

☆

HE IS enjoying the family immensely and writes that their home is modern in every respect, with the exception of clothes dryer and dish washer.

Located in a subdivision, the two-story brick house was built only last year.

Roads in Muenster are similar to those of Michigan, he says. Mr. Beach only has two credit courses now, one of them German. Classes are taught in English the first quarter and will be taught in German, next quarter. He attends classes three days per week.

JIM BEACH

His aunt and uncle, Major and Mrs. Karl Moravek, are stationed in England, south of London, and Mr. Beach will spend Christmas with them.

Smith To Prepare Plan

Herrick Memorial Hospital's setting — present and future — will be shown as plans of the Hospital Auxiliary to improve and beautify the grounds are carried out.

The Auxiliary, after visiting many hospitals and talking with many architects and nursery landscapers, has asked A. J. Smith, Tecumseh architect, to prepare plans for the future landscaping.

His work will include recording what has been done to date at the hospital, and future expansion plans.

The auxiliary hopes to have new landscaping designs, incorporating plantings, screenings and service areas, ready for the spring planting season.

After approval of the auxiliary, the plans will go to the Hospital Board of Directors for its approval.

The auxiliary hopes to interest local civic and service organizations in helping to pay for the landscaping project.

66 Greet Candidates at Program

About 66 Tecumseh area residents stopped to meet the candidates at the Tecumseh Republican Headquarters Thursday evening.

Among the candidates present were Leonard Warner, Alice Welch, Willis Moore, Harvey Koselka, Sen. Elmer Porter, Rep. George Meader, Rep. Rollo Conlin, Ed Braun, Donald E. Mitchell and Robert Stiles.

A number of the candidates' wives also were present.

Mrs. Charles Howe introduced the candidates; Mrs. Harold Ocamb and Mrs. Charles Gross were in charge of the program.

Elephant-shaped cookies made by Mrs. John Hamilton and Mrs. Rose Service were served from a table centered with a floral golden elephant devised by the Pickard Floral Shop.

A demonstration of hair styling and make-up was presented by the Elite Academy of Beauty Culture, Adrian.

Prizes Given

Mrs. Randall Pilbeam won first prize at bridge at the Tecumseh Country Club Nov. 1. Mrs. Clifford Collins was awarded second prize.

Table awards were presented to Mrs. Louis S. Schneider, Mrs. Ned Baldwin and Mrs. L. M. Hubbard.

—o—

Mr. and Mrs. Willis Davenport entertained their card club Saturday evening. Low prizes were awarded to Lois Tilton and Lennie Wimple.

Jean Great and Ed Furgason won high prizes.

PRIZE WINNERS — Animals, toys and spooks showed up last week for the annual children's Halloween Party, held in the Tecumseh Community Center. Instead of the dozens of prizes formerly awarded, the judges stopped at three this year, to make the choices more outstanding. Prize for the spookiest went to Terry and Shelly Mengerink (left), and Bruce Johnson, dressed as Raggedy Andy, won the prize for the cutest costume. Dixie and Pixie Mouse, complete with trap and cheese wedges, won the prize for the most original costuming. The mice were Jill and Leisa Hibbard, and the costumes were fashioned by their mother, Mrs. James Hibbard. Judges were Mrs. Victor Lawson, Mrs. Alton Snyder and Dyke Helms.

Hustlers Elect New Officers

Others elected to office are:

Vice President—Herbert Heavenridge

Secretary—Mary Ann Woodard

Treasurer—Jimmy Woodard

Tecumseh Reporter — John Dewey

Clinton Reporter—Floyd Beatty

Recreation Leader—Mike Dettmer

Club Photographer — Betty Heavenridge.

Each member received a gift as the result of the club winning the Kiwanis award for overall accomplishment during the year.

The girls were given sweater guards and the boys, sterling silver tie pins.

Cookies and hot chocolate were served by Mrs. Dewey.

The next meeting will be held at the home of Carol and Karen Davenport.

Safety Campaign To Start

The Tecumseh Kiwanis Club will launch a city-wide safety campaign at 10 a.m. Saturday, Nov. 17, at the Strand Theatre.

Recognizing that increasing numbers of cars and bicycles make it necessary for each driver and bike-rider to be more aware of his responsibility in the safe operation of his vehicle, the club has enlisted the help of various individuals and organizations to put across the safety message.

The Automobile Club of Michigan is providing a film on bicycle safety.

Police Chief Murell Clark will speak on the new bicycle licensing procedures to be enforced beginning in 1963.

John Henderson, city recreation director, will stress the prevention of accidents resulting from the participation in winter sports such as ice skating, sledding and skiing.

Cartoons will also be shown.

All children in this area and their parents are invited to attend by Safety Campaign Chairman Gene Tuckey.

You Told Us

By DOROTHY GRIGG
Herald Society Editor

Squeals from little girls, noisy laughter from the boys quiet smiles from the Dads and Moms busy with a thousand jobs make up the excitement at the annual school fairs.

Emotions run the gauntlet from ecstasy to boredom. One little patron exemplified the latter at a recent Fun Night.

He had been sitting for several minutes in the room where the variety show was produced, quietly waiting to be entertained as the young emcee had promised.

"Due to mechanical difficulties" explained the youthful announcer it would be a few more minutes before the Harmona Kittens would perform.

"Mama, how much did it cost to get in here?" asked Tommy.

"Ten cents" came the reply.

√

Mrs. Roy J. Van Winkle has returned to her home in Detroit after spending the last five months at her cottage at Devils Lake. She was a houseguest of Mrs. Floyd Elliott in Tecumseh last week.

√

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Burleson and Mrs. D. L. Burleson left Monday for Fort Pierce, Fla.

√

Many Tecumseh hairdressers attended the presentation of Robert Fiance Sunday at the Hotel Hayes in Jackson. The demonstration included permanents for fine hair.

Those attending were Jean Smith, Joyce Beevers, Ruth Fisher, LaVonne Gove, Marcella Goodacre, Joyce McLaughlin, Sharon Eddinger, Candice Hull and Mrs. Gordon Gove.

Marilyn Beland passed the first proficiency test for roller skate dancing Sunday evening at the Skate Arena. Sherie Flowers passed a figure skating test the same evening.

Fun Night Nets $800

Tecumseh Acres Fun Night netted about $800, according to the committee.

Kathy Barrett was crowned queen and Stephen Kring was crowned king.

Door prizes were won by Brenda Yoder, S. R. Illeck, Deborah Stoner, Frank Hoekstra, Scott Kampmueller and Thelma Osburn.

Music for dancing was played by Don Sweet and The Blue Angels.

Eagles Enjoy Family Night

A family night supper was enjoyed by members of the Eagles Lodge and their families Saturday, followed by initiation and a dance.

Lonal Bishop, secretary, suggests that those who missed the fun Saturday may want to attend the family night held next month.

Collars Made for Singers

Members of the LCW of the Gloria Dei Lutheran Church will make collars for the choir at the regular meeting Monday, Nov. 12, at 8 p.m.

Mrs. William Rohweder and Mrs. Stephen Illeck are asking members who have portable sewing machines to bring them to the meeting.

Doctors Invite Public to Open House

Tecumseh has a new angle on medical buildings.

The angles are the first thing noticed when you approach the new Tecumseh Medical-Dental Building.

The three doctors and dentist at the center will have open house from 1 to 4 p.m. Sunday, Nov. 11, to show their new quarters.

Outside the building, the large parking lot introduces the first angles, with a walkway set among geometrical designs of plantings and colorful stone beds.

This theme is repeated around the building.

The center itself, of rich red brick contains waiting room and offices for Dr. H. D. Ocamb, Dr. W. J. Adams, Dr. C. L. Cook and Dr. R. D. Coak.

The main waiting room ties together the two halves of the building. It is a corridor with glass ends and brick sides extending from the outside walls.

Doors to the doctors' offices are painted to match the interior furnishings, in white, gold, turquoise and black.

A separate area was set aside for children, with low chairs fronting a divided table holding toys for them to play with.

The slatted wooden dividers in the waiting room incorporate pegs for coats and racks for magazines.

The building was designed by A. J. Smith, Tecumseh architect.

It is located just east of Herrick Memorial Hospital.

Patient Kills Self at Home

Mrs. Sarah Boyd, 88, Britton, took her life by hanging early Wednesday morning at the Moody Nursing Home, 302 E. Pottawatamie.

Tecumseh police report that she was found by Mrs. Agnes Moody, owner of the home.

Mrs. Boyd had been in ill health for some time and had been a patient at the home for about five years. She has two daughters, one in Detroit and the other living at Lakewood, O.

Funeral services, still not completed, will be held at the Niblack Funeral Home, Britton.

Junior Leaders Attend School

Eight Lenawee County Junior Leaders attended the District Junior Leadership School Nov. 1, 2, 3 and 4 at Camp Kett near Cadillac.

Sharon Comstock, Diane Ries, Virginia Ruesink, Tom Christenson, Gary Stretch and Tom Nelson were selected for their outstanding leadership projects.

Sharon Jackson, County Extension Agent in 4-H, accompanied the group.

The program included workshops in leadership, public speaking, recreation, interviews and planning county junior leader schools.

These Junior Leaders now will be responsible for planning a Lenawee County Junior Leader School.

What's Happening in Tipton

Mr. and Mrs. McKinley Spalding were guests Sunday of Mrs. Ila Kotts and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Rowyer and family of Garden City.

Mr. and Mrs. Fay Luce and Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Wilkin and children attended the 25th wedding anniversary open house of Mr. and Mrs. Reuben Wornstaff Jr. in Hudson Sunday.

A co-operative supper was served Saturday evening to 16 guests when Mr. and Mrs. Raynor Hardy entertained their card club. Afterwards they attended the harvest festival at the school.

Mrs. Harry Stout of Detroit has returned home after spending several days with Mrs. Pearl Brighton.

She was accompanied here by Mrs. Brighton, who spent a few days.

Brownie Troop 156 enjoyed a Hobo Halloween party Tuesday afternoon. Games were played and refreshments served by Billie Jean Creameans and Mrs. Stockinger, Brownie leader. Also assisting was Mrs. Wallace Wilkin, assistant leader.

DAR Shows Antiques

The Daughters of the American Revolution will meet at 2 p.m. Friday, Nov. 9, in the Methodist Church parlors.

Mrs. Charles Branigan will use as her theme "Our Treasured Possessions." Members are asked to take favored items to display at the meeting.

Committee members are Mrs. Louis Schneider, Mrs. Joseph Russell, Mrs. Purnell Osburn, Mrs. Harold Hall, Mrs. Earl Lindsley, Mrs. Cecil Smith and Mrs. George Wittrup.

Members of the Adrian DAR chapter will be guests.

Benjamin Frank Beach is seriously ill at Henry Ford hospital in Detroit. Mr. Beach, who will soon be 91, is the uncle of Mrs. Maurice Pennington where he has made his home the past 40 years.

Cornpoppers Farm Bureau will meet at the home of Wilhelm Spychers Saturday, Nov. 10 at 8 p.m. The topic for discussion will be "Challenges Faced by Farm Organizations." Members are to bring gelatin or cookies.

Tipton Grange will hold a special meeting Friday, Nov. 9 for installation. Mr. and Mrs. Roy Benedict will be installing officers. Members are to bring a dish to pass, buttered rolls and pie. The supper committee is Mr. and Mrs. Ed Furgason and Mr. and Mrs. Linwood Wimple. Supper will be served at 7:30 p.m.

Mr. and Mrs. McKinley Spalding were guests Saturday of Mr. and Mrs. Russell Spalding and family of Toledo in observance of the 13th birthday of their grandson, Gary.

Mr. and Mrs. Donald Whelan and Mrs. Marguerite Luce were guests Sunday of Mrs. Dorothy Weber of Detroit.

OES Forms Working Groups

Committees for the year were appointed Nov. 1 when the newly installed worthy matron and worthy patron, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Beland, presided at the meeting of the Tecumseh Chapter, OES.

Following a welcome and poem read by Mrs. Beland, a report of the October Grand Chapter sessions in Grand Rapids was given by the past junior matron, Mrs. Cecile Viele.

Glenn Driscoll, treasurer, absent for the formal installation, was installed by the worthy matron.

A reading on the origin of the Eastern Star was read by Associate Matron Mrs. Robert Bonner.

COMMITTEES for the year are:

Ways and Means — Margaret Kempf, Phyllis Morden

Sunshine—Vera Driscoll, Marcella Lidster, Mildred Moore

Publicity—Beth LaBounty

Masonic Dinners—Hazel Bonner, Gwen Beland

Refreshments—Ann Rozelle

Auditing and Finance—Robert Bonner, Dorothy Hindes, LaRue Hoagland

Guest Book—Carrie Green

Hostess—Helen Hodges

Host—Don LaBounty

Prompters — Beth LaBounty, Ann Viele

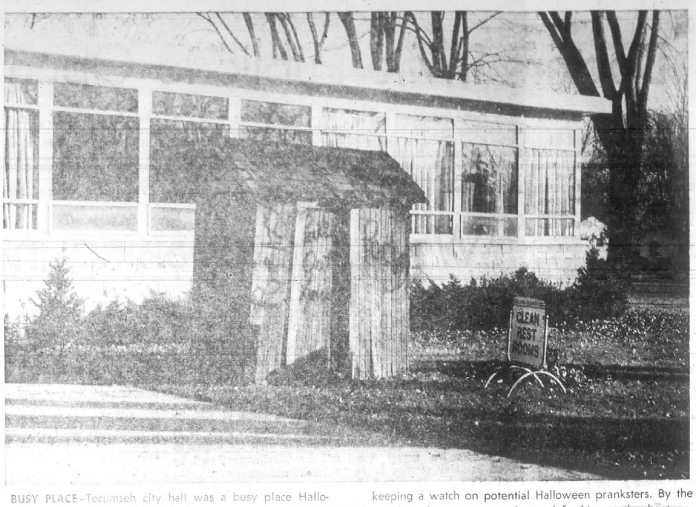
Anniversary — Gwen Beland, Hazel Bonner

Attendance and Membership —All officers and members

Announcement of the school of instruction in Tecumseh Thursday, Nov. 8, at 7:30 p.m. was made.

Mr. and Mrs. George Rinehart and committee served refreshments from table decorated with fall leaves and lighted candles.

The meeting Dec. 6 will feature a Christmas party with 50c gift exchange as well as initiation.



BUSY PLACE—Tecumseh city hall was a busy place Halloween Eve. In and out of the side door were passing, in addition to the regular police force, some 28 men from the Civil Defense organization and the police auxiliary. They were keeping a watch on potential Halloween pranksters. By the front door these same pranksters left this weather-beaten calling card. Being in direct violation of the city zoning ordinance, the structure was removed.

VOICE OF THE HERALD

Grim Reminder

Little children will eat or drink anything which comes within their reach.

This was all too tragically borne out last week when a Tecumseh child found and drank a container of fuel oil.

The oil, certainly not attractive by any adult standards, still attracted this toddler. Four ounces proved fatal. Despite immediate medical aid, her body could not overcome the poison.

This death, heartbreaking for the family involved, should stand as a grim reminder to other parents.

Even under loving supervision, little hands can grab a fatal potion too quickly to be stopped.

The only answer is to keep anything poisonous — this could be almost any household cleanser, medicine, oil, gasoline, cleaning fluid, painting product —out of children's reach.

Putting them high in cupboards or cabinets isn't always the answer. Tots climb even before they walk.

One point doctors stress most: Never put anything potentially dangerous in a container which once held a safe liquid or solid — for instance, putting cleaning fluid in an empty pop bottle.

Alter Nursery School's Operation

The Tecumseh Nursery Center, formerly a cooperative school, will be operated by Mrs. Warren Puffer in the future.

Now it will not be necessary for mothers to donate their time in operating the school.

The action was taken at a meeting of the Board of Mothers Oct. 23.

A nominal fee is required and there are still openings for enrollments of children three to five years of age.

Classes are held Tuesdays and Fridays from 9 to 11:15 a.m. in the Sunday School rooms of the Presbyterian Chruch.

With increased enrollment it is expected that the nursery will be opened more days per week.

Well qualified to teach, Mrs. Puffer announced that the school is nondenominational and is licensed by the state.

A varied program of creative art, self directed play activities, games, music, field trips, a snack and story time will be presented.

Mrs. Claude Sebring assists with the work.

A trip to Ridgeway School has been planned for Nov. 13 when the fifth and sixth grade band students will present a concert and instrument demonstration.

Parents may register children by calling either teacher, HA 3-4018 or HA 3-3873.

Schools Have Open House

Parents of the Tecumseh junior high and high school students and people in the school district interested in visiting these schools will have the opportunity to be a student again for one night.

In celebration of American Education Week, the junior high will hold open house on Wednesday Nov. 14 at 7:30 p.m. The senior high open house will be Thursday, Nov. 15.

STUDENTS MAKE OPEN HOUSE POSTERS

Both schools will run a miniature school day as part of the program. Parents of the students will go through the same schedule of classes that their youngsters are taking.

Other visitors may elect to attend various classes in the different educational departments.

The high school will have a program in the gymnasium after the miniature school day. Featured in the program will be the performance of the high school band and chorus. This year each of the clubs and organizations in the high school will have a booth or display to acquaint the community with their activities.

Parents and citizens of the school district are urged to take advantage of this American Education Week opportunity to get better acquainted with the school system.

SHARON BURMEISTER

Miss Burmeister and John Naser Plan To Marry

Mr. and Mrs. Stanley H. Burmeister of Saginaw, announce the engagement of their daughter, Sharon Kaye, to John Frederick Naser, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold F. Naser of 307 N. Union St.

The bride-elect received a bachelor of science degree from the University of Michigan in 1961. She is a member of Sigma Phi Alpha honorary dental hygiene sorority.

Following her graduation, she worked for a year as a dental hygienist in the offices of Doctors Laidlaw and Murray in Tecumseh.

She is presently employed in a dental office in Detroit.

Her fiance is a graduate of Albion College, where he was a member of Delta Sigma Phi fraternity. He is now attending the Dearborn Center of the University of Michigan, where he is a senior engineering student.

A summer wedding is being planned by the couple.

Tecumseh Girl Picked FHA Region Historian

Elizabeth Frost of the Tecumseh Chapter of Future Homemakers was elected Region historian at the meeting of Region III Oct. 27 in the Dundee High School.

Seventy advisors and mothers and 466 members were welcomed by Wilbur Lewis, principal of the Dundee School.

Group singing was led by Linda Sinters of Dundee followed by devotions presented by the Manchester Chapter.

The Sand Creek group won a tag name contest before Dr. R. L. Van Scoy of St. Marks Lutheran Church, Toledo spoke.

His subject was "Measuring Up for Today's World." He pointed out that everyone should be honest with himself and with others.

He also spoke on marriage stating, "Take time before you marry to make sure the man is right for you."

Dr. Van Scoy also said, "Don't be a people-pleaser."

Britton Chapter members modeled garments for a style show presented by Grace Larson for McCall's Corporation.

Connie Hofmeister, state chairman and Janice Desimpelaere, state vice-president of projects, both spoke on the subject, "What's going on."

The meeting next year will be held at the Chelsea High School.

Glenn Kohler Qualifies for Senior Membership in Appraisers Society

Glenn H. Kohler, Tecumseh realtor and appraiser, has been notified of approval for his application for senior membership in the Society of Residential Appraisers, a rather exclusive organization for realtors.

The membership includes only 2,037 in the United States and Canada and there are just two in Lenawee County.

A senior residential appraiser has the Society's professional endorsement of appraisal proficiency given by the organization's board of governors.

He first must pass examination of the appraiser's character, experience, reputation and appraisal ability.

Mr. Kohler has been in the real estate business since 1946 and a realtor since 1948. He also has been a member of the Lenawee County Board of Realtors since 1948.

He has seven years experience in making narrative appraisals and has spent about two years working towards membership in SRA.

In addition, the local realtor has completed related educational courses at the University of Michigan.

The Society of Residential Appraisers is an international, professional organization of specialists in residential property valuation.

GLENN KOHLER

Members Unmasked

"Express Yourself with Words" was the theme Oct. 29 when the Progress Extension Club met in the home of Mrs. Theodore Ouderkirk.

Mrs. Kennard Wise and Mrs. Ronald Purple were the leaders.

For roll call, the costumed club members unmasked.

Members began their projects for the Goodwill Industries gift shop.

Games were played under the direction of Mrs. Roland Boyers, and refreshments were served by the hostess.

The next meeting, which will include a tour of the new Tecumseh Library, will be held Nov. 26. Place willl be announced later.

Visiting Climaxed

"Stir Up the Gift of God Within You" is the theme of the Rev. Donald C. Porteous Sunday at the 10 a.m. worship service of the Tecumseh Methodist Church.

This is Victory Sunday and the climax of 20 Every Member visitation teams calling in the homes of church members.

At 11 a.m. the Sunday Church School will meet with classes for every member of the family.

Beginning Sunday, Nov. 18, at the church school hour, the pastor will meet with those who are interested in instructions for church membership.

Sunday at 6:45 p.m. the Senior MYF will meet and discuss Protestantism.

Reichenbaughs Have 30th Anniversary

TIPTON — The 30th anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Reichenbaugh was celebrated Sunday at an open house given by their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Reichenbaugh, Jr., in the Reichenbaugh home on S. Beebe Hwy.

The home was decorated in flowers which were gifts to the honored couple. Mrs. Reichenbaugh was presented with a yellow tea rose corsage.

The buffet table was centered with a decorated wedding cake made by Mrs. Alden Erlenbush. Floral arrangements with white and yellow mums and candles were at each end of the table.

The wedding cake was served by Mrs. Glen Myers, a niece of Mrs. Reichenbaugh. Coffee was served by Mrs. Andrew Bauerle, sister of Mr. Reichenbaugh, and tea by Mrs. Ken Rising, sister of Mrs. Reichenbaugh. Mrs. Victor Rising served the groom's cake. Mrs. Dean Rumler served ice cream.

Mrs. Carl Rieve, Mrs. Lonnie McMichael, Mrs. Homer Trettin and Mrs. J. B. Cook all helped in the kitchen.

Palma Myers was in charge of the guest book.

OBITUARIES

● CHARLES G. DOWNING

Services were held Oct. 28 at the Niblack Funeral Home for Charles C. Downing, 73, who died Oct. 26 at his home at 6666 County Line Highway.

A native of Lenawee County, Mr. Downing spent his life engaged in farming.

He was born Aug. 26, 1889, the son of Charles J. and Stella Getty Downing.

He is survived by five daughters, Mrs. Gerald Bordine of Ann Arbor, Mrs. Albert Tommelein of Milan, Mrs. William Smith of Birmingham, Mrs. Richard Diamond of Ypsilanti and Mrs. James Wood of Hawaii; three sons, Clayton of Sylvania, Leslie of Britton and Lewis of Deerfield; 23 grandchildren and 10 great grandchildren.

Two sisters, Mrs. Marian Barrett of Britton and Mrs. Nora Squires of Milan, and three brothers, Harry and Leland of Britton and Emory of Milan also survive.

His wife, Camilla, died March 5, 1955.

Mr. Downing also was preceded in death by three brothers, one in infancy and Ervin and Lewis Downing, and two sisters, Mrs. Anna Anspach and Mrs. Nellie Wegner.

The Rev. G. O. Hannevik officiated and burial was in the Ridgeway cemetery.

● BERT BRUDER

Services were held Tuesday at the Corkery Funeral Home for Bert Bruder, 73, of 503 W. Chicago Blvd. who was found dead Saturday on a couch in his living room.

He apparently suffered a heart attack after eating breakfast.

Mr. Bruder was born Sept. 21, 1889 in Gibson, Ill., the son of Othmar and Elizabeth Bruder.

He spent most of his life in the Macon area engaged in farming, moving to Tecumseh three years ago.

He was a member of the Tecumseh Grange and the Macon Methodist Church.

His wife, Pearl preceded him in death in 1959. Two daughters, a son and a sister also preceded him in death.

He is survived by two sons, Delmar of Ypsilanti and Cliff of Lansing; three daughters, Mrs. Hamilton Moore of Macon, Mrs. Melba Carey and Mrs. Thelma Furlong, both of Ypsilanti; a brother, Edgar of LaCrosse, Ind. and a sister, Mrs. Mary Harper of Dunkirk, Ind.

The Rev. Walter Damberg officiated and burial was in the Riverside cemetery, Clinton.

What's Going on at Boysville

By DAVE KLAVON

Boysville's enrollment has increased this past weekend as 19 new boys joined the student body. The arrival date was set for Nov. 4 so that the boys would be here in time for the beginning of the second quarter.

√

Friday night the eighth grade class put on the last pep rally of the football season. Dan Byrne, class president, was the writer, producer and emcee. Brother Philip Armstrong, CSC, Director of Boysville, and Tom Ryan, team captain, were asked to give talks during the course of the rally. Both stressed the need for the desire to win on the part of both the team and the student body.

Boysville's "Fighting Knights" finished their football season Saturday night with a 2-win 6-loss season after losing to Adrian Catholic Central 56-25. Despite the fact that the Knights were leading at half time by a 25-14 score, Catholic Central rallied in the second half with four touchdowns by using an unseen pass pattern.

√

The Halloween Party was a big success. There were games to play such as "Paradise Pitch," "You Guess it—You Win It" and many others. Three prizes were given to those with the most original costumes. First prize went to Bob Klimek, second prize Gary Carrigan and the third to John Kostka.

√

The leading team of the Intra-mural League is the Bears, captained by Stanley Klos. Present leader in the Minor League is Wisconsin, with the close-trailing Michigan team just one game out.

Players Begin Work on Musical Production

The Tecumseh Players, buoyed by the success of their first production of the season, which drew almost 900 spectators to the Community Center, have begun work on their February musical.

Director Robert Tolan, a member of the dramatics department of Adrian College, has sent out a call to any one interested to try out for the parts in "Girl Crazy."

Tentative dates for the tryouts are Nov. 14, 15 and 16. It will not be necessary to read or sing directly from the play for the tryouts. More definite dates and times will be announced after the November general meeting of the Players, at which Mary Martin's recording of the "Girl Crazy" music will be played.

Assisting Mr. Tolan will be Mrs. Allan Russell. Mrs. Dale Bowen will be technical director.

"The Man Who Came to Dinner" had a turn-away crowd Saturday for its last performance. Some 195 were able to find chairs, the largest audience of the six nights.

Except for the first Friday performance, which conflicted with the Tecumseh-Blissfield football game and had only a handful in the audience, the play drew more than 150 for each showing.

Club Names President on Monday

Mrs. Garth Hall was elected president of the BPCPSC Club Monday evening when the meeting was held at her home on N. Union St.

Others elected to office were: Vice-president — Mrs. Carl Thompson
Secretary and treasurer—Mrs. Sydney Wilson
Sunshine chairman — Mrs. George Green
Secret pal chairman — Mrs. Henry Kempf
Press correspondent — Mrs. Erwin Buss

Cards were played with prizes going to Mrs. Wilson, Mrs. Bess Livingstone and Mrs. Kempf.

Pecan pie was served by the hostess assisted by Mrs. Buss.

The next meeting will be a Christmas party held at the Whelan-Kempf home in December with date to be announced later.

Bigelows Celebrate 25 Years

The children of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Bigelow are planning an open house at their home, 10711 Clinton-Macon Rd., Macon, from 2 to 5 p.m. Sunday, Nov. 11, to observe the 25th wedding anniversary of their parents.

Friends are invited to call. The children ask that gifts be omitted.

Luella Hendershot and Mr. Bigelow were married Nov. 12, 1937 at the home of her parents by the Rev. Rial Simons. They have lived all of their married life in the vicinity.

The Bigelows are the parents of four children; William Bigelow, SN, stationed on the USS Wasp, now on Atlantic patrol duty; Robert, a student at Jackson Junior College, Rebekah Rae and Mary Beth at home.

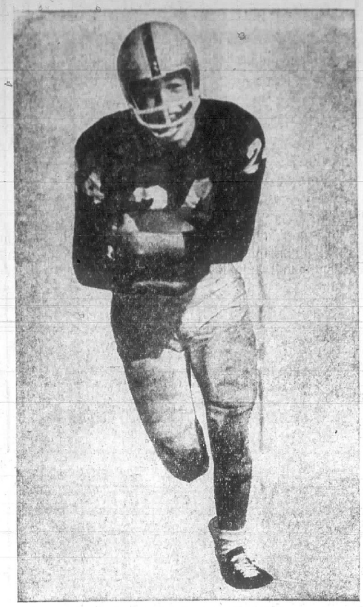
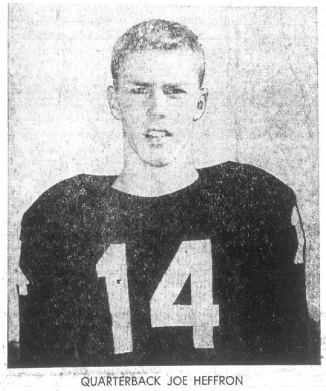
Can Apache Defense Slow Speedy Nelson?



HALFBACK DOUG NELSON



QUARTERBACK JOE HEFFRON

The most-asked question in Tecumseh this week will not be answered until Friday night when the undefeated Tecumseh Indians clash with arch rival Adrian at Maple Stadium.

Can Tecumseh whip the once-beaten Adrian eleven?

It will take some doing, including lots of desire, hustle and heads-up football by Coach Tom Fagan's club.

Adrian, undefeated this season until they ran into Class A's fifth ranked East Lansing last Friday night, succumbed to a poor first quarter and lost 33-13.

The Maples had romped through seven straight opponents, including highly-rated Monroe in the season's opener. They've looked good and bad, but always strong on defene until East Lansing riddled them with two long runs in the initial period.

"Fumblitis" hurt the Maples in their lone loss and twice set up East Lansing for TDs.

If Tecumseh is to beat Adrian, the "Apaches" defensive unit will have to stop Doug Nelson, top Adrian scorer who's being boosted for all-state honors.

Nelson has repeatedly broken up tight games for the Maples this season and accounted for both Adrian scores last week. An exceptional runner once in the open, Nelson is fast and hard to bring down. He's also a tough defensive player.

☆

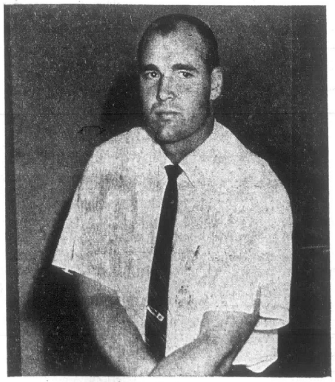
THE INDIANS HAVE the tools to win the season's finale with a solid ground game and a far better-than-average passing attack. Tim Sisson's passes to ends Norm Tucker and Mark Vaillancourt and halfbacks Jim Johnson and Dave Lemerand have been tough for the opposition.

Sisson and Fullback Dan Greene join a list of Tecumseh's finest players. Sisson has been exceptionally clever from the quarterback post—faking, handing off, bootlegging and running up the middle.

Greene is probably more valuable to Fagan as a defensive player than on offense. This is not disrespectful to Greene's running ability, but a tribute to his linebacking, which was tremendous in the last two games.

The Indians have depth in the offensive backfield — Doug Goldsberry, Bob Baker, Craig Rosacrans, John Oberlin — but are a bit short on the defensive side, especially in the line.

With the exception of Nelson, the Indians will have equal speed, offensively and defensively. In size, Adrian will be slightly bigger, averaging about five pounds more per man.



COACH GARY McNITT

Several Maples were banged up in the East Lansing tilt and Coach Gary McNitt may have to make some adjustments which could work in Tecumseh's favor.

Only End Joe Hubbard is expected to miss the game. Nelson, who suffered a slight sprained ankle, and Joe Heffron, regular quarterback who has a fractured collar bone, are being counted on to play.

☆

TECUMSEH WILL BE at full strength with the exception of Dave Blanden who broke his left leg in the Airport game.

The two teams did not meet a mutual opponent and the opposition for both clubs was comparable with the exception of East Lansing and Monroe, both far tougher than any team the Indians faced.

Adrian must be picked to win and should be favored by a touchdown or two. However, Tecumseh's scrappy team also could dispel the odds and win it.

Can Adrian Stall This Offense?

Rookie Coach in Big Season

While the University of Michigan may be having its gridiron problems, a former Wolverine halfback has had a brief but successful career since leaving the home of the Maize and Blue.

Adrian High Football Coach Gary McNitt played for Michigan only two falls ago.

Now, the youngest head coach in the history of Adrian high school, he has directed the Maples to a 7-1 record on the verge of the Tecumseh game Friday night at Maple Stadium.

The 22-year-old McNitt was an all-state football and basketball player at Mesick, a class D high school in the Traverse City area. He played three years for Michigan.

The highlight of his career was in 1960 when, as a senior, he intercepted three passes in the U of M's 14-7 win over Northwestern.

In 1961, McNitt became head grid coach at Ann Arbor University High, a class C school. With only two lettermen back, he fashioned a 3-3-2 overall mark and 3-1-1 record in the Washtenaw Conference.

Coach McNitt took over this fall at Adrian after Chappy Marvin had resigned to take the vacant Adrian College post.

Greeted by nine lettermen, he used the winged-T attack patterned after Michigan. His Maples have combined explosive scoring with a rugged defense.

Coach McNitt is married and has two boys. He is being assisted this fall by Jim DeSpain Jon Davis, Brad Henson, Dick Gaver and William Cisco.

Indians Win Loop Crown

By JIM LINCOLN

If ever a football club deserved a championship, the 1962 Indians do. And they have one, the Huron League title, with a perfect 7-0 loop mark.

Last Friday night, Coach Tom Fagan's gridders opened up in the final two periods to completely rout a visiting Grosse Ile team, 27-0, in the final league game.

The last half of the game was particularly enlightening since it not only produced three touchdowns, but saw the Indians return to their tackling and blocking which accounted for their fine record this season.

Tecumseh dominated the GI game, even in the first half, but failed to click until the third quarter. The frustrated Indians rolled up eight first downs to GI's two (both by penalties) in the initial two quarters but were only able to push across one TD.

AT THE 7:08 mark in the second period, quarterback Tim Sisson rolled out around Tecumseh's left end, turned the corner, and skipped 36 yards down the sidelines behind some very effective blocking. Jim Johnson ran for the point and the Indians led 7-0.

Midway in the third period, Sisson, who did not enjoy his best night passing, flipped a short screen pass to fullback Dan Greene on GI's 21, and the chunky back scooted in for the score.

With less than a minute gone in the fourth period, Greene took a handoff from Sisson, broke loose over Tecumseh's left tackle and romped 66 yards without a hand being laid on him. Sisson then passed to End Norm Tucker for the extra point and a 20-0 lead.

Dave Lemerand set up the next tally when he intercepted a GI pass on the loser's 46 and raced it back to the 23. Halfback Jim Johnson then broke loose to the seven, and after Sisson sneaked to the one, Johnson plunged for the TD. Lemerand added the extra point on a run.

GI, boasting the second-best offense in the league, next to Tecumseh, was throttled in the first half, picking up just one yard net rushing and four yards passing.

☆

THE INDIANS rolled up 136 yards rushing in the first two quarters, and nine yards passing. Tecumseh also collected 63 yards in penalties, a factor which prevented the Indians from scoring more than one TD in the first half.

Tecumseh's net rushing yardage for the tilt was 286 to GI's 59. The Indians gained 50 yards through the air and GI 42 yards, 30 coming on the last play of the game when the visitors reached Tecumseh's 17, their deepest penetration.

TOP INDIAN SCORER—Speedy halfback Jim Johnson shows here why he is Tecumseh's leading scorer. The lanky, 160-pound back has run hard all season, scoring 71 points in the Indians first eight games and has often been a target for quarterback Tim Sisson's passes. He has tallied 10 touchdowns, three on passes. His best scoring performance was against Dundee with three TDs. In the opener against Willow Run he scored twice, and then repeated with two tallies against Airport.

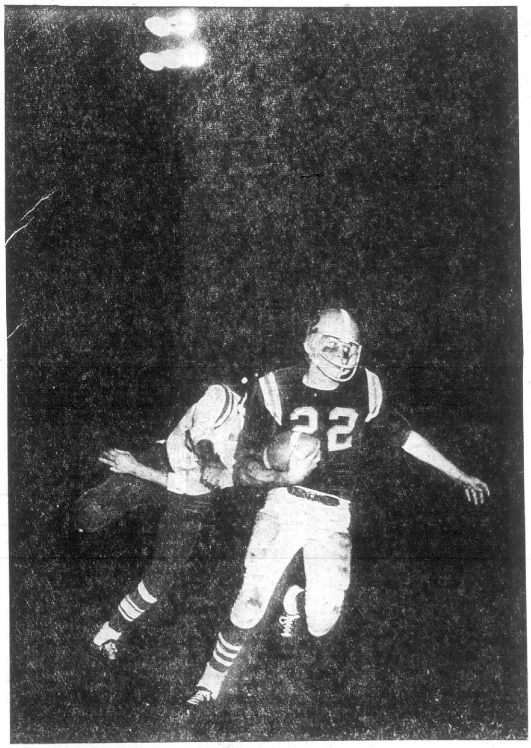
Will Maple Defense End Up Like This — with Empty Arms



When Ricky Duffin clicked the shutter Friday night on The Herald camera and caught this scene, it showed in a flash the whole season to date for Tecumseh opponents. One of Coach Tom Fagan's fleet of ball carriers, Dave Lemerand (22), pulls away from a Grosse Ile defender, who ended up with empty arms. That's pretty much the way it was for Airport, Blissfield, Ypsilanti Lincoln and the other Tecumseh foes this autumn, who fell before the local eleven. When it wasn't Lemerand breaking loose, there was Jim Johnson, Dan Greene, Tim Sisson, Craig Rosacrans, Doug Goldsberry, Bob Baker or John Oberlin.

Donna Miller, Clifford Haas Exchange Nuptial Promises

BRITTON—Donna Miller and Clifford Haas exchanged nuptial vows Saturday evening in Emmanuel Lutheran Church.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Miller of Britton Hwy. and Mr. and Mrs. Howard Haas of Centennial Rd.

The Rev. Thomas Drobena performed the rite. Mrs. Wesley Gilmore was organist and Linda Kanous sang the "Wedding Prayer" and "Lord's Prayer."

Palms and altar vases of yellow and white mums graced the church, and white candles and greens were in the windows.

Escorted by her father, the bride was wearing a gown of white peau de soie with lace inserts. The full skirt was embroidered with sequins.

☆

JANET Papp was maid of honor, donning a frock of gold brocaded taffeta with belled skirt and matching accessories. Her gold brocade crown held a nose veil, and she carried a cascade of white and gold chrysanthemums.

Annette Miller, cousin of the bride, was bridesmaid. Her ensemble was like the honor maid's. Jim Danforth was best man Ushers were Jim Miller, brother of the bride, and Howard Haas, brother of the groom.

At a reception in the church parlors, 110 guests were welcomed. The hosts were Mr. and Mrs. Louis Vershum. Assisting were Becky Austin, Mrs. Howard Haas, Jr., Mrs. Troy Warren, Pat Gibson, Carol Barrett, Barbara Gibson, Susan Austin, Barbara Gillespie and Sharron Smith.

☆

THE FOUR-TIER wedding cake, baked by Mrs. Wilton Gittus, an aunt of the bride, was encircled with gold and white mums and flanked with gold candles.

After a week's trip to Niagara Falls, the couple will make their home on Monroe St. in Toledo.

The bride is a 1962 graduate of Britton-Macon High School. Her husband is a 1961 Britton graduate and a 1962 graduate of Andrews Barber College of Toledo.

Emmanuel Building New Church

Ground was broken Sunday for the new Emmanuel Lutheran Church.

In the planning stages for nearly three years, the $150,000 structure will replace the Ridge Hwy. building which has served the congregation for 101 years.

Rev. Thomas Drobena, the pastor, conducted the ground-breaking ceremony, and the church's lay leaders joined in.

Emmanuel has some 165 communicants, and the present building has about 100 capacity.

The new structure, which will seat 256, also has provisions for Sunday school classes, kitchen, and church offices. It is being financed by pledges from the congregation.

Construction of the 40 by 90-foot building will take an estimated 10 months. It is of contemporary design, with a high-pitched roof supported by laminated arches. The walls will be of brick.

School Has Open House

BRITTON—An open house will be held Monday, Nov. 12, in the elementary rooms of Britton-Macon School.

In observance of National Education Week, the open house will start at 7:30 p.m.

Refreshments will be served in the cafeteria.

GIRL'S SELL CANDY — Britton-Macon Blue Birds and Camp Fire Girls have 500 boxes of Fanny Farmer candy which they hope to sell to their friends, neighbors and relatives. The annual candy sale will be from Nov. 10-Dec. 1. Among the sellers will be (front, left to right) Linda Lorenz and Lolie Luegge, Blue Birds, and Camp Fire Girls Rita Vershum, Michele Vershum and Barbara Mastie.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Smith and Mr. and Mrs. Martin Ivan Jr. attended the Michigan State University football game in Lansing Saturday.

Becky Austin and Sharon Smith returned with them to attend the Haas-Miller wedding Saturday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Bert Moore were supper guests last Tuesday evening of their daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth John of rural Milan.

When they arrived home their granddaughter, Barbara Gibson, had planned a surprise birthday party for Mr. Moore.

Refreshments of ice cream, cake, cider and coffee were served by Barbara.

THROUGH MY WINDOW

THE HONKERS

Vacation memories last a long, long time fortunately. When the suitcases are all unpacked and put away, the dirt and grime washed from the car and finally, those lst little yellow boxes of slides straggle in from Findlay, then it's time to sit back and re-live the trip. One of the high points of this year's two weeks away was the visit to the Seney Wildlife Refuge.

What an interesting spot, the refuge covers some 96,000 acres and has headquarters located just north of Germfask on Route M77 in the upper peninsula.

This area saw the worst of the early lumbering days—after the trees were cut, huge fires were set to clean up the debris. All hopes of natural reforestration went up in the smoke; now, however, the land is coming back.

It is an excellent example of how, under proper and skillful management, absolutely useless land can be reclaimed.

According to the literature, all sorts of birds and animals can be found at Seney.

More than 200 different kinds of birds have been seen and a list of animals would include deer, bobcats, otter, mink, foxes, coyotes, raccoons, wolves and muskrats.

Nature trails through the area are opened to the public and during the summer months, a ranger leads a car procession over the 10 miles of road which wind through the refuge, stopping to discuss things of interest.

Doesn't that sound wonderful? In fact, come warm weather wouldn't a long weekend which included this drive plus a trip to the Tahquamenon Falls be fun! Quit daydreaming, Marda.

☆

LET'S GET back to this year's trip—our visit to the Wildlife Refuge provided no animal thrills but oh, those Canadian Geese—they were tremendous!

The road which leads to the headquarters buildings winds between ponds and honestly, we could hardly believe our eyes.

We never knew there were so many geese.

While Dad checked into the office for any information they could supply, Mom and I stayed in the car and looked and looked and looked.

We also listened—I can't even begin to describe the noise. They honked, hissed, gabbled and made all sorts of geese noises.

Hearing a big flock talk as they fly high overhead is exciting, but imagine being able to eavesdrop at close range.

It was close, too. The car was parked right next to a pond and the birds were so near we didn't even think of using the binoculars.

According to the ranger, the activity at the rest of the ponds was the same as we were seeing and yes, some of the trails would be hard for a wheelchair. Dad and his camera wandered around while we stayed put and enjoyed the show.

☆

THERE WAS a constant coming and going, no matter where you looked there was action.

The geese that were feeding afforded the laughs, they tipped up, showing only their white tummies and tails.

Sandbars seemed to be the spots for gossiping—small groups would be standing together and talking like mad. There were also innumerable games of follow-the-leader; six, seven sometimes eight honkers would line up and effortlessly glide over the mirrorlike surface of the water.

By the way, they say Canadian Geese are quite manageable. A small domesticated flock will soon attract hordes of their wild brethren if suitable food and water areas are available. Should the proposed watershed development for south of town be carried through, wouldn't it be wonderful if we could have our own Canadian Geese!

So it is that one of our long remembered vacation thrills is the Seney Wildlife Refuge and the Honkers!

Virgil L. Chumney Jr. of 706 Ternes Rd. has completed a specialized home training program in Instrumentation and Control from DeVry Technical Institute, Chicago.

He is now employed by Dundee Products Co.

Quaker Mill Was Built in 1850's

The Quaker Pond may live again.

The pond, a favorite recreation spot for generations, was lost to Tecumseh about 25 years ago.

The mill there was no longer operating, and the electric power generated there no longer economical. The dam was allowed to deteriorate and a sudden spring thaw took the dam out before raging water and ice.

To prevent the Globe Dam from being torn out, its flood gates were raised. But no one opened the gates at the Quaker Dam.

No record of the washout can be found in bound volumes of The Tecumseh Herald. All that remains are memories, and these vary.

AS FAR as can be gathered now, the memories are this:

Aaron Comfort and Samuel Satterthwaite, Quaker neighbors near Philadelphia, came to Tecumseh, Samuel in 1832 and Aaron in 1840. In the 1850s, they built the Raisin Flouring Mill and a dam to provide water power for the grindstones.

The mill flourished for many years, but lost ground in the post-Civil War depression.

The Gratz family put the mill back on its feet early in the 1900's. Mr. Gratz also sold electrical power.

The mill finally was demolished, but some of its timbers were taken for use in the mill which now has been converted to the Tecumseh Community Center.

☆

THE LATE Henry Ford, who was responsible for the restoration of the old Hayden Mill on M-50 below the Globe Pond, also purchased the saw mill next to the Comfort Rd. grist mill, according to present recollections.

He bought great tracks of land along the river, and proposed to build a dam that would make a lake extending from Sutton Rd. north to M-50.

From current reports, a single landowner would not agree to Mr. Ford's terms, so the project was dropped.

In the years it served Tecumseh, the mill pond was a favorite spot for fishing, boating and ice skating. Old atlases show sailboats and rowboats on the placid waters.

☆

Mrs. George Finnegan remembered that her husband was taking shelter from a storm by the power house. He left moments before it was struck by lightning, and burned to the ground. This was in 1924.

His son, Elray, still lives in the family house at the top of Quaker Hill, east of the dam site.

Mrs. Charles Hyatt of 6711 Mill Hwy., who has lived near the mill site since childhood, recalls, "I used to fish at the pond by the hour, then take my dinner home for cleaning."

The lovely Quaker Pond boasted two islands, the largest called Hog Back Island.

The other island, in extremely shallow water and occasionally covered with water, was called Flat Island.

This one, according to Mrs. Perry Hayden, was at one time cultivated by using oxen which were swum across to it.

Benny and Claude Smith built a cabin on Hog Back.

Perry Satterthwaite remembers picnicking often on Hog Back when he was a 'little kid."

The Tecumseh Products Company owns the 40 acres of lowlands where the pond was located. The Company has offered the property to the city several times in the past but until now the city council was unable to find a good use for it.

If the plans of the river reclamation backers come to be, the pond will live again for the joy and recreation of area residents.

Mrs. Paul Hamilton, general chairman of the UNICEF drive, reports $45.40 collected. Mrs. Hamilton and her committee staged a party for the Ridgeway children after the drive. The collection will be used for needy children overseas.

OUR READERS WRITE

TO THE EDITORS:

At the Reciprocity Day program at the Macon Methodist Church Mrs. Bess Travis suggested that I contact you as a possible source of information concerning the Macon Telephone Co.

The company is soon to be divided with some patrons being connected with the nearest office.

I wish to know the year that the independent phone company was organized by farmers and residents of the Macon area, each owning stock, and I remember hearing that some men helped set the poles.

Mrs. Travis said that you printed an article in the Herald in the spring.

My father-in-law, Charles E. Collins, was one of the originators, as was Bradley Scudder, who had a general store for many years in Macon.

My married life of 11 years was spent near Macon until the death of my husband, Everett J. Collins, brother of Ellsworth Collins, when my two small sons and I moved to Saline, my former home and where my parents lived.

As the fourth generation of a pioneer family of Saline and for many years appointed City Historian, I have been engaged in writing the history of Saline.

Located on the Old Saulk Trail, which became the Chicago Turnpike, then US-112, now US-12, it has a great deal of history connected with this region.

The sections completed I am keeping up to date—now the change in the telephone system including the Macon Exchange. For many years there was a fall exchange between Macon and Saline, each servicing half of the poles and lines.

That was when I lived near Macon and my husband, a Mason, and I joined the Tecumseh OES. I transferred when returning to Saline in 1927 and now am a life member.

I shall be grateful for your assistance.

Your sincerely,
Mrs. Bessie C. Collins

(Editor's Note: Mrs. Travis purchased an issue of the Herald with the intention of sending it to Mrs. Collins, so she should now have the information requested.)

Objections Voiced to School System

By MARJORIE COMFORT

A great many Tecumseh School District residents say the schools are not being run right.

They said this in a questionnaire sent out by the Tecumseh Citizens Advisory Committee.

Whether these opinions bear any resemblance to what the schools actually are doing, is not an answer given by the questionnaires.

This article won't evaluate the answers either. It prints them because they have been made available to a number of groups in the school district, and because anything which concerns the people of Tecumseh concerns the Tecumseh Herald, and is therefore considered news.

But for the sake of the readers, your writer wants to give one example of opinions-versus-facts.

Of 409 questioned about how much the school board spends to operate the schools, the answers were:

Much more than necessary — 48
More than necessary — 136
About right — 91
Less than necessary — 37
Much less than necessary — 3
I have no opinion — 69

Several questions later, they were asked to estimate how much the schools were spending per pupil.

Under $200 — 45
$201 - $300 — 64
$301 to $400 — 60
$401 to $500 — 21
$501 to $600 — 11
$601 to $700 — 7
Over $700 — 5
I have no opinion — 149

Only 60 out of 400 knew — or guessed — the correct answer. Although most had no idea of the real costs, they did have a real idea of what they thought.

Another question indicated those answering questions thought Tecumseh's costs should be equal to or above those in neighboring school districts.

So the discontent with Tecumseh's costs might be changed considerably, if those questioned knew that the costs actually were about equal to those in Britton-Macon and Blissfield, were only three-fourths of the costs in Adrian, and about 10 per cent below state averages, according to charts prepared by persons outside the local school district last year.

Gray Ladies Gather

A tea for the Gray Ladies of Lenawee County was held Oct. 17 in Fellowship Center of the Presbyterian Church with about 20 attending from Adrian, Tecumseh, Brooklyn and Hudson.

Mrs. William Wiebeck is chairman of the group, which has members with up to 21 years of service.

The volunteers donate their service in the Thorne Memorial Hospital, Hudson; the Girl's Training School and Maple Lane Manor, Adrian; Herrick Memorial Hospital at Tecumseh and the Ypsilanti State Hospital.

Mrs. Wayne Patton decorated the tables with fall flowers. She was assisted by Mrs. Herman Jones.

Open-face sandwiches and cookies were served with tea poured by Mrs. Patton and Mrs. Charles O'Brien.

Mrs. Roscoe Hewlett had charge of the refreshments.

Mrs. James Tonneberger registered the guests.

An informal discussion was held concerning work requirements in the various communities.

The last census showed Michigan has 348,000 adults who cannot read.

Many are out of work because of this. One man wanted to become a delivery truck driver, but could not read labels and addresses. His wife and children did not know of this handicap.

Edna B. Wilcox of Tecumseh, a speech therapist for Jackson County schools, relates the case of a man who approached a teacher asking to be taught to read. He wanted to accept a promotion which would require reading work forms.

She noted that people are shy about revealing this lack, and have to be sought out and given friendly and individual teaching.

Study Group Has Convention

Mrs. Don Sunderland and Mrs. Carson House Jr. were delegates from Child Study Club 1 for the 42nd annual meeting and fall conference of the Michigan Child Study Assn.

The conference Oct. 28-29 in Battle Creek featured several speakers and workshops on home life, community life and the problems of young people.

Girl Scout Rally Held

About 250 attended the Brownie and Intermediate Girl Scout Rally Oct. 24 at the Products Union Hall.

Mrs. Fred Robison, district advisor, presented slides.

Terry Whiteman of Clinton, who attended the Senior Girl Scout Round-Up at Button Bay, Vt. spoke of her trip and displayed souvenirs.

Troop 117 had charge of the game amidst spooky decorations provided by Troop 79.

Mrs. Robison showed films on Girl Guides and Girl Scouting.

Terry Whiteman answered questions about the Round Up.

Troop 123 served cookies and hot chocolate.

First President Visits Exchange

Ellsworth Collins, first president of the Tecumseh Exchange Club, was a visitor to the group's Oct. 29 meeting.

Forest Abner, program chairman, presented a film of Comm. Alan Shepperd in his space ship.

WHY DOES THIS BREEZEWAY REAR WINDOW help sell so many Mercury Montereys? This is styling that works! The recessed rear window stays clearer in rain or snow. It opens for controlled Flo-Thru ventilation. More wind, traffic noise and weather are shut out because the side windows can stay closed. The rear-window angle cuts glare, aids rear visibility. The extended Breezeway roof adds rear-seat headroom, shades passengers from the sun. See how practical elegance can be!

Women Hear of Youth Center

The Business and Professional Women's Club met at the Bostonian Oct. 24. Devotions before the meal were given by Mrs. Homer Colson.

The tables were centered with arrangements of flowers from the garden of Mrs. Jennie Heilman arranged by Mrs. Herbert Murphy.

Mrs. Wiley McCann and Mary Pat McCann were welcomed as new members.

Mrs. Naomi Sallows reported on the October school board meeting which she and Mabel Lockwood attended. Mrs. Duane Tingley will attend in November.

Mrs. Ben Hammack reported on the City Council meeting which she and Mrs. Ruth Stuart attended. November representatives will be Mrs. Harvey Carpenter and Mrs. Homer Colson.

At the November meeting members are asked to bring articles of staple foods which will be given to the Service Club for use in Christmas baskets.

It was voted to sponsor a girl for Girl's State in June.

Mrs. Hugh Hanna spoke of her work in the Juvenile Division of Probate Court. She also answered numerous questions and announced an open house at the new Lenawee County Youth Center near Adrian, Nov. 25.

Forty-six members attended the meeting.

SOPHISTICATED — Richard Boyd had an amusing interlude in "The Man Who Came to Dinner." He played Beverly Carlton, a sophisticated actor who visits the small Ohio town.

An Obstacle Course, Then Party Fun

Eighteen members of the Power Class of the Tecumseh Friends Church made their way through wet nylon hose, cooked spaghetti, cobwebs and dummies to enjoy their Halloween party.

The basement of the church was embellished Oct. 27, in keeping with the season of ghosts and goblins.

Group games were enjoyed, along with a treasure hunt. The hunt took the class members over the major portion of Tecumseh in pursuit of clues and the buried "treasure" was found to be in the garden of the parsonage lot.

The Rev. Paul Brantingham led the devotional portion of the evening, relating the 16th chapter of Revelation to current world events.

Refreshments of donuts, popcorn, cider, fudge and apples were served by Rev. and Mrs. Brantingham, Ardis Drewyor and Marjorie Martin, hosts for the evening.

Auto, Truck Tabs on Sale

The 1963 license plates went on sale in 250 Secretary of State Branch offices throughout Michigan Thursday, Nov. 1.

Full year and half-year plates may be obtained at the local office at 805 W. Chicago Blvd.

To obtain full or half-year 1963 commercial or trailer plates, all commercial vehicles, including pick-ups, must be reweighed, except for trailers weighing 450 pounds or less, mobile homes and municipally franchised buses.

Application forms are available now. The reverse side of the application contains space for a weighmaster's certificate.

OBITUARIES

● CATHY E. HURST

Services were held Saturday at the Corkery Funeral Home for Cathy Hurst, 17-month-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Hurst of 217 N. Evans St.

The little girl died Thursday evening about five hours after she drank four ounces of fuel oil from a can in her home.

The child received medical care within minutes of the time when she drank the fuel oil.

She was rushed to the hospital by her mother about 2:30 p.m.

She was born June 19, 1961 at Tecumseh. She is survived by her parents; two brothers, Anthony W. and Bruce A.; a sister, Deborah Kay, and her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Francis Hurst of Adrian and Fred Moorehead of Battle Creek.

The Rev. Frank Hawthorne officiated and burial was in Brookside cemetery.

● MRS. ERVIE RAYMOND

Services were held Monday at the Corkery Funeral Home for Mrs. Ervie Raymond, 68, of 6953 Green Highway who died at 4:45 a.m. Friday at the Herrick Memorial Hospital.

Marie Raymond was born Oct. 5, 1894 in Hillsdale, the daughter of Jeptha and Elizabeth Gray Travis.

Her husband preceded her in death in 1959.

She is survived by a daughter, Mrs. Donald Morley, of 711 Ternes Rd.; a son, John Rodgers of New Orleans, La.; five grandchildren and four great-grandchildren.

A brother, Clarence Travis of Hillsdale, also survives.

Mrs. Raymond was a member of the Eagles Auxiliary, the Pythian Sisters, The Royal Neighbors and the Rebekahs.

Burial was in the North Lawn Cemetery at North Adams.

Hustlers Take Kiwanis Prize

"North Franklin Hustlers" will be engraved for the third time on the plaque awarded annually by Kiwanis to the top 4-H Club in Lenawee County.

The award, matching those made in 1957 and 1959, was given to the club in the Kiwanis annual Achievement Program at Siena Heights.

Each club member received a gift to commemorate the award. The annual achievement award went to Cheryl Aebersold.

Three club members attended the fall crop show Oct. 20 at the county fairgrounds. Entering the ear corn competition, James Cregar took the sweepstakes award and Danny and John Dewey took third and fifth places.

Other members of the Hustlers, led by Mrs. Claude Cregar and Mrs. Thomas Adams, include Carol and Karen Davenport, Patricia Aebersold, Mary Ann and James Woodward and Michael and Roger Detmler.

Bee Keeper Explains Operation

Leland Hubbard, owner of Hubbard Apiaries in Springville, explained the business of bee keeping, hive making and honey production at a recent Tecumseh Rotary meeting.

The nearby businessman operates the largest honey bottling plant in the world, having capabilities of bottling 80,000 pounds of honey a day.

Rotarians also discussed a four-ball bowling contest for early December.

Visitors at the meeting were Robert Hayden of Adrian, Arthur J. Ingold of Blissfield, and George Cagney of Saline.

St. Elizabeth JOTTINGS

The fifth grade had a multiplication contest and Sister told them the ones remaining would receive rabbit stickers. I guess they tried very hard, because I was told there were quite a few remaining and receiving prizes.

Carol Strand

√

The second graders are learning how to knit and plan to surprise many with their creative ability.

Captains for the week of Oct. 8 were Paula Holmes and Danny Knisely. Teresa Baugh and James Ohlman were captains for the week of Oct. 15.

√

The eighth grade was honored with a visit from former students. They were Michael Wykes, Jim Greene, Cathy Wallace and Mary Kruger. They answered questions about Tecumseh High School and its football team. The thing that they all dislike about high school is having to get up at 6:30 in the morning.

Michael Kossey

√

There are three happy faces seen among the fourth grade students. The class wrote President Kennedy as a class project. Three have received replies, Mark Roberts, Ruth Velandra and Irene Mudgett. They have pictures of the President and Mrs. Kennedy with her two children. More students are expected to receive the brown envelope with the return address marked "The White House."

Mary Mudgett

√

Last Friday the eighth grade held a going-away party for Karen McKenna. The party was held in the gymnasium, and included dancing, games and refreshments. We are all sorry to see Karen leave.

Joseph Ohlman

√

History booklets have been completed by the eighth grade under the direction of Sister Catherine Laurine, OP. They contain maps of the studied areas, reports and vocabulary. Booklets pertainings to sacred vessels and vestments used in the Mass have also been completed.

Karen McKenna

√

"How America Was Torn Apart by a Civil War" is the topic of the eighth grade current history unit. Miss Gloria, a student teacher, has explained why the North and South engaged in this conflict. They are also learning the "Gettysburg Address."

Pam Weasle

The Eighth grade class wrote a letter to Roger Young, who is now at Herrick Hospital. The letter told of the events of the past week and the work we have done in school.

Sharon McVay

√

The seventh graders were invited to a going-away party for Gertrude Sancho at the Delisle home. They played games and prizes were awarded to the winners.

Carol Strand

√

The sixth grade class of St. Elizabeth School is making coal gardens for a project in science. They have divided up into two teams, the girls and the boys each having their own team. The coal gardens are made of a mixture of salt, vinegar, rocks and coal. The girls have colored theirs blue and the boys left theirs plain. The class is making a contest out of it to see which one grows the fastest.

Jo Ann Biscupski

Cold and snowy was the setting for the fifth game for St. Elizabeth Cubs with Britton Oct. 24.

Although near freezing, the Cubs carried out a 33-6 victory over the Tories. Our star player, Eric Wilkens, made the team's touchdowns.

The cheerleaders, stiff and cold, did their best to keep the cheers going to the last of the game.

The Cubs' last game of the season with Sand Creek is this week.

Barbara Brown

√

Last Friday a going-away party was held in the school auditorium for Karen McKenna. Already the eighth graders have received a letter from her, telling that she misses us. Each of us sent Karen a farewell card.

Marcia Boudrie

√

The eighth grade is studying about the Civil War and is planning to have a debate on Nov. 5 with the North against the South. Pamela Wessel is the captain for the South and Mary Mudgett for the North.

We also are memorizing Lincoln's Gettysburg Address and shall recite it in class.

Melissa Sage

√

Eighth graders wrote essays which were read to the class Thursday morning.

John Beck related some interesting facts about the Beck Hatchery in Manchester. Mary Mudgett stressed the advantages of belonging to a happy, large family.

Others wrote about their own personal experiences or hobbies.

Seventh graders will enjoy hearing these reports next week, when the eighth graders have an assembly. They will use the new microphone given to the school by Father Collins.

Sharie Osburn

√

The eighth grade class the last few weeks, has been giving oral reports and assigned information on the various mammals, reptiles, amphibians and birds of the world, under the guidance of their science teacher, Mr. LaRu.

The topics varied from chickadees to sloths, elephants, to a number of apes in deepest Africa.

The class learned much about the habits, origin, relatives, food eaten and other valuable information through the reports.

CHILDREN GET PORTRAITS — Three beaming members of the fourth grade of St. Elizabeth Catholic School are displaying pictures of the President's family, sent in answer to letters to the White House by class members. Copies of this photo of Mrs. Kennedy, young John and Caroline, and another of the President alone, were sent to Mark Roberts, Ruth Velandra and Irene Mudgett.

Women's Barbershop Chorus Gets Charter, Seeks More Members

The Irish Hills Women's Barbershop Chorus of some 25 to 30 members has been awarded a coveted Sweet Adeline charter.

Henceforth the group will be called the Irish Hills Chapter of Sweet Adelines, Inc.

November has been designated as membership month.

Rehearsals are held every Thursday evening at 8:30.

The group is available to present programs.

Puffer Trains

Raymond L. Puffer of 513 E. Logan St. is among 26 Michigan men to report last week for 16 week's intensive training as naval officer candidates.

After training at Officer Candidate School, Newport, R. I. they will be commissioned as Navy ensigns.

4-H Clovers Sponsoring Dance Band

Jeanette Starkey was elected president of the Lucky Clover 4-H Club at the recent meeting held in the Community Center.

Others elected were:

Vice-president—Gary Radar
Secretary—Susan Kirkland
Treasurer—Sandy Metzger
Reporter—Lynn Gomez

As a community project, the club will sponsor a band called The Five Little Indians, scheduling bookings and placing advertising.

Mrs. Russell Starkey, leader of the club, will be glad to take any calls concerning the band activities. Her number is HA 3-3893.

Members of the band are Larry Harper, Dick Johnson, Tom Dickinson, Gary Hall and Don Becker.

A dance has been planned for Nov. 10 at the Tecumseh Community Club, featuring a twist contest with prizes for the winners. There will be no charge for refreshments.

Greg Smith, Dean Kirkland and Donna Murhpy will show their sheep at the Detroit Livestock Show in December.

Raisin Canes Come Costumed

Raisin Cane 4-H Club had a Halloween party Oct. 29 in the Holloway Fire Hall.

All members came costumed. Prizes were won by:

Mike Cote—ugliest
John Irelan—most glamorous
Debbie Cote—prettiest
Judy Barnell—most original
Billy Osbourn—spookiest

Games were provided by the leaders, and cider and doughnuts served.

Fair money was distributed by the leader, Mrs. William Osbourn.

Karen and Tom Brosamer were guests.

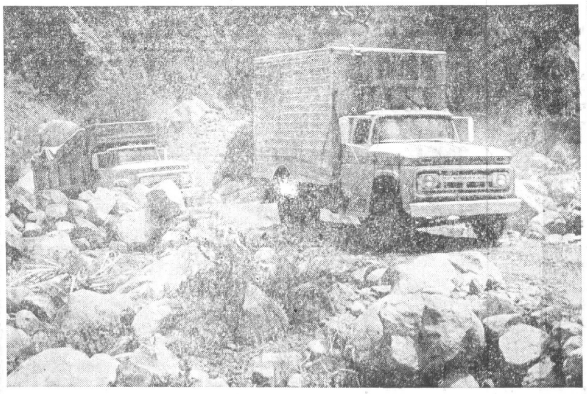
'63 Chevrolet Trucks

THEY'VE ALWAYS BEEN TOUGH BUT NEVER STRONGER THAN NOW!



You can be sure that new engines, frames, suspensions that licked Mexico's Baja Run will work for you long, faithfully and at traditionally low Chevrolet cost.*

A Chevrolet truck has always been a sound investment because of its quality construction. This is what makes it give you an honest day's work every day at very low cost and—when you are finished with it—return more resale money to your happy pocket.

This year stronger frames, engines that can pull more, and practically tailor-made suspension systems make Chevrolet trucks a better buy than ever. If you're in the market now, we'd welcome the chance to tell you about, and let you drive, the new trucks. Just give us a call.

Soil Erosion Story Told in New Booklet

This is more than half of the agricultural land in the United States. Erosion is a problem requiring constant attention on 234 million acres of cropland.

These facts, along with many more, are found in a new publication just issued by the U.S. Soil Conservation Service. It is called 'Soil Erosion, the work of Uncontrolled Water." A copy can be obtained from the local SCS office, 103 Federal Building, Adrian. Woodrow H. Barclay work unit conservationist, who is assigned by the SCS to assist the Lenawee Soil Conservation District, said that the new bulletin contains 16 pages and 25 pictures describing and illustrating the causes and types of erosion caused by water. It is the latest publication by the SCS that deals with this basic problem of American farmers and ranchers.

A few months ago Farmers' Bulletin 2171, "How To Control a Gully" was issued. This is also available from your local SCS office.

WHO, WHERE, WHY—Just for kicks, readers may enjoy trying t o identify this picture of some years ago. Just when did they scamper across the gridiron? Do you recognize the old fence? A cl ose look will reveal that some of these young men are still residents of Tecumseh.

YOU SAVE WITH STABLE OIL PRICES

The economy record of oil is amazing. Right today, when other automatic fuels and everything else costs more, fuel oil prices are lower than in 1956! And they're likely to stay down for three good reasons: world supplies and reserves keep growing; refiners and your local fuel oil dealers compete for business; and as more gasoline is used more fuel oil is produced. Everything works to keep saving you money when you choose modern oil heat.

Million Acres Will Be Taken from Farm Use by 1975

A million acres of land will be needed for new developments in Michigan by 1975. This includes everything from home sites to future highways.

An estimated 680,000 acres will move out of cropland on farms to make way for other uses, according to a recent study of the Michigan Conservation Needs Committee.

The committee, working with a host of state agencies and the Agricultural Experiment Station at Michigan State University, has made an exhaustive study of land use by 1975.

Michigan's total area is about 36½ million acres. Of this amount nearly two million acres are in urban areas, roads and highways. Over 167,000 acres are covered by water resources.

Less than a third of the state's total area is in farm cropland—and nearly half is in forest and woodland. Federal land, including forests, parks and public areas comprise nearly three million acres.

The study shows that most of the change will come from farmland into other uses. Reductions are also due in the next dozen years of forests, pastures and waste land. Increases are predicted for water areas, federal lands and the largest jump—in urban and industrial development.

Where will the land shifts occur? Primarily south of the Bay City-Muskegon line.

In the rapidly expanding population centers an estimated 70 per cent of the million acre shift will take place in southern Michigan.

Long and Short

BY TOM RIORDAN

There's discussion making the rounds which may have some value.

Both Tecumseh and Clinton High Schools are getting to the point of being full or over-crowded.

The future looks bad.

Folks have come up with the idea of merging the two districts, then constructing one large high school for both.

A few people think there is merit in the proposal.

If such a consolidation were broached, one of the first questions to be asked: "Where would the high school be located?"

The only fair answer in my opinion: "Along the Tecumseh-Clinton Rd., along about half way between the two communities."

Present high schools would be junior highs and the present elementary systems would be maintained as at present.

Joining Clinton and Tecumseh would raise many problems, but it would probably solve many more which face the two districts now.

Whenever you take two high schools and make one, you immediately have the opportunity of broadening the academic offerings.

There can be better science facilities, possibly broader industrial arts programs, more languages.

After reading about the new Holland High School, which is a miniature college campus, with radical new approaches to high school education, it would seem a Clinton-Tecumseh merger might bring to the fore thinking along the lines of the Holland plan.

But like I say, this is pure speculation.

Do you have any thoughts on it?

☆

So help me, this is a true story.

Howard Hunt, a senior at Tecumseh High School, got a pheasant last week. Unusual?

Howard did it the hard way, catching his bird with his bare hands.

He was hunting near the Hunt family farm on Murphy Hwy. in thick underbrush.

A ring neck suddenly jumped up almost at his feet, had a bad time getting airborne.

Howard dropped his gun, made a swipe at the bird and snatched him.

It turned out that the pheasant earlier had been nicked by buckshot from someone else and was rather docile.

Howard keep the bird until it snapped back to full health Sunday, releasing it that afternoon.

Herald readers may recall that two years ago another member of the same family, Shirley, found a battered hen pheasant, nursed it for about 10 days, then released the bird.

Shirley claims that the one her brother caught must be an offspring of her "Missy Phea."

Not many folks saw him, but the little guy was there.

Afterwards, he was unusually serious and demur.

"Couldn't have been a better way to cap this season. That talk by 'Bingo' was a honey," oozed Bootin' Pussy.

"Makes me take a long look at my lack of college training. Well, maybe, you never can tell," he mused as he slipped into the brisk November evening.

Salesman Jim Howard Tops Field

James C. Howard, Jr. of Tecumseh was guest of honor at a dinner in Detroit Nov. 8 given by Donald Mertz, a regional superintendent of agencies for Mutual of New York.

Mr. Howard, a field underwriter, was honored for an outstanding sales record during October.

Mr. Howard led all other MONY salesmen in the south central Michigan counties in total life insurance sales.

600 Books Are Given to Library

The "Fill-the-Shelves" campaign to acquire used books for the library, conducted by the Tecumseh Kiwanis Club, was declared a qualified success by President Fred Nash.

Over 600 books were donated by area residents. Donations ranged from as few as two books, to over 100.

The 600 books came from some 15 to 17 households.

Projecting these figures on a conservative basis, indicates that there are still thousands of books laying dormant on home library shelves, in attics or basements.

Kiwanians ask each area resident who has not already done so, to check their homes for unused books.

Free pick-up service is still available by phoning HA 3-7145. Books may be turned in at the library, Larry's Grill or Lamb's Rexall.

Safety Effort Starts

All Tecumseh area boys, girls and parents are invited to attend the free safety program Saturday, Nov. 17 at 10 a.m. in the Strand Theater.

This will launch a city-wide safety campaign by the Tecumseh Kiwanis Club.

Safety Campaign Chairman Gene Tuckey announces that the Automobile Club of Michigan is providing an interesting film on bicycle safety.

Chief of Police Murrel Clark will speak on the new bicycle licensing procedures, which will be enforced beginning in 1963.

John Henderson, city recreation director, will stress the prevention of accidents in winter sports, such as ice-skating, sledding and skiing. Cartoons will also be shown.

Odd - Shaped Envelopes on Way Out

If you have some odd-shaped envelopes around, better start using them up now.

Beginning Jan. 1, the post office is going to put its mail standardization program into effect.

From that date, the post office will refuse to mail:

► Pieces less than three inches in width or 4½ inches in length.

These new standards are being adopted so that progress can be made in the development of economical mail handling machinery.

Mail processed by machines must be consecutively passed through automatic culling, facing-cancelling and sorting devices at machine speeds.

Each piece is repeatedly stacked, destacked, transported by roll and belt conveyors, free-fallen, and gated.

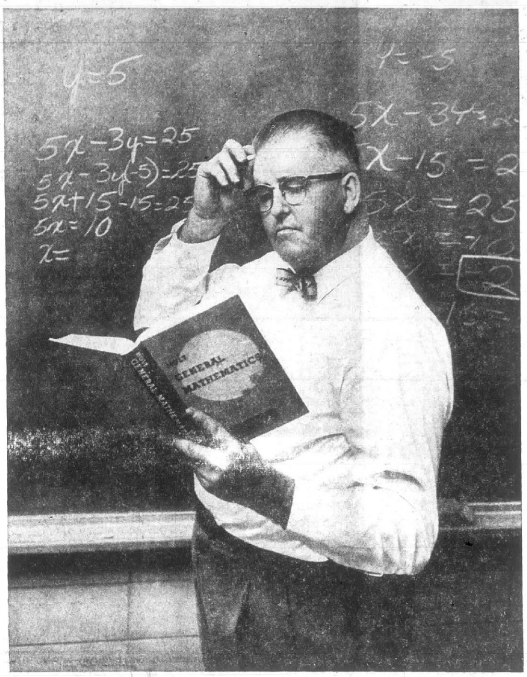
Envelopes, double post cards, and self mailers with loose flaps and unsealed edges interweave with other mail and cause frequent jams in the equipment resulting in damaged mail and time-consuming delays.

To Gather

Cub Pack 73 will hold a meeting Nov. 20 in the Presbyterian Church at 7:30 p.m.

This marks the first gathering in the new location. The Presbyterian Church is the sponsor of Pack 73.

Installation of 25 new Cubs will highlight the evening.



BACK TO SCHOOL—Lloyd Stites, 33 years older and somewhat heavier than when he last went to school, gets quizzical as he wonders how today's high schoolers manage their atomic-age courses. Parents will be able to get some inkling of their children's progress and problems as they attend open houses this week, Wednesday at the junior high and Thursday at T H S.

Board Ponders Pinch at THS

By JIM LINCOLN

Tecumseh school board solved one problem Monday night — the bus system, but still must grapple with another—a crowded high school.

Dick Purkey, of Lee Purkey & Sons Garage, was given a vote of confidence by the board after he explained his operations and supervisory problems of the schools' growing bus system.

The board and garageman agreed on a couple of economical moves and then the board approved practically the same bus plan now in effect.

Other changes, such as giving business manager Norval Bovee an opportunity to run part of the transportation affairs, may be made in the future.

☆

SUPT. JAMES McDowell reported on the crowded high school condition and presented plans and suggestions for the board to investigate.

He said that administrative officials believe they can operate the high school under the present projected enrollment figures for another year without many changes.

However, he felt that the board should begin investigating the problem of a much larger high school enrollment, the possibility of two shifts, and either an addition to the high school, a new high school or a comprehensive high school.

Although not recommending to the board any of the plans, the superintendent said a comprehensive high school involving Clinton and Tecumseh, possibly Britton, would be a large Class A school and have numerous advantage.

He said that reports reaching him indicate that Britton has made overtures to Dundee and Deerfield, which, if either were successful, would eliminate Britton from joining Clinton and Tecumseh.

Supt. McDowell suggested to the board that the Citizens Committee be made aware of the crowded condition and be asked to study the situation.

☆

CIVIL DEFENSE director John Saling discussed plans of handling school children in case of an attack.

Plan adopted would be to hold students for 10 minutes while traffic from industries clears the area, and then take pupils home in the Tipton, Ridgeway and Macon areas.

Then busses would take as many kindergarten, first and second graders home as possible.

This method of getting pupils home would be used if the schools had a warning of 20 minutes or more.

A short alert plan has the children staying at the schools and use of a buddy system.

Educational information is to be distributed to both parents and students. Plans approved are similar to others now being employed by school districts.

☆

IN OTHER action, the board:

Authorized attorney James Beardsley to attempt collection of tax monies mistakenly sent to the Clinton schools.

Approved lunch report, showing the schools making a slight profit after being in the red in September.

Discussed advantages and disadvantages of becoming a third class district.

Approved business manager's report showing the schools have complied with all major maintenance and equipment improvements at the Sutton and West Branch schools.

Decided to seek assistance from the service clubs for the purchase of 15 band uniforms, six majorette uniforms, and a director's uniform. A bandsman uniform costs $80.30 and a majorette uniform, $50.

Keep Desire for Success, Gridders Told

By TOM RIORDAN

"Keep that pilot light of desire burning in your heart," James "Bingo" Brown told Tecumseh High School football players at the school's annual grid banquet Tuesday evening.

"Keep the desire to win, the desire to succeed so that you can make your contribution to mankind," the retired dean of men at Eastern Michigan University added.

"Life is not a bed of roses," he told the gridders. "You're going to get knocked down from time to time. You've got to get up. When you're down and can't get up—get up anyway," he added.

Mr. Brown lauded the Indian gridders for their successes this year, but reminded them that victory is a team effort—in football and the game of life.

The 72-year-old guest told his audience that the football field is the great laboratory of practical experience in which youths are taught lessons they never learn in the classroom.

A well-rounded athletic program is vital to modern education, said Mr. Brown, who now serves as a consultant for the Mott Foundation of Flint.

"If you want something in life, you have to give something first," he explained.

☆

THE GUEST stressed the need for academic efforts on the part of the youngsters, he urged them to "do assignments every day, be ready every morning for those class recitations."

Encouraging all young people to obtain college degrees, Mr. Brown told of his own youth, when he arrived on the Colgate University campus with $10 and a determination to get an education.

Desire and determination to complete college will make the dream a reality, he pointed out.

"Be proud of the fact you live in America—the great land of opportunity," he concluded.

Mr. Brown, who served at Eastern for 39 years, prior to that as backfield coach at the University of Detroit, is a close friend of Coach Tom Fagan's.

They came to know one another during Mr. Fagan's years on the Eastern campus as an outstanding athlete.

COACH FAGAN had high praise for his 1962 team, which won eight, lost one and finished at the No. 9 ranked team in Michigan's Class B circles.

"This is the best football season I've ever had, no problems, no dicipline troubles," the coach told the audience of 237.

To his charges he said, "I hope you carry this desire (to excell and win) into life."

Coach Fagan and his assistant C. Ray "Fig" Newton introduced each squad member, trainer and manager.

Backs: Jim Johnson, Dave Blanden, Craig Rosacrans, Tim Sisson, Dan Greene.

Linemen: Dave Blanden, Paul Decker, Jack Dick, Dennis Martinus, Don Becker, Mike Osburn, Phil Radant, Steve Fretwell, Norm Tucker, Mark Vaillencourt, Jerry Forsyth and Mike Bartenslager.

Coach Newton congratulated the townspeople, the student body and faculty for their part in making the season a success. He thanked the team "for a year I will cherish and remember."

With the introductions of Coaches Fagan and Newton, the players gave their mentors standing rounds of applause.

☆

JUNIOR VARSITY Coach Charles Gross introduced his squad, which won five and lost three.

He stated that 69 boys came out for JV football and 60 finished the year.

James Hoffman did an excellent job as toastmaster, spinning tales about the principals which had the audience in stitches.

Messers Fagan and Newton, in introducing each player, did a near-vaudeville act, which rivaled Mr. Hoffman's efforts.

Benediction was offered by the Rev. Donald Porteous and the beef dinner was prepared by the schools kitchen staff and served by members of the homecoming classes.

Moms, Dads Will Go Back to Class

This week is American Education Week.

All over the United States, schools and communities are setting up programs for the annual "get together" in celebration of the democratic educational system.

At Tecumseh High School, the yearly "open house" will take place Thursday night starting at 7:30 p.m. Program preparations are in the final stages for the favorite mock class day for parents.

The students are encouraging their parents and interested friends in the community to attend these sessions.

Members of the Future Teachers club will be on hand to pass out the schedule cards to parents so they may proceed at 7:30 sharp to the first class period.

Each period will last seven minutes. During this time the class room teacher will explain the course content so that Mom and Dad will have a better idea as to what the students are supposed to be learning.

After the class day is complete, a planned program of musical entertainment will be presented in the gym. The High School band and Chorus will put on a show and a welcome address will be given by Neville Hart.

Before leaving, the parents and guests are invited to refreshments in the cafeteria where they will have the opportunity to view various displays made by all the clubs at Tecumseh High school.

Each club will present materials, which in some way depict the work done and the successes accomplished by their members.

Rifle and Pistol Class Will Open

Fourteen lucky boys and girls — ages 12 through 16 — will be chosen for a class in rifle and pistol shooting at the Community Center.

They'll be named from among youngsters who apply within the next two weeks, states John Henderson, city recreation director.

Each must be sponsored by an organization in the city, such as a club or church.

The number is limited to 14, explains Mr. Henderson, because there is at present only one man in town qualified by the National Rifle Association as an instructor.

He's Jack Curtiss, 315 W. Shawnee St., who has completed the exacting NRA course and passed the rigid instructor's test.

Three others are expected to become qualified by 1963 and thus permit additional classes to start.

The instruction period will last six weeks and will cost $4. The class will meet Monday evenings from 6:30 to 8:30.

Each applicant must sign a pledge, which states, "I agree to obey and adhere to all rules and regulations covering rifle and pistol instruction set forth by the National Rifle Association."

The application will also be signed by the parent or guardian and the name of the organization sponsoring the young man or woman.

Ralph Sturtevant Completes Course in Used Vehicles

Ralph Sturtevant, salesman at Tecumseh Motors, has been graduated from a used vehicle merchandising Course held at the Ford Marketing Institute in Detroit.

The course is one of a number offered at the Institute to dealers, their personnel and Ford Motor Co. employees by professional, full-time instructors.

Subjects range from management and merchandising courses for dealers and their department managers to selling courses and workshops for salesmen.

Common Market Is Discussed for Rotarians

Professor Kenneth Hoffman of the Adrian College was the speaker at the Rotary meeting Tuesday evening.

His subject was "The European Common Market."

Fines were discontinued for the evening by president Hugh Walter to allow more time for the speaker.

Mrs. Condit Is Honored on Her 84th Birthday

Mrs. Aura Condit was guest of honor at a family party celebrating her 84th birthday anniversary Sunday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer House.

Guests included Mr. and Mrs. Orman Haas of Ann Arbor, Marilyn Haas of Dearborn, Janice Haas of Ypsilanti, Mr. and Mrs. Eldon Condit and children of Ann Arbor, Mr. and Mrs. James Crane and children of Adrian, Mr. and Mrs. Ancil Renner and children of Onsted, Mr. and Mrs. William Condit and Mr. and Mrs. James Danforth of Britton. Also Mr. and Mrs. Noel Sweet of Clinton.

A Ridgeway subscriber, Clarence Kruger came in Friday to take out another subscription, the third in the family for his son-in-law, Larry Pennington, in the Army.

While paying the usual $1 fee for servicemen, he said, "I've been taking advantage of the Herald for some time and I'm going to stop right now."

Mr. Kruger, with much praise in his favorite weekly, told how much his son, Capt. Robert Kruger, in the Panama Canal Zone, has been enjoying each issue. He then proceeded to try to pay the full $5 price for an overseas subscription.

Of course we didn't take his money, but it certainly is nice to be appreciated.

Bob promises some big doings there about Thanksgiving time.

We can hardly wait.

Mable Lockwood, editor of the Tecumseh Products "TP Broadcast," expects to be back at her post next week, after a 10-day "vacation" in Herrick Memorial Hospital.

Although Miss Lockwood was away from her desk, she made complete arrangements for the November issue and it rolled off the press right on schedule.

That takes planning.

She's got the chore for the February musical and is already busy chatting with people who are possible cast members, getting them primed for tryouts.

Incidentally, last week's story had tryouts for later this month. That's wrong. Won't be until Dec. 14, 15 and 16.

So stay in good voice until then, if you plan to go for a part.

Dr. Bob Bowers is looking for a golfing partner for a weekly tour of the links, winter and all. His regular year-round playmate, Harvey Wilson, is recovering from surgery and expects to be out of action for a while.

Teamsters Local 299 this week sent a check for $100 to the Save St. Peter's fund. The check came in answer to a letter of some time ago to James R. Hoffa, president of the local. Headquartered in Detroit, Local 299 has members from southeastern Michigan as well.

The St. Peter's congregation still is holding services in the historic church.

Although the original schedule called for the old building to be torn down by now, the contractor rescheduled work, and the parish building is not yet ready to house services until the new church is ready late next month.

PTA To Hear of Russia

Janet Graham will be the speaker and show pictures for the PTA at Patterson School Thursday evening at 8 p.m.

Miss Graham toured Russia this past summer with the Russian language class of the University of Michigan.

She was able to converse with the Russian young people at a reception held for the American youth.

Her pictures and experiences will be of interest to those attending.

"JUST BEAUTIFUL" — This seemed to be the most general comment made by some 600 who attended the open house Sunday at the new medical-dental center, adjacent to the hospital. Favorable comments concerning the lovely interior colors of turquoise, tangerine, lavender and the murals in Dr. Cook's offices were the order of the day. People were generous with praise for the functional new building housing the offices of Dr. Richard Coak, Dr. C. L. Cook, Dr. Harold Ocamb and Dr. William Adams, Tecumseh's newest dentist.

OBITUARIES

● MRS. CLIFFORD GRAHAM

Mrs. Floyd Woodcox of 503 S. Pearl St. was called to Monroe Monday morning due to the death of her sister, Mrs. Clifford Graham.

Mrs. Graham had been ill since the death of her husband a year ago in October.

Her body was found below a bridge in Monroe before 7 a.m. Monday. It was not determined whether the death was accidental or not.

Mrs. Graham was born in Tecumseh, June 21, 1901, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John C. Truesdale, Sr.

When about eight years old, she was adopted by Mr. and Mrs. William LaBounty.

She left Tecumseh at the time of her marriage to live in Monroe, where most of her married life was spent.

She had recently joined the Rebekah Lodge and the Royal Neighbors.

She is survived by two brothers, Howard Truesdale and Ralph Truesdale Nickel, a foster brother, Theodore LaBounty, all of Tecumseh; and two sisters, Ruth Paselk of Toledo, O., and Mrs. Woodcox.

Services will be held Thursday at 2:30 p.m. at the Little Funeral Home in Monroe.

Preparation for College Is Vital

The Tecumseh High School guidance staff, Mrs. Barbara Speerstra, John Pobuda and James Hoffman participate in the 34th annual Principal-Freshman-Counselor Conference in Ann Arbor on Nov. 7 and 8.

This year's theme was "The Freshman Year at Michigan."

In the general session Wednesday evening, principals and counselors heard a discussion on the freshman honors program at the University of Michigan.

This is a comprehensive plan in the various schools on campus designed especially for the highly-talented and gifted student.

Thursday morning the counselors met with their former students who are now freshman at the University. This is the highlight of the entire conference.

Here the counselor can evaluate the adjustment and progress of the former student and bring back information which will be helpful to the present students.

One major impression gained from this conference, and this is true for most colleges, was the need for thorough preparation by the high school student.

Since colleges and universities are becoming crowded, they are much more selective in their admissions policies.

Emphasis is on a good English background with an almost equal emphasis on the math and science areas.

It is quite imperative that the parents of "college-bound" students impress it upon their youngsters that they should make the most of their high school educational opportunities, the THS counselors agree.

Norbert Marsh Takes Training

FORT POLK, LA. (AHTNC—Army Pvt. Norbert H. Marsh, son of John R. Marsh, 5561 Green Highway is undergoing eight weeks of advanced individual infantry training at Fort Polk, La. The training is scheduled to end Dec. 1.

Marsh entered the Army last August and completed basic combat training at Fort Knox, Ky.

The 25-year-old soldier is a 1956 graduate of Tecumseh High School. He attended Michigan State University.

Trip Pictures Thrill Audience

Mrs. Paul Maves, introduced by Mrs. Robert Smith, thrilled the women of the First Baptist Church Monday night with her pictures of the Hofy Land, England, Italy, Lebanon, Switzerland, Germany, France, Egypt, Syria, Portugal and Spain.

These were taken on the Maves, recent Lutheran guided tour.

Thursday Nov. 29, from 10 a.m. until 2 p.m. was the date set for a special White Cross work meeting.

A gift of $23 was dedicated. Mrs. Orville Bishop, president, reminded the members to bring articles of food Sunday, Nov. 18, for the Harvest Festival so that Thanksgiving baskets may be prepared.

Mrs. Eddie Kirkland was asked to have charge of the Baptist World Day of Prayer meeting to be held at 10 a.m. Dec. 7.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. R. C. Pennington and Mrs. Roscoe Howlett — from a table centered with a unique setting of pilgrims surrounded by colorful fruits and vegetables.

Mrs. John Surratt, Mrs. Garland Gove, Mrs. Arthur George, Mrs. Robert Grigg and Mary Snedecor were the hostesses.

Thirty-six members and guests attended.

The December meeting will be of special interest to all members since the Mather School auction will be held with Mrs. Eddie Kirkland, auctioneer.

Ladies were reminded to bring cookies for the shut-ins and service men.

Mrs. J. D. Cook will be chairman of the hostesses.

Convention Reports Given to Altar Society Members

Convention reports provided the program for the St. Elizabeth Rosary Altar Society meeting last week.

Delegates told about the numerous exhibits they saw and the committee workshops they attended during the Nov. 5 Convention of National Council of Catholic Women in Cobo Hall.

Mrs. Robert Laidlaw discussed the general meeting's theme, "The Challenge to Public Morality," as well as the foreign relief workshop.

Mrs. Jack Osburn gave a talk on the committee on youth's "Understanding Youth Today."

Mrs. Jack Ries reported on "Immigration and Americanization" with emphasis on Cubans.

Mrs. Archie Spohr told about the spiritual development committee meeting, and Mrs. William Miller reported on "Cooperating with Catholic Charities."

Mrs. Elmer Dick talked about the family-parent education committee and the problems of steady dating. Mrs. Kenneth Kitson and Mrs. Dean Jones told about the "Role of Officers."

Mrs. Louis Schneider and Mrs. Robert Koffron were hostesses at the NCCW convention.

During the Altar Society meeting announcement was made of a pantry shower to be given for the Sisters of St. Dominic, teachers at St. Elizabeth school.

Mrs. Thomas Riordan is chairman of the event to be held Nov. 19, 20, 21. Parishioners may take canned or frozen food items to the teachers' lounge at the school.

Con-Con Report

3,700 Words Are Dropped

(Editor's Note: This is another in a series about the proposed new Michigan Constitution.)

The proposed new Michigan constitution which voters will be asked to pass judgment upon next April 1 is a shorter document than the 1908 constitution which it would replace.

The 18,000 word count is about 3,700 less than the present constitution.

A total of 51 sections of the present constitution were eliminated in the new document. The convention delegates considered these sections either obsolete or without application to existing conditions.

Entirely deleted is a sizeable block of language in Article I of the present constitution which describes the boundaries of the State of Michigan.

Delegates to the convention were of the opinion that this mass of technical descriptive verbiage served no useful purpose and merely cluttered up the document.

It was the view of a majority of the delegates that a constitutional statement of boundaries would be prejudiced and have no legal status in any interstate controversy.

It was also pointed out that the boundaries set down in the 1908 document are not entirely accurate.

☆

ANOTHER sizeable deletion of language came about through the elimination of the present Article XV which deals with the state militia. Substituting for the three detailed sections of this Article is a 12-word section in Article III of the new document which states: "The militia shall be organized, equipped and disciplined as provided by law."

The delegates felt that the existing Article tied the legislature down to an outmoded concept of what the militia should be.

Details as to organizing, equipping and disciplining the militia are left in the new document to legislative enactment in the interest of flexibility.

Also eliminated from the new document are lengthy sections in Article X of the present constitution relating to the borrowing of funds for military bonuses and for hospital construction.

The convention delegates determined that the purposes for which these amendments were adopted had now been served.

Other big chunks of language were eliminated from sections in Article III of the present constitution which has to do with the elective franchise. The convention found that a mass of legislative matter has accumulated in the constitution since the Article on Elections was first written back in 1835.

Much of this detail, it was decided, is better left to legislative determination. This is particularly true in the matter of defining residence for voting purposes.

☆

DELEGATES FELT that they were in no position to set down residence requirements which would offer any assurance of future adequacy and therefore left the matter to the legislature, as one of its continuing responsibilities in the field of elections.

These eliminated sections with regard to boundaries, militia, finance and elections represent only a part of the deletions recommended by the constitutional convention, but they are typical of the numerous changes which are incorporated in the proposed new constitution.

Good Guy, Bad Guy Compared

One was on farm dusting and spraying by helicopter and told of the advantages of the helicopter over an airplane.

The second was entitled, "The Flight Decision," portraying two pilots, one a good pilot, the other unable to make a safe decision on weather conditions.

Fines were levied by Doug Dunn and Jack Metcalf. Wallace Whiting led group singing.

Norvell Bovee, business manager of the Tecumseh Public Schools, will be the speaker for the Nov. 19 meeting.

Nov. 26, Mayor Harold Easton will talk on Tecumseh's progress and problems.

The Goodwill truck will be in Macon Tuesday, Nov. 20. Please bring your contributions to the Travis home.

Alice Covell Marries Robert Marsh

Alice Marie Covell became the bride of Robert F. Marsh in a double ring ceremony Saturday evening at the First Presbyterian Church.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Covell, 507 W. Logan St., and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Erwin Marsh, 410 E. Logan St.

The Rev. Julian Gresham performed the rites before the immediate families.

Mrs. Leo Brooks was her sister's only attendant and the groom was attended by his brother-in-law, Stephen Fulop.

Given in marriage by her parents, the bride chose a beige brocade suit with brown accessories for her wedding. A corsage of persimmon carnations was pinned to her shoulder.

After a short trip the couple are making their home at 705½ W. Chicago Blvd.

Both young people are Tecumseh High School graduates.

Mr. Marsh served with the Marine Corps for three years and is presently employed by the City of Tecumseh's water Dept.

You Told Us

By DOROTHY GRIGG
Herald Society Editor

Stories of deer in the area frequent the pages of the newspapers and still the annual migration of hunters to the northland goes on.

Don Purkey is apparently the first from this area to get his deer. He called his wife, Bonnie, to report bagging a seven-point buck Saturday morning.

Among others in the woods is the shop foreman of the Tecumseh Herald, Lonal Bishop. He is accompanied by John Millspaugh and two others from Ann Arbor. They left Tuesday evening for a week of hunting near Houghton Lake.

Also searching for the pretty whitetails are Marion Pease, William Fetty, Les Naugles, Frank Horton, Jim Hargraves, Glenn Kohler, Frank Humble and Kennard Wise.

Other deer hunters are Melvin Murphy, John Lowery, Art Eaton, Roy and Richard Beasley, Ormand and Richard Socks, Clyde Burleson and Willis Gray.

Ira Manwaring, Mr. and Mrs. Ted Ehinger, Mahlon Lord, Cletus Fuhrman, Charles Sinkey, Ray Puffer Sr., Mr. and Mrs. E. H. McConnell, Fred Pokorny, Andrew Woodward, as well as Richard Carter and his son, Dick, from Tipton have also gone north.

Mrs. Al Merz and Mrs. Harold Lenheiser are "deer widows" this week too.

√

Mrs. John Teufel left last week for Seattle, Wash. to visit her son, Bronson Parrett.

√

Sammy Brantingham, son of the Rev. and Mrs. Paul Brantingham, is recuperating from a broken right leg suffered while playing football with neighborhood children.

√

Guests of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Stites this week were his aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Plettner, of Sutton, Neb.

√

Gary Williams, son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Williams, was home from Grand Rapids Baptist Theological Institute for a weekend visit.

√

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Freckelton and children, Mark, David, Michel and Barbara Ann, are expected Friday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. James Freckelton for the weekend.

√

Carolyn and Robert Weeldreyer of Aurora, Col. are the parents of a daughter, Marcia Beth, born Monday morning in Fitzsimmons Hospital in Denver. Mrs. Weeldreyer is the former Carolyn Comfort, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Comfort.

Capt. Weeldryer is stationed with the US Army in Denver, serving in the hospital.

Mrs. Warren Puffer and Mrs. Claude Sebring attended a nursery workshop Nov. 9 in Dearborn Mrs. Sebring attended classes on music, rhythm and art and Mrs. Puffer covered those on science, stories and dramatic play.

√

Mr. and Mrs. Forest Bancroft and family of Adrian were recent dinner guests of his mother, Vira Bancroft, and sister Helen.

√

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Munger will leave for Florida for the winter soon after Thanksgiving.

√

Clara Waldron has moved to the home of Mrs. Neil Pearson 501 W. Pottawatamie St. to spend the winter.

√

Mr. and Mrs. Clair Beland left recently for Cortez, Fla. to spend the winter.

√

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Rice have returned to their Logan St. home after almost three weeks spent in Norway, Sweden and the Netherlands.

Mrs. Rice suffered a fall in an escalator in Stockholm and was hospitalized for several days.

Fortunately no bones were broken and she was able to continue their travel although she was badly bruised.

The Rices spent one day at the new modern cathedral at Coventy, England.

Mrs. Rice mentioned that the seasons in Norway and Sweden are much the same as in Michigan, though the countries are located about 2000 miles farther north.

√

A baptismal service for Nelson Leo Pask, infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Calvin Pask, was performed on a recent Sunday at the St. Elizabeth Church by the Rev. Fr. Thomas Collins.

Mr. and Mrs. Adelbert Reiniche of Chelsea are the godparents. Others attending were Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Farnsworth of Adrian, Mrs. Harry Derr and Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Pask, the baby's grandparents. Mrs. Farnsworth served dinner following the service.

√

The Rev. Paul Brantingham is hospitalized this week for observation. The Rev. Donald Porteous conducted services Sunday evening in the Friends Church in the absence of the pastor.

SENIORS AT PROM—Seniors from Boysville gather with their dates during intermission in the Boysville Junior Prom Nov. 10. Girls from parochial schools in Detroit were their dancing partners.

Tecumseh-Clinton Hwy. Is New Name for M-52

Lenawee County has a new road.

When the new M-52, from Billington's Corners to US-12, was opened last week, the county got the old section, from Tecumseh to Clinton.

The new strip of highway, which measures four miles long, is 24-feet wide with asphalt berms of nine-feet on the west and seven feet on the east side.

It was built at a cost of $630,000, with work beginning last April.

M-52 will now run from the Michigan-Ohio line through Adrian, Stockbridge, Chelsea and to Lansing.

M-92 will be changed to M-52.

The old road transferred to the county Nov. 30 has been designated by the road commission as the Tecumseh-Clinton Highway.

SOCIAL SECURITY Questions and Answers

QUESTION: I am self-employed and understand I can receive social security benefits if I do not 'render substantial services" in my business.

ANSWER: This depends on the amount of time you devote to your business, the kind of work you do, how your work compares with the work you did in past years, and other circumstances of your particular case. You can get a special booklet that gives more details about "substantial services" from your local social security office. Ask for Booklet 23.

QUESTION: I intend to go on working just as long as I possibly can. How will my earnings affect my social security benefits after I reach 72 next year?

ANSWER: You can get a social security check for every month beginning with the month of your 72nd birthday, no matter how much you work or earn. However, your earnings in the entire year in which you become 72 are counted in figuring what benefits can be paid to you for months of that year while you were still 71.

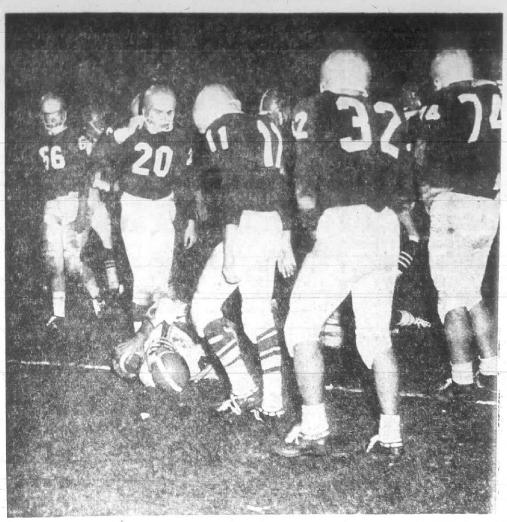
3 Fast Scores Sink Tecumseh



TECUMSEH TOUCHDOWN — Tim Sisson sneaked over for the Indians' third-period score. Tecumseh, trailing 27-0 at the half, came back for the final two stanzas like a different ball team. The Sisson score was set up by a screen pass, shown in two photos at right.

By JIM LINCOLN

Stunned by three quick touchdowns in the first quarter, previously undefeated Tecumseh fell before a fine Adrian team Friday night, 33-7.

The Class A county seat school showed its superiority from the outset and never relented, except briefly at the start of the second half when the Indians scored, then tallied again only to have one of many penalties nullify the TD.

The Maples relied on a passing attack the Indians were unable to cope with—an attack they had not faced the likes of against Huron League opponents.

The game was less than two minutes old when the once-beaten Maples took over the pigskin and scored on their first play.

Andy Fisher, southpaw passer, faded 10 yards back, spotted Doug Nelson racing behind the Indians secondary and hit him perfectly as Nelson sped in the end zone.

☆

FIVE MINUTES later, the Fisher-Nelson combination scored again, the pass-play covering 43 yards. The next tally took just two minutes.

The Indians fumbled the kickoff with the Maples recovering on Tecumseh's 19. Four plays later, quarterback Chuck Heffron scored from the five.

Coach Tom Fagan's team threatened early in the second quarter when it moved to Adrian's 28 before a penalty and an interception stopped the drive.

Late in the second stanza, Dave Lemerand took a pass from Tim Sisson to Adrian's 27, but a clipping penalty erased the threat.

With 42 seconds left, Heffron passed to end Joe Hubbard from Tecumseh's five to boost Adrian's half time lead to 27 points.

☆

TECUMSEH dominated the third period, scoring once and having one called back after reaching Adrian's 22.

Sisson's four-yard sneak through the middle climaxed a 60-yard drive in five plays. An 18-yard run by Jim Johnson and a 13-yard pass from Sisson to Lemerand were the big plays.

Following the score, Nelson again broke the hearts of local fans with a 75-yard scamper up the middle after qarterback Heffron fumbled the snap from center.

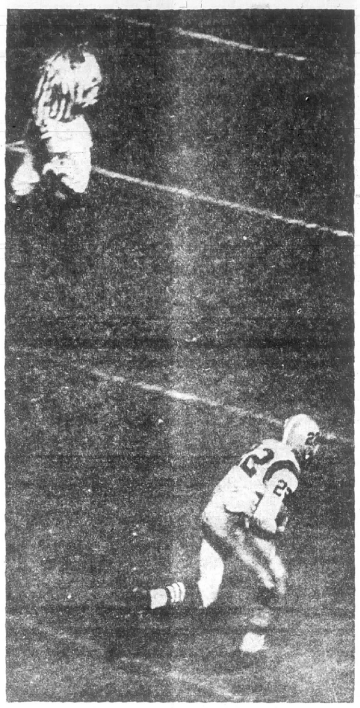
The Maples then tried an onside kickoff which Mike Osburn picked out of the air and ran to Adrian's 45. Fullback Dan Greene, Johnson, Lemerand and Sisson alternated carrying to the 22, where Sisson passed to end Mark Vaillancourt for an apparent TD.

An illegal motion nullified the score. It was the last Tecumseh threat.

☆

THERE WAS no question that Friday night, Adrian was the superior team and by a wide margin.

The Maples played their best offensive game of the season, capitalizing on Tecumseh errors and never letting up, especially in the first period when they all but wrapped up the game.



◄ BRIGHT MOMENT ►

1906 Football Team Photo Is Identified

The picture was taken in 1906, according to Mr. Service, who was 15 at the time and the player seated on the right before the coach, just in case you saved last week's Herald.

Mr. Service said only three of the former football players are still living in the area: Fred Dickinson, Earl McNeil of Newburg and himself.

Wilfred Waldron identified Percy Bowen also of Tecumseh nize. Mr. Waldron commented that Duaine was the "Speedster" of the group.

The others include a city mayor, a minister and a professor, living in Houghton Lake, Romulus, Lansing and at least two in California.

B and PW Plans Food Baskets

Members of the Business and Professional Women's Club are planning food baskets for needy families at Christmas time.

They will take staple foods to the meeting Monday, Nov. 26, at the Bostonian Dining Room.

Mrs. A. J. Geisenhaver and Mrs. Frederick F. Dickinson, members of the Tecumseh Service Club, will be the speakers.

A program, "Doing for Others," will be presented by Naomi Sallows and Mrs. Marvin Watkins.

Knights Prepare Festival

Their 155 local council units, state-wide, will sponsor social functions to further this unique charitable and educational project to aid needy teen-agers.

Boysville of Michigan is a boarding eighth grade through high school for teen-agers with a problem, not problem boys. Nor is it a correctional or custodial institution.

Boysville's 160 students are orphans or victims of homes disrupted by deaths, illness, separations, discord, improvidence or other like detriments beyond the boys' own control.

It is sponsored by the five Catholic dioceses of Michigan, under the teaching and direction of the Brothers of Holy Cross of Notre Dame, Indiana. The Knights of Columbus of Michigan provide the operating finances.

Since its opening in 1948 a total of 171 boys have graduated with a 12th grade diploma accredited by the University of Michigan.

Boys Training at Naval Center

Fred R. Hartwig Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred R. Hartwig of 812 Murray Dr., Winfield J. Walker, son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard D. Walker of 407 Russell Rd., and Gary L. Rickard, son of Mrs. Hayes Rickard of 5744 Holloway Rd., completed recruit training Nov. 2 at the Naval Training Center, San Diego, Calif.

During the nine-week indoctrination, recruits are trained in physical fitness, basic military law, seamanship, customs and traditions of the naval service, swimming and survival, military drill, and first aid.

Each recruit receives tests and interviews to determine future training and assignments.

Senior Citizens Fill Jobs

Need a babysitter, a housekeeper, a gardener, or an odd-jobs man?

There are senior citizens in your community to fill all of these jobs, according to Gary D. Hansen, Director of the Michigan Commission on Aging.

Babysitting, housekeeping, gardening and home repair and maintenance are all included in the program of the Home Care Division of the Commission's Senior Service Corps, Hansen revealed.

Transportation for the aged and the infirm, meal preparation, and visiting shut-ins are other services provided by the Home Care Division.

Men of 65 and over and women of 62 and over are eligible to join the Home Care Division or any other branch of the Senior Service Corps, Hansen said. The program offers both paid part-time jobs and volunteer service.

Persons interested in participating in Home Care or any other division of the SSC are invited to write to the Senior Service Corps, Michigan Commission on Aging, 230 N. Grand Avenue, Lansing 30.

Christmas Seals Arrive in County

Lenawee County residents this week received 1962 Christmas Seals as the 56th annual campaign of the Michigan Tuberculosis and Respiratory Disease Association opened throughout the state.

Approximately 11,000 envelopes containing seals and the message that there is a "Mountain of TB Infection" remaining to be conquered funneled through post offices in the county.

3 Indians Win Spots on Squad

Three Tecumseh Indians rated places on the Huron League 1962 All-Star squad and two more were named to the second team.

Tri-Captains Dan Greene, Norm Tucker and Tim Sisson all won spots on the first 11.

HURON LEAGUE ALL-STAR SQUAD

ENDS — Norm Tucker of Tecumseh and Dick Million of Blissfield

TACKLES—Bob Tennyson of Dundee and Pat O'Donnel of Milan

GUARDS — Gary Clark of Flat Rock and John Barlace of Ypsilanti Lincoln

CENTER — Bob Bankovich of Grosse Ile

GRIDIRON HIGHLIGHTS

In the tension of preparations before the Adrian-Tecumseh game, the usual pre-game prayer took an unexpected bend.

Coach Tom Fagan, who is a Catholic, says that the routine is to say the non-denominational Lord's Prayer just before the kickoff.

There were a few surprised faces and the coach added, "I'll be all right once we've had the kickoff."

√

The Tecumseh followers received commendation from Coach Fagan, who said they were orderly and enthusiastic, despite the score, right to the end.

The crowd totaled well over 5,000.

√

√

Dunc Lectka, former Tecumseh coach, was on hand and spoke with Mr. Fagan afterwards. "They never gave up on you", Mr. Lectka declared.

He referred to the Indians' determination as they came out following the half-time intermission.

The THS lads halted Adrian after kicking off to start the last half, then drove to a touchdown.

They battled great odds all the way.

Mr. and Mrs. John Ladd, formerly of Tecumseh, have moved from Jackson to Washington, D.C., where he is a co-pilot in a private flying service.

Macon Man Gets Post in Virginia

Harry J. Graham of Macon has been named director of engineering for the American Safety Razor Co.

Richard D. Robertson, vice president of the Staunton, Va., firm said, "With engineering assuming an increasingly major roll in our corporate growth plans, Mr. Graham's technical background will be of invaluable help to us in developing and directing our many engineering programs."

The last few years Mr. Graham has been vice president and director of engineering for Clinton Engines Corp., manufacturer of internal combustion engines. Earlier, he was chief engineer of the Lycoming division of Avco Corp., manufacture of aircraft engines and missile and jet engine components and accessories.

Active in the Society of Automotive Engineers, Mr. Graham also is a member of the Institute of Aerospace Science, the American Helicopter Society and the Engineering Society of Detroit, and is a charter member of the American Institute of Management.

Mr. and Mrs. Graham have three children. Harry, Jr., is a sophomore in Tecumseh High School. Evelyn is a freshman at the University of Michigan and Janet is a junior at UM:

Janet, a major in the Russian language, toured in Russia last summer with a group of university students. Her trip experiences were shared with area residents through stories in The Herald.

The Graham family will move to Staunton.

Luther Shook

Luther Shook, who has been with Des Ermia's furniture store for the last three years, has taken over management of a department store in Owosso.

Mr. Shook, who has been living in Blissfield with his family, is a former Owosso store manager.

CROP Appeal Set

Sunday, Nov. 18, will be CROP Sunday in Lenawee County churches and the period Nov. 18 through Dec. 15 has been set for the Annual Christian Rural Overseas Program Appeal for Corn and Cash, according to the County CROP Chairman, Robert Ries of Tecumseh.

Churches, Farm Bureau, Grange, Extension, 4-H Club, high school clubs, service clubs, veteran's organizations and all other organized groups are asked to participate in this year's appeal to be channeled through Church World Service for refugee and disaster feeding programs wherever needed around the world.

Corn can be delivered to local elevators to be held for CROP, and cash can be sent to Willis Moore, Courthouse, Adrian, marked for "CROP."

Officers for 1962 include Carl Ringkvist, Clayton, vice-chairman; Mrs. Rose Randolph, Adrian, secretary, and Willis Moore, Adrian, treasurer.

Live Stock Show Draws to Chicago

Largest of the country's annual farm shows, the International Live Stock Exposition and Horse Show will celebrate its 63rd anniversary at Chicago Nov. 23 to Dec. 1.

The show draws many from Tecumseh and Lenawee County.

The big show will fill to capacity the 13-acre International Amphitheatre at the Chicago Stock Yards. Last and largest livestock exhibition of the year, it annually features the display of thousands of purebred farm animals. According to the management, there will be 37 different breeds on view at the 1962 Exposition.

Owners from over 30 states and Canada will be exhibiting in competition for their share of the $130,000 offered in premiums and for the high honors and prestige that accrue to the winners and to the farms and ranches that produce and exhibit them.

The grand champion steer of the show will be named on Monday, Nov. 26, before an audience that in recent years has numbered close to 10,000 visiting stockmen and farmers who fill to capacity the arena seats for this event.

All breeds of dairy cattle as well as beef cattle will be competing at the Chicago show for supreme honors of the year. Judging of the beef breeds is scheduled from Nov. 23 to 28 and of the dairy breeds from Nov. 29 to Dec. 1.

First on the calendar of events in the main judging arena will be the Junior Live Stock Feeding Contest in which several hundred farm boys and girls, largely from the Midwest, will be in competition exhibiting steers, lambs, and hogs they have raised as 4-H Club or Future Farmers of America projects.

Arthur Godfrey, versatile showman and skilled equestrian, will appear with his famed performing Palomino, "Goldie," as the feature attraction of each of the 14 Horse Shows during the nine-day run of the exposition.

Bureau To Meet

Kosy Korner Farm Bureau will have a potluck dinner at 7 p.m. Saturday, Nov. 17, in the Sutton Rd. home of Mr. and Mrs. Alex Backus.

Topic for the meeting to follow will be "Challenges Faced by Farm Organizations."

BUILDING PERMITS

Tecumseh Township has zoning regulations and a permit is needed to build, alter or repair any dwelling. A first floor plan is required which will be kept by Building Inspector.

Permits should be secured before construction is started.

No House Trailers will be lived in, any place in Tecumseh Township, except in Trailer Parks.

Also required is an electrical permit for any type wiring. This permit can be secured from the City Engineer of Tecumseh.

Road Funds Sent Out

The State Highway Department has started distributing third-quarter Motor Vehicle Highway Fund collections to Michigan counties and incorporated cities and villages.

Lenawee County will be paid $196,831 and the city of Tecumseh will receive $11,997.

State Highway Commissioner John C. Mackie said net receipts of the Highway Fund during July, August and September of 1962, amounted to $44,490,352, an increase of $2,301,033 over the same period of 1961.

All state gasoline and diesel fuel taxes, license plate fees and a small amount of miscellaneous fees are deposited in the Motor Vehicle Highway Fund.

The State Highway Department will receive $20,910,465 as its share of the collections, while the 83 counties will receive $15,571,623 and 511 incorporated cities and villages will get $8,008,263.

Fun Fair Nets $863

Proceeds from the Fun Fair at the Ridgeway-Macon Area school totaled $863.15 net profit. Ticket sales were $309.90.

A six-transistor radio was awarded to Robert Hackett for selling the most tickets.

Second, third and fourth prizes were won by Linda Korth, Kellious Williams and Lorraine Ruhl.

Room prizes of gift certificates to use Fun Night, candy bars and money were given to 20 other children.

Ice cream was served to all children and teachers by the PTA as a treat for selling tickets.

The Fair committee reported that the new game, "Record Roll," was a smashing success. The womanless wedding played to a capacity audience, enjoyed by young folk and adults.

The drawing of door prizes concluded the evening's entertainment.

ROYALTY AT TECUMSEH ACRES—Kathy Barrett and Steve Kring were crowned during festivities at the Tecumseh Acres School Fun Night last Saturday. A new band, called The Blue Angels played for dancing.

Bombers Blasting Japanese Bettle

The Michigan Department of Agriculture and the United States Department of Agriculture will treat all or parts of the townships of Erie, Bedford and Whiteford in Monroe County and the townships of Riga and Ogden in Lenawee County for eradication of the Japanese beetle.

The $366,400 cost will be split by the state and federal governments.

The treatment program will continue until completed or terminated by winter weather. Treatment will consist of the aerial application of 20 pounds of 10% granular dieldrin (2 lbs. actual cieldrin) per acre to kill the larve of the beetle in the soil. The insecticide will be applied on approximately 80,000 acres.

Application will be made by an experienced aircraft application contractor under the joint supervision of trained and experienced personnel of the two Departments of Agriculture.

The applying aircraft will be directed from an observation aircraft and by ground units—the latter to guide the application planes by the use of marker balloons and flares. Both air and ground units will be in constant radio contact.

Application equipment will be calibrated to spread the insecticide at the rate specified along a predetermined swath width.

This will be a carefully planned and fully controlled project to eliminate infestations of the Japanese beetle. Even so, insecticides are like any other tools: proper use and the observance of certain precautions go hand in hand. Thus, residents in these townships are urged to read and observe the following:

1—Cover, overturn, or remove to the indoors, open food and water containers for domestic animals and fowl. If this is not done prior to insecticide application, clean out such containers before feeding or watering animals or fowl.

2—Cover bird baths and gold fish ponds.

5-Cover children's sand boxes.

6—Beef and dairy animals should not be pastured during or following the application of insecticides, and must be withheld from pasture until the first cutting of hay. This cutting will be free for residue and may be used for feed.

Eliminate "REFUSE RECEPTACLE RAGE"!

REPLACE THAT OLD GARBAGE CAN WITH A MODERN GAS INCINERATOR

The "Refuse Receptacle Rage" is what you fly into every time you view that unsightly, unhealthy garbage can. Getting mad won't help though, unless you get angry enough to buy a Gas Incinerator. A modern, automatic Gas Incinerator doesn't just store garbage and trash—it consumes them. It consumes all garbage—bones, corn silk, onion skins, plus paper, cardboard, leather and other rubbish—without smoke, odor, or noise. And it does all this indoors, so you're not a slave to the weather. See the new Gas Incinerators, soon!

'Party Fare' Opens Season

"Party Fare" was the name used by Mrs. Orville Laidlaw for the opening fall event for the ladies at the Tecumseh Country Club Oct. 24.

Holiday arrangements centered the tables under the direction of Mrs. Laidlaw and were later used for door prizes.

Bridge luncheon displayed by Mrs. Robert Sage was a fall flower and fruit arrangement in a Pilgrim hat on a green table cloth with green glassware.

A coffee klatch table was arranged by Mrs. Tom Walton of Manchester, featuring a silver coffee service and her personal collection of cups and saucers.

Bridge and table prizes were awarded. Menus and recipes were arranged for the various table displays and copies were given to the guests.

Mrs. Frank Rice, Mrs. Walter Schaible, Mrs. Ed Boss and Mrs. Ray Schlegel were on the committee.

"Pretend I'm a barber or tell me your troubles."

MARDA GENE DUNCAN'S

Thru My Window

THE WANDERING GYPSIES

Ida gets a wicked little gleam in her eye whenever cedar-waxwings are mentioned and lately they seem to be one of the main topics of conversation. The reason for her smug superiority is a little incident which happened while we were away.

It seems that one day she heard a noise, obviously a bird flying into one of the screens on the porch, and went to investigate. Going through the living-room she happened to look out of the picture window and there, sitting hunched up on the railing of the ramp, was a cedar waxwing.

I don't blame her for feeling superior; imagine being but a short two feet from such a bird. It was not a brief glance she had, either. The poor bird, apparently having stunned himself against the screen, clung to the rail most of the afternoon. An unfortunate experience for him but what a thrill for Ida.

☆

CEDAR waxwings are rather happy-go-lucky, erratic birds, being plentiful in one place for several years and then suddenly disappearing only to turn up somewhere else.

They wander like a band of gypsies. The way this fall has started we might just be in for a good waxing year. Reports are coming in from all over. The Earl McNeils, who have the fine fruit orchard in Newburg, said they entertained the biggest flock ever and the Charles Mensings who, like us are bank-of-Evans-Creek dwellers, were simply amazed one day to see a hundred or more birds in their yard.

I am just waiting; these quiet birds are great favorites but it is not often that I have a chance to see them.

Their stops at the Duncans are altogether too infrequent—with our vacation over, however, if they do call, I'll be right here to 'oh and 'ah and explain "how pretty."

Pretty is harly the word; they are gorgeous birds. Predominately a quiet fawn brown color, which in itself is quite lovely, it is definitely 'the trimmings' that make the birds outstanding.

They have brilliant yellow bands at the tips of their rather short tails and, I understand that at close range, the red spots on their wings are quite noticeable.

They have topknots much like a female cardinal; in fact, I think at first glance the birds are similar.

Whenever I see a Mama Cardinal in the trees I take a second look to make sure she's not wearing a yellow band on her tail.

Neat and trim are most appropriate when talking about the waxwings—they appear exceptionally well-groomed. Each and every feather is always exactly in place and my, but those feathers look so soft.

Undoubtedly the birds would object, but they look like the kind of thing it would be nice to hold in one's hand. They aren't cuddly like a chickadee but how smooth their feathers should feel.

ONE DECIDEDLY non-gypsy trait is their voice, or rather lack of it. As they go trooping through the trees they converse among themselves with little hissing-type noises but basically the birds are quiet.

They don't have the cheery whistle of the cardinal nor the raucous screan of the bluejays. It is a shame too, such pretty birds should have a pretty song, don't you think?

Incidentally I think it is always interesting to find out why birds are named what they are. With waxwings it is a case of the name being logical and appropriate.

The adult birds have drops of bright red wax on the ends of their wing feathers. Interestingly enough, the reason for or object of these droplets is not yet known.

So it is that this fall the Tecumseh area has been blessed with a large flock of the beautiful cedar waxwings—wish they would camp' around here; we would love to see the wandering gypsies.

Patterns Fitted for 4-H Project

Members of the North Franklin Maidens fitted paper patterns for their winter garment project at the meeting last week at the home of Cheryl and Patti Aebersold.

Programs for the season were distributed and games were played.

Mrs. Charles Aebersold served refreshments to the 10 present.

Debbie Black will be the hostess for the meeting Nov. 20.

OLD Mr. BOSTON
YE INTELLIGENT BUYER'S GUIDE TO FINEST LIQUORS
Like Fine Scotch, Canadian, Rum & Brandy...
KENTUCKY WHISKEY TASTES BEST AS A BLEND!

There's only one way to make a good Kentucky Whiskey taste better . . . blend it with other Kentucky Whiskeys and grain neutral spirits.
For years, the secret behind the famous smoothness of Scotch and Canadian whiskies is the fact that they are actually blends of several different types of Scotch and Canadian whiskies. Most Rums and Brandies are blends too, of several different types of these well-known liquors.
Now, Mr. Boston actually improves on the natural rich flavor of good Kentucky Whiskey by selecting several of the best and blending them together with choice grain neutral spirits. Result: smooth flavor-balance and mildness that straight Kentucky just can't match. Try a bottle of Mr. Boston's Rocking Chair soon!
